EDITORIAL

Most of us live in the past, and for the future. How often do we recall happy hours and re-live every moment of them in imagination! And all of us are usually eagerly looking forward to some future event. But what of the all-important present? Recalling happy days and events as we constantly are, we dream of days gone by and make many plans for those to come. But in our zeal we are apt to forget to-day, and as each tomorrow becomes to-day, we find those good plans still awaiting the moment of fulfilment, and so time drifts on.

"Procrastination is the thief of time." The habit, acquired so easily, of dwelling in the future, completely obliterates the present, and we put off till tomorrow what we should do to-day.

Yet we have an excuse. Realisation so seldom equals anticipation. The long-dreamed of event is dull and uninteresting compared with the eager anticipation that went before it. Our dreams, woven with magical glamour, become extraordinarily practical and commonplace with their fulfilment. When we dream of the past, the unpleasant episodes fade in our memory, while we elaborate on the pleasant ones. What a delightful provision of Nature! In this way it is that happenings that disappointed us once, become, in our reflections, models of what happiness should be, and we feel inclined to say, "Those were the days."

But we must remember that, although we can look at the past in our own perspective and at the future with unbounded optimism, it is in the present that we must live. "Man," says Browning, "has forever"—but it is mankind and not the individual. We, each of us, have our own little bit of eternity to account for. Let us, therefore, not neglect the present.

JUBILEE OF HIS MAJESTY KING GEORGE V

(Born June 3rd, 1865—Ascended the Throne, 1910)

Jubilee Year! A year pregnant with many things—many calamities, many horrors, many changes of every description. A year fraught with anxiety for the future, an anxiety keenly felt not only by parents but by all those responsible for the education of the younger generation. Like a bright light, therefore, on this gloomy outlook comes the splendid example set to us all by Their Majesties King George V and Queen Mary—truly a kingly example—a kingly duty royally carried out. Safely, I think, may it be said that no reigning sovereign in our long line of kings and queens has had twenty-five years of such anxiety as our present King and Queen—anxiety not for the safety of their own persons, but one arising from a sincere concern in the interests of country and Empire. None of us who remembers clearly, as I do, the grave events that have occurred from the inception of his reign can fail to realise the truth of this statement. At the time that he came to the throne England was threatened by civil war owing to the introduction of the Parliament Bill to control the House of Lords. His wise statesmanship and cool courage and common sense averted the calamity, only leaving England to be shortly faced with a similar one of even graver magnitude, when the attitude of Ulster towards the Irish Home Rule Bill had to be faced. His Majesty's efforts towards a peaceful and honourable settlement were unsparing, and only the advent of the Great War deprived us of knowing how successful his efforts might have been. In both these crises the throne was exposed to the fierce light of partisanship and public controversy. That it came through this fiery ordeal not only unscorched but on an even sounder foundation is a tribute to the great sense of duty evinced by Their Majesties.

Then followed the four and a half years of the Great War, of the horrors and anxieties of which the present generation can have but a faint conception. Throughout it His Majesty was a true and inspiring leader instilling courage when hearts were failing and hopefulness in the hour of despair. All this was achieved by the force of example when such an example was not easy to set. The years which followed brought little freedom from anxiety. The world was in a state of chaos, and civilisation was in the melting pot. The war which was to end war ended in a peace which was only less troublous than the war itself. Debt settlements, reparations, the Irish question, the great transport strike, and, finally, for the past five years the trade and economical depression brought no peace to a mind already carrying an all-too-heavy burden. One sees all these things written in lines of care on His Majesty's face.

If there be anything in leadership, surely we ought all to learn something from a life so finely lived. What then are these lessons? They are the lessons of fortitude when the world appears to be against us, of clean, upright and honest living, of service willingly given in the interest of others, of the effacement of self. In short, to do what our conscience tells us we are in the world to do, to listen to its dictates and not to stifle its notes of warning. If we carry out its behest we shall earn the love and respect of others just as His Majesty has earned the intense love and respect of his subjects. May it always be our Empire's good fortune to be ruled over by an equally wise and human sovereign. If such be the case, then just as the sun never sets in the British Empire, so the words "God Save the King" will never cease to find an echo in British hearts.

SCHOOL NOTES

During the second term Dr. Buntine suggested that a new society, to be known as the "Public Question Society," should be formed among the upper classes of the School. The purpose of this Society would be to bring us into closer contact with world affairs. At a meeting, conducted later, he further disclosed to us that it was his intention to invite prominent citizens to lecture on subjects of topical interest. This suggestion was unanimously agreed to, and by popular consent Bill Altorfer was appointed secretary.

On Monday, July 11th, Mr. Clabon Allen, of the Mt. Stromlo Solar Observatory, and, incidentally, an Old Boy, called at the School while on a visit to Western Australia. He was kind enough to spend his time at the School in talking to the higher science classes about his work in the observatory. He spoke in an interesting manner of the spectroscope and its uses for determining the chemical composition of the sun and stars. The number of questions that were asked at the close of his lecture disclosed the keen enthusiasm he had aroused in his audience, and resulted in much useful and interesting information.

The School Cadet Corps spent the last week of the term in the training camp at Karrakatta. The headmaster, wishing to show parents the great strides that the corps is making, informed the boys "that their parents would be welcome at Karrakatta on the following Wednesday," adding, as an after-thought, "to see them training."

PREFECTS, 1935

A. B. STONE, R. F. HAMMOND, J. B. ILBERY, E. S. CLARKE, J. B. CRAIG, R. W. PICKERING, L. W. RILEY, P. C. YATES,
F. H. MOORE, P. R. JACOBY (Capt. of School), DR. BUNTINE, B. L. MURRAY, D. L. GORDON.

The Prefects' Annual Dance was held on Friday, August 17th. The hall, as usual, was beautifully decorated with light and dark blue streamers. The dance was a great success, and the prefects would like to take this opportunity of thanking their mothers for all that they did in preparing such a delightful repast, which greatly helped towards the success of the evening. Such was the joyful noise towards the close of the evening, when novelties were distributed, that some difficulty was experienced in distinguishing the music, and dancing was done mainly by instinct.

On the Monday following the dance two new prefects were announced, Altorfer and Treacy.

Third term commenced on Tuesday, September 11th. The Headmaster, in welcoming us back to school, reminded those in examination classes of the need for conscientious study during the few weeks remaining. He also reminded those in other classes, that, as it was the final term, form positions would depend mainly on the final spurt of work done to maintain or gain them.

On Wednesday, 19th September, Mr. H. H. Locke, of the Central Executive of the British Royal Life Saving Society, gave the School an address on life-saving and life-saving methods throughout the world. He traced the growth of the Society and the spread of life-saving in the Dominions, stating that even Japan had applied for permission to print the Society's handbook in their language.

There is a slight difference between the method set out by the Royal Society and that taught by Mr. Wells. By means of a left turn spectators can obtain a side view as well as a front view of the drill. After the lecture, Mr. Locke witnessed an exhibition of land drill by some of the boys, under the instruction of Mr. Wells.

The annual drill display took place on the night before School broke up for the year. Mr. Wells, as usual, produced an excellent evening's entertainment, with the aid of some very capable squads. Each form in the School played its own particular part towards the success of the evening, and no boy of the sixth can claim more towards that success than the smallest boy from Miss Green's form, doing his Swedish drill. Mr. Wells is to be congratulated for such an excellent and entertaining performance.

The first assembly for the year took place on Tuesday, February 12th. There were present at that assembly three Old Boys, Mr. Moseley, Mr. Saw, and Mr. Brian Simpson. After prayers the Headmaster introduced them to the School. Mr. Moseley spoke of the traditions of the great English public schools, saying that although we have not as yet many traditions, every boy passing through this School is helping to build them up. He mentioned three things connected with school life, the scholastic side, the sporting side, and discipline, saying that we should never neglect one for the others. He also traced the duties of a prefect. For a boy to be a prefect there must be no blustering in his method. He concluded by wishing us every success in the new year in sport and in school work.

Old Boys' Day this year was celebrated on Monday, 26th February. A large number of Old Boys assembled in front of the School and with the present boys marched once more into the school hall. Here the Headmaster asked each Old Boy to stand up in turn and to say what years he attended school. This year we were particularly fortunate in having with us Mr. C. W. Ferguson, who is the oldest living Old Haleian, and who first attended Hale School, then known as the High School, about a fortnight after it was founded in the year 1858. (For a list of the Old Boys present and the dates of their attendance, see the Old Boys' column.) Many other Old Boys, who unfortunately were unable to attend the assembly, visited the W.A.C.A. during the day, where the annual cricket matches were being conducted. The day was of special importance to the School, and a half holiday was granted to see the matches.

The School wishes to congratulate Reg. Hammond, Percy Yates, John Ilbery, John Craig, Doug. Gordon, Ralph Pickering, Bill Riley, and Athol Stone on their appointment as prefects, and Peter Jacoby on his appointment as Captain of the School. The prefects were inducted by Archdeacon Riley, who spoke to the rest of the school, telling them that prefects are chosen as being worthy of respect, and so respect should be shown to them. He congratulated the prefects on their appointment, and Peter Jacoby as Captain of the School.

Increased numbers at School this year necessitated the use of a larger teaching staff. To cope with this need, Mr. McGilvray, from the Eastern States, joined the staff, and arrived at School on Friday, March 8th, taking up his teaching duties on the following Monday. He soon made himself popular in the School, and lately he has further distinguished himself by gaining the title of Amateur Heavyweight Boxing Champion of the State.

On Labour Day, May 6th, the combined public schools conducted a service in King's Park in honour of the Silver Jubilee of the King's accession. Schools attending were Hale School, Wesley College, Christ Church Grammar School, Methodist Ladies' College, Guildford Grammar School, Presbyterian Ladies' College, St. Mary's and St. Hilda's. The service was arranged by the Headmaster of Wesley College and the Headmistress of Methodist Ladies' College. Archdeacon Riley was the speaker. He spoke of the intense loyalty of the Royal Family, and said that no one understands more about affairs and operations in his kingdom than the King himself. In conclusion he said that he was very glad to be able to speak at a gathering which was paying homage to the King. A guard of honour for the Lieut.-Governor, Sir James Mitchell, who was present, was chosen from our cadet corps and that of Guildford Grammar School.

Early in the second term Stuart Clarke was inducted to prefectship by the Headmaster, Dr. Buntine. The head said that Stuart Clarke had been doing those things which it was a prefect's duty to do, and, therefore, deserved to be made one. We would like to congratulate him on his appointment.

We desire to express to Mrs. Geoffrey Burgoyne our sincere thanks for the endowment of an annual prize of five guineas, in commemoration of her son, Edward Burgoyne. The name of the prize is to be "The Edward Burgoyne Memorial," and it is very fitting that it is to be awarded to the boy who, in the opinion of the Headmaster and staff, has shown himself to be the most unselfish.

We also desire to express our thanks to Mr. S. J. McGibbon for the annual gift of £5. The basis on which a selection is to be made has not yet been decided.

At the beginning of this year the School decided to take a collection each month in aid of the School for the Blind. During First Term the following contributions have been made:—

SPEECH NIGHT

The Annual Speech Night and Prize Distribution was conducted on the evening of Thursday, December 11th, before a large gathering of parents, friends and scholars. References were made to the general success experienced by the School during the past year. The Chairman of the Board of Governors (Mr. W. L. Brine) outlined the progress made in various spheres and the plans for further development. The Headmaster presented an optimistic report, and the Vice-Chancellor of the University of Western Australia (Professor H. E. Whitfeld) offered congratulations on the high standard maintained in scholarship and sport.

Mr. Brine stated that the Board of Governors had reason to feel satisfied with the work done, and was anxious to see further development. It was hoped that the endowment fund formed by the Old Boys' Association would enable the School to wipe off the overdraft at the bank. A number of improvements had been made on the school property, and others would follow. Proof of the wisdom of offering open scholarships had been afforded, and as many as 70 boys were sitting for the 1935 examination. He expressed appreciation of the careful guidance of Dr. Buntine, and was confident that the high traditions of the School would be maintained.

Professor Whitfeld, who presented the prizes, traced the growth of the School. He stressed the benefits of a thorough education and illustrated why certain subjects, which were described by some people as useless, were taught and what the students gained from them. Most of the great writers had been helped considerably by studying Latin and Greek, as from those languages one learnt how to write plain English. Mathematics, science, and other subjects were essential. It was thought by many that the world was advancing too quickly. No doubt the world was progressing faster and faster, but if people kept their heads and the right type of citizen was turned out, there would be no cause to worry.

HEADMASTER'S REPORT

The Headmaster's report was as follows:—

For many of those who are assembled here this evening, this is the last occasion upon which they will meet with their fellows to take part in a school function. Therefore, while I shall present to you in a few minutes a review of school happenings during the last twelve months, I would ask you to consider first what lies ahead of those who leave the School tonight to go out into the world, each to make his own way and to find his place in the community of which he is a member. They, with their contemporaries, will be, in a few short years, the driving or the driven forces of the world. They are going out into a world which in many ways is a vastly different place from the world to which older people have become accustomed. We are living in "the foremost files of time," heirs to the wonderful heritage that earlier generations have bequeathed in tradition, in science, in art, in literature, in discoveries, and in inventions that, especially in the last 50 years, have followed one another with amazing rapidity, and yet, somehow to-day "the world is out of joint." Almost every day when we open the newspaper we are confronted with large headlines announcing some momentous event which has its repercussions throughout the whole of the civilised world. To us who live comparatively quiet lives in Australia, Europe with its bold experiments in government seems fantastic and remote. Yet we know in our hearts that what is taking place there to-day is going to affect the lives of our boys tomorrow. Only yesterday it took the lives of many.

To-day in Europe the recoil from democracy and freedom is so marked that many would say that democracy's day is over, that a new social order must take its place; yet it is difficult to believe that democracy has no future. It is almost impossible to believe that a community which refuses freedom to its citizens and suppresses personality can produce the highest kind of citizen. "Dictatorship," said General Smuts recently, "can only be tolerated as a temporary expedient, and can never be a permanent substitute for free self-government. Freedom is the most ineradicable craving of human nature. Without it, peace, contentment, and happiness, even manhood itself, are not possible." The Anglo-Saxon world at any rate will try to hold to democracy. If we have to abandon it, it will be because we are not worthy of it—not sufficiently educated and public-spirited as a people. Our schools, then, must continue to educate for freedom, although the task with which they are faced becomes far greater and the difficulties much graver. While education has always been intimately bound up with the fabric of life, it has never before been looked upon as it is to-day as one of the most valuable aids for social reconstruction. Although the world has always recognised the importance of education, since the beginning of this century, and, more particularly since the Great War, it has become more acutely conscious of the part the Schools must play in shaping the destinies of the future.

Developing Character

It becomes more and more important that the education provided by schools such as ours must be education for citizenship. We must consciously strive to turn out servants of the community, and in so doing we must seek to develop individual character and individual gifts to the full. That is education. Mere instruction is a poor thing. True, it is something that has to be done, but education is something more. It is concerned not only with material welfare, but with cultural and moral values. A school which neglects the moral and spiritual is not fulfilling its proper function. An accumulation of examination passes may qualify a boy for university matriculation or for a position in a business house; it does not qualify him for intelligent living. It is not our aim to stuff him with knowledge but to produce versatility of intellect based upon soundness of character, and the latter is the indispensable foundation. Mere "slickness" and cleverness are not good enough; they lead only to opportunism, and the sacrifice of the future to the present. The type of education at which we aim is that which has made possible the achievement of the British race—an achievement that is due to character, and, many would say, conspicuously not to mental equipment. Yet to maintain it in the twentieth century mental ability is a necessary supplement of character. But we must build the foundation first, and in the building, classroom and playing-field together form the training ground. Upon the foundation of character and personality we may then build the structure, the chief feature of which must be a respect for knowledge. Our young men must be led to understand that they are entering upon a time, and going out into a world where it is necessary really to know, where only those who know and can apply knowledge will prosper, and where those who do not will be relentlessly scrapped. Whatever the future may hold for him it will be the boy whose character and personality have had the opportunity for full development that will become the best citizen. These are a man's most valuable asset whatever may be his occupation, profession, commercial or agricultural.

The Value of Personality

Even in the securing of a position, evidence of ability to pass examinations is no longer as important as it was. Employers of youth are more and more coming to realise the much greater value of character and personality. I have found latterly that the demand for a good school recommendation is rapidly outgrowing the demand that a boy should have passed the Junior certificate. In support of that contention I would point out that of the many boys who have left Hale School in the past three years, about 50 per cent. only have gained the Junior certificate, and yet there are not more than 1 per cent. of them unemployed to-day. The day is not far distant when the examination taken outside the school will have little or no value. A good certificate from his school will be the boy's chief requisite when applying for a position.

Bound up with the problems that face the schools in the present crisis and to which I have tried to direct your attention there comes a challenge to youth. Once more "the new tyranny, disguised in attractive patriotic colours, is enticing youth everywhere into its service." Freedom must make a great counter-stroke to save itself. The fight for freedom is indeed the supreme issue of the future, as it has always been in the past, and once more the call is coming to our youth. They cannot refuse the challenge nor would they do so if they could. The youth of to-day, living in the personal thrills of the moment, have an exuberant vitality. They are well-developed physically, and are resourceful, self-reliant and independent. But, above all, they have a sincerity which is often carried to extremes, and they revolt against anything which savours of hypocrisy or deceit. Let us then recognise their worth and give them the help and guidance, which they are ready to welcome, by our insistence upon the great values of life and the realisation of the truth that the things that have value are in some sense difficult to understand and are above and beyond the ordinary course of time. The task which the school shares with the home and the church, and which is left too often to the school and the church alone, is to foster that spirit of service and of self-control which make men worthy of freedom, the spirit that comes from putting themselves in the second place and putting in the first place Another Whose service is perfect freedom.

A Successful Year

The School report which I have the privilege of presenting to you tonight is the report of a particularly successful and encouraging year—certainly the most successful since I have had the honour to be at the head of this great School. The year began with a very much increased enrolment of new boys, and consequently an increase of numbers in the School. Enrolments were 78 compared with 51 for each of the two years preceding, and the total roll reached 232, an increase of 25 boys on that of 1933. This big advance in numbers is very gratifying for several reasons, not the least of which is that the School's finances are improved thereby. While it has been a great struggle during the past few years to make ends meet, the Governors have been able this year to carry out much-needed improvements to grounds and to improve generally the appearance of the School premises. The Chairman has already told you something of the plans for the future, and you will agree, I am sure, that our splendid site has great possibilities and is worthy of every effort towards beautification.

Old Boys' Successes

The list of honours and successes gained by Old Haleians is again a large one. Four more have during the year joined those Old Boys already serving in the Parliament of the State. We congratulate Messrs. Hubert Parker, E. Angelo, C. H. Wittenoom, and Leslie Craig upon gaining seats in the Legislative Council. We are proud too to note that Mr. H. D. Moseley, another Old Haleian, was chosen as the Royal Commissioner to inquire into the condition of aborigines. Mr. W. L. Brine was elected Chairman of the Board of Governors, and two more Old Boys, Messrs. J. F. McMillan and E. T. Loton, were appointed to the Board. In the spheres of both scholarship and sport, there is again a formidable list of Old Boys' successes, the outstanding ones being as follows:—C. Jones gained honours in all subjects in third year medicine at the Melbourne University. L. P. Gray, last year's Dux of the School, gained distinction in both physics and chemistry at the University of Western Australia, and won the Lady James prize. D. Thomas gained distinction in English and major passes in both Latin and French in his second year in arts. Colin Newbery and John Draper gained their charter in accountancy, and in his final exams Newbery headed the list for Australia in the banking section. Clabon Allen, who won a Hackett studentship, has taken his Master of Science degree, and is now working for his doctorate. He has been for some years at Mt. Stromlo Solar Observatory, and is proceeding to Mt. Wilson Observatory, California, for special research work. C. Matthews, who recently won a scholarship at the Royal College of Music, has been employed by the British Broadcasting Corporation. John Meredith, one of this year's prefects, gained admission to Sandhurst Military College.

In sport Old Boys were again to the fore. J. Burnett was stroke of the Interstate crew, and C. S. Wickens stroke of the Inter-varsity crew. D. Everett was a prominent member of the Inter-State Hockey Team, and S. Clarke for the second time won the Sandover Medal, for the best and fairest player in the football league and represented the State in football.

Examination Results

At School I have not known any year when the boys have settled down so quickly and earnestly to work. Throughout the year the work of the School has been characterised by that same keenness which marked its beginning. The number of candidates entered for the Junior and Leaving Certificate examinations is slightly larger this year, and the quality is the equal of previous years. At the Leaving Examinations in December last, seven of the eight boys who sat passed, and four of them have gone on to continue their work at the University, while at Junior standard 25 boys passed in four or more subjects.

I offer to Dick Cullen and Ron Pearse my hearty congratulations and those of the School upon their success this year. Cullen has won the Old Haleians' prize for the Dux of the School, while Pearse has pressed him closely for second place. Both of these boys are School Prefects and House Prefects, and I would like to take this opportunity of thanking them for their valuable help and example in the house. I congratulate, too, Colin Clarke and Maurice Brearley, who have together gained the first place in the Junior Certificate form.

Sporting Performances

Once again the School has had a markedly successful year at sport, and I offer my thanks to the Sports Masters and friends who have coached the various teams. We have repeated last year's performance by winning three of the six Interschool competitions. For the fourth successive year the swimmers brought back with them the Henn Cup. Here it may be fitting to offer our congratulations to Percy Oliver on his splendid success in the Australian Junior Championship, and we wish him further success this year while he is still under 16 years of age.

The crew, trained this year by a keen Old Boy in Mr. Douglas Gray, also did exceedingly well to row into second place, and we extend hearty congratulations to Scotch College on its victory. In football the team showed much more pace and determination, with the result that it, too, was well up on the premiership list. The athletics team proved to be very strong, and after being second for four years, was successful this time in bringing back the Alcock Shield. Special mention should be made here of three exceptionally fine athletes in Peter Jacoby, Dixie Clement—first and second, respectively, in the School Championship, although only half a point separated them—and Ian Beaton, the Under 15 Champion. Jacoby broke the Interschool 440 yards record, which had stood for eighteen years, and Beaton the Under 15 300-yards record, which had stood for six years. The Slazenger Cup Teams, both "A" and "B," did exceedingly well in the competitions. After playing each other in the semi-final, the "A" Team won by one set and eventually came out runners-up for the cup. The Cricket Team, led in the first term by George Randell, and lately by Fred Moore, has again shown that it is a strong combination. For the second successive year it has won the Darlot Cup. The shooting team has been carrying on under considerable difficulty this year, but nevertheless has done good work.

A New Society

To the various School clubs and societies another was added this year, which we call the Public Question Society. The object of the Society is to promote discussion of important present-day matters among senior boys and to increase their understanding of world affairs by lectures delivered by prominent students of world topics. Time was found to be too short to do more than hold two such lectures this year, but we are grateful to Mr. F. Alexander and Mr. I. T. Birtwistle for their splendid addresses on Nazi Germany and Japan, respectively. The Debating Societies, junior and senior, held their regular meetings as usual during the winter terms, and the Camera Club has pursued its quiet way with considerable success throughout the year. The Dramatic Society and Orchestra, although somewhat upset by the difficulty in finding a suitable hall at the right time, nevertheless gave two excellent performances in September. The cadet corps has worked well throughout the year and held a very successful camp at Karrakatta. It is noteworthy that the corps has reached the stage when it can supply from its ranks two boys capable of becoming officers, and I congratulate D. Clement and P. Jacoby upon their appointments to commissioned rank. They have been efficient in their work and have lightened Mr. Drake's work much.

I want to make special mention this year of the School Magazine, the CYGNET. In the opinion of many competent critics, the 1934 CYGNET ranks high among the school magazines of Australia. The Editor, B. L. Murray, and the Committee are to be congratulated upon a splendid production.

Of the spiritual side of our School life I would say this: We have been happy to have with us again Mr. Stillwell and Mr. Lawrence, who have had charge of some of the classes for Scripture. They, too, have instructed the confirmation classes, and I am proud to state that in the last two years 62 boys have been confirmed.

Before I conclude may I tender my sincere thanks to all those parents and friends of the School who have so liberally contributed to the prize funds, and who have in other ways helped to make this year such a successful and happy one. I am grateful to the teaching staff and the house and grounds staff, whose loyalty and co-operation are greatly appreciated, to the Governors for their generous sympathy and help at all times, and lastly to the Captain of the School and the prefects who have so well lived up to their oath to preserve the honour and traditions of the School.

The beginning of Second Term, 1934, saw several changes in the Boarding House. The new boys, Robert Tompkins, who was soon known as "Tomcats," and little Peter Anderson were the first persons to attract attention. A few weeks passed and George Buckingham arrived.

The seniors, 6A and 6B now enjoyed prep. in a study set apart for them. Mr. Drake became lenient with these fellows and allowed them 2/- a week pocket money, surely a great step in the House's development.

Archdeacon Riley was a visitor on Saturday evening, 30th June. He kindly displayed a section of his stamp collection, amongst which was his collection of 4d. Blue 1854 West Australian Swans. These stamps consist of many variations and are a very valuable set.

On another Saturday evening the boarders were entertained by Mr. G. Gregory, of the Vacuum Oil Company, who showed a very interesting educational film. Most of us learnt a great deal about the petroleum industry, especially Stuart Clark, an interested day boy, who had many questions ready for Mr. Gregory.

During the middle of the term influenza raged amongst us, and only eight out of forty boys escaped contracting the germ. It was a busy period for Sister and Matron, but they tended the ailing with their customary cheerfulness, although at the end of the fortnight they were both worn out.

The long leave week-end was on the 7th, 8th and 9th of July, when a military camp was held at the Fremantle Barracks, for the purpose of training N.C.O.'s. Three boarders were promoted, Ron Pearse to the rank of sergeant, John Craig and John Ilbery to that of corporal.

As July 27th was a very wet Saturday, Mr. Purvis, the M.O.D., arranged a ping-pong tournament. After many interesting struggles, Tony Craig defeated his brother Frank in the final. In the evening a Crusader Union meeting was well attended, especially by most of the younger boys.

On 12th August, John Ilbery, John Craig, Dick Carr, Keith Burges, Alan and Ross Buchanan were confirmed at St. Mary's Church by Archbishop Le Fanu.

The House, as usual, was well represented in sport. Pearse, Stone, and Hammond were in the Football XVIII, whilst Stewart, vice-captain, and seven others were in the 2nd XVIII. The 3rd XVIII and under age teams were also well represented by boarders, much of our success being due to the energy of Mr. P. D. Langley. Tennis also was played more enthusiastically than it has been for some winters, and a keen interest was revived in the Camera Club.

Pictures shown on the last night by the Headmaster were very much appreciated, especially as they finished off a very happy term.

Third Term, 1934

Although several boys left, our numbers remained unaltered, as their places were filled by G. Marshall, a member of the 1st XI, W. Parry, from Albany, who came with a good cricket reputation, and A. Hatfield, J. Vetter, and C. McNess, who were previously day-boys.

Keith Stewart and Reg. Hammond were inducted by Mr. Langley as House Prefects on the 16th September. The newly appointed prefects with the school prefects, Ron Pearse and Dick Cullen, then signed their names in the Prefects' Book, which is for the purpose of recording the names of house prefects. This was the first induction ceremony which has taken place in the House.

Mr. Langley also organised the purchase of a photograph album, to be used as a pictorial record of the House.

On the first Saturday evening in November, Dr. Buntine again entertained us with several of his picture reels. As is usual, the film taken of the previous cadet camp proved very popular, and loud cheers were raised whenever a boarder was sighted on the screen.

"CYGNET" COMMITTEE, 1935

R. PICKERING, E. S. CLARKE, J. ILBERY, J. CRAIG.
P. R. JACOBY, R. HAMMOND, L. RILEY, D. GORDON, B. L. MURRAY.
C. CLARKE, MR. ALLAN, MR. NEWBERY, F. H. MOORE (Editor).

Congratulations to Dennis Robinson (Captain), Keith Stewart and Gardiner Marshall on securing a place in the "B" Tennis Team which did so well. In the Inter-School Athletics the House was represented by Ron Pearse, open hurdles; John Craig, and John Ilbery, open high jump, and Maurice Brearley, under sixteen high jump.

Boarders who secured a place in the shooting team included Geoff Foulkes-Taylor, champion shot of the School, Gardiner Marshall, Keith Burges, and John Ilbery. In the winning Darlot Cup cricket team, Marshall, Hammond, Parry, and McLarty represented the House, Marshall doing particularly well.

We congratulate Dick Cullen, Dux of the School, Ron Pearse, Proxime Accessit, and many other boarders who gained top places in their respective forms.

The annual feast ended a very pleasant and successful year. Mr. Langley, who resigned his position as Housemaster, said in his farewell speech, that during his six years' residence the House had never attained to so much allround success as in this year. We all regret Mr. Langley's departure, but at the same time everyone wishes him all happiness in the future.

First Term, 1935

Congratulations to Mr. Rowlands, Housemaster, 1935. We extend a hearty welcome to Mr. McGilvray.

The total number of boarders is now 55, an increase of twelve boys. We also welcome the new boys:—I. Barker, I. Beaton, J. Brisbane, H. Broad, D. Burges, A. Carey, I. Connor, W. Couchman, G. Day-Lewis, A. Hanson, R. Harris, D. Jacob, N. Jose, J. Langer, J. Lowe, N. McDaniel, J. McKenna, H. McLarty, I. McLeod, K. Meares, T. Muir, P. Parry, K. Retalic, O. Riley, J. Sherlock, H. Shipway, E. Sutherland, D. Thomson, G. Ward, P. Whittell.

These fellows have settled down quickly, and especially after the new boys' boxing, when many felt they had been truly initiated. The boxing held early in the year provided hectic hitting. This was very noticeable in the bout between the two giants, "Tiger" Riley and "Kid" Langer. In the heavy-weight match Connor defeated Sherlock on points. Mr. McGilvray, a Sydney University boxing blue, added a light touch to his position of referee, and later in the evening several day-boys who had come along as spectators were paired off.

Reg. Hammond, the only House Prefect to return, was appointed Captain of the House. John Craig, John Ilbery, Athol Stone and Tim Yates were selected as House Prefects and inducted by Mr. Rowlands. It was an unusual honour for the House, that these five were also School Prefects.

Sporting activities this term included an unsuccessful but gallant attempt by a Boarders' team to win the relay handicap race at the School Swimming Sports. We were represented by Tim Yates, Bill Shipway, and Ian McLeod in the Interschool Swimming Sports, and Shipway also secured a place in the Life-Saving Team.

The five cricketers in the House, West Parry, Phil Parry, who performed excellently for his first term, Hammond, Beaton, and Robinson, thoroughly enjoyed the Eastern tour. In view of our strength, a challenge match was played against the day-boys, and with dire results. The Boarders lost the toss and batted on a sticky wicket, making only 44, and the day-boys passed this score with ease. We realise that if the School had been sent in it might have been a different tale, although Bunny Mews still honestly believes the day-boys were a better team.

The rowers, John Craig, 1st crew; John Ilbery and Jack Sherlock, 2nd crew, after a hard term's rowing, proved themselves on Boat Race Day.

The Cadet Corps has recently aroused great enthusiasm. Although there has been only one parade, a Boarders' Platoon has already been formed.

Near the end of term several boys were unlucky to be confined to the sickroom. Tim Yates, who contracted measles just before Easter, spent the rest of the term recuperating at home. Keith Burges and Nolan MacDaniel also caught the measles; Doug. Jacob and Hugh MacLarty, severe colds, and Douglas Burges had his tonsils removed. However, they are all well on the way to recovery, and are eagerly awaiting the holidays.

In writing up the Boarders' Notes, it is impossible to overlook the kindness and thoughtfulness shown to us by Sister and Matron, and in conclusion I wish them to know that we all feel a keen appreciation.

In the House They say that—

Claudie is always in a hurry.
Beetle requires earphones.
The rowers eat rice.

The Boarders pray to Allah.

Taties needs a peeler, and

Tomcats a scrubbing brush.

If in need of a camera apply Kodak.

This reminds us of one of Mr. Marshall's latest puns. "Eh! Camerer, do you ever develop any work? I suppose the answer is always in the negative."

SCIENCE NOTES

Another by-product of coal tar, known as "plastic glass," has been discovered. It is said to be almost unbreakable, but, unfortunately for scientists, and those who are in the habit of breaking windows, it melts at a very low temperature, and is therefore useless for scientific glassware and plate glass.

The five gram weights are becoming scarce in the Lab. Perhaps they are being mistaken for collar studs.

One of the experiments in practical physics is "The Preparation of a Simple Cell." In Fremantle there are some who would prefer to know of "The Demolition of a Simple Cell."

Last year, in the Cavendish Laboratories, a new low temperature record was established, two-thirds degree above absolute zero.

Several chemists have been doing some research work on the gas formed when nitric acid acts on flies. Some consider that nitrogen peroxide is evolved. Opinions, however, differ.

We have some new magnets which have at present only two poles each.

We should like to know whether an insulated conductor is charged by induction or exhaustion. The point is debatable.

Two scientists recently tried to make some soda water (?). They both agreed that it was not bad. Owing to a suggestion, a test was made, and it proved to be a dilute solution of hydrochloric acid. Believe it or not, they made no more.

THE SCHOOL LIBRARY

What a constant, unobtrusive friend a good book is! It is always ready to entertain us, to interest and instruct us, and as soon as we are tired of it we can just shut it up and leave it and nobody is offended. This friend never complains that it is being neglected.

When we are tired of study and are unable to get recreation out of doors, a book is an unfailing source of rest and of delight. For this reason I like always to have a book on hand to take up at odd moments or to read and enjoy for an hour or two.

Here in the library we have books to suit all tastes; romances for those who like them, books of adventure, mystery stories, historical, detective, and simple tales of home and school life. Whenever we like we can wander with a favourite hero to far-off lands, over strange, lonely seas, or through the trackless realms of air. We can trace the detection of the criminal, guided by the master-hand of Conan Doyle or Edgar Wallace. There are no bounds to the experiences through which we may travel when we surrender ourselves into the magic power of a good writer.

To form the habit of reading when one is young is to prepare the way to long hours of pleasure in the middle and old age, when sport has lost its attraction and the body has become too weak for it.

But in addition to this and to the pleasure we get as we read, we are unconsciously forming habits of reflection about men and things. We see in action the hero of a story, and form our own judgment on his character. We trace the effects of his actions as we are not able to do in real life. All this is useful, and gives us a more intelligent understanding of the people around us.

Are we using our school library as freely as we ought to do? If not, we are missing a great pleasure and failing to provide for our later years.

Running a library entails a considerable amount of work, and the librarian wishes to thank those boys who have helped him by acting as assistants throughout the year.

Several boys have generously donated books as gifts. Tony Murray brought a large parcel, and George Randell another. We thank them, and hope that others will follow their good example.

This year the Cadet Corps, with a big increase in numbers, about seventy-four in all, can boast of three platoons and headquarters. We regret that one officer, Lieut. D. M. Clement, and several N.C.O.'s have left us.

We were pleased to hear during August of last year that the commissions of Cadet-Lieutenants D. M. Clement and P. R. Jacoby had been confirmed.

Several N.C.O.'s have been promoted this year: Corporal Craig to C.S.M.; Corporal Riley to C.Q.M.S.; Corporals Murray and Ilbery, and Lance-Corporal Gordon to Provisional Sergeants, Lance-Corporal McAulay to Provisional Corporal.

At last our miniature range is being built and will soon be in use.

N.C.O.'s CAMP

During the 7th, 8th and 9th of July last year an N.C.O.'s camp was held, at the kind invitation of Major Meredith, at the Fremantle Artillery Barracks, and the N.C.O.'s who attended had a very enjoyable week-end.

On the 9th an examination was held, with the result that F. Doddemeade, J. Craig, J. Ilbery, and B. Murray received the chevrons of corporals, and C. McAulay and H. Brockway the chevron of a lance-corporal. Later L. Riley and D. Gordon were given the ranks of corporal and lance-corporal respectively.

ANNUAL CAMP

In 1933, owing to the prevalence of influenza in the School, we had to miss our annual camp. Last year we held our camp at Karrakatta, from the 18th to the 24th of August. Captain R. G. Pollard acted as Camp Commandant, and his attention and help were greatly appreciated.

On the Wednesday we held our usual "Parents' Day," and in the afternoon were reviewed by His Excellency the Lieutenant-Governor Sir James Mitchell, his A.D.C., Captain S. Hall, A.S.C., and the 5th Military District Commandant, Brigadier Martin, A.S.C.

The parents and friends were afterwards given afternoon tea in the mess-hut.

SHOOTING NOTES

Interschool Competition

On Saturday morning, December 3, Guildford, Scotch College and Hale contested the cup, resulting in a victory for Guildford.

The day was hot and clear with a slightly gusty wind blowing from the east. The results for the School team over 200 and 500 yards ranges in order of firing were:—D. M. Clement, 31, 21; G. Marshall, 24, 19; L. Riley, 28, 14; P. W. Atkins, 26, 23; P. R. Jacoby, 18, 15; J. Ilbery, 23, 17; J. Foulkes-Taylor, 28, 28 (champion shot); K. Burges, 26, 18.

Totals for all schools:—

	200-yards	500-yards	Grand Total
Hale . . . . .	204	155	359
G.G.S. . . . .	240	202	442
S.C. . . . .	237	198	435

Jeffery Foulkes-Taylor was School Champion Shot with the very good total of 56.

The School would here like to congratulate the winners, Guildford Grammar School, on a very fine performance.

On Friday morning, the 22nd February, the School assembled at Crawley Baths for the Annual School Sports. Good conditions prevailed, and two records were broken—the 50-yards back stroke under 16 by W. Forrest, and the 50-yards breast stroke under 16 by R. Ewen.

The Open Championship was won by D. Tregonning, with 12 points, followed by R. Ewen, 8 points, and P. Jacoby, 7½ points. Tregonning and Ewen were also first and second respectively in the under 16 championship. In the under 15 division, N. Taylor, after two very close races, was just able to wrest the championship from D. McWhae.

Mr. P. D. Langley and the Swimming Committee are to be heartily congratulated on their excellent organisation of the sports. We would also like to thank all those who very kindly donated to the Sports Fund.

INTER-SCHOOL SPORTS

Even standing room was at a premium at Crawley Baths on Saturday morning, May 4th, when Hale, for the fifth year in succession, won the Henn Cup. Despite the absence, through illness, of Percy Oliver, we gained an early lead, held it throughout, winning easily by 51 points. The final scores were:—Hale School, 136 points; Scotch College, 75; Christian Brothers' College, 56, and Guildford Grammar School, 23.

A new points system was inaugurated in this carnival in which points were given for the first seven places, counting 10, 7, 5, 4, 3, 2, and 1 respectively, the idea being to make the competition keen between all competitors. There was also an addition of two new events, namely the 50-yards under 12 and the 275 yards relay race consisting of five members in each team.

Probably the two most exciting races of the day were the 220 yards under 16, and 50 yards under 13. In the former,

Tregonning (H.S.), after setting the pace for most of the way, was narrowly defeated by Taylor (H.S.), who finished very strongly. The latter was a struggle between Properjohn (S.C.) and Parker (H.S.). Properjohn led for about 30 yards, when Parker came up and just failed to gain the decision.

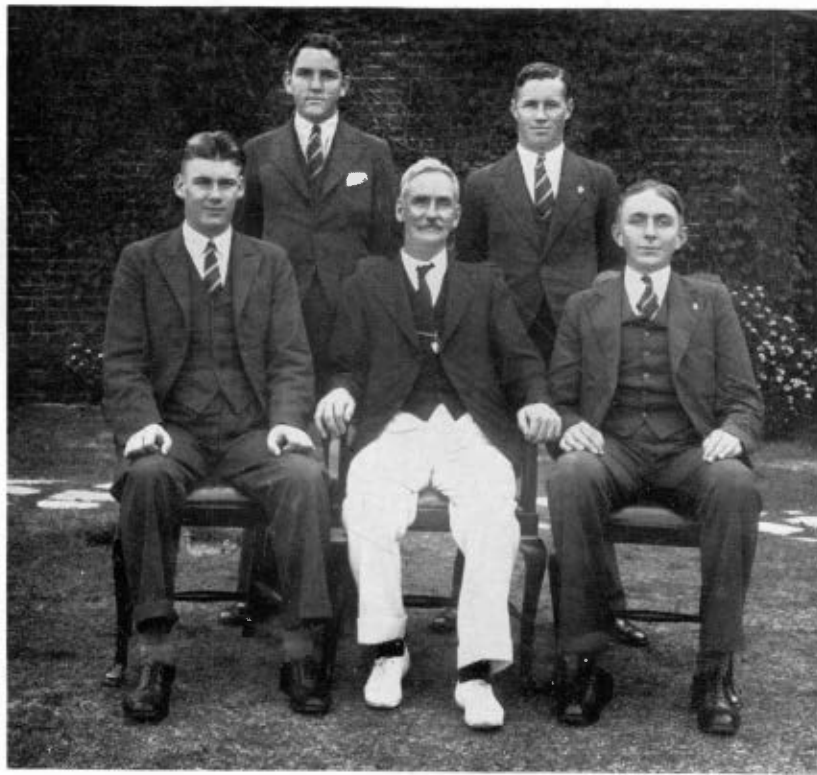

The team was an even all-round combination, every member pulling his weight, in which the main point-getters were Ewen, Tregonning, Taylor, and Jacoby.

Mr. Wells is once more to be congratulated on producing such a fine team.

The following were the results:—

- 100 Yards Open, Freestyle.—D. Tregonning (H.S.), 1; P. Jacoby (H.S.), 2; T. Oakley (G.G.S.), 3; N. Woolhouse (C.B.C.), 4; G. V. Minchin (S.C.), 5; F. Harris (G.G.S.), 6; D. Royce (S.C.), 7. Time, 61 2-5 sec.

HALE'S INTERSTATE REPRESENTATIVE

We would like to take this opportunity of once again extending to Percy Oliver our heartiest congratulations on his swimming performances in the Eastern States during the Christmas vacation. His main achievements were, winning the 110 yards Junior Free-style Australian Championship in Hobart, and the 110 yards Junior Centenary Championship in Melbourne, and gaining second place in the 100 yards Back-stroke Australian Championship. This last performance is perhaps the greatest, as Kiyokawa is the world's champion over this distance, and only won by about two yards. As a foreigner is not allowed to hold the title, it is therefore held by Oliver.

We wish him every success for the future, and hope he will go far in the swimming world.

LIFE SAVING

This year there was a much smaller number compared with previous years, who took the examinations of the Royal Life Saving Society. It is hoped that this will not seriously jeopardise our chances for future Law Shield competitions, and that there will be a large increase next year.

The following gained awards of the Royal Life Saving Society:—

Elementary Certificate.—J. Parker, W. Potter, Godfrey, R. McWhae.

Intermediate Certificate.—J. Parker, W. Potter, R. Godfrey.

Bronze Medallion.—J. Cumpston, J. Parker, W. Potter.

Silver Medallion.—Hatcher.

Law Shield

This year the School again proved its supremacy in Life-saving by regaining the Law Shield, which it has now held thirteen times in the last fourteen years. Not only was the Shield brought back to the School, but the 1st and 2nd places were taken by the Hale "A" and "B" teams respectively. This success was achieved, despite the fact that Scotch entered a formidable array of five teams, and owing to the absence of two members of the "B" team, two untried and untrained boys were forced to fill their positions at the last minute. All praise is due to these two for their fine effort.

Both teams deserve the heartiest praise, and the School looks hopefully forward to next season.

We also wish to take the opportunity of offering our most sincere thanks to Mr. Wells for his unfailing enthusiasm in coaching and training the teams.

The School was represented by:—

"A" Team.—H. Garland, R. Ewen, D. Tregonning, M. Clarke.

"B" Team.—H. Shipway, N. Taylor, G. Lewis, D. McWhae.

Results.—Hale "A", 1st; Hale "B", 2nd; Wesley, 3rd. Time 473 2-5sec.

THE SCHOOL SPORTS, 1934

---

The School Athletic Meeting was held on Friday, October 5th, at the W.A.C.A. Ground. Conditions were ideal until later in the afternoon, when a strong head-wind hampered competitors considerably. A large gathering attended, and witnessed some very fine performances. Several championship events were decided on the Monday and Tuesday prior to the sports. Much interest was centred on the School Championship, due to the keenness with which it was contested. However, P. Jacoby, after excelling himself in the open 440 yards, secured the title by the narrow margin of half a point from D. Clement.

Tregonning ran well, winning the under 16 title from T. Baker, who ran the middle distance races excellently. The under 15 title went to Beaton, who has proved his ability in previous years. He recorded good times in both the 100 yards and 300 yards events. Fethers and Mellor, two promising young athletes, performed well in the under 14 section.

In the jumping events D. Clement again won the open 120 yards hurdles and the long jump, J. Ilbery won the open high jump, while Craig and Brearley won the under 16 and under 15 jumps respectively.

The most noticeable runners in the younger sections were Smith in the under 13, and R. McWhae in the under 12.

The afternoon concluded with the School Handicap Mile, which is one of the popular events of the day, and always attracts numerous entries. It was won by Curlewis, who is rather consistent in these events.

We take this opportunity of showing our appreciation to Mr. P. D. Langley for his excellent starting, and to Mr. Charles Langley, who did invaluable work in arranging all that was necessary to make the sports the success they were, and to those boys who aided in preparing the grounds.

The results were:—

INTERSCHOOL ATHLETIC MEETING, 1934

The Interschool Running was held on October 27, 1934, in conditions which did not suit the recording of any particularly fast times, the sprinter being heavily handicapped by a strong headwind. As usual, the "Inters" attracted a large crowd of enthusiastic supporters.

Our team successfully reversed last year's result, defeating Christian Brothers' College by 125 2-3 points to 103 points. C.B.C. have narrowly beaten us in the past five meetings. The captain of our team, P. Jacoby, again won the 440 yards Open Championship, and in so doing established a record for this event. It is interesting to note that the previous record had stood for seventeen years. D. Clement was also a valuable runner in the open division. Tregonning and Baker were outstanding under 16. Beaton ran well in winning both 100 yards and 300 yards under 15, breaking the existing record in the latter. Fethers and Mellor added a considerable number of points to our total by gaining first and second places respectively in both their events. The Relay team did well in running into third position, as it had suffered a severe handicap just prior to the race in losing two of its scheduled runners.

One cannot let this occasion pass without recognising the untiring services of Mr. Ryan, who, for some years past has trained our team, and we thank him accordingly.

We congratulate the team on their splendid success. The detailed results are as follows:—

ROWING

NOTES

During the last few weeks of the third term last year, most of the boys who rowed in last year's first and second crews visited the rowing sheds to renew their acquaintance with the boats.

It was not until the beginning of this year, however, that the scramble for seats in the crews began in earnest. Quite a number of new boys attended the sheds, but those who showed promise were soon sorted out.

We were very fortunate in obtaining the services of Mr. George Rogers, who immediately had a crew boated, consisting of Gordon, who stroked last year's crew, in the same position; Craig, from last year's seconds, in position three; Weston 2, who also rowed in last year's first, and Dyson, bow, from last year's seconds. The crew was never changed about in any way and soon showed possibilities of developing into a strong combination. The second crew was picked without much loss of time, consisting of Sherlock, stroke, Ilbery 3, Palmer 2, and Garland, bow. Most of the members of this crew had done none or very little rowing before, and they deserve much credit for developing into a very strong crew. A few weeks before coming back to school, an order was placed for a new practice boat, which was kindly given by the Old Boys and the Governors of the School. The crews wish to take this opportunity of thanking them for their generosity.

The boat arrived about the eighth week of the term and was christened in the presence of a small gathering at the boat sheds by Mrs. Buntine. The name given to the boat, "George Rogers," was very appropriate, as Mr. Rogers has rendered much valuable service to the School in past years.

So enthusiastic were those boys unable to fill seats in the second crew, that they formed a third four, consisting of Riley, stroke, Harrison 3, Shipway 2, and Lewis bow. A third's race was arranged between C.B.C., Guildford, and ourselves, over a half mile on the afternoon before the Head of the River Race. The result was a win for Guildford Grammar, Hale being second, and C.B.C. third.

HEAD OF THE RIVER RACE

Conditions for the race were fair, with rough water and a head wind, making a fast time unlikely. The four crews got away to a good start, after a false start, in which Hale fouled the inside buoy against which they drifted. Scotch pressed hard to gain the advantage, but Hale held a slight lead at the quarter mile mark from Scotch, with C.B.C. and Guildford about a length behind. At the half mile mark Scotch took a lead of about a length from Hale, and both were drawing away from C.B.C. and Guildford. Scotch were making a great effort to hold their lead, and with only 50 yards to go, Hale spurted, and were beaten by only two feet by Scotch when the gun went; C.B.C. were third, and G.G.S. last.

We convey our heartiest congratulations to Scotch on the magnificent race they rowed.

The second crew are to be congratulated on winning, this being the first occasion on which Hale School has won the Seconds Race.

CRITICISM OF SCHOOL CREW, 1935

Bow: K. DYSON.—This member of the crew was perhaps the most improved oarsman. With only a few weeks to get used to the bow seat he filled the position well. During the early part of training he found it difficult to row the stroke right through, with the result that the stroke was lost because the stick was not kept deep enough in the water at the finish, thus causing a wash-out. Later this weakness was mastered, and with well controlled body work, good slidework coming forward, he filled the bow seat quite up to the average oarsman's standard.

No. 2: P. H. WESTON.—This boy was the most experienced in the crew, and rowed as well as in previous years. Rowing with good length, he gave the stroke good support, but could have paid more attention to the bracing up of the body at the catch in order to help keep the boat on an even keel.

No. 3: J. B. CRAIG.—The big man of the crew did all that could be desired; being a good type of oarsman, with plenty of reach he obtained full length of the stroke without much effort. Rowing with a nice, free action, and getting a good take up, with a strong rake through, he assisted very materially in keeping the boat running between the strokes. In the three seat he followed the stroke with the sure timing that enabled the crew to keep uniform in all its work.

Stroke: D. L. GORDON.—The stroke of the crew set a very even time, which allowed the other members to give him the assistance that must be given to the stroke when racing. Being on the light side, he had to make good use of his legs to apply full power to the quick catch and strong rake home, but was inclined to fall over the catch, and so make the work harder than was necessary. His ability as a stroke was well up to the standard, and he displayed good judgment when handling the crew during fast work.

Coxswain.—The coxswain steered a good course, and did everything in the interest of the crew.

General Comment.—The crew formed a very even combination with a uniform swing and uninterrupted run on the boat, from which full advantage of the power put into the stroke was taken. The crew was well up to the standard of other crews of past years, and the form shown during the "Head of the River Race" was all that could be expected from any crew of the same physique.

The discipline and attention to training of the crew was very good, which made it a pleasure to coach them. If this standard can be maintained the School has nothing to fear in the future.

DARLOT CUP MATCHES, 1934

Hale School v. G.G.S.

The second round of matches commenced on the 14th November, when the School played G.G.S. at Guildford. Moore won the toss and elected to bat on a perfect wicket. When Hammond and Nathan opened the innings, a strong easterly wind assisted the bowlers, but nevertheless, 62 runs were on the board before Hammond was dismissed for 26. Nathan (43), Marshall (26), Moore (15), and Parry (14) were the only batsmen to reach double figures. Bolton (G.G.S.) batted well for 77, and was ably assisted by Browne (25), and Craddock (23).

Hale School v. Scotch College

Played at the W.A.C.A. Ground, on December 11, 1934. The School batted first, and the batsmen were somewhat uneasy against the Scotch attack. Moore (21) and Clement (21) batted well, but after them wickets fell cheaply until Clarke and Epstein became associated in a valuable partnership which was worth 44. York bowled well for S.C., taking 5 for 20. Thompson for S.C. batted nearly all the afternoon for 41 n.o. Clement bowled well, taking 5 for 46, off 25 overs, as did Moore, who took 4 for 14.

FIRST ROUND, 1935

Hale School v. C.B.C.

Played on W.A.C.A. Ground, 27th March.

On Wednesday, the 27th March, the School team played its first Cup Match for the year. Moore won the toss and decided to bat on a good batsmen's wicket. Wickets fell cheaply until Hammond and P. Parry became associated in an invaluable partnership, bringing the score from 4-47 to 5-100. The remaining batsmen offered little resistance, and the side was all out for 132. C.B.C. went in to bat, and it soon became evident that the result would be close. P. Parry and Mews pegged the batsmen down, and runs came very slowly. The interest however was maintained by the closeness of the game. A good throw by Pickering was the cause of the running out of Norrish, who had been playing a straight bat to everything. This increased the excitement, and the wickets began to fall, but still the score increased. The ninth wicket fell with C.B.C. two runs behind. The last man went in and scored one, but was cleaned bowled by Moore in the next over. It had proved an excellent match, and the School team thoroughly deserved its victory, although great credit is due to C.B.C., as many of their boys were playing in their 1st Cup Match.

The best bowlers for the School were Moore, 4-9; P. Parry, 4-37.

Hale School v. Scotch College

Played on the Scotch College Memorial Ground, on the 8th April, 1935.

Hale batted first on a slow wicket. Our opening pair were just beginning to settle down when Hammond was unlucky to be run out for 10. The School batting was very poor, only three others reaching double figures. Mews 10, P. Parry 12, and Tregonning 16. The Scotch bowling was accurate, but the School should have been able to manage many more runs. Scotch went in to bat, and were 2-10, but then Anderson and McNeil became associated in a valuable partnership, and took the score to 50. After the dismissal of these two, wickets fell cheaply, and the side was all out for 83.

Hale in the second innings declared with 6-57, with still a fighting chance. Scotch had 90 minutes left in which to bat, and at stumps were 5-48.

Hale School v. G.G.S.

Played at Guildford, on the 11th April, 1935.

The third match of the first round was against G.G.S. Hale had first use of a perfect wicket, and declared with 8-219. Hammond gave the side a fine start, making a very solid 33. He was ably backed up by P. Parry 30, Moore 30, Parry 42, and K. Clarke 31 not out. Browne was the most successful bowler, taking 6-60.

Guildford were left with over 200 to make in 150 minutes. They attacked from the first ball, and were given an excellent start before Drage was out for 56 from a good catch by Hammond. Burt 40, and McGuire 30, helped to carry their total past Hale's with about fifteen minutes in hand. The best bowlers for Hale were Mews, 3-55, and Moore, 2-25.

THE EASTER TOUR

As the tour which was to have been held last year did not eventuate, the team looked forward with redoubled pleasure to this year's tour.

The train journey seemed comparatively short, everybody being in such merry spirits that the time quickly passed, and with the exception of one or two incidents, it was quite uneventful.

The first match was against Balingup, and they fielded a strong team against us. They batted first and made 191, the School bowling honours going to W. Parry, with 4-37. Hale could only manage 9-125 by stumps, and the game ended in a draw in Balingup's favour.

We were taken to Bridgetown by motor cars, and spent the night there. The School batted first and were all out for 105. Bridgetown went in, and it looked like a close game, but with 30 to make and three wickets to fall, two of their team got set and carried the total to 151. The team would like to thank Major Retell for the afternoon tea which he provided, which was much appreciated, as it was nearly 9 p.m. before we reached Boyup Brook.

Against Boyup the School team were all out for 125 (Mews 37, W. Parry 32). Boyup began disastrously, having 5 wickets down for 10, chiefly owing to the accurate bowling of Mr. Rowlands and Newman, who were swinging the new ball. M. Fields held the side together, making 47, but could get no one to stay with him, and the side was all out for 85.

We went on by truck to Preston Valley, and were billeted out with various people. The following day the weather which had hitherto seemed slightly uncertain, showed a change for the better, with a beautiful sunny day. The School batted first for 124 (W. Parry 76). Preston Valley, who batted soon after lunch, were all out for 97.

The next two nights were spent at Brookhampton, where the final match was played. The School compiled 193. P. Parry excelled himself, making 57 and taking 7-38. L. Clifford batted well for 65 not out, the side making 154.

The team would like to take this opportunity of thanking Mr. Brazier, Major Retell, Mr. Wagner, Mr. L. Fields, and Mr. C. Fowler and all those people who added to the enjoyment of the tour.

1st ELEVEN v. Mr. LOTON'S TEAM

On Monday, the 1st April, the School cricket team held its annual fixture with Mr. Loton's team on the Upper Swan ground. Moore won the toss and decided to bat. Chiefly due to a fine innings by Mews, who made 105 retired, the School reached the respectable total of 207. Before the Upper Swan team could bat there was a heavy downpour of rain, and play had to cease for about an hour while the outfield dried. Mr. Loton's team could only manage 88, chiefly due to the consistent bowling of P. Parry and W. Parry, who took 4-19 and 3-33 respectively.

The team want to take this opportunity of thanking Mr. and Mrs. Loton and the team for their kind hospitality.

CRITIQUE—1st Eleven, 1935

MOORE, Captain.—Gained valuable experience during third term, 1934, and this year has handled the team well, setting a fine example in the field. Could use himself more as a bowler.

W. PARRY, Vice-captain.—An aggressive bat with good shots; he has worked hard to overcome a weakness on the leg stump; should adopt one style of bowling and keep to it; fields well.

HAMMOND.—Batting has developed along very sound lines, defence excellent, and strokes increasing; has improved greatly in ground fielding and catching, but throwing is still weak.

MEWS.—A very promising all-rounder; bats best when attacking the bowling; a useful slow bowler and good field.

PICKERING.—A fast medium bowler with an easy action, but an over-long run; has real batting ability, but often throws his wicket away by pottering methods; fielding greatly improved.

P. PARRY.—An off-break bowler of the orthodox type, he bowled with great success; changes of flight and pace will bring further rewards; a sound bat with good off-strokes, should check a tendency to lift his head; fielding improving.

C. CLARKE.—Has a graceful and sound batting style; should play forward more strongly; kept wickets excellently.

K. CLARKE.—Has greatly improved his defence, but must not sacrifice scoring shots; a good slip-field.

NEWMAN.—Batting improving, but must not pull away from the ball. A promising bowler and a good field.

TREGONNING.—A slow left-hand bowler, he must try spinning rather than rolling the ball from his hand; an untiring and fast fieldsman. Though unorthodox, has possibilities as a forcing batsman.

BEATON.—A medium pace bowler who will improve; has the makings of a good driving batsman; moves smartly in the field, but does not pick up cleanly.

ROBINSON.—Has had few opportunities, but has shown keenness; fielded splendidly in his only cup match.

The team throughout fielded well, though it has not yet reached the standard of the previous year. Generally, the batsman do not play forward enough, nor leave their creases to deal with the slow bowling. The bowling was steady and of good variety, but lacking in devil. A team of considerable promise.

A large number attended the first general meeting at the beginning of the year. Mr. Allen has again kindly consented to act as president and honorary treasurer for the Club. John Craig, who was secretary during 1934, was re-elected unopposed to this important office.

This year there are seventeen financial members, an increase of one on last year; several boys however have not yet paid their sub. (which is 3/- per annum), and these are reminded that the Club cannot be "developed and enlarged" without finance.

In a competition during third term last year some good photographs were submitted, of which the winning two were entered by Hammond and Parkinson.

The enlarger, which was made and presented to the Club by John Craig last year, has provided a new interest to the members, and some very fine enlargements have been made. During first term this year it was decided that the Club should mix its own developer. A large quantity was made, which has been used with considerable success during the term.

We would like to take this opportunity of expressing to Mr. Parlato our gratitude for his untiring efforts in helping us in the finer points of photography. He has attended every meeting, and his work and enthusiasm are an inspiration to everyone.

The first meeting of the Society was held on Wednesday, February 20. A large number of both senior and junior boys attended, and prospects of a busy debating year seemed promising. It was decided to hold two debates every alternate Friday. The following officers were elected:—Mr. Newbery, President; Dr. Buntine, Messrs. Rowlands, Marshall, and C. Langley, Vice-Presidents; B. L. Murray, Secretary. Jacoby and Murray were chosen as team captains, and two senior debates were arranged for 8th March.

On Friday, 8th March, in the School Hall, the opening debates of the year were held, the first was "That Horse Racing should be Abolished."

The teams were:—

Affirmative.—Jacoby ( leader), Craig, Stone, Smith.

Negative.—Murray (leader), W. Parry, P. Parry, Riley.

Dr. Buntine very kindly adjudicated, and after a spirited debate, declared the Affirmative side the winner.

The next debate was "That the Prohibition of Alcoholic Liquors would benefit Australia."

The teams were:—

Affirmative.—C. Clarke ( leader), Moore, Ilbery, Hammond.

Negative.—Pickering ( leader), Ferguson, Bocking, Wreford.

Dr. Donald Smith very kindly adjudicated and gave the decision to the Affirmative team. Mr. Newbery then thanked Dr. Smith for adjudicating on behalf of the Society, and closed the debate.

At a meeting of the Committee, it was decided that two debates with four boys in each team occupied too much time, and the number in the teams was reduced to three.

Two junior debates were held on Friday, March 22nd. The subject of the first was, "That the Perth boy makes a better Citizen than the Country boy."

The teams were:—

Affirmative.—Davy (leader), Cowan, K. Burges.

Negative.—Burges (leader), Skevington, Buchanan.

J. Craig occupied the chair, and F. Moore, D. Gordon, and B. Murray were the adjudicators. After the debate, Mr. Newbery congratulated the debaters, who, he considered, as it was their first attempt, had all distinguished themselves. The decision was in favour of the Affirmative side.

The second debate of the evening was "That Tennis should be an Inter-school Sport."

The teams were:—

Affirmative.—Cairns-Hill (leader), D. Robinson, Gray.

Negative.—Edmondson (leader), K. Clarke, F. Craig.

J. Craig again took the chair, and D. Gordon, W. Riley, and B. Murray adjudicated. After the debate, Mr. Langley offered the debaters some very helpful criticism, and pointed out to them their main faults. The adjudicators then gave their decision in favour of the Affirmative side.

Two debates, a junior and a senior, were held on Friday, 5th April. The junior debate, "That in future warfare the Air Force will be of more use than the Navy," was keenly contested by:—

Affirmative.—Buchanan (leader), Harrison, Edmonds.

Negative.—Cowan (leader), Cryer, Gray.

Mr. Newbery adjudicated, and after some very useful comments, declared the naval advocates the winners.

Mr. H. D. Moseley had promised to adjudicate the senior debate, but owing to an attack of influenza he was unable to attend. In his absence, Mr. Solomon very kindly officiated.

The subject of the debate was, "That Western Civilisation has been, and is, a Benefit to the Native Races," and both sides treated it very fully, dealing with all types of natives, from the Australian black to the highly civilised Japanese.

The teams were:—

Affirmative.—Jacoby (leader), Yates, E. S. Clarke.

Negative.—Murray (leader), Connor, Cuthbertson.

Mr. Solomon, after a very interesting and detailed critique of the debaters, declared the affirmative side the winner by a very small margin. Mr. Newbery then thanked Mr. Solomon on behalf of the Society, and closed the debate.

We would like to take this opportunity of thanking Mr. Moseley and Mr. Neville for their valuable assistance to the teams, and Dr. Smith and Mr. Solomon, for kindly adjudicating debates.

It is pleasing to note that no less than 35 different boys took part in debates during the past term, a sure indication of the Society's popularity.

It has been decided to affiliate the Public Questions Society, which was formed by Dr. Buntine last year, with the Debating Society. The object of the Public Questions Society is to give the senior boys of the School a clear conception of important happenings of the present day. We do this by asking men who are considered authorities on important subjects, to be good enough to come up to the School and give a short lecture.

The first lecture was given by Mr. Alexander, of the University, on "Nazi Germany." As Mr. Alexander had just returned from Germany, we eagerly awaited the visit of one who, besides being a keen student of his subject, had also first-hand knowledge of it. Mr. Alexander sent along beforehand numerous posters which he had collected on his visit, and by reference to them illustrated his address.

To give us a clear view of the events leading to the supremacy of Hitler and the Nazis, Mr. Alexander briefly sketched the history of Germany from the conclusion of the Franco-Prussian War to the present time. He showed the downfall of the old party system and the development of Nationalism.

When asked his opinion as to the future of the Nazi Movement, Mr. Alexander said he expected a new Germany to arise, which would rank amongst the foremost nations of the world.

It was the concise account of one who had his facts clearly sorted, and whose felicity of address enabled him to make a tangled problem easily understood by even the youngest member. We are deeply indebted to Mr. Alexander for the valuable start he has given to our new society.

Our next lecture was given by Mr. Birtwistle upon the all-important subject, particularly to Australia, of Japan. He voiced the opinion that Japan was a menace to world peace, and pointed out how easy it would be for her to conquer Australia. Yet he thought that the Japanese would extend West through Asia and attack India before they attacked Australia. Mr. Birtwistle explained clearly to us Japan's need for expansion. Her population is increasing rapidly, and she must soon have more land on which to place her people. He gave us many examples of the intense patriotism of the Japanese, who unhesitatingly always thinks of his country before himself.

After the lecture Mr. Birtwistle answered the questions put to him by his interested audience, and the late Professor Shann recounted to us many amusing stories of Japan and the Japanese.

DRAMATIC SOCIETY

The Annual Play

The annual play was presented at the Assembly Hall by the Dramatic Society, on Friday and Saturday, September 21st and 22nd, 1934. It dealt with various sets of love-affairs and their solutions—all satisfactory except for the Black Sheep, who was generally "Baa Baaed" for his hypocrisy.

Hugo Bonsor (John Meredith), a cheery ass, merrily upsets the love-affairs of Chickie Buff (Tony Murray), a rather likeable little actress. The upset one (Bill Altorfer) really asked to be upset, first, with his name Osbert Bassington-Bassington, and then with his complete and entire lack of humour. Hugo and Chickie then escape from trouble in a night-club to, of all places, a quiet village vicarage. Further complications arise when Hugo, garbed oddly enough as the curate, is called on to perform a christening engagement—that of the twins of Mr. and Mrs. Tickle (Bill Grigg and Lex Halliday). This "ticklish" situation is nothing to what follows. Osbert, his hyphenated dignity rudely damaged, plans to marry a snuffy scullery maid, one Emily Pottle (Brian Smith), whose mother (Phillip Atkins), with one eye on social elevation, and the other on Emily, is torn between being her daughter's best friend and getting friendly with Osbert!

Eventually, just when Hugo looks like getting well away, comes the boisterous promotion-seeking sergeant (Graham Fox) and his pessimistic son, made even more despairing of outlook by the defection of his lady-love, Emily. The upshot of this is the bringing of Hugo and Chickie before the Earl of Tuckleford, "The Man with a Past" (Mr. Purvis), whose heavy bearing suggests little of his capacity for indiscretions. Here to the honest sergeant's dismay, the Earl is forced to eat humble pie, and, but for him, all ends well.

Other characters, less involved in the plot and perhaps, therefore, liable to be shorn of their due reward, were the artful Hermia Wyndrum (Alan Cuthbertson), delightfully feminine with her rolling eyes and detached manner; her father, the Reverend Aubrey (Bruce White), with his impressive glasses, warning forefinger and nervous manner; Oenone (Peter Wreford) a rather cold man-eater, and the polite, tame brother, Geoffrey (Ron Filmer), and last, but not least, a bit of local colour in the person of Harriet Knaggs (James Cumpston), who took an "incidental" part so naturally as to make it seem far otherwise. There were faults, but the good that actors do lives after them; the bad is buried with the curtain. So let it be with the players of 1934.

But what of the unseen performers? The essentials: stage manager (Stan Clarke) and property manager (Desmond Johnston) whose work was so thorough that they were not noticed—surely praise enough; and stage effects man (Stuart Clarke) whose results were the work of hours, and highly creditable at that. And the incidentals: the orchestra who efforts, after weeks of practise, deserved a better hearing. It is not every school that can produce an orchestra of twelve, seven different instruments, and its own music (the work of Mr. McLarty).

Conducted by Mr. Horace Dean, it comprised J. Rumble, H. Wheatley, A. Hatfield, R. Rumble, C. Young, J. McLarty, H. Shipway, E. W. Grigg, W. J. Weston, and Messrs. Allan, McLarty, and Marshall.

The play was produced by Mr. Purvis, who received well-merited applause for the success of the performances on the two nights the play was presented.

Mr. Purdy's Visit

During the winter term we were again enchanted by a visit from Mr. Purdy. Clad as before, all in black, his white, wavy hair showing in marked contrast, he stepped on to the dais of the Assembly Hall and made the characters of Shakespeare live for us.

From the "Merchant of Venice" he acted the splendid scene in which Antonio and Bassanio visit Shylock the Jew, and also the scene with Lancelot Gobbo and his old father. Then, to the delight of all, he led us into the court where Shylock was suing Antonio for the forfeiture of the bond. Superbly he stepped from one part to the other, till we lost sight of Mr. Purdy, and saw in turn, Portia, Antonio, Shylock, and Bassanio.

To complete his programme, he acted scenes from Henry V. It was a new one to many of us, but King Henry's speech to his men before Agincourt sent the blood rushing through our veins. The battlefield was before us, and the sounds of trumpets and a noble voice was ringing in our ears. Suddenly the sounds died away—the scene faded—and a white haired gentleman was bowing to his widely appreciative audience.

Most of those present will never forget that morning, and we will all look forward to future visits from Mr. Purdy. His romantic bearing, his superb acting, and his delightful sense of humour has endeared him to us all.

Notes

This year Mr. Purvis has selected "A Fish out of Water" for the Society to present. If we are to accept what members of the cast tell us, this play is "the funniest yet," and we are looking forward to it eagerly. The play will be presented on Thursday, 25th July, and Friday, 26th July, at the Assembly Hall, in Pier Street. The whole-hearted support of the School, which was not given last year, is looked for, and it is to be hoped that every boy will see "A Fish out of Water." We feel that they will not regret it.

THE EASTER CAMP

A record of 36 attended the annual Easter Camp at the Murray Bridge, Dwellingup, from the 18th to the 23rd April. Mr. A. T. Brine very kindly lent us two trucks to transport the gear and stores as well as the campers, to the campsite. We would like to express our hearty thanks to Mr. Brine for the great help he has been in making the Easter Camp possible.

Mr. Drake's truck had a blow-out about one and a half miles before reaching Pinjarra, where a new tyre and tube were procured. Many thanks are due to Mrs. McLarty for very graciously driving back to the stranded truck with the new outfit, thus saving the other truck the trip and enabling it to proceed straight to the camp site, where it arrived at about 3.30 p.m.

Not much could be done, as all the tents were in Mr. Drake's charge, so we waited patiently until two boys ran breathlessly into the camp with the news that they had had another blowout about four miles back. Mr. Langley went to their aid in the big truck, and after some time the remainder of the boys and gear arrived, and all was well.

In spite of the fact that the river was very cold and that several hungry looking tortoises were seen cruising about therein, many of us spent a lot of time swimming au naturel.

Two cricket teams, captained by Arthur Parry and Stuart Clarke, played an exciting match on the Hale Vale Oval. The Parry Push was considerably handicapped by having the second use of a rather dry and crumbly wicket, but they put up a great fight, only being beaten by a narrow margin.

A shooting competition was held over a 25 yard range, the butt being a big, dead tree. Each man had two sighters and five business shots. Some competitors had difficulty in hitting the target. Mr. Drake excelled himself by scoring one brilliant outer, 2 points; others had difficulty in hitting the butt at all. With fifteen points each, Jim Parker and Tony Davy tied for first place. In the shoot-off, after Mr. Drake had adjusted (?) the sights, Parker won by nine points to three.

In the evenings we gathered round the fire and heard some Edgar Allen Poe short stories, also a very intriguing story called "The Wire Devils," about a bunch of skeleton keys which were owned by an American train-jumper.

A supper of cocoa and biscuits, which helped "to bring sweet sleep down from the blissful skies," was enjoyed each night after the stories.

The trip back was done in good time without incident, except that between Mandurah and Fremantle the company of the leading truck tried to find out their speed by signalling in Morse to the others. Unfortunately Mr. Drake does not know the code, and the other cadets had forgotten all they ever knew.

We reached Hale at 6.15 p.m., and after unloading the trucks and giving three cheers for their drivers, we went home after a very enjoyable week's camping.

FOOTBALL MATCHES, 1934

Hale School v. G.G.S.

Played at Bassendean Oval on July 27th.

Playing a fast game, Guildford very soon established a handy lead, which was to prove too much for our team to make up. Our forwards played well, but our backs were not strong enough to quell the opposing forwards, who broke through time and time again to score mainly points. Guildford's centre-line was powerful, but our boys held their own against them. Accurate and long kicking was a feature of our play. Up to the final bell our team battled hard, but the opposition always had a little more "dash." Many exciting exchanges took place, and the speed of the game always made it interesting. Guildford ran out winners, scoring 13 goals 20 behinds (98 pts.) to 11 goals 7 bhds. (73 pts.) The School's best players were, Jacoby, Tregonning, Hall, Beaton, and Clement.

Owing to an epidemic of influenza, Scotch College forfeited their first match against us.

* * * *

Hale School v. C.B.C.

Played at Leederville Oval, on July 11.

Playing excellent football, the School seemed to give the C.B.C. players a surprise. The forwards led out and received the ball on numerous occasions from the centre men, who were playing excellently. At half-time we had a slight lead, but C.B.C. then took charge and were superior in every department. Our men were constantly behind their immediate opponents, and this enabled C.B.C. to obtain and dispose of the ball more easily. In the last quarter the School made a desperate effort to over-haul Christians, but were unable to do so.

The scores were, C.B.C. 12 goals 18 bhds. (90 pts.), H.S. 6 goals 6bhds. (42 pts.).

The School's best players were:—Jacoby, Hall, Fox, Moore, Ransom, and Hammond.

FIRST XVIII, 1934

MR. ROWLANDS, D. TREGONNING, J. EPSTEIN, I. BEATON, A. RANSOM, T. BAKER, K. DYSON, R. HALL,
R. NIELSEN, F. MOORE, MR. LANGLEY.

R. PEARSE, G. MARSHALL, D. CLEMENT, C. TREACY (Capt.), P. JACOBY, L. NATHAN, D. GORDON.
K. CLARKE, A. STONE, R. HAMMOND, J. MEWS.

The team benefited by a three-weeks' break from Cup matches, and showed its appreciation by defeating Guildford in a thrilling game by one point.

* * * *

Hale School v. G.G.S.

Played at Leederville Oval on August 1.

From the bounce both teams showed their determination to win. Although somewhat rugged, every player on the ground did his bit and played clean and splendid football. Every minute of the game was exciting, for never once did the scores differ by more than a few points. First Guildford were in the lead, then Hale, then Guildford. The uproar from the boys cheering their own school seemed to keep all the players on their mettle. Never once did the game lack interest, and Jacoby is to be congratulated for doing yeoman service to his team. Up to the final bell the result was in doubt, but with only a point to spare the School won one of the finest and most exciting games of football ever played. Following were the scores:—H.S., 12 goals 17 blds. (89 pts.), G.G.S., 13 goals 10 blds. (88 pts.).

Every player on both sides played well, with Jacoby (H.S.) and Anderson (G.) outstanding.

* * * *

Hale School v. Scotch College

Played at Claremont Oval on August 8.

A feature of this game was the accurate kicking of our forwards, 10 goals straight without a point being scored. Although Scotch fought hard throughout, we always managed to keep a handy lead. The team did not play nearly so well as it did in the last match, but the occasion did not call for it. K. Clarke and Clement (7 goals) were the best of the forwards. Interest waned and the School seemed satisfied to keep ahead of its opponents. The final scores were:—H.S., 13 goals 5 blds. (83 pts.), S.C., 5 goals 8 blds. (38 pts.).

The best players were, Beaton, Clement, Neilsen, Moore, Tregonning, Jacoby, and Dyson.

* * * *

Hale School v. C.B.C.

Played at the W.A.C.A. Ground on August 15.

The School certainly looked like winning this game, as the centre and ruck men were definitely superior to those of Christians. Many exciting passages took place, and at half-time we held a slight lead, but as the game progressed Christians began to improve, and our men seemed to tire. The team showed their former dash only in patches, and Christians ran out winners by 10 goals 16 bhds. (76 pts.) to 7 goals 10 bhds. (52 pts.).

The School's best players were: Tregonning, Beaton, Dyson, Jacoby, and Nielsen.

Tennis Notes

Last year there were so many players of much the same strength that the School decided to enter two teams in the Slazenger Cup Competition. In the 1st round the Hale No. 1 team played Christian Brothers' College, Fremantle. This resulted in an easy victory for the School team.

The Hale No. 2 team had a very exciting match with Wesley, the winner being doubtful till the last set.

TENNIS TEAM, 1934

B. MURRAY, R. ROBINSON, W. CAIRNS-HILL, G. MARSHALL, K. STEWART, A. PARRY.
F. MOORE (Captain), MR. ROWLANDS, D. CLEMENT.

The scores were:—

Hale School No. 1 v. C.B.C., Fremantle

Moore beat J. Conway, 6-1, 6-1; Cairns-Hill beat B. Conway, 6-2, 6-2; Clement beat Hoey, 6-2, 6-0; Murray beat Burke, 6-2, 6-1; Moore and Clement beat Conway and Conway, 6-1, 6-1; Cairns-Hill and Murray Beat Burke and Hoey, 6-0, 6-0.

Hale School No. 1, 12 sets, 72 games; C.B.C., Fremantle, 11 games.

Hale School No. 2 v. Wesley College

Hale No. 2, 7 sets, 61 games; Wesley, 6 sets, 56 games.

In the second round the two School teams were drawn against each other, the No. 1 team having a narrow victory over the No. 2 team. Again the result was doubtful until the final set.

The scores were:—

Hale No. 1 v. Hale No. 2

Robinson (No. 2) beat Moore (No. 1), 6-3, 7-5; Cairns-Hill (No. 1) beat Marshall (No. 2), 6-2, 6-1; Clement drew with Parry, 6-4, 5-7; Stewart (No. 2) beat Murray (No. 1), 6-2, 8-6; Moore and Clement (No. 1) beat Robinson and Marshall (No. 2), 6-2, 3-6, 9-7; Cairns-Hill and Murray (No. 1) beat Parry and Stewart (No. 2), 6-3, 6-3.

Hale (No. 1), 7 sets, 69 games; Hale (No. 2), 6 sets, 62 games.

In the final the Hale No. 1 team met Modern School. The latter proved superior in both doubles and singles and won by a comfortable margin. Cairns-Hill, by winning his single, and Murray by drawing his with Parsons, gave the School a good fighting chance, but again Modern School proved too strong in the doubles and ran out easy winners.

The scores were:—

Hale No. 1 v. Modern School

Halliday and Shea beat Moore and Clement, 6-1, 6-4; Bower and Parsons beat Cairns-Hill and Murray, 6-5, 3-6, 6-2; Halliday beat Moore, 6-3, 6-2; Shea lost to Cairns-Hill, 4-6, 4-6; Bower beat Clement, 6-1, 6-0; Parsons drew with Murray, 2-6, 6-1.

Modern School, 9 sets, 67 games; Hale, No. 1, 4 sets, 43 games.

Boxing Notes

The Annual Boxing Tournament last year was held in the School Hall, on November 17th. The seating accommodation was taxed to full capacity, and many stirring fights were witnessed. The bouts were each of three two-minute rounds, with Mr. Paddy Basto as referee.

The School Championship was won by P. Jacoby after a very excellent fight with I. Connor. J. Craig and D. Tregonning gave a very fine demonstration of hard fighting, and very few points separated them throughout; at the conclusion the referee was forced to give a draw.

The following are the results:—

School Championship.—P. Jacoby beat I. Connor.

Welter Weight.—J. Craig drew with D. Tregonning.

Light Weight.—W. Potter beat F. Craig.

Bantam Weight.—W. Forrest beat J. Vetter.

Fly Weight.—W. Dermer beat B. Kenny; L. Brine beat A. Maddox. Final: Dermer beat L. Brine.

Mosquito Weight.—K. Northover beat R. Ellis.

"SMILE NO MORE CLUB"

(By "SAMMY BLOODNUT")

The annual meeting of the Smile No More Club was held last Thursday night, and was presided over by the Right Hon. Mandy Sac.

From the chair: The first question to be discussed tonight is, "Should or should there not be Cadets?" Lance-Corporal (or is it Sergeant)) CmAulay at once entered into a heated discussion with his neighbour, Teal Naylor, the only female member.

"I don't mind the small talk that floats round with reference to the Corps," remarked the former, "but when they are referred to as 'effeminate' Boy Scouts, my blood fairly boils."

At this affront to her sex, Teal rose up on her hind legs and squeaked defiantly, "Do you think your mob of baggy-trouserer, polish-buttoned, under-sized, gun-slingers will ever be able to stand a real war?"

And in a high soprano voice she burst into these tragic lines on the subject of war, to the accompaniment of sobs and stifled moans.

"Men, slime, mud, blood and death.
The roar of guns, great gouts of earth
Flung skywards, outwards, like toadstools,
Ugly, monstrous, poisonous —
And men do this to prove their country's worth!
Horses, dumb beasts, faithful friends of man,
Pulling guns; moving in
Their own firing squad, for soon they shall
Lie stiff among the hellish din,
With swollen bellies . . .
And men, young men, move forward to the battle.
The battle, nay, the slaughter! No more
Is fighting a game for gentlemen
To play; the bodies and the gore
With men being slain like so much worthless cattle.
Pray God that death again shall not reap such reward,

While this wide world shall last.
 Pray God that men shall see the light
 And make war a horror that is past,
 And take the plough and put away the sword."

The effect was awe-inspiring. Despite efforts to stop them, tears ran down the cheeks of boys who had faced cane and imposition, and cadets who had met charges galore, without a quiver of the lip.

The eloquent silence which followed was finally broken by Bluey Bloodnut:—

"Fellow clubmen," he began, "I have a serious complaint to make. It lies in the fact that hot water is not supplied in the boarding house. I move that it should be installed." The motion was immediately seconded. Bluey was not a member of the Debating Society, and had never done any speaking before, but his subject carried him away, and with a breaking voice, he burst out into the following fine rhetorical effort:—

"Just after dawn on a winter's morn,
 They drag me out of bed,
 And force me to the shower-room cold,
 Where showers are warm 'tis said.
 In a kind of daze I fondly gaze
 Upon the tap marked "hot,"
 I twist it round expecting
 Hot water—but it's not.
 Cruel life! for like a whetted knife
 That icy deluge fell,
 My breath was nil, my body blue,
 I was like a frozen Hell.
 Now me behold, you freemen bold,
 And forget "your" earthly pains,
 And pray to God to send to me,
 Hot water when it rains!"

When the noise had subsided, the Right Hon. Mandy Sac spoke, for the second time during the evening.

"I can see Clammy Sark trying to catch my eye. Well, what do you wish to say?"

"It's about the pavilion, or rather the lack of pavilion," began Clammy Sark, the Pane, or should I say Dane. "It used to be a standing disgrace to the School. We can no longer call it that, as it has been demolished, but at least it was shelter, and convenient, too."

Well known for his singing, Clammy sang his own version of an extract from "The Gondoliers." The Grand Inquisitor

—I think it was he—must bear with his imitator and accept all due and humble apologies.

M. Marechal supplied the accompaniment on his flute.

"Twas a wooden shack when first I came,
Poor, but shelter just the same,
Serving its purpose, that is plain—
But now it has vanished away.

Of that there is no possible doubt,
No possible, probable, shadow of doubt,
No possible doubt whatever.

(Hear, Hears from the Cricket XI, led by Ed.)

Now colds are caught, and showers are lacking,
And the coughs that result are painfully racking,
And scowls the faces of all are blacking,
For now it is taken away.

Chorus:

I call on you men of Hale to follow,
And raise your voices in a mighty hollo!
For even if the cash we have got to borrow,
A new "pav." we must have just the same!

There was much shouting and waving of wooden legs at the conclusion of this little vocal effort. Everyone then drank everybody else's health—in hop beer—after which the meeting closed.

THE RIME OF THE HALE SCHOOL GYM.

Out strode the School caretaker
"Come on, clear out," says he,
"You know by now my order is
To close the gym. at three."

He slammed the door and locked it up
In spite of loud appeals,
Then leaving us in doleful mood
He turned upon his heels.

A fellow came up to the door,
But could not see the key,
The door was shut, he cried aloud,
"Now, wherefore stopp'st thou me?"

The bars inside are all rigged up,
Likewise the mats and horse,
So why dost thou shut up this door
And lock it—which is worse?"

This question he cried out aloud,
Hoping that Frank would hear,
But if Frank heard he answered not,
And the key did not appear.

He found an opening for himself,
His hand to the latch was near;
He looked around suspecting Frank,
But the call was "All is clear."

He stretched and strained his skinny hand,
He'd now dismissed his fear;
He raised the latch, and ope'd the door,
His comrades cried "Hear, hear."

Some twenty of them surged inside
And made a merry din,
Until Frank, passing by the door,
In wonderment looked in.

He stood as one who had been stunned,
And in there he did see
Some on the bars, some on the horse.
He cried, "Who's got the key?"

A silly ass who near him stood,
Explained how we got in;
He blocked the hole and locked the door,
And Frank had scored a win.

GAMES

---

It has often occurred to me that a very heated question amongst us schoolboys is our games. The rowers and cricketers always disagree as to which is the finer sport. The river fiend casually remarks, "Cricket is a dull game." The cricketer retorts, "You think so! that's because you can't play the game. It takes brain, not merely a strong back, to play cricket."

The cricketer is certainly a favourite of the gods, for he spends endless days playing in the sunshine on the green matted turf. Practice is his pastime, and usually the season ends with a tour which is one of the joys in a schoolboy's life.

The rower works harder, but his training also brings him pleasure. He will tell you there is nothing more thrilling than to feel a racer shooting along and gliding forward in rhythm with each stroke. Then comes Boat Race Day, the gayest in school year annals, comparable only with one other. The rower is repaid a hundredfold. He would gladly give anything to live his day again.

So much for two summer sports. What about the poor wintry footballer who is allowed no concession. There are no tours for him, no feasts, but short playing hours and plenty of practice. Possibly a strained muscle, an injured ankle, or a lame leg will finish the season for him. Who cares, he is only a footballer!

THE WEST WIND

(With Apologies to the present Poet Laureate)

It's a warm wind, the west wind, full of algae,
I never sniff the west wind, but tears are in my eye.
For it comes from the river, in all its reeking might,
And mildew's in the west wind, and dynamite.

It's a fine wind, the west wind, for nostrils tired as mine,
Shags and sea-gulls thrive on it, the air's like "wine."
The atmosphere resembles soup, pure, and rich and thick,
It's useful as a pick-me-up, but too much makes you sick.

THE LAND THAT TIME FORGOT

There is a land, a wond'rous land,
It's the land that time forgot.
With the sunlight dancin' on clear, white sand,
It's the land of the Barcoo Rot.
Land where the 'roos go hoppin' by
Under the blue of an azure sky,
Land of trouble and toil and strife,
For wonderful scenery it takes the "knife."
Land of the 'roo paw, but not the dahlia,
This land of ours is called Australia.

THE SONG OF THE "STONY" SCHOOLBOY

Broke, broke, broke,
 Threatened by poverty's yoke,
 Stuffed with pasties and seasoned mince,
 Stuffed with sweet-meats and pickled quince;
 But rollin' along the tomorrows
 Are demons that anger provoke
 A terrible curse,
 When we find from the purse
 That we're "stony"—penniless—"broke."

R.B.C., "Iuvenis."

ON WRITING AN ODE

---

I looked at him doubtfully. "But what sort of thing shall I write?" I asked.

"Anything at all," said the Editor, brightening visibly because I did not refuse his request point blank. "Try some poetry—blank verse—then you don't have to have rhymes. Or look in a poetry book and copy a poem in it."

That seemed a pretty sound wheeze, so I got my poetry book and opened it at random. The first three poems offered no inspiration, but then I saw "Ode to Psyche."

"An ode, that's what I'll write," I thought, "it seems easy. All you do is to select a subject, call it names in as many different ways as you can, leave out all traces of a main verb, invert the natural order of words, and then obscure the meaning a bit if that has not already been done."

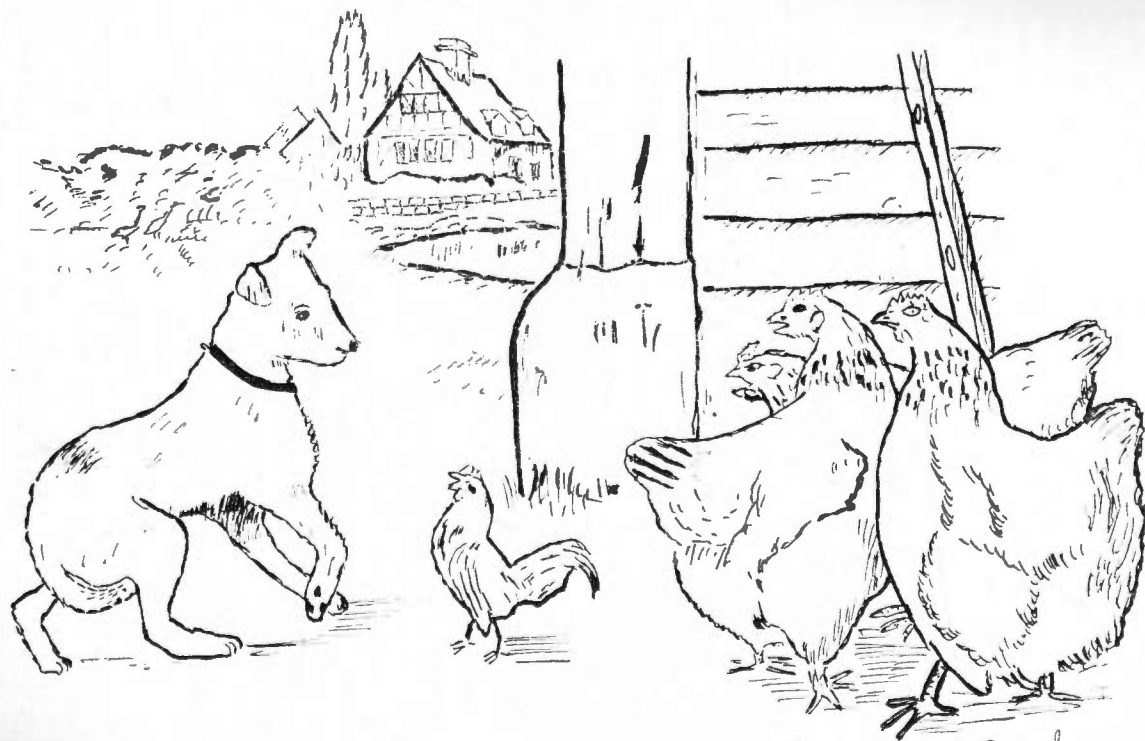

While the idea was fresh, I sat down with a pencil and paper at hand, quite prepared to jot down an ode of no mean order. I gazed idly out the window for a subject. Then I started—"O great rotundity of roundness." I stopped and thought, but words failed me. The gasometer was not to be the subject then.

Again I looked out the window for inspiration. Ah, the Chinese laundry.

"Immortal house where this world's Dirt and soil are vanquished. Thou —"

But again inspiration carried me no further. After a long pause I began to wonder whether odes were so easy to write after all. Keats mightn't have been such a mug. Perhaps some prose. Hopefully I turned to a selection of E. V. Lucas.

ODE TO BED

O thou soft paradise of billowy sheets
 To do thee justice I'd need be a Keats.
 Accept this homage from my unskilled tongue,
 Or else my humble hymn will be unsung.
 Sweet tempter when the horrid ghastly shriek
 Of my alarm clock sternly bids me seek
 The wayward sock and false, elusive stud;
 Protector from the winter's dreary mud,
 How oft when still of tender untried years
 Did I bewail with oceanic tears
 Thy company o' nights, O foolish youth!
 Now would I be, to tell the naked truth,
 Full many hours of day as well as night
 In thy warm depths asleep and out of sight.
 So now that I, of senile years, do weep
 No more, embrace thou me and send me sleep.

"SWASTIKA."

VIB NOTES

We have unanimously agreed that owing to the unusual number of celebrities in VIB this year, some notes as to their doings would be welcomed by the remainder of the School who have idolised them from afar.

Some of our members have started a dancing class—hours, not specified, and place, anywhere convenient. One budding pupil, declaring that "practice makes perfect," attempted, during a maths. period, to execute some newly-learned step down the aisle. However, he was rudely interrupted by the master. The latter, having some reputation as a pugilist, our hopeful pupil wisely refrained, and decided that after all it might be better to practise out of school hours.

Our efficient and popular captain, though, strive as he may, he cannot himself cultivate a "mo," admires the ability to do so of Chaucer's Prioress.

We take this opportunity to congratulate "Shippy" on his fine performance in chemistry. He has now, unfortunately, built up a good reputation in this field, but we feel certain that this versatile scholar will find no difficulty in maintaining it. Evidence of his genius as a poet may be found in another part of this worthy magazine.

Teal Naylor (we suggest that the reader beguile an idle hour in trying to puzzle out this boy's real name, which, for obvious reasons will not be disclosed) spends his spare time, which seems to be illimitable, in drawing motor cars. However, Teal cannot draw without sticking out his tongue several inches, to the great amusement of our French Master, who has sympathetically told him that he is troubled by the same complaint. Consequently, a mutual friendliness now exists between them. (Please regard this as heavy sarcasm.)

"Iky," Hewitt and Co. may now be seen whenever the gym. is open, exerting themselves on the bars. In drill periods, whenever real strength is needed, there they shine, putting us all to shame. It's a hopeful sign.

In conclusion, we would pillory:—

"Peanut" for doing the push-back.

Phil for talking too much.

Mr. McGilvray for his harsh treatment of the paper-throwers.

"Lulu," for not getting his hair cut.

"Iky" for murdering his part in Richard II.

Jock for being too Scotch with the hair-oil.

The class for its unwarranted use of the mop.

VA NOTES

This year VA is undoubtedly the outstanding form in the School. We have two of the Hale School vocal trio in our midst, R.U.I.N. and Crosby II. "H.A.G."—le capitaine de la classe—has just recovered from the measles, which has left him very weak, both physically and mentally. I am sorry to relate that Keys, Hale, and Davy, the babes of last year's "C" Form, are in VA this year. "Rock Cod" is still as "dumb" as ever, and still just gapes at the masters.

So far I have mentioned only the bad element in the form, except, of course, those well known crooners. "Polyver" has had a little success in swimming, though he has yet much to learn, especially in the noble art of back-stroke. Mr. Drake has enticed a couple of raw recruits from our ranks, viz., "Trigger" and "Syd."

Whenever "Chum" gets a hair-cut, a huge bump seems to rise on the back of his head, comparable to that of Teal Naylor's in VIb. The aforesaid bump may only be a sympathy bump, rising at the thought of his terrible hair-cut. (Why doesn't he go to the Cohens?)

"Aeroplane" Eddie is still mad about aviation, but I doubt very much if he has been up in an aeroplane, whose engine I am sure he could not tell from a car's. But let us not be too hard on the lad; he shows commendable enthusiasm, and we only hope that one day he will become a pilot. It is said that Hughby is taking on boxing. We advise him not to be too rash, as he must protect those perfect facial contours. Rumour hath it that our hairy cave-man shaved last week, but this must have been a very special occasion. At all events he was duly praised by our diminutive prefect.

"Anonymous" has asked me to conclude my notes with his little effort, set out below:—

The Schoolboy's Ten Commandments

---

Thou Shalt Not—

Carve thy name upon the desk.
 Stick compass points in thy neighbour's anatomy.
 Fake thy math's answers.
 Imitate a master's puns.
 Covet thy neighbour's "chew."
 Leave the "grounds" without thy cap.
 Take thy master's name in vain.
 Stray thine eyes upon thy neighbour's paper.
 Stick chewing-gum beneath the desk.
 Eat "candy" behind a cash-book.

HOME ON THE RANGE

---

Oh! give us a change from that old South Perth range,
 Where the ants and tarantulas play,
 Where often was heard some disparaging word;
 And the mound's like a furnace all day.

Oh! a sickle one needs to cut down the reeds,
 And an axe to remove the young shrubs:
 You want a canteen but one ne'er shall be seen
 In that desert of loose sand and grubs.

Oh! we wish we could go where the south winds do blow;
 And the range is all grassy and green;
 Where the mounds are grass land and not just hot sand,
 And the targets can plainly be seen.

—TWO WHO KNOW.

THE SUNSET

At length upon the rippling waves, behold
 Them swirling free along the glistening beach—
 The sun pours gleaming, twinkling beams of gold,
 Fashioning a writhing, glinting mass of each.
 Still closer, gently falling to the sea,
 That giant sphere of burning fiery heat,
 Life's torch! A source of light for even me,
 Does softly yon far, dim horizon meet.
 Clouds all agleam in sunny splendour gay,
 Speeding the parting day for one brief time,
 Present a sight bedecked in such array,
 Sublime as ever nature was sublime!
 His radiant way across the sky o'errun
 There shines the last of our majestic sun.

—NOSMAS.

THE TROOPS

Parade at four!
 The Hale School corps
 In sweltering heat or shower,
 Seventy strong,
 March along,
 Drilling a tedious hour.
 Brass buttons bright!
 True soldiers fight;
 And o'er their coats a shower
 Drenches the ground
 As they stride around
 Drilling the tedious hour.
 The warriors strong
 In greatcoats long,
 Slouch in the dismal shower:
 "Squad," yells O.C.,
 "Craig, take C.B.,
 And we'll all drill another hour."

CRICKET CRITIQUE

Nero was a skipper but authority had none,
 He could bowl a wrong 'un, but rarely made a run;
 At fielding he was excellent and a great example set,
 He kept his eye right on the ball in practice at the net.
 Nancy, an all-rounder, never known to fail,
 Once he tried to hit too hard and flying went the bail.
 So in the field to make amends at bowling he did try;
 Down he sent them straight and true. The wickets they did fly.

Gangster was a whistler who preferred to use a gat,
 Far more easily recognised by his funny looking hat.
 He had his own peculiar style of hooking balls to leg,
 And when he faced the bowling, he rarely made an egg.
 Alf's the team's fast bowler, who varies his attack
 From fast to slow to swingers, they all come flying back.
 With perfect ease he catches them and throws the wicket down,

But when it comes to batting, he's always got a frown.
 Bunny was a batsman of no uncertain style,
 And when the opening bowlers came with all their cunning
 guile,

The umpire called a "no ball," Bunny called "no go."
 Bunny swung the willow and layed the pickets low.
 Sammy was a keeper of muscle but no mass,
 But when it came to bowling he was nothing but an ass.
 Should the batsman overstep and turn to see bails fly,
 Sammy misses caddy, the batsmen run a bye.
 Among the team's swing bowlers, Beetle was the best;
 When bowling on a windy day, he sent the wickets west.
 The first change after Beetle, for Johnny there's a shout,
 Who, when he gets the new ball, swings them in and out.
 Phil's an all-round cricketer, of that there is no doubt,
 For when he's at the wicket they seldom get him out.
 Now Chip's a great out-fielder, who always hits the peg;
 Our only left-hand bowler, he turns them from the leg.
 Ken was a newcomer, but his job he did quite well;
 His slip fielding was a trap, and in it many fell.
 Our twelfth man was Crusoe, who served us in mishap;
 For he could aye be called upon to fill up any gap.
 Trevor was our coach, in everything world wise,
 In picking wrong 'uns from leg breaks he'd far too many eyes.

While batting on the Easter tour he nearly made a duck,

CORRESPONDENCE

(To the Editor)

The Tuck Shop,

Hale School,

19th May, 1935.

Dear Sir,—

On behalf of a great number of boys of this School, I wish to bring to your notice a grievance which has been felt by them for some time. Various remedies have been suggested, and some applied, but with indifferent success. I refer to the milk-bottle tops, which we are at present forced to dig out with our fingers. This crude method entails much skill lest one spill the contents over oneself. Some declare that they have reduced it to a fine art, but periodically, through carelessness, they also fall victims to the milkman's practical joke.

I suggest that a little cardboard grip, similar to that on the lid of an ice-cream bucket, be attached to each top. As a result, the mental strain invariably associated with each movement in pulling it out would be done away with. This mental strain has shortened the life of "many a likely lad." I will close in expressing the fervent hope that mention of my idea will be made to the authorities who might condescend to give it a trial.

Yours truly,

"PASCOMI."

General Notes

---

Mr. W. L. Brine and Archdeacon C. L. Riley (Old Boys' nominee) have been re-appointed Governors of the School until April 30th, 1938.

We were pleased to be associated with the Governors of the School in presenting a new practice boat to the School. Archdeacon Riley, as President of our Association, and many other Old Haleians were present at the Sheds when Mrs. Buntine, the wife of the Headmaster, christened the boat the "G. E. Rogers," as a mark of appreciation of the work carried out by Mr. Rogers as coach of the School crews. We would also like to take this opportunity of congratulating the School crew on rowing such a magnificent race on "Head of the River" Day. It was a hard battle all the way, and nobody could have been disappointed with the School's effort when they were only beaten by the matter of a few feet by the fine Scotch College Crew.

Lloyd Allen, who was holidaying in Japan and elsewhere for some time, is now back on the Fields again. Two other prominent Goldfielders in Gerald Breen and Hedley Porter are seen in Perth occasionally, when they usually look up their old friends and have one or two with them.

Thorley Loton was appointed chairman, and D. H. Ferguson vice-chairman, of the Swan Road Board again this year.

Dudley Everett was chosen as a member of the State Hockey Team which recently met the Indian Touring Team. He played very well.

Dick Fethers is now with Laycock & Son Co. Ltd., in Bradford, Yorkshire. He will be away approximately three years.

H. L. Fowler has been appointed Warden of Convocation at the University.

Robert Officer, who, since completing his medical course in Melbourne has been practising in that city, left recently for England, where he intends to do post-graduate work in surgery. Walter Seed is also in England doing some further study.

S. Clarke won the Sandover Medal again last year. It was the first time that this medal, given each year for the best and fairest player in League Football, had been won twice in succession. He was captain of the School XVIII in 1930.

E. D. Cullen, who was Dux of the School in 1934, and P. W. Atkins are both at the University, and no doubt are by now settling down to the more serious side of life.

H. R. Treneman, after spending two years in London, where he studied philosophy at King's College, and gained his doctorate in philosophy, is now ministering in the parish of South Perth.

C. L. Clarke has been appointed as one of the Commissioners of the Agricultural Bank.

Tom Eyres was lately admitted as a member of the Stock Exchange of Perth, and Marcus Lotz to the Adelaide Stock Exchange. The former has opened an office in Victoria House, while the latter is practising with Mr. Hamer, of Adelaide.

Russell Allen has been awarded the degree of Master of Science with honours of the University of Melbourne, and an exhibition in bio-chemistry.

Sir Walter James was re-appointed unopposed as Chancellor of the University for this year. Old Haleians have good reason to be proud of the fact that Sir Walter is filling this important public post again. Sir Walter has also been elected as President of the National Party of W.A.

Jack Roydhouse has been appointed manager of the Victorian and Tasmanian branches of the Ford Motor Company. We have for sometime now missed his cheering personality at the various functions. May he pay us a visit soon.

W. A. Saw, who is a brother to our worthy Secretary, has been granted a permanent commission as a flying officer in the Royal Air Force. He was placed third among the candidates at the recent examinations.

The Committee was pleased to hear recently from the Rev. R. Wilson Macaulay, of the Manse, Camberwell, Victoria.

Gordon Parker, who is overseeing on Nanutarra Station, Onslow, was down for Old Haleians' Day. He can still hit the ball over the pickets with apparent ease as he did at School.

Collin Newbery has started on his own account as a practising chartered accountant. His office is at A.M.P. Chambers.

Brian Simpson was appointed at the beginning of the year as a part-time lecturer at the University in Equity and Company Law. He joins two other Old Haleians as part-time lecturers in the Law Faculty, in John Virtue and Frank Downing, who lecture respectively in Torts and Criminal Law, and in Practise and Procedure.

W. D. Taylor, who was for some years with the Commonwealth Bank here, has been transferred to the Shepparton Branch of the Bank in Victoria.

Eric Tymms, who is Medical Superintendent of the Carlton Children's Hospital, Melbourne, wrote some time back as follows:—

"Having received the current issue of the CYGNET, I felt inspired to pen you a line commending you on the Old Boys' Notes, which were, to me, full of interest. I saw some reference to the Old Haleians at present at the University here, and as I am often over at Ormond College, I see quite a deal of Gerald Davies and "Mickey" Wilson and the others.

"It was mentioned that last year a combined W.A. Public Schools Old Boys' Dinner was held, and was a big success. I can vouch for this, for I was there, and met ever so many chaps I hadn't seen for ages, including Gerry P. Polan, who spoke with his usual verve and abandon. George Campbell, recently returned from America, and I represented the Old Haleians at a dinner of old W.A. Scotch Collegians, which is held here every year, just after the result of the W.A. Boat Race was to hand, and I have been their guest on many previous occasions.

"This year we hope again to have a combined dinner, and I can place already quite a few Old Haleians who will be there, including Gilbert Mann, George Campbell, Bessell Brown, Bowen Allen, Val Hancock, Bob Officer, Gerald Davies, Alan Gray, Mick Wilson, and probably the Rev. E. P. Clarke, who is now Padre at Trinity Grammar School. I will try and remember to let you know how the dinner goes later on."

The "Cygnet" Committee of the Association only wishes that other Old Haleians would occasionally write and let it know how they are getting along.

Norman Anderson was very successful at the Royal Show last year, winning three of the most coveted sheep awards. He exhibited the Grand Champion Ram, the Champion Fine or Medium Wool Ram, and the Champion Strong Wool Ram.

We are pleased to congratulate Leslie Craig and Hubert Parker on being elected to the Legislative Council, the former as member for the South-West Province, and the latter as member for the Metropolitan-Suburban Province. E. H. Angelo, for so long a stalwart in the Assembly, has graduated to the Council, where he joins two other stalwarts in C. H. Wittenoom and Harold Piesse, who are members for the South-East Province. Ross McLarty seems to have been left to hold the fort for the School in the Assembly, where he is the member for Murray-Wellington.

H. D. Moseley was re-elected to the Board of Governors, and J. F. McMillan took the place of Lloyd Allen, who retired. We are pleased to see such prominent members of our Association so actively engaged in the management of the School.

The following is an extract from a letter received from J. G. Thomson, of Merlinleigh Station, Carnarvon:—

"Received the CYGNET a short while back, and same is no doubt very interesting. It improves each year. It is good to see a fair amount of space given to the Association, for the Association is practically the School. The School and the Association are most fortunate in having such a band of energetic and unselfish workers as there is in Perth, without which the Association would not be flourishing as it is to-day. I for one realise what you and others are doing, and so express my appreciation.

"It is wonderful the number of Old Haleians one meets through the North-West, and no matter what year they are, it is like meeting an old friend.

"I wish the School and the Association continued success in the future."

When Allan Kopke was married to Mary Henn recently, he was helped through the ordeal by his brother, Norman, and two Old Haleians in Brian Simpson and G. Keall. We are very pleased to note that the daughter of Canon Henn, for so long the brilliant Headmaster of Guildford Grammar School, showed such good sense in taking "for better or for worse" an Old Haleian. We feel sure she will not regret it. Allan and Norman recently purchased Mililya Station, which adjoins their station, Yaringa.

Kemp Robertson is still studying in England under the Travelling Scholarship which he gained. He is expected to return in September.

J. F. Burnett was again stroke of the King's Cup Crew this year, which put up such a magnificent fight against the heavy New South Wales crew. He was ably supported by his crew, one of whom was Frank Le Souef. Le Souef is also rowing for the University in the Oxford and Cambridge Cup. He is an excellent oarsman.

We regret to record the deaths of two Old Haleians in G. F. Moore and L. R. Robertson. We also extend our sympathy to J. Mitchell, Noel and Edgar Humphries, Don and Ted Plais-towe, Pat Trouchet, Brian Simpson, Tom Scaddan, Keith Robertson, and W. T. Rowlands for deaths in their respective families.

LETTER FROM MRS. FAULKNER

* * * *

We print the following letter from Mrs. L. K. Faulkner, the beloved wife of our old Headmaster:—

Sutton, Surrey,

14th December, 1934.

"My Dear Old Haleians,—

"My heart was very full yesterday morning when a beautiful W.A. lamb was brought to the door, and I read 'from the Old Haleians' Association.' It is nice to be remembered by you all, and it is 20 years since I left for another country.

"The lamb is in perfect condition, and I am longing for tomorrow, when we hope to sample a joint.

"Thank you all so very much, and God bless each one of you is the wish of —

Yours affectionately,

L. R. FAULKNER."

"P.S.—We intend to keep some of the lamb for Christmas Day. December 17.—Many thanks for the letter of Christmas good wishes, which came this morning. You are very good to remember me."

"AGRICOLA" FARMER

* * * *

Few Old Haleians have had their name blazoned from the jacket of a novel. When "Thirsty Earth" appeared in booksellers' windows last year, many of us remembered a studious fellow named "Agricola" Farmer, a contemporary of Jim Ainslie, Frank Parkes, Ken Van Raalte, Billy More, the Seeds and Cliftons, and a host of others who started in the Old School under Mr. Faulkner, and were subsequently there during the headmastership of Mr. Matthew Wilson. It was one of the jokes of "Rabbity Mac's" English class that Farmer could never win the essay prize. His imaginative stories were too incredibly clever for youth of Mac's ken. Plainly and devastatingly he would say they were cribbed, in spite of poor Farmer's protestations of an unquenchable urge to lighten his soul with ink. Somehow it is a pity that he did not dedicate his first book to "Rabbity" instead of his younger brother.

Now, under the more aristocratic name of F. Rhodes Farmer, he lives in an Elizabethan Cottage in Sussex and writes, while his wife, a medallist from Sydney University, paints. He has just ended a second book which is to be called "A Tale of Four Cities," and which proposes to make the populaces of Perth, Adelaide, Melbourne, and Sydney sit up and take considerable notice. Longmans, Green are his publishers; an old and critical publishing firm whose name is a byword for the soundness of its authors.

"Thirsty Earth" has had a big sale in Australia. A leading Melbourne paper declared it to be the second best seller of all books over the Christmas season. That was a magnificent tribute to a book on an Australian subject. Actually the story is based on his experiences on Gabyon Station in the Murchison, where he spent five years after leaving school, and became head stockman. There he got the colour for many fine yarns which appeared in the Sydney Bulletin and English periodicals. "Thirsty Earth" has been described as the best portrait of outback Australia ever written. The path of novel writing is as thorny a one as the world can offer, and the man who can battle through to fame or even recognition by not writing what is called "popular fiction" has earned his seat on high.

OLD HALEIANS' DAY

As usual, this function was held at the W.A.C.A. Grounds, on the Monday following Country Cricket Week. This year it was the 25th February. Unfortunately the Prime Minister of Australia and his Attorney-General were in Perth on that day on their way to attend His Majesty's Jubilee Celebrations in London, and the dinner given in their honour prevented many Old Haleians from attending our luncheon. However, the day was a most enjoyable one once the rain cleared, and the wickets became playable. The usual toasts were honoured at the luncheon.

The Town Old Haleians failed miserably in their match against the Country Old Haleians. Gordon Parker and Shirley Meares, who opened for the Country, gave them a great start, and they were supported by H. Stone, Thorley Loton, and W. G. Burges. Finally the innings closed with the score at 261. Parker and Meares were a pleasure to watch. They hit, and hit hard, and boundary after boundary was scored.

Against this score of 261 the Town could only raise 71, Harry Guy being the only man who really got going at all. Butcher took the bowling average with 5 for 14.

Next year the Old Haleians living in the city will have to take a little more exercise and field a better team to do battle worthily with the Countrymen.

The match against the School was interesting and closely contested, and was played out a little over time to get a definite result. The School have some fine players, and they are very ably coached by Mr. T. Rowlands, who, playing for the School, gave a fine exhibition of enterprising batting in scoring 53 retired. Randell was by far and away our best batsman on the day, and he hit vigorously. Ellis and Marshall were our best bowlers, taking 3 for 27 and 3 for 43 respectively, while Beaton, with 3 for 17, and Mews with 2 for 4, bowled very ably for the School.

The Scores are appended:—

The Assembly

The usual assembly of Old Haleians at the School on Old Haleians' Day was held with the boys of the School at morning prayers. The roll was called and is appended. It is a most interesting collection of names, the School being represented from the first year of its existence down to the present time. C. W. Ferguson was at the School in 1858, and everyone was proud that morning to have such a fine old gentleman there. He was recently elected an honorary life member of our Association.

ANNUAL DINNER

The 1934 Annual Dinner of the Old Haleians took place on Interscholar night (27th October), at the Savoy Hotel. It was expected that the School having won the day, a large number of Old Boys would be present to celebrate the victory. The attendance, however, was not quite up to expectations, a large number of regular attendants at these functions being conspicuous by their absence. The evening passed off very pleasantly, and was thoroughly enjoyed by those present.

Following the usual toast of "The King," the toast of "The School" was proposed by the President (Mr. H. D. Moseley, P.M.), and was responded to by the Headmaster (Dr. Buntine). The toast of the "Athletic Team," who had acquitted themselves so well during the year, was proposed by Mr. Hubert Parker, and was responded to by the Sports Master (Mr. C. Langley) and Mr. Ryan. Other toasts followed and were interspersed with vocal and instrumental items, a feature of which was the singing of the School Song, led by the composer, Mr. Marychurch Jenkins.

Amongst those present were Messrs S. J. McGibbon, W. L. Brine, and J. L. Walker (Governors). the Headmaster, Mr. Newbery, and other members of the staff.

If one may be permitted to add a personal impression, it is that there exists to-day amongst the Old Boys a wonderful camaraderie and feeling of good fellowship which augurs well for the future of the Association and School. Many were the witty exchanges across the tables with a complete absence of any "rag" at all unseemly, happy reminiscences of bygone days being passed freely. A certain amount of apathy was to be expected during the last year or two, but now that "General Depression" has been routed, one may look forward to next year, when it is hoped attendances and general interest in the Association will pass all previous records.

OLD HALEIANS' ANNUAL DANCE

* * * *

The Annual Dance was held in the School Hall, on Friday, May 17th. The Committee responsible for arrangements were, D. Chipper, J. Rowe, D. Russell, and C. Peet. We desire to express our appreciation of their efforts in helping to make the dance a success. The President of the O.H.A. and Dr. Buntine were present. Next year we would like to see more of the older Old Boys present.

During the year 84 new members were enrolled, whilst two members resigned from the Association.

Bereavements.—We record with regret the following deaths:—G. F. Moore and R. Gee (a former Headmaster), and our deepest sympathy is extended to J. Mitchell, P. Trouchet, T. Scaddan, W. T. Rowlands, B. Simpson, S. Rogalasky, D. Stawell, J. Anderson, and the Joel brothers, who have suffered bereavements in their respective families.

Financial.—Subscriptions and contributions to the CYGNET were £166 6s. 6d. as against £146 8s. last year. The excess of receipts over expenditure for the twelve months was £16 0s. 6d. as against £9 19s. 10d. for the previous year. There was a fairly heavy loss on the Dinner, Old Boys' Day, and a small loss on the dance.

"Cygnets," 1934.—Messrs. G. Burgoyne and B. Simpson, the editors of the Old Haleians' notes in this CYGNET, again published some very interesting news on the activities of Old Haleians. We will be pleased at all times to hear from Old Boys.

Social Functions.—Annual Dinner: The Annual Dinner was held at the Savoy Hotel on Interschool Sports night, 27th October, 1934. After the fine display by the School in winning the Sports, it was rather disappointing that more Old Haleians did not turn up at the dinner. However, those who were present spent a very pleasant evening.

A dinner was also held at Kalgoorlie, when many Old Haleians from the goldfields were present.

Annual Dance.—The Society Committee, consisting of Messrs. D. Chipper, J. Rowe, J. Mills, P. Gwynne, A. Terry, and L. Gray, were responsible for a very successful dance, which was held on Boat Race Night, Saturday, 5th May, 1934, at the School Hall. Dr. Buntine, the School Masters, the School Captain, and members of the First Crew were present as our guests.

Many of the younger members of the Association, with several of the older members, and their friends, passed a very enjoyable evening.

Luncheon.—Only one luncheon was held this year, when the film taken on Old Haleians' Day was kindly shown by Mr. Parlato, of Kodaks Ltd., to whom we are deeply indebted for so willingly doing this service for us each year. It is a pity that more members who appeared in the film were not there to see themselves as others saw them.

Sport.—Old Boys' Golf Match. This year, the Old Boys' Golf Match was held at Cottesloe, on Sunday, 28th October, the morning after the Annual Dinner. All Associations were represented, Scotch Collegians holding all the honours of the day, with the exception of the four-ball-best-ball trophy, which was captured by an Old Haleian pair—R. Ainslie and E. S. Saw.

A very pleasant day was spent, and I would like to take this opportunity of thanking the Committee and members of the Cottesloe Golf Club for their hospitality. The match has been brought before the notice of the Gold Association for inclusion in the fixture cards for next season.

Old Boys' Football Matches.—A team from the Old Haleians' Association took part in the combined Old Boys' Matches, held at the W.A.C.A. Ground, on Monday, 25th June, 1934, when a very enjoyable day was spent.

Old Haleians' Crew.—Our crew again rowed a particularly good race and finished in third place. The crew consisted of C. Wickens (str.), G. Keall, A. Hill, D. Gray, S. Warnock, P. Trouchet, N. Humphries, W. Reay (bow), and P. Beck (cox).

Our thanks are due to the crew for their splendid performance, and to Colin Cadd, as organiser.

Old Haleians' Hockey Matches.—The 1934 season was a disastrous one for the School teams. The "A" Grade team finished up at the tail end, and the "Reserve" and "B" Grade teams near the bottom of the list.

If we place three teams in the competitions this coming season, we must have more players. Any Old Haleians who intend taking up the sport will be welcomed in the Club, and should get in touch with H. W. Kelly, of Dalgety & Co. Ltd., Perth.

Old Haleians' Amateur Athletic Club.—The Old Haleians' Amateur Athletic Club has enjoyed a fair run of success during the season just past, although it was beaten by a weak combination on two occasions, due mainly to poor representation of members.

The Club is greatly indebted to its office-bearers for their whole-hearted support and co-operation during the past year, the personnel of such supporters being:—President, Dr. M. A. Buntine; Vice-Presidents, Drs. Gray and Campbell-Wilson, Messrs. Stone, F. A. Treacy, P. D. Langley, T. Hantke, J. B. Newbery, A. Johnson, A. Marris, K. W. Dunn, A. W. Jacoby, and C. E. Langley; Captain, T. Treacy; Treasurer, L. Robertson; Auditor, S. C. Clarke; Committee, Messrs. S. C. Clarke, P. Gwynne, J. Barnett, A. Pierce, and K. Marris; Delegates to the Athletic Association, T. Treacy and G. C. Harris; Hon. Secretary, Gwynne C. Harris.

It is pleasing to record that finality has at last been reached between the Athletic Clubs, whereby the former Club is financially affiliated with the Association, and although the response from prospective members of the Club has not been as great as anticipated, it is felt that as soon as the Association takes a greater interest in its Athletic Club, the Club's member roll will swell considerably.

Messrs. T. Treacy, A. Pierce, P. Jacoby, E. Burnett, D. Clement, J. Cockburn, and S. Clarke are to be thanked for their efforts on behalf of the Club during the inter-club competitions. T. Treacy was again successful in annexing the Club Championship Champion Athlete Title, whilst Clarke, Cockburn, and Harris each won two championship events. Treacy and Harris were also prominent in the handicap competitions.

A regrettable feature of this season was the injury sustained to his ankle by A. Pierce, which kept him out of most of the inter-club competitions.

A dinner will be held shortly, and it is hoped that many Old Haleians will be present.

Old Haleians' Day, 1934.—On Monday, 26th February, the most important function in the Old Haleians' calendar was held at the W.A.C.A. Ground, when two cricket matches were played:—The School v. the Association; Town v. Country.

In the morning a large number of Old Haleians of all ages assembled at the School, when a roll was called, each Old Haleian answering with the years that he was at the School.

Lunch, as usual, was held in the Members' Pavilion at the W.A.C.A. Ground, there being some 115 members present, and it proved a most happy re-union. After the Loyal Toast had been honoured, the then President, Mr. H. Parker, proposed the toast of the School, coupled with the name of the Headmaster, Dr. Buntine, and assured him that the Old Boys' Association and the individual members were doing everything within their power to assist in the welfare of the School. The Headmaster, in responding, thanked the Old Boys for the reception they had given him, and expressed his appreciation of the splendid work they were performing in the interests of the School.

Head of the Air.—The Australian Aero Club organised an Air Race for Old Boys of the Public Schools on Saturday, 13th October, but unfortunately they were not able to obtain a full representation of all the schools.

Mr. Val Abbott was representative of the Old Haleians, and we must congratulate him on gaining second place, first place being filled by the representative of the C.B.C. Old Boys.

Goldfields Sub-Branch.—During the year, through the efforts of Mr. Lloyd Allen, a meeting was convened in Kalgoorlie, when it was decided to form a sub-branch of the Association for the purpose of keeping the Old Haleians on the goldfields in touch with one another. Mr. R. V. Lawson was appointed Hon. Secretary.

Kindred Associations.—The Association desires to acknowledge with thanks the many invitations from other Old Boys' Associations to their social gatherings, dances, etc. Similar invitations were issued by this Association to the kindred associations.

Trophies.—The following trophies awarded by the Association to the School for 1934, were won by:—

"Dux of the School"	-	-	E. D. Cullen
"Junior Dux"	-	-	C. Clarke	} aeq.
			M. Brearley
School Champion Athlete-	-		P. Jacoby
School Champion Swimmer	-		G. Fox

Endowment Scheme.—The Trustees of the Endowment Fund report that some progress has been made to augment the fund this year. Two new Endowment Policies of £200, maturing in 1963, have been taken out, while surplus funds not required to pay premiums on existing policies have also been applied in the purchase of two fully paid twenty-five pound shares in the Perth Building Society.

The assets of the Society at present comprise—fifteen Endowment Policies in the National Mutual Life Assurance Company, covering a total amount of eighteen hundred pounds

(£1,800), two Building Society Shares, one Australian Forestry Bond, a gift from the estate of the late Garnet Summers, and a balance of £26 16s. 3d. in the Commonwealth Savings Bank.

During the year a total amount of £86 1s. 9d. was received from Old Haleians by way of donations to the Fund. An effort is being made by a sub-committee of the Association to increase the number of policies during the current year. Donations to the fund should be forwarded to the Secretary, J. E. Virtue, Commercial Union Chambers, 66 St. George's Terrace, Perth.

Headmasters' Gallery.—We have not yet received Mr. Le Couteur's photo for completion of the Gallery, although he has promised to let us have same.

Board of Governors.—Mr. H. D. Moseley, whose term of office expired on 30th April, 1934, was re-appointed to the Board of Governors until 30th April, 1937.

Honorary Life Members.—As a mark of respect for the keen interest they have always shown in the School, it was decided to elect the following as Honorary Life Members of the Association:—Sir Walter James, K.C., Sir Edward Wittenoom, Frank Wittenoom, Ernest Lee Steere, and C. W. Ferguson.

Congratulations.—We extend our heartiest congratulations to:—G. Austin Piesse on his appointment as President of the Royal Agricultural Society; to E. H. Angelo and H. Parker on their election, and C. Wittenoom on his re-election to the Legislative Council; to the School Cricket Team in winning the Darlot Cup; and to the School Swimming and Athletic Teams in winning the Swimming and Interschool Sports, respectively.

Thanks.—In conclusion, I desire to express my appreciation to all members of the retiring Committee, who have done so much during the past year in forwarding the interests of the School and our Association. Also to our Hon. Secretary, Mr. Evan Saw and his staff, for the invaluable assistance again so ably and energetically rendered during the year,

I remain, Gentlemen, Yours faithfully,

H. D. MOSELEY,

Chairman.

AMATEUR ATHLETIC CLUB

Amateur Athletics have made great strides since its revival in 1928-29 and is now one of the leading sports and certainly the cleanest.

The Old Haleians' A.A. Club again decided to compete in "B" Grade, and were prominent in inter-club competitions until the latter end of the season, when poor attendance at inter-club fixtures on the part of Club members left selectors in a quandary as to how to fill the team, in some cases having only four men to draw on for seven events (three men an event).

The Club owes a great debt to T. Treacy, who, although training for sprinting, was always ready to help the Club in any event, and often started in as many as five events in one afternoon.

A pleasing feature of the past season was the assistance of the interschool athletes—R. Jacoby, D. Clement and J. Ilberry—who succeeded in winning several championship events, with resulting valuable points for the Club. It is hoped that in future more schoolboy athletes will avail themselves of the opportunity of the concession subscription offered to them and will join the Club and receive useful training and experience.

The usual Club handicap and championship events were held at the School grounds, and T. Treacy, A. Pierce, S. Clarke, J. Cockburn and G. C. Harris were most prominent in both events; whilst newcomers in J. Passmore and I. MacIntosh also acquitted themselves well.

A shadow was cast over last season's activities, however, due to a serious accident to A. Pierce's ankle, which may keep him out of active athletics for some time to come.

The Club urgently requires new members, and it is hoped that all interested will get in touch with the Secretary, Gwynne Harris, C/o W.A. Trustee Co., Perth.
