Are the changing rules and standards of the society in which we live having any appreciable effect on the schoolboy, and, if so, what of the future? It was particularly alarming to read the criticisms and prophecies of a Scottish headmaster, Mr. R. F. Mackenzie, when they were recently reported in the Sunday paper. Blaming the school system, which he was required to administer, for the anarchy and helplessness of children, he also maintained that "what we are witnessing is the anarchy of human relationships caused by the retreat and retiral of Christianity; if the education system is not changed soon, tomorrow there will be an increase in vandalism, gang fights, and apparently inexplicable acts of cruelty".

Are any of these disturbing developments discernible at Hale? Is the school still serving a valid and effective purpose in our society? Mr. Mackenzie considers the major factor effecting the dramatic changes in his pupils to be the gradual withdrawal of Christianity from their lives — both in and out of school.

Religion, although hampered by a lack of the appropriate ecclesiastical facilities, has always managed to be an integral part of Hale life, and, if the teachings seemed dead and remote, the morning assembly and weekly divinity period continually evoked "the message". And now, as if in reply to Mr. Mackenzie's strictures, plans have been drawn up for a school Chapel; the realisation of religion's primary importance is ably expressed through the priority given to the Chapel over any other new school buildings. With a new and modern setting, every incentive will be given to spiritual development; the degree of response and assimilation will, however, still remain each boy's own individual responsibility.

Boarders are one of the public schools' chief assets. Not only do they "level" school society but they can also provide that seemingly cosmopolitan element, so refreshing in a school of any size. Hale's size, small enough for a strong sense of parochial pride to be developed, encourages the growth of an innocent atmosphere of carefree indifference so much in contrast to the world at large. This is the atmosphere which makes schooldays pleasant to remember in later life, when business strains are dispelled for a moment's reminiscence of times of comradeship and carefree procrastination. A school world should be one where the harshness of life is evaded wherever possible, and yet where its cognizance provides a gentle restraint to the unrestricted imagination of youth.

With increasing success on the sports field comes Hale's second means of character development. No place could be more appropriate for the development of these essential qualities: initiative and responsibility. Confidence and self assurance gained through sports or cadets will always provide the foundations for a sound attack on real life, and the aggressor, so equipped, is sure to win more than material eminence. The sports field provides the safety valve necessary to relieve academic pressures, and academic failures, although discouraging, can be compensated in some degree by success and recognition in the former.

While tradition could be condemned by Mr. Mackenzie as "being at discord with reality", the present boy at Hale must realise that it is the cement which not only moulds his daily existence as a schoolboy but provides durable links in the years to come. It must not be regarded as a force of oppression, but as one of preservation — the preservation of that timeless and so unrealistic environment called school. Yet infiltration by the realism of the outside world will reap immediate disaster in the school life; strains appear, which are far in excess of the maturity of their victims, and this is just Mr. Mackenzie's point. What has become of the sort of school he and his generation knew? Hale is still vacillating in the middle of the stream of time and convention which rapidly flows through society. Only the present boys can decide Hale's future — the decision for the preservation of the Hale of past years rests with them. If they decide to follow this course, tradition will become their closest ally; respect will regain its zenith as a virtue and, in "Duty", society and Hale will find the salvation of their ideals.

"EX SINGAPORE SEMPER ALIQUID NOVI."

The arrival of a new Headmaster at Hale School is something which does not happen very often. So, when this occurred at the beginning of the year, much interest was aroused amongst the boys.

"What would he be like?"

This question was answered during the first assembly of 1967. A silence fell over six hundred boys as Dr. Tregonning was introduced to the school.

Unused to his new role, Dr. Tregonning looked uneasy and perhaps a little shy at the sight of his huge audience. He began by telling a very amusing story and soon the whole hall was echoing with laughter. The ice was broken and, from that day onwards, the school and its new headmaster have been on friendly and happy terms.

Dr. Tregonning, with his quiet and unassuming manner, has earned rather than commanded a great deal of respect from the boys, and holds a position in their regard of which any headmaster would be proud.

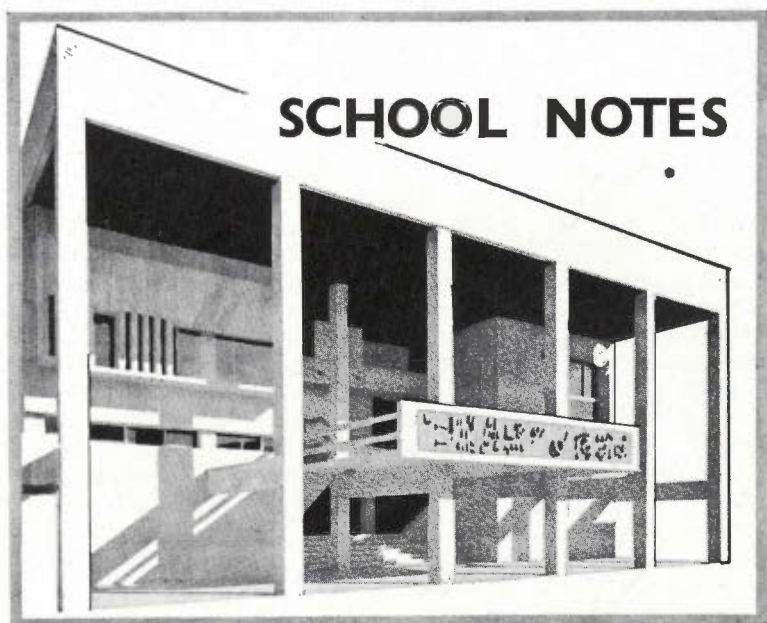

We hope Dr. Tregonning has enjoyed his first year here as much as the school has flourished under his administration, and we wish him a long and successful association with the school.

After a period at the war, where he served in the R.A.A.F., Dr. Tregonning obtained a Degree in Arts at the University of Adelaide, and later lectured there in History. He went on to Oxford, where he obtained a Bachelor of Literature, and later had a degree of Doctor of Philosophy conferred upon him. Dr. Tregonning is a man with a very strong personality and was, at school, an excellent sport. He took part in swimming, athletics and football, and was the Senior Under-Officer of the Hale School Cadet Unit in 1941. All these things he did with high distinction. He comes to us from the University of Singapore, where he has been the Raffles Professor of History for a number of years.

In Second Term, the Staff was joined by Mr. de Graaf. At the end of Second Term, the School lost Mr. M. Watt to the R.A.A.F. The Art Master, Mr. B. Loftus, left also, to enter private industry. These were replaced in Third Term by Messrs. T. Hoad and A. Foss.

In the Junior School this year, Mr. Hepworth came to teach the second 7th grade. Mr. Haskett's former role as Junior Boarding Housemaster has been taken over this year by Mr. R. D. McMath.

Mr. P. W. Davies, the school counsellor, was on study leave this year.

Speech Night

SPEECH NIGHT, 1966, was held on Monday, the 5th December in the quadrangle before the Old Boys' Memorial Hall. The proceedings opened with the National Anthem, followed by a prayer offered by the School Chaplain. The Captain of the School gave his report, after which came the Acting Headmaster's report. The prizes and trophies were presented by The Rt. Hon. The Lord Mayor of Perth, Mr. C. J. B. Veryard, J.P., a distinguished Old Boy of the School. The formal proceedings were concluded with a vote of thanks moved by Mr. L. Fethers of the Board of Governors and the Benediction. Afterwards parents were invited to inspect displays of art and woodwork in the Memorial Hall.

Acting Headmaster's Report

MR CHAIRMAN, MY LORD MAYOR, GOVERNORS OF THE SCHOOL, LADIES, GENTLEMEN AND BOYS:

At the commencement of this year we heard of the death of a very old friend of the school. I refer to Mr. Leslie Craig, who was one of the architects of the move to the present site from Havelock Street in 1961. With his passing went a great supporter of, and tireless worker for, Hale School — a man who gave much time and energy to create the physical side of the school, and by example the spiritual and moral side also. Our sympathy goes to his widow, sons and grandsons.

Dr. K. G. Tregonning, whose appearance at this school I have been somewhat anxious to see, will be arriving in W. A. on the 29th of January, and from then on I shall be able to relinquish the reins of office. While in many ways I have enjoyed this tour of duty, I must say that for a man of my age it has been somewhat burdensome, and I am pleased the end is now in sight. I know that the boys and staff of Hale, and, I am certain, the Parents and Friends and the Old Boys, will give our new Headmaster every support possible in what will be to him, in many ways, a new task, with some facets similar to that which he has been doing, but in very many other ways very different indeed.

I am sure you will join with me in wishing him well in this new undertaking, and I firmly believe he will be counted among the "great" Headmasters of Hale School.

THE CYGNET

Turning to the School itself, I would like to comment on the results and honours gained by our boys in the Public Examinations in 1965. I feel the results were very good, considering that all boys who wish are allowed to sit for Leaving and attempt matriculation, no matter what their standard of ability or attainment. This, also, is true of the Junior exam, where no boy (or his parents) is persuaded that he should not sit. This is not true of all schools in this State. The average of passes with which we must compare our pass rate is raised by the process of diverting students to other certificates, or persuasion not to sit. The State average is thereby inflated.

In Leaving we had 40 passes, which gave us a 60% pass rate, closely approximating the State average. We gained 54 distinctions, by far the highest since 1955, and 15 Commonwealth Tertiary Scholarships for courses at the University. There were 31 matriculations and 5 Exhibitions.

Amongst the boys who brought honour to the School, Richard Hartley must stand at the head of the list. He gained the following Awards and Scholarships in 1965:

The Deutsch Aust. Sprachverein — 2nd Prize (Grade 1B)
The Alliance Francaise (Div. 2A) — 1st Prize and Medal
The Science Talent Quest — Joint prize with Clayton Manners

Dux of Hale School

In the Leaving and Matriculation Examinations:

7 Distinctions,

Exhibitions in French and Maths, and a General Exhibition.

The B.P. Prize of $100 and medal for the highest aggregate in Maths and Science.

The University prize for the highest aggregate marks in the Leaving Exam.

The French Scholarship to the Lycee la Perouse, Noumea, New Caledonia, consisting of accommodation, tuition and fares, Sydney to Noumea and return, plus $10 per month pocket money.

A Scholarship to the Australian National University (deferred until 1967) to study in Canberra for four years towards an Honours Degree in the School of General Studies. Scholarship comprises free tuition, accommodation and fares to home twice yearly, plus living allowance.

With Richard, we must link Clayton Manners, who won the Westralian Farmers Agricultural Scholarship — worth approximately $4,400. This Scholarship will carry him through five years of Agricultural Science. As mentioned previously, he won, jointly with Hartley, the Science Talent Quest for 1965.

THE CYGNET

In Junior, our percentage of passes showed that we were better than the State average in 11 out of 18 subjects for which we prepare boys here, and we gained a 68% pass — not quite as good as in two other years since 1955 — and 16 Commonwealth Secondary Scholarships.

It is here, I think, that I should mention the staff and all that they have done for me throughout this year.

When I was faced with re-starting Hale School for the new year, I found the most amazing co-operation from the staff, and this has continued throughout the whole year. There was nothing I asked them which they were not willing to do, and do cheerfully, and I have had to place burdens on members of the staff which normally they would not have to carry, and these are the men who have produced the results of which I have just spoken.

In particular, I refer to Mr. Altorfer, who, at my request, deferred his Long Service Leave for twelve months in order to help out the School in this difficult period between Headmasters; Mr. Davies, who returned to us at my request and, in doing, deferred the completion of his Law Degree for twelve months. His versatility in teaching enabled us to complete the timetable and fill the gaps left by the resignation of Mr. Prince. Mr. Davies will leave us this year to complete his Degree in 1967, and I am very pleased to say that he will return again in 1968 to teach at Hale. I wish him well in the completion of his academic studies.

Mr. Hoar, as Senior Boarding Housemaster, has done much to assist me with the boarding houses; in fact I have left him to take the responsibility for the smooth running of them. He has been very ably assisted by the other Senior Housemasters.

Mr. Mill has dealt with the problems of the Junior School with as little reference to me as possible, and has done, as he always does, an excellent job as Master in Charge. As usual, during the year, the Junior School was inspected by the District Superintendent of the Education Department who said, in his report: "In summing up, this is a keen, earnest staff, working on sound principles under the very able direction of Mr. Mill. The School atmosphere is one of pleasurable participation by all, wherein the principles of good citizenship are being soundly inculcated."

To other members of the staff, I offer my sincere thanks for their co-operation and assistance in easing the burden which any Headmaster carries, and of course, to an Acting Headmaster, these burdens are heavier.

I would also like to thank the office staff for their assistance to me as a newcomer to a position — the ramifications of which I was not aware of. They have shown me understanding, support and loyalty, and, similarly, I have received this from the domestic and grounds staff.

I am very glad to say that there will be very few changes in the staff for next year. Mr. Pyke will be leaving us to continue his studies in U.S.A. He has been in charge of Physical Education and testing and guidance, and will be replaced in the latter field by Mr. Davies, who will give the school part-time assistance next year.

In the organisation of the courses in the school, some changes have had to be made for next year. The Fourth Form Non-Academic group, which has progressively dropped in numbers from 15 to 6 boys over its history, is obviously no longer an economic proposition, and, with the consent of the Board, and Dr. Tregonning, this Course will not be offered next year. In its place, again with Dr. Tregonning's approval, the Senior staff worked out a course of study which we felt would be acceptable to parents of boys who wished to remain for Fourth Year only, and also for boys who, not being academically strong, still wished to go on to Leaving. In the course we offered five academic subjects plus Motor Maintenance, Woodwork, and Metalwork for the Fourth Year, these "craft" subjects to be dropped in the Fifth Year, and boys then to be time-tabled for extra periods in the five academic subjects. To our dismay, this course did not appeal to parents, and only six boys nominated for the course, and it, too, had to be discarded — at least for 1967. I think Dr. Tregonning will offer a course of this nature for 1968, and I hope parents will think carefully about the advantages to be gained by their sons from this partly academic/partially craft course. All boys who enter this school will not succeed in academic subjects, but a course such as this could bring a greater measure of success and satisfaction to this type of boy. I think it is not good for parents to aim far too high for their sons, because it is bad for boys to fail in those subjects for which they have little ability, when they could succeed in subjects for which they have higher ability.

It is unfortunate that our schools do not do more for boys whose skills are in their hands. I believe that every boy can do extremely well at something, but, by the same token, it is often hard to find his aptitude under our present organisation. I think there is too much demand for academic excellence, and too much weight placed on the sciences today. I feel we are forcing too many boys into a scientific mould rather than catering for their natural abilities. To a great extent I think parents are to blame for this, but we ourselves cannot avoid some of the blame.

An example of this is the decline in the demand for Art as a subject in our curriculum. Often a boy not academically inclined shows high ability, and can gain great satisfaction from his efforts in this field; a satisfaction denied him in the purely academic field. There are many openings, too, for a boy who shows ability in this field in illustration, graphic and industrial design. In the fine arts, too, a gifted boy can gain much in satisfaction and also of this world's goods. Fine art is no longer a career of poverty and ridicule.

We are faced here with increasing fourth and fifth year enrolments and the time is coming (probably in 1968), when the intake into the Senior School will be confined to a few boys at fourth year level. 1968 figures indicate that the School at that level is practically filled. I forecast that in 1968 we will fill two 7th Grades in the Junior School, so that boys entering at that level will have to do so in grades lower than 6th. With two streams of 7th Graders coming out of the Junior School, this will limit the intake at First Year level to approximately 55 boys. As a matter of fact, these 55 boys are already enrolled, and we will be able to take boys only to replace withdrawals or deferments. This will also be true of our boarding houses. The policy of the school is to keep numbers at approximately 700, and I think this will have been achieved by the commencement of 1968. If, therefore, parents wish their sons to come to Hale School, they will have to enrol them quite a number of years ahead of the desired commencement year.

Turning now to Cadet activities, I should like to congratulate the Officers, N.C.O's and Cadets of the Army Unit for the attention given to training, both at School and at Camp, which produced such an excellent Marching Out Parade in September. As you may know, I had many years' experience as Officer-in-Charge of this Unit, and I can say this, that seldom have I seen as good a parade amongst cadets anywhere. I know that the inspecting officer, Brigadier Newbery, agrees with this. The weather was not kind to us for the Parade, but the Cadets put on a very fine Parade indeed. At this Parade, the Unit Flag, donated by the Parents and Friends' Association, was presented to the Unit and blessed.

As many of you know, the Naval Unit was disbanded at the beginning of this year. Having made an appreciation of the whole situation in which this Unit found itself, I was forced to the conclusion — with which the Board of Governors fully agreed — that this Unit could not be conducted with the efficiency of the past unless we received much more help from the Navy and the Navy League. As this help was not forthcoming, the decision was made to disband the Unit. It is interesting to note that out of all the closed Sea Cadets units that existed in Australia, only two now remain — one in Queensland and one at Scotch College in W.A. Recruits from the Naval unit were absorbed directly into the Army Cadets, N.C.O.s and Officers had the choice of entry, or not, and if they entered they were granted the equivalent rank in the Army Cadets. Some did this, and have fitted in well with the Army system.

Owing to circumstances beyond our control, no play was put on this year, but the school entered into the inter-schools Drama Festival during June of this year, in which twelve schools took part and, between them, produced eight excellent one-act plays. The interesting thing was the introduction of girls' schools in co-operation with boys' schools. I think everybody enjoyed these productions, both actors and audience. This is an activity from which I believe we get great value, and one which should be a permanent part of a school among whose aims is the preparation of boys to enjoy, and take part in, all cultural aspects of life.

You have heard from the Captain of the School a considerable amount about the sporting activities in 1966, but I cannot complete this report without thanking a very old friend of the School, in Mr. Ross Little, for all the work he has done with our rowing crews over many years, not only as a coach assisting Mr. Gra Rosser, but as Senior Coach. Mr. Little has decided to withdraw from this position, and does so with the warm thanks of the School for a very onerous job well done. Mr. John Little has been appointed in his place, and will be with us for at least one season. I wish him the best of good fortune for 1967.

I would also like to thank the Incogniti Cricket Association and the Governor's XI for the excellent practice they have given our First XIs each year. The cricketers who belong to these two teams give up their time and energy to assist schoolboy cricket within this State, and their efforts are indeed very much appreciated by both boys and coaches.

During the last week of the First Term holidays, as most of you will know, we had a visit from football teams from Scotch College, Adelaide, and Geelong College. I am very pleased to say that Hale School beat both the visiting teams — which possibly is not the proper thing to do, but which nevertheless was done with considerable verve by our team. The team then went on to a resounding victory in the Public Schools Competition. Everybody, I think, thoroughly enjoyed the social activities which went with this carnival, and I want to express my thanks to Mr. MacMillan and Mr. Towers, who organised this event so ably. I have received letters of appreciation from both Headmasters, wishing me to pass on their thanks to the parents who did such a wonderful job in billeting the boys, making the dance so enjoyable, and generally looking after them so well. I think one Headmaster who was a little critical of this sort of exercise is now a convert to it! I personally think it excellent, and I want to add my own thanks to those of the other Head-masters, for all that the Parents and Friends of Hale School did on this occasion. At the kind invitation of the Headmaster of Scotch College, a visit by our team to Adelaide will take place at the end of First Term, 1967.

Parents and Friends' projects commenced in 1965 have now been brought to completion by the provision, at considerable cost, of the remainder of the tier-stack seating for our Hall. For this we thank them very much indeed. A project for 1967 is the provision of a number of overhead projectors for classroom teaching. This apparatus will be of inestimable value in saving time and making much of the work more meaningful.

The social events they have organised have always been most pleasurable. The Committee and others of our P. and F., particularly the ladies, give great assistance in the "Swap Shop" and the running of the Tuck Shop. Quite a large group of mothers give a great deal of their time preparing lunches for the boys. To them I wish to express my sincere thanks, and certainly the thanks of the boys, because I'm sure they are eating better than ever before! In particular I would like to thank Mrs. Gray, who has, for some years, organised the Roster of mothers. Control of the Tuck Shop has now been handed over to a sub-committee of the Parents and Friends, and the profits accruing are under the control of this organisation, to be used for assistance to the School as the Parents and Friends' Committee see fit. The functions arranged by the Parents and Friends included the meeting of staff and parents, and a Wine-Tasting Dinner, both of which were great social successes, as well as being financially successful.

I must thank Mrs. Gladys Craig for her kind and generous gift of an electronic organ for use at our assemblies and evening services for boarders. This is indeed a very fine gesture, which will add dignity as well as volume to our school services. Mrs. Craig has previously donated to the School a rowing eight and the coaches' speedboat, and has, in many other ways, been a great benefactress of Hale School.

Mr. W. L. Brine, who was in great measure responsible for acquiring our present school site, has donated a very fine trophy for Inter-House Hockey. We thank him very much indeed.

In conclusion, I must say that I myself and the Staff of this School are extremely proud of it and its achievements, both academically and in sport, and I hope, ladies and gentlemen, that you are proud of it too. It is only with the wholehearted co-operation of the Board of Governors, the staff, the boys, Old Boys, and the Parents and Friends, that a School of this nature can be efficient and worthwhile, and I firmly believe that this type of school is necessary in our free society.

THE CYGNET

I would like to thank the Board, and particularly Mr. Stow, for his kindness and good counsel to me throughout the year; also Dr. Keys of Scotch College, and other Headmasters, amongst whom I was very much a "new boy".

My thanks go, too, to many of my friends amongst the Old Boys who have given me ungrudging support throughout the year, and to the Prefects and boys of the School who have assisted me so much. I have, on occasion, disagreed with some of the views expressed by the Fifth formers, over what I feel I had to do for the good of the School as a whole. I hope that as the years go by they will look back and realise that the things I have done I believed had to be done for their welfare.

Captain of School's Report

I will, in the first part of my report, review the year's sporting programme. I shall then advert to boy's activities in other directions.

First, then, Swimming. Here we had not only a very experienced and already successful coach, but also, I believe, the ability to have won the Inter-School Swimming Sports at Beatty Park. We were, however, placed only second. Why did we not win? We did not win because the team did not arrive at a peak of physical fitness in the training period. There is a limit to what even the best of coaches can do. He can outline and direct a training programme, but the boys of the team must do the rest. Hale's team were in excellent spirit on the night of the carnival, but our lack of condition was our downfall.

Next, Rowing — although Hale has the services of many good coaches and certainly the best equipment in the State, it wasn't one of Hale's best years on the river. If the rowers and their coaches did their best, which I believe they did, then the fault lay in the rest of the School in as much as they didn't support the crews enough or take sufficient interest in this sport, one of the most strenuous and trying in which one may participate. If the rowers could realise that the rest of the school cared that they gave up every afternoon during the season, then their burden would become lighter, and perhaps more boys would take up this sport and help to restore Hale's name on the river.

In the Cricket, we saw the 1st XI draw for the Darlot Cup, but I was amazed to see what little support the school gave this winning team. Even at the deciding match, which was played against Aquinas at Hale, the red and black supporters dominated the sidelines. It seems a pity that some boys prefer to do something else rather than watch a team win one of the most coveted trophies of the Public Schools' Association.

This lack of support was also noticeable in respect of the Tennis, the 1st IV winning the Corr Cup in view of very few supporters from the school. On a particular Saturday morning at Hale, the deciding matches in both Cricket and Tennis were played and, in addition, a preliminary Swimming Carnival was held, and yet very few boys made the effort to be present.

Fortunately, the School's attitude improved at the beginning of 2nd Term, when there were prospects of our having three good top teams. This attitude improved further with the staging at Hale of an Interstate Football Carnival. This Carnival and the social events associated with it were most successful. The 1st XVIII were not beaten and therefore won the carnival. As we all know, this team went on to create many records; to win the coveted Alcock Cup and to remain undefeated throughout the season. This was certainly a remarkable achievement. The team was a tight-knit group which combined to work for a common aim, and it seems to me the school should be like this, every boy caring about the school as each footballer in this team cared for the success of his side.

The Rugby and Hockey teams stood on equal terms, both showing good spirit and playing hard. Both were unlucky not to gain better places in their respective competitions.

The Athletics camp was again held at Point Peron, and this, at least, was an instance of masters, old boys and boys unselfishly giving their time and energies for the benefit of the whole school.

The Inters Squad trained hard and, on Inters day, we saw many spirited performances by both competitors and spectators. It is my regretful observation, however, that some boys don't realise that, when they attend a large public function such as this, the name of Hale School is at stake, and every boy wearing Hale colours is responsible for the opinion which the public and the rest of the Schools gain of Hale.

I would turn now to some other kinds of activity in which the boys of Hale participated this year.

On their bearing at the Annual Cadet Camp at Northam, the Cadet Unit received many compliments. At the Passing-Out Parade, where it received its Colours — a generous donation by our Parents and Friend's Association — the same unit put on an excellent display of precision marching.

The Hale School Dramatics Society was the host for a most successful Inter-School Dramatics Carnival. Although the carnival wasn't competitive, a group of critics attended and held a seminar in the Hall the following week. This proved extremely valuable to the actors.

In conclusion, I must thank my fellow prefects for the support which they gave the School and myself. The job of School Prefects is a hard one, but it is made easier when the school realises that what they do is for the welfare of the school and not for themselves alone.

To those boys who are returning next year I would address my last words; I want you to remember that Hale School is what you are, every one of you, and not simply its buildings or its past reputation.

The Headmaster's Grounds Committee, 1967

This committee, formed in the early weeks of first term, consisted of the Headmaster, the Bursar, and a representative from each House, viz. H. R. Thomson, (Honorary Secretary), R. W. Gregson, W. T. O'Halloran, A. J. Prosser, I. Rankine-Wilson, W. M. Rathen, W. J. Wallis and G. B. Wilson.

During the first term the committee could do little more than point out minor improvements needed around the School.

In the second term, a tree planting programme was embarked upon because borers were destroying the tuarts, both planted and natural, already growing on the grounds. Notices were sent to all parents asking them if they would donate some money for a tree. The committee was expecting about $150 to be raised by the appeal, but the total came to $400, an overwhelming total. All this money could not be profitably spent in one year as the groundsmen would have been unable to water all the trees it would buy. The committee apologises to the parents whose trees were not planted this year, but the money will be left in the hands of next year's committee. The main areas that were planted this year were the main drive, the Hale Road — Unwin Avenue corner, a boundary of Norfolk pines along Unwin Avenue, and the area between the administration block and the Hall.

Examination Results

Stephen Saunders, last year's Dux, won himself many prizes and scholarships, both in School and external examinations. In his last year at School, he won prizes in French, German, English and Chemistry. He also won prizes in the Alliance Francaise and D.A.S. examinations.

Besides claiming seven distinctions in the Leaving and Matriculation Examinations, Stephen won a General Exhibition, as well as Special Exhibitions in French and German. He is now studying Science at University with the help of a Commonwealth Scholarship.

Stephen will go down with Richard Hartley as one of the School's most accomplished scholars.

As a direct result of the 1965 Petch Report, the boys of 2L all sat for the Junior Arithmetic and Algebra examination. All but one passed, and so these boys were able to spend their Third Year on an introduction to the new Maths. course, instead of on this examination. In the near future, we hope to see more advanced boys sitting for some exams in their 2nd or 4th Year, so that they can have more time to broaden their education outside the Junior and Leaving syllabusses.

Loton

House Master: Mr. T. D. HOAR

House Captain: D. C. S. FOWLER

School Prefect: D. C. S. FOWLER

House Prefects: ROGER BELL, TONY BLAKE,
KEVIN REICHELT and P. TOZER.

FIRST TERM

The year 1967 commenced with the welcoming of 24 new boys and 46 old boys into the house. This being only the second year of establishment of the House, a lot was expected of everybody.

On the first day, D. C. S. Fowler was appointed House Captain and installed as a School Prefect. Roger Bell, Tony Blake, Kevin Reichelt and Peter Tozer (who later left house to become a dayboy) were appointed House Prefects and were later sworn in.

Mr. Terry Barr and Mr. Barrie Hepworth were welcomed into the House as Resident House Masters.

Sport commenced immediately. In the inter-house swimming carnival the House came fourth. This was a good effort as the only representative in the "Inters" was Kevin Reichelt. We found that "the combined effort of everybody is better than the individual effort."

Minor sports team was led by Tony Blake and they came fourth. What these boys lacked in talent they made up in spirit and drive. The House has never been strong in cricket and this was shown this year when we finished seventh. However, our day will come. In the Interboarding House Match we were narrowly defeated by Wilson and the team may be commended on their great effort.

The Loton House rowing crew surprised everybody by winning the championship House Fours. The House was represented in the Head of the River by: D. C. S. Fowler, captain of Rowing; Norris, first eight; Ken Bradford, second eight; and Graeme Cadd, first four.

In Tennis, the House came in sixth.

On the last weekend of term, all boys who did not attend Army Camp attended a picnic at Yanchep which was enjoyed by the younger boys.

SECOND TERM

Boys were welcomed back and we welcomed a new Resident House Master, Mr. Andr s Foss. The boys were, this term, looking forward to some hard "mental" and "physical" work.

Winter Sports, football and hockey commenced immediately, the main interests being the Interboarding House Matches which proved to be great games. Loton House, with their magnificent teams, proved too good for Faulkner and Wilson in both Football and Hockey. The Football team was skippered by Kevin Reichelt, who was supported strongly by everybody in the team. The Hockey team was captained by D. C. S. Fowler. Our thanks go to Mr. Barrie Hepworth and Mr. Andres Foss for their support in Football and Hockey respectively.

The Loton representatives in the first eighteen were Roger Bell and Brian Wiese. Additionally, Kevin Reichelt and Digby Burgess represented the school in the Eastern States football team. In the Hockey we were represented by D. C. S. Fowler and George Burcher. All these players were greatly missed in the Interhouse teams.

The Interhouse senior football team was led by Kevin Reichelt, the Junior team by Douglas Wright. These teams finished fourth and seventh respectively. However, both teams played to the best of their ability during the season.

The Interhouse senior hockey team was led by John Craig and the Junior team by Thean. Both these teams played extremely well. They finished fourth in their respective competitions.

The Rugby knockout competition was played for the second time this year. The team was led by D. Mickan and was put out in the first round. Our thanks go to Mr. Terry Barr for the time he spent with the team.

THE CYGNET

THIRD TERM

The boys settled down to the last term. This was for some boys the final term at school, and also an important one for the Leaving and Junior candidates. Their report results were heavy on the mind of the majority.

Athletics training commenced in the first week and the house was represented in the squad in every age group. Everybody in the house training squad was enthusiastic to enjoy himself but few were ready to do any real hard training. However, on the Interhouse Sports day the house showed its merit and came in fourth. The day was enjoyed by those who had taken a keen interest in training.

The Interboarding House table tennis was played on the third weekend of term and Loton was narrowly defeated by Faulkner.

The V. S. Murphy House Masters Cup was won by Loton. Faulkner and Loton had an equal number of wins and a count-back was necessary.

The House was represented in the Athletics by Roger Bell, Brian Wiese, George Burcher and Ken Bradford and we congratulate these few for getting in the team. Boys returning to school next year should remember that "the spirit of the House can only be inspired by the Prefects but the spirit and feeling for the House must come from the boys."

Faulkner House

House Master: Mr. D. F. POAKE

House Captain: P. C. M. EVANS

House Prefects: S. S. McALINDEN, G. L. McPHEE, T. K. WALDRON, S. F. YOUNG

FIRST TERM

Monday 12th February saw the return of the boarders with the new boys quickly settling down. Phillip Evans was appointed House Captain and Stephen McAlinden and Gordon ("Gus") McPhee house prefects. Terry Waldron and Stephen Young were appointed later on in the term.

With first term sport coming on us very quickly, the boys got some training behind them for their respective sports.

THE CYGNET

The interschool swimming was held on the 11th March and we were well represented by Ken Taylor, Greg. Jolly, Colin Jacob, Steven Young, Geoff. Tassicker, Mark Skinner, David McLarty, Chris. Harper and Michael Wainwright. Faulkner were narrowly beaten by Buntine House in the interhouse swimming and our congratulations must go to them. Faulkner won the inter-boarding house swimming.

In cricket, we could manage only 3rd place but were represented in the First XI by Terry Waldron, who obtained his colours in this sport. "Gus" McPhee represented us in the First VI tennis.

On the 15th April we saw the Head of the River. Faulkner was represented by Phil Evans and Michael Ackland in the second VIII. In the interhouse rowing we did not do as well as expected, obtaining only 5th place.

On the 10th May we saw the ending of a good term and all the boys looked forward to a well earned holiday.

SECOND TERM

The term started officially on Tuesday 30th May. However, the boarders returned the night before, to get settled down for the new term.

Winter sports began immediately, and the first P.S.A. matches saw Terry Waldron, Steve McAlinden and Gus McPhee in the 1st XVIII; Phil Evans in the 1st XV; Geoff. Tassicker and Trenn McCurry made the 1st XI later in the season.

The interhouse football teams — the junior led by Alan Bickell, and the senior by Steven Young — fared quite well. Although the junior lacked in size and strength, the courage of Bickell, Stone, Agar, Reid and de Gruchy made up the deficit. The senior team played strong football ending fourth in the competition. The senior Hockey, captained by Geoff Tassicker, came second, and, combined with the result of the junior house Lightning Carnival, Faulkner gained equal first with Parry, for the Shield. The Rugby Sevens knock-out competition was held towards the end of term, and the house was placed fourth after being defeated by Buntine (the winners) in the second round.

The cross-countries, held on Tuesday 25th July, were won by Wilson with Faulkner and Loton equal second. G. McPhee and C. Agar gained places, coming equal first. Everyone in the House competed, and their efforts achieved success for the House.

At the end of the term, Faulkner had done well, and were lying second to Buntine in points for the Cock-House Cup. The term's achievements, both sporting and academic, were very good.

THIRD TERM

The term commenced on Monday 11th September.

With the House sports only four weeks away, on 11th October, all boys swung into immediate training, some going to the athletics camp at Point Peron.

Unfortunately, with all our training, we managed only a second to Buntine on sports day. This, however, did not disgrace us, as every boy gave of his best. By not winning the sports, we saw the Cock-House Cup slip a little further away from us and, for the first time in four years, it looked as though Faulkner would not regain it.

Three days later, on 14th September, was championship day. A special mention should go to Michael Young who won all of his events to finish under 16 Champion. The following Saturday was the "Inters". Faulkner was represented by Michael Young, Phil Evans, Stephen McAlinden, Ken Taylor, Geoff Tassicker, Michael Wainwright, Jeff. Graham, Michael Ackland and Steven Young. Gordon McPhee, almost a certainty for an "Inters" position, was unable to train because of an injury. Outstanding efforts were made by Michael Wainwright (in the 1500 metres) and Michael Young, who ran well.

Throughout the year, courage was shown by all members of the House, and, although sporting achievements were not up to the standard of past years, Faulkner boys did their best. The year has been a happy one, and academically, as well as in the field of sport, Faulkner has achieved the best of which it was capable.

Parry

Housemasters: Mr. G. N. ALTORFER (1st Term),

Mr. L. DRAKE (2nd & 3rd Terms).

House Captain: L. B. CRAIG

House Prefects: V. A. VERYARD, W. J. POUCHER

---

1st TERM

The term commenced with the appointment of Boyd Craig as House Captain and Vaughan Veryard and Bill Pougher as House Prefects.

• THE CYGNET

The senior cricket team of last year were winners in their competition, and the strength of that team was reflected in the good performance of this year. Ably captained by Vaughan Veryard, (who is to be congratulated on winning his colours in cricket), the team was unlucky to lose the final to Stirling. A poor exhibition of fielding was the principal cause of the defeat.

The house was represented in the 1st XI by V. Veryard, A. Irvine, J. Mills and W. Pougher.

The senior tennis VI, captained by 1st VI member Peter Morgan, swamped all opposition, to record the first tennis win in the history of the house.

Although graced with little talent, our swimmers, captained by Graham Parker, managed fourth place, and recorded a very creditable performance. Our Inters representatives were G. Parker, J. Blackman, G. Pursell, J. Davy and P. Martin.

The house rowing four, containing not one member of the 1st eight, rowed exceptionally well to finish second in the house fours championship.

At the conclusion of the term, the house farewelled Mr. Altorfer, who left on a well-earned long service leave. Mr. Altorfer has given us great service in the years since Parry House was formed, setting a fine example, which all boys under him have followed dutifully and willingly, and we wish him a very pleasant break from his teaching duties. Taking Mr. Altorfer's place until his return next year was Mr. Drake, who filled the breach most admirably, giving us all the benefit of his great experience.

SECOND TERM

Second term saw Parry House successful in the senior division of both football and hockey. The football team, captained by Peter Diamond, showed great spirit to win their competition by easily defeating Buntine House in the final. The hockey team, captained by Tuck Riley, were undefeated throughout the season, continuing last season's form, and winning the hockey for the third year in succession. 1st XVIII representatives were V. Veryard, J. C. Mills, W. Pougher and B. Craig; 1st XI representatives were P. Tozer, (v. capt.), P. Morgan, A. Irvine and P. Finlay. Congratulations to Veryard and Irvine on receiving their colours. It should be noted that these boys were ineligible to play in the house competition, and this fact reflects the overall strength and spirit of the senior boys. In contrast, the Junior XVIII, captained by Warwick Smith, showed little teamwork or determination, and lost all their later games to finish seventh.

THE CYGNET

The house was well represented in the school XV, which included Ian Ferguson (whom we congratulate on winning his colours) Graham Parker, Brendan Leppard and Nick Levinson. No official house rugby competition was held but Parry House was defeated in the first round of the unofficial 7-a-side knockout competition.

THIRD TERM

Third term was not successful for Parry House sport. In the annual cross-country event, Parry House, despite a large number of competitors, failed dismally in all age groups with the exception of the open division, in which four members of the house were among the first ten finishing. However, this event, much to our disappointment, was later declared "no race". The house athletics team, on the whole showing very little spirit or will to win, was completely swamped and finished seventh.

The few creditable performances given were from V. Ver-yard, W. Smith, R. Yeowell, B. Woodland, J. Mills, G. Woods and J. Pougher. The system of the house sports provides for lack of ability, and a more consistent effort from all members of the house, both in training, and on the day of the sports, would have seen Parry House finish in a much higher position. We were represented in the inter-school sports by J. Mills, G. Woods, W. Fehse, B. Craig, R. Yeowell and W. Smith.

In retrospect, one would not say that the year had been successful for Parry House, and we must look to greater things in the future, both on the playing field and in the classroom.

Our thanks go to Mr. Drake for guiding the house so well in the difficult period following the departure of Mr. Altorfer.

Wilson House

House Master: Mr. MASSEY

House Captain: H. K. COWAN

House Prefects: T. C. DONCON, G. J. PARAMOR, I. R. PENTON, D. K. MILES, G. B. HOUSE, G. B. WILSON.

FIRST TERM

The year began with a new assistant Housemaster in Mr. Jasper, who learnt quickly the routine of the House from Mr. Underdown, who had many years' experience in the house, as a boy, and as a master for one year. Unfortunately, Mr. Underdown left us at the end of the term to live with his parents. He was replaced by Mr. de Graaf.

THE CYGNET

Mr. Massey appointed four Fifth Form boys as prefects: H. Cowan, T. Doncon, G. Paramor, and M. Watkins, the latter of whom left us also at the end of first term. After a month, three Fourth Year boys were appointed prefects to help out with duties around the house.

Wilson House this year improved a place in the swimming and moved to 7th position, which was quite an achievement considering the house had few outstanding swimmers. G. Paramor and L. McTavish gained positions in the Inters squad, but were unfortunate in not being able to compete for the school.

In Rowing, Wilson, for the first time since the competition began five years ago, lost the Rowing Cup. The House Four gained 3rd place, the four seats in the boat being held by: T. Doncon — Bow, D. Miles — 2, G. House — 3, H. Cowan — Str. This crew was nearly a replica of last year's winning crew so it was rather unfortunate that the House lost its hold on the Rowing Cup. Congratulations go to three members of the House who held seats in the First Eight: T. Doncon — bow, G. House — 7, H. Cowan — Str.

The minor sports team, not through lack of trying or house spirit, attained only 7th place.

SECOND TERM

The House functioned well during this term. Its spirit was reflected in the spirited turn-out of the House's Army Cadets. Though they did not attain high honours, they were considered trustworthy enough to be put in control of the Army Equipment Depot.

In the field of sport, the results were mediocre, but, when the quality of our sportsmen is taken into account, it must be conceded they gave a very good showing. Our boys went on to the field in high spirits and did their best. The Rugby team, including some players who did not even know the rules, came a very good third out of eight teams. The Junior House Football team came a close second, but the Senior team, composed partially of Juniors did not fare so well. The Hockey teams, not being very good in either Junior or Senior divisions, did not fare very well, but have to be commended for their fighting spirit; such a fighting spirit that one boy was almost suspended.

In the field of Inter-Boarding House sport, Wilson, the weakest side, gave a very good showing. They came third in the Football and equal second in Hockey, the only problem being that there were only three participating teams.

THE CYGNET

Notwithstanding the results, the House had a very commendable term. One matter for which they may be commended is their whole-hearted support of the West Australian Football League. I think that we owe them a vote of thanks for being so public-minded; Wilson House does, at least, turn out very active citizens.

THIRD TERM

Third Term began with yet another surprise for the majority of us as we found we had gained another Duty Master, Mr. Wickens, who has proved an asset to the House. To him we extend best wishes for the terms ahead.

Almost at once we were flung into a vigorous training programme for the House Athletics which appeared to pay off, Wilson House gaining third place. The competitors were inspired by the tremendous House Spirit which came forth on the day. Special mentions for outstanding performances go to Wilson, G., Blackman, Shipway, Tozer, Wilson R., Cannon.

Running parallel with our House training were our representatives in the Inters Squad. Congratulations go to: Wilson G., Tozer, Wilson R., Blackman J., Shipway R., Cannon R., all of whom gained selection for the Inters.

With the exams pressing nearer, everyone is studying vigorously and (in the view that everything else has failed?) a remarkable percentage of 3rds and 5ths are now attending Church Services regularly.

With but few days left we are hoping inspiration arrives.

Riley

House Master: Mr. H. C. WHEELER

House Captain: A. L. FETHERS

School Prefects: A. L. FETHERS, L. J. SHARP

House Prefects: M. R. BLIZARD, T. V. GREENWELL
A. J. PROSSER, G. J. RILEY.

FIRST TERM

On the first day of term Alan Fethers and Linton Sharp were appointed school prefects. Alan took up the position of house captain, and Linton, vice-captain, with the assistance of house prefects, Tom Greenwell and Mark Blizard. Later in the term Geoff Riley was also appointed house prefect.

THE CYGNET

In the sporting line, the house was successful in winning the team games cup for the second year in succession. The whole team showed great spirit and determination under the leadership of Alan Prosser. The swimming team, which was captained by Craig Glenister, showed great form and finished second to Buntine House. Despite the lack of interschool swimmers, the house as a whole performed exceptionally well, and credit must go to Bill Valli and Jeremy Humphry for winning all of their respective events.

Owing partly to the lack of senior cricketers, the house did not do well in the competition. However, thanks must go to their ever busy captain, Alan Fethers. Alan also represented the school in the First XI.

The house rowing IV came fifth in the annual regatta with Geoff. Riley as stroke. Geoff. also represented the school in the First VIII as cox.

The house produced C.U.O.s Fethers and Sharp and many N.C.O.s for the Army Cadets. Alan Fethers was appointed Head C.U.O. and congratulations must also go to R.Q.M.S. Riley who won the coveted Tobruk Trophy.

SECOND TERM

After last year's great display of hockey, the house was unfortunate to gain only 3rd place. However, this is no disgrace and credit must go to the keen team who tried so hard, captained by David Atkinson. Tom Greenwell, Geoff Riley, Alan Fethers, and Eric Isaachsen were selected to play in the school First XI.

The junior football team had rather a good season under captain Alan Broadhurst and gained 4th place in the competition. However, the senior team unfortunately came last and there is room for a great deal of improvement in this field. Our thanks must go to Mark Blizzard for his incessant encouragement and drive in trying to make a team. The school First XVIII had house representatives in Bill Valli and Paul Hammond.

A seven-a-side rugby carnival was held this year for the second time and the house team reached the finals. Captain, Craig Glenister, and Tom Greenwell (who was recruited from the hockey team) excelled in the match against Parry House. Craig, along with Martin Smart, played in the First XV.

THIRD TERM

The beginning of the term saw the boys training as a house for the athletics. Although there were not a great number of "stars", Alan Broadhurst ran very well and was Under-14

THE CYGNET

Champion; Eric Isaachsen was Under-17 Champion, and Mark Blizard was runner-up for the Open Championship. Several boys from Riley House represented the school in the interschool athletic meet, but special congratulations must go to the above three for winning their particular events. The House won the House Masters' Cup for overall relay team placings.

Half-way through the term Alan Prosser was appointed house prefect after a year of hard work on the House's behalf.

All in all, it was quite a good year for the house. The boys would like to thank Mr. Wheeler, Alan Fethers and the house prefects for their tremendous drive and encouragement which helped in all fields. It is hoped that next year will see a further improvement and that, in the near future, Riley may take off the Cock-House Cup.

Buntine

House Master: Mr. P. A. CAREY

House Captain: S. G. SCOTT

House Prefects: J. E. N. KEMPIN, N. W. TREADGOLD, G. K. JONES, G. M. McKAY.

School Prefects: S. G. SCOTT, H. R. THOMPSON

School Captain: S. G. SCOTT

FIRST TERM

The first term commenced on the 14th of February and at the first house meeting Mr. Carey welcomed all new boys. Stephen Scott was elected House Captain and Nigel Treadgold, John Kempin, Greg. Jones, and Hugh Thompson were elected House Prefects.

We were ably represented by Greg. McKay (v.-capt.) and Nigel Treadgold in the first eleven and by Greg. Jones (v.-capt.), Steve Scott, Bill Rowbotham, Simon Trotter, Michael and Tim Davis, and David Lilburne in the victorious swimming team. Hugh Thompson, B. Goodridge and W. Jeffrey were our representatives in the rowing team; Malcolm Hodson was elected captain of tennis — a remarkable achievement, considering he is in fourth year.

In the interhouse competition, we fared excellently by winning the swimming and coming fourth in cricket and gaining third place in Minor sports. We combined with Stirling (reluctantly, however), in the House fours and could only manage last.

The first term was an excellent one; spirit was high and, consequently, we led in the number of points gained in the Cock House Cup.

SECOND TERM

To keep top position for Cock House, we had to do well in the interhouse competitions in second term. The footballers triumphed by winning the football cup, but the hockey players finished last.

In the unofficial Rugby Competition, we again did well to gain second place. Hugh Thomson participated in the School Drama Festival as "The Ghost of Jerry Bundler".

Buntine, as usual, had many participants in First teams for the Winter Sports. In football, Steve Scott (v.-capt.), Nigel Treadgold, Brett Goodridge, Steve Berry, Don Holywell, Simon Trotter and Peter Hanson represented the school and, in the Rugby side, Bill Rowbotham and Cliff Allan were also prominent. In Hockey, Greg. McKay (capt.) was the only player from Buntine.

Congratulations must go to Bill Rowbotham for gaining a place in the state U/16 Rugby side.

Thus, after another great term, Buntine was still maintaining first place for the coveted Cock House Cup, and all set for a solid third term.

THIRD TERM

Spirit was high in the House at the start of the term, with only a win in Athletics needed to clinch the Cup. Even though we had only four afternoons to prepare for the sports, all trained hard to be fit for the day. All were asked to give their best and this they did, and we ran out winners by 76 points.

Our congratulations to Steven Scott for becoming Open Champion while still U/17, and to Ian McPharlin for becoming U/15 runner up.

As usual, the House was well represented in the Inters; those competing were: Steven Scott (Capt.), Nigel Treadgold, John and Peter Kempin, Malcolm McLean, Simon Trotter, Ian McPharlin, Malcolm Hodson, Graham Davies and brother John, and Bill Rowbotham.

Hearty congratulations to these boys.

THE CYGNET

To complete a great sporting year, Buntine was victorious in the U/14 tennis and won the Cock House Cup.

Finally, sincere thanks to our House Master, Mr. P. Carey, for all the encouragement, support and guidance he has given the whole house this year.

Haynes

House Master: Mr. A. R. TAYLOR

House Captain: P. G. MARTIN

School Prefect: P. G. MARTIN

House Prefects: D. YATES, I. RANKINE-WILSON, R. P. SYME, G. W. HARRIS, G. BURKE, R. N. REYNOLDS.

FIRST TERM

The term began with the appointments of D. Yates, I. Rankine-Wilson, R. P. Syme and G. W. Harris as House Prefects. P. G. Martin was appointed House Captain and was, on the first day of School, inducted a School Prefect.

Sports training began in the second week of the term, the first major sporting event being the Inter-School Swimming Sports. House members who gained places in the team were D. P. Yates, A. Yates, R. A. Anderson, J. G. Cruthers, A. W. Whittell, N. G. Biddle and R. N. Reynolds. Congratulations must go to these boys for helping Hale to gain yet another win in the Swimming Inters.

In the Inter-House Swimming, Haynes was placed an unlucky second behind Buntine House. In the School Championships, Dave Yates and his brother, Anthony, showed superiority in their event to be Open and Under 15 Champions respectively.

In the Inter House Rowing we managed to be placed fifth. However, the members of the House Four were not disgraced as only two members of the four were seasoned rowers. Mention should be made of the courage shown by W. L. Reynolds and R. K. Jackson, who are both in second year and who rowed with and against the senior rowers of the School. Members of the House who rowed on Head-of-the-River Day were — A. D. Jamieson, P. G. Martin (First VIII) and K. C. Reynolds (Cox 3rd IV).

Two members of the House, R. M. Wallman and J. A. Bougher, represented the School in the first IV Tennis. The

THE CYGNET

House Tennis Open Team was placed fifth and the under-16 team fourth.

The Senior and Junior House Cricket teams lacked in numbers and gained only a minor place. The Minor Sports Team, captained by P. J. Giambazi, tried hard and managed to gain a minor placing.

During the term G. W. Harris competed in the State Athletic Championships and gained second place in the State Junior 1500 Metres. House members extend their congratulations to him for this fine effort.

At the end of the term Haynes occupied a reasonable position in its fight to win the Cock House Cup.

SECOND TERM

This term started on 30th May. As usual, interest this term was centred on the Winter Sports of Football, Hockey and Rugby.

During the holidays R. M. Wallman and P. G. Martin were selected in the First XVIII touring side to play in Adelaide. R. P. Syme was very unlucky not to be selected, because of injury, but showed his School spirit in going to Adelaide to support the team.

In the Inter-House Football Competition, after a slow start, the Senior Team showed class in winning all of its last five games to finish third. The Junior Team fought hard but could only manage a tail-end placing.

Members of the House who played in the First XVIII during the Season were R. P. Syme, R. F. Syme, R. M. Wallman, G. Burke and P. G. Martin.

As usual, Haynes House was well represented in the Rugby, with five members playing in the First XV: D. P. Yates, I. Rankine-Wilson, G. J. Moore, C. G. Allan, and A. D. Jamieson. With this strong combination playing together with supreme house spirit, we won the Inter-House Rugby Competition which carries no points towards the Cock House Cup.

During the season A. D. Jamieson was selected to play in the State Schoolboys Rugby Union Team to play in the Eastern States. After this tour, it was announced that he had been selected in a combined Southern States team to tour New Zealand next year. Congratulations go to him on these selections.

We had no representatives in the School Hockey team and both House teams could gain only minor places.

Though there were several outstanding efforts for the House in the Cross Country Championships, we did not have enough depth and gained only a minor placing. G. W. Harris won the Open cross country event.

THE CYGNET

In the second last week of the term, G. Burke returned to School after his Scholarship trip to America and resumed his role as a House Prefect from last year.

The term ended on the 23rd August with mixed success for the House behind it.

THIRD TERM

With the advent of the term, came athletic training. Some boys joined the School squad while the rest of the House trained under Mr. Taylor.

The House Athletic Team was weakened by the loss of Geoff Harris who had to leave school because of illness.

In the Inter-House Athletic Carnival the House managed to finish seventh. However, we were well represented in the School Athletic Team by D. Yates, A. Jamieson, J. Ibbs, and R. Wallman.

In the School Championships, J. Ibbs set a new School record in the Under-17 95 metre hurdles. Congratulations to him for this effort.

The prefects and boys of Haynes House would like to express appreciation to Mr. Taylor for his guidance and assistance throughout the year.

Stirling

House Master: Mr. R. D. McMATH

House Captain: BRUCE SHENN

School Prefects: BRUCE SHENN and BOB HUMPHRIES

House Prefects: A. L. CHIEW, R. W. GREGSON, P. IPKENDANZ, D. J. MILL, G. J. THOMPSON,
M. O. de C. WALTERS

FIRST TERM

Term commenced with the appointment of Bruce Shenn as house captain and Allan Chiew, David Mill, Bob Humphries and Graeme Thompson as house prefects. Further appointments during the year were those of Roger Gregson and Peter Ipken-danz.

THE CYGNET

The House's first trial was the House Swimming Sports, and, although placed only sixth, the great spirit and potential of the house was strongly evidenced. At the Interschool Sports, we were represented by Bruce Shenn, Ian Sandover, Grayam Sandover and Mark Jones.

The Senior House Cricket team, captained by Alan Bolton, scored a terrific win, and, with the Junior Team also playing off in the finals, the house cricketers must be highly commended. Representing the House in the First XI were Alan Bolton, Allan Chiew and David Mill.

Congratulations must also go to Bob Humphries, who brought the raw Stirling House Team Games talent into second placing.

Unfortunately, this year, the House had only one rower so it had to share a pair with Buntine, an alliance which resulted in an equal seventh placing. The same rower, David Little, represented the school in the First VIII.

During the term an Army Cadet appointment was made, that of Bruce Shenn to Drum Major.

SECOND TERM

In second term, although the sporting results were, perhaps, not as good as might have been expected, House and Team spirit were at their highest: the football teams took third place overall, and the Senior hockey (skilfully led by Michael Michelides) and the Junior team combined to reach an overall seventh place.

It must be noted that the cream of the House's sporting talent represented the school in 1st teams thus becoming ineligible to play in House matches. Those in the First XVIII were David Mill (captain), Bruce Shenn, Allan Chiew, Alan Bolton, and Colin Dimmock. Members of the 1st XV were Terry Mill (captain) and Roger Gregson. These two were the mainstays of the House Rugby team, which unfortunately was unplaced.

Towards the end of term the School Cross Country Championships were held, in which Stirling finished a creditable 6th.

E. Considine, C. Morton-Stewart and I. Rance represented the School in the Interschool Surf Riding Championships.

Second term came to end on a sound footing, with the Junior and Leaving candidates turning to more intensive study in the third term.

---

THE CYGNET

THIRD TERM

With the beginning of third term, the boys got down to house Athletics training almost immediately, with Mr. McMath and the house prefects setting a vigorous pace.

The effects of this training were obvious when the house chalked up a very creditable 4th. Those representing the school in the Inter-School Athletics were Bradly Zimbulis, who competed in every event in his age group, and Graeme Thompson who headed the open high jump. Graham Dungey also competed in the Inter-School Cross Country.

Condolences must go to David (Oscar) Mill, a truly great athlete, who was advised by his doctor to rest from sport for some time, thus being unable to compete in the Inter-School Sports.

David Little notably captained the school's shooting team which gained 11th position.

The house was also honoured this year to have a representative in the Western Australian team in the Interstate Chess Championships, the representative being S. P. Fitzpatrick.

With a second place in the Inter-School Athletics, the school and house spirit finished on a particularly high note. Mr. McMath and other leaders in the house and the boys themselves are to be congratulated on their spirit and display of energy this year; and it can only be hoped that this terrific spirit will carry over to all aspects of house activities next year.

A Fagged-Out Story

Peter Stuyvesant led an Escort of Grenadiers, who were riding on Camels, up to the Kool, Alpine mountains.

They were going to battle with some football Players who were from a small town called Chesterfield.

The football Players flew up in a Viscount jet which took off from Idlewild Airport in America and landed on some Turf in Australia.

The battle was to take place at Dunhill. While the Grenadiers were having a Fiesta, the football Players, whose leaders were two men named Benson and Hedges, attacked the Grenadiers and captured them. They released them and decided to Ski back to America.

The Grenadiers stayed in the mountains to enjoy the Country Life.

• THE CYGNET

"TIMBERTOP"

Hidden away in the Foothills of the Great Dividing Range, among the trees and scrub typical of the Australian bush is Timbertop school. It is the Fourth form (third year W.A.) of Geelong Grammar School. It lies 130 odd miles from Melbourne and 176 from the main school at Corio. It is a school quite apart from any others in the country. Boys here are given the opportunity of hiking, camping and getting to know the bush as well as the high standard of education traditional at the school. It was the Dream of Dr. J. R. Darling which became reality when he was headmaster twelve years ago. It was modelled on Gordonstoun in the Scottish highlands.

A typical day would begin when one rose out of bed about six thirty. The first one to get up would be followed by shouts of "After You!", and rapid "booking up" for both showers would follow. Whether the showers were hot or not was the responsibility of the boiler boy for that particular week. If the showers were cold he usually suffered.

Every boy had to be at assembly at seven thirty. This was held outside the dining hall. Breakfast followed it. It mostly consisted of porridge or sometimes cereal with a hot second course. After this the unit was cleaned for the master on duty to inspect. Each boy had a particular and different job to do each week. After inspection everyone went to the chapel where service was held every morning. It went for fifteen minutes and was followed by the first three periods of school work. Then there was a fifteen minute break and two more periods. Then it was lunch. Usually a stew followed by some kind of fruit dessert.

After the last three periods of work jobs followed. These ranged from axeing to feeding the pigs. On Wednesday jobs gave way to sport. Mostly tugs of war but sometimes there were events out of the ordinary such as the Inka Race. This was a run of three miles with each Unit (fifteen boys to each) carrying a ten foot log. Running in shifts E Unit proved themselves the champions.

At four thirty jobs finished and it was cross country time. Two, three mile, cross countries a week were compulsory. Very few ran more. At the end of each term a major run was held. First term's was the "round the block dash". Six miles. Second term: up mount Timbertop. Rising three thousand feet above the school this was quite a challenge. Although only seven miles in distance it took a long time to finish. The third term was the big one. The Marathon. It was eighteen miles over roads through bush. The winner clocked two hours and forty three minutes. Although stiff and aching with cramp everyone finished although the last boy took five and a half hours. The only warning one receives of the marathon is steak for tea the night before the race.

After "crossies" or sport everyone showered and came to the dining hall for tea. Preparation for all meals was done by the "slushies". There was one representative from each unit. It was a dreaded duty as one had to do everything with the meal except cook it. The worst thing about "slushie" was serving the meal. No one was ever satisfied. "Slushie" excused one from jobs and sport but not "crossies". One of the worst things was getting up at six thirty or five thirty if one had to cook one hundred and fifty odd slices of toast. This duty was dreaded by all slushies, and most seemed to have a turn at it. It was also a good punishment. Each boy was a slushie three times in the year.

Prep, or homework, followed tea and went for two hours. Lights out at nine forty five.

On almost all weekends there was hiking. It was voluntary except for the first four of the year, but staying at school over the weekend was not fun as one had to do all the jobs of the absentees. Being given the opportunity to go hiking each weekend was a wonderful thing. There's something about being out in the bush with three good friends which brings out the best in a person. The hike would begin on Friday afternoon after school when rations were packed into bulging ruck-sacks and one reported out to the master on duty. After that you and your party were on your own. Some would do slack hikes of not more than ten miles in the whole weekend. Other more ambitious hikers could cram as much as eighty miles into the allowed time. Long or short, a hike was always an enjoyable experience. After one had put up the tent and had the evening meal, one would always sit at the fire with his friends. It didn't matter if the conversation was on Nylon tent ropes or L. B. J. One always knew a certain peace and solitude, which can be felt nowhere else but in the bush at night.

Rain on a hike was unwelcome. Walking through the bush, picking a path through the wet scrub, with the rain pouring down was an experience we all hated. It is very depressing and inclined to make one swear profusely.

At the end of the term there is a four day hike. This is really five days and four nights out with Nature. For this, good friends are necessary as companions because tempers wear very thin. On the third term four day hike everyone does his best, as it is the last hike at the school. The all time distance record for the school was set in this hike by a friend of mine, Keith Williamson, and his party, who went to places never visited by any school party, and covered two hundred and fifteen miles.

THE CYGNET

In my year at Timbertop we were privileged to have Prince Charles as a member of the school. It caused the greatest publicity the school had got. For days after the beginning of the first term reporters plagued the school. There was never a dull moment with all this company. One of the funniest sights I have ever seen, was a reporter who put one of the legs of his camera tripod in a bull-ants nest. Prince Charles, though always more conventional than the rest of us in dress and manner, was a good athlete and a friendly person to know. I was lucky enough to go on a weekend fishing trip with him and he and his popular bodyguard were both good company. We addressed him as Charles, but he was generally known behind his back as The Lad.

Almost all activities at the school, (hiking was an exception), counted towards the unit competitions. There were nine units, A to I. My unit was E. The rivalry was hot, particularly between E. and F., who were the two leaders throughout the year. Final points were E. 742, F. 676, down to B. with 158.

There were no day boys at the school. All boys who normally were day-boys at Corio became boarders for their Timbertop year.

I thoroughly enjoyed my year there, and I think every boy at the age of fourteen or fifteen should be given this opportunity. Geographically this state offers better opportunities than Victoria for such a school, and it would be good to see one established by Hale. It is remarkable how many things one finds to do in a whole year without radio or Television.

1st XI RESULTS

	P	W	D	L
Darlot Cup 1967	6	5	1	0
Term 3, 1966 Matches	8	4	2	2
Term 1, 1967 Other Matches	3	2	1	0
	17	11	4	2

As the above record shows, Hale's Cricket XI was a most successful one. In the matches played in Term 3, 1966, we had the use of all the 1967 1st Term players except David Mill and John Mills, and our latter successes were, I think, largely due to this fact. We used Jack Stone, an excellent off-spinner who left at the end of year. There is, I believe, little difference between a so-called 'friendly match' and a cup match — at any rate success at one, in my opinion, is a great help towards success at the other.

In other words match practice is of paramount importance.

Our earlier matches against Guildford, Wesley and Christ Church were played under the controversial 'new' rules based on those of the English County Cricket Gillette Cup by which the side scoring the greater number of runs in 50 overs wins. The main reason for this innovation is to prevent draws, and hence negative batting. I do not believe it encourages negative bowling since the surest way to win such a match is to get the other side out so that it doesn't last 50 overs. In the Darlot Cup matches played by us there were 3 occasions on which we failed to take all 10 wickets of our opponents. In only the last one did this matter, as a final round had been decided upon in which a draw was possible, proving what had been considered impossible — a drawn match on the 1st innings in a two-day game!

Having won the 5 preliminary matches we had 30 points and Aquinas and Christ Church stood equal second with 18. Since Aquinas had defeated Christ Church, they now faced us in a 1½ day final (11 hours playing time) with no other limitation but a compulsory declaration at 11.30 on Saturday. In fact, Bolton declared at 10.45, which enabled Hale to bowl 9 overs more than Aquinas.

This was a war of attrition, and as may be seen from the scorecard, Bolton received aid from several batsmen, sharing an opening partnership of 69 with Irvine, a 2nd wicket stand of 70 with Chiew and a 3rd wicket partnership of 81 with Hirsch. Bolton's was the best schoolboy innings I have ever seen, for he never let any bowler dictate and scored all round the wicket consistently, mainly by ones and twos.

Aquinas soon showed that they were not much interested in chasing 300 runs, but Speering's was a fine defensive innings lasting 4 hours. When he left, 9th man out, at 194 an hour and quarter still remained. Hale, however, had shot its bolt; one or two hard chances were not taken; overs were bowled too quickly and not only physically, but mentally, the XI tired and could not beat the Aquinian heroes of the day, McManus and O'Dea — and so, for the 2nd successive year, Aquinas and Hale shared the Darlot Cup, but, whereas in 1966 Hale were lucky, this year there was little doubt that the Hale XI was a good one.

THE TEAM

(figures in brackets denote runs and average, or wickets and average in all 1st XI matches)

- A. D. BOLTON (595 runs 39.7).—He never failed as an opening batsman in Darlot Cup matches, and had the gift (like Waldron, another left hander) of never letting the bowler dictate. A fine captain with a mind of his own.
- G. W. McKAY (101 runs 14.4, 35 wickets 15.7)—Vice Captain. A good medium pace left arm stock bowler who never quite developed his potential. Useful bat and excellent fielder.
- A. T. IRVINE (467 runs 33.4, 9 wickets 20.3)—The best stroke player in the team (his 3rd year) and a fine fielder and thoughtful off-spinner. Toured India in January with Australian Schoolboy XI.
- T. K. WALDRON (450 runs 37.5, 16 catches, 16 stumpings).—An agile and reliable wicketkeeper and exceptionally fine middle order batsman, who got better in every match.
- V. A. VERYARD (251 runs 25.1, 21 wickets 22.4).—The safest catch in the team, a hard-hitting batsman, a magnificent fast left-arm bowler.
- M. E. HIRSCH (334 runs 25.7).—A batsman of high potential — very hard to get out when set (except by running him out!)
- P. A. JUST (24 wickets 11.1)—A 2nd year left arm spin bowler who was never mastered.
- D. J. MILL (46 runs 23.0).—A quite exceptional fielder, likely to bat well or bowl steadily when required.
- J. C. MILLS (13 wickets 17.2)—A fast right arm bowler with a fine action.
- A. L. CHIEW (263 runs 16.4)—A useful batsman with a strong drive.
- M. J. SHIPWAY (96 runs 19.2)—A promising batsman and good fielder.

The other members of the squad were A. L. Fethers, W. J. Pougher (73 runs 18.3) and N. W. Treadgold, each of whom was unlucky not to get in the team and in normal years certainly would have.

Football

A Cup has gone back to Aquinas and we have been jolted back to earth. Having a team capable of defending the hard won Alcock Cup, Hale has experienced a disappointing season, defeating every team and yet in turn being beaten by every team — a model of inconsistency! This team lacked the overall talent and depth of the '66 group and injuries certainly upset our balance, but I still maintain Hale had the best team. We heartily congratulate a consistent Aquinas team on their success. They won that magnificent Alcock Cup with 8 victories followed by Wesley 6, Hale and Scotch 5, Guildford G.S. 4, and Christ-Church 2.

The annual carnival, this year in Adelaide, was its usual great success. The team manager Mr. Towers did his usual fine job and parents in Messrs. Berry, Treadgold and Mills accompanied the team and joined Mr. Towers and me on the boundary in becoming candidates for heart failure during the dramatic final game against Scotch. The team salutes the folk of Scotch in general, especially the parents, and Scotch masters in Mr. Eyers and Mr. Rosavear, in particular, for a wonderful week. In the opening game Hale gave a scintillating display in defeating Geelong by 10-14 to 6-9. After a slow start the team demonstrated its speed, toughness and skill in outclassing the Victorians on a small and slippery ground. David Mill, the Captain, played his best ever game for Hale in dominating the centre while Nigel Treadgold and Bruce Shenn on the half back line and Bill Valli, Vaughan Veryard, and Brian Wiese up forward gave lead to the rest of the group. Geelong then eclipsed Scotch. Then in a gripping game a most determined Scotch deservedly defeated Hale by 11-8 to 9-9. Hale had their chances to win but in the end some players lacked emotion, desire and concentration. Perhaps we thought Hale would win easily. Anyway it meant a three way tie for the year. A superb Valli was the best in this game and Mills, Bell, Chiew, Mill and Scott were other good ones. These trips are fantastic experiences for everyone and every young player should aim to be in Geelong in 1968.

The first round of the Alcock Cup Season was solid. Guildford and Christ Church were outplayed and we narrowly defeated Wesley. Then came the battle of the unbeaten. Aquinas and Hale gave a big crowd another heart stopper which almost finished in a dead heat. Great rivals Aquinas eventually triumphed by 3 points after Hale had kicked 1 goal 9 points in the final quarter. Following a comfortable victory over Scotch we felt we had the players to keep the Cup in the new trophy cupboard the Old Boys were in the process of donating. All players had contributed and Valli, Shenn, McPhee, Veryard and Wiese were often outstanding.

A determined G.G.S., a talented Wesley and a most resolute Christ Church then proceeded to defeat a lack lustre Hale in successive games. It was the saddest three weeks I can recall, and, even though Valli's loss was huge, Hale had little excuse for the dismal slump. It is to be deplored that Valli broke his ankle while playing outside football on the Saturday of the bye. Having meekly surrendered the Cup the team turned around and defeated Aquinas by 4 points in a magnificent game. This was Hale's fifth victory in the past six games over Aquinas and illustrates what we might have achieved.

The centre half back, Bruce Shenn, was the best player of the year. In his first season with the eighteen he strove manfully for the team and school at all times. Others especially prominent were the tireless Vaughan Veryard, Gus McPhee — a great hearted back pocket and Brian Wiese and Bill Valli who did very well earlier in the season. Brett Goodridge developed as a defender and Dave Mill and Stephen Scott, who were the leaders of the team, had their good days. My thanks go to them for their help in selection and it is only a pity that they and Roger Bell could not more often produce the brilliant football that characterised their games in other times. Perhaps that's footy. I thank all players and can only apologise for failing to make them sustain their football. The team would also like to thank parents, friends and Old Boys for their great support, the busy trainer

THE CYGNET

Ross Bolton, Mr. Towers and R. Browning, W. O'Halloran, Barry Casson, and all other boundary men.

The lessons must be learnt. Every footballer, indeed sportsman, must demand the maximum of himself in approach, dedication and the attainment of skills. Many Haleians are content with the ordinary, the second best and require a special occasion to lift themselves. The bitter, cruel, ruthless, meaningful, excited, concentrated approach present before and during the Aquinas matches must always be made to happen. You can assume precisely nothing in any sport about the result. Our failures against Guildford and Christ Church cannot be excused and indeed undoubtedly cost us the chance of sharing the Cup. Good footballers are concerned with their poor training. They work diligently on their skills, realising that nothing is achieved easily. They concentrate solely on getting the ball and using it effectively on a Saturday and yet they are continually asking themselves for a greater effort. Almost without exception the good players are the excited ones, and a player who is excited in the second quarter after he has played a bad first quarter is the type we need. No one affects you as you affect yourself and everyone admires the man who fights on no matter how strong the adversary may be. Good luck to the many who leave Hale. May they, and the boys who come back to tour Geelong and then fight for the Cup, be always truly sporting and fair to opponents and yet so demanding of themselves for more and more effort.

Rugby

Hale's rugby was greatly improved this year. Despite the fact that we finished only 4th in the P.S.A. competition, our team performed most creditably. No team ran up a big score against us; our worst defeat was 16-3 against Scotch College.

A significant fact was that we always outscored our opponents in the second half. Our "Rugby Giants", as Hale's Aussie Rules football coach Mr. McMillan so aptly called us, were fit and had great spirit. Unfortunately inexperience and our lack of confidence too often allowed our opponents to run up a big lead early in the game, and then we did not have quite enough speed to overhaul them.

The squad trained hard and all credit must be given to the complete novices who became regular players in the First XV. Rugby is a complex game in which you are often given no time to think. Years of experience are essential before a man can be a good player but all our players gave of their best at all times even though playing against some teams of boys in their fifth season of Rugby.

The First XV suffered practically no injuries or sickness. Only two boys missed one game each with minor injuries. In the last six games we fielded exactly the same team every week — surely something of a record for any sport.

Hale's First XV —

CAPTAIN — TERRY MILL — (inside centre, breakaway). A shrewd captain and a much improved player. He kicked very accurately throughout the season and would have scored at least 60 of Hale's total points score from conversions.

BILL ROWBOTHAM — (Lock forward) made great strides this season and is now a most accomplished forward. His lineout work is now excellent and towards the end of the season he was scoring a try or two in every match.

IAN FERGUSON — (Hooker) was a dynamic little forward who not only won a lion's share of the ball but was the toughest forward of all in the loose.

GRAHAM PARKER — (Front Row Forward) threw himself into Rugby with great vigour and became a first class forward. He will be one of our best players next year.

GREG JONES — (Second Row Forward) started off as a back where his handling proved too great a disadvantage. Moved into the forwards, he went from strength to strength and in the last few games was quite dynamic. A player of tremendous ability and now a good goal kicker.

PHIL EVANS — (Outside Centre). A nervous starter but gradually gained confidence and became our best back. A fine low tackler and a penetrating runner who was capable of cracking any defence.

• THE CYGNET

ROGER GREGSON — ( Front Row Forward). Not a natural ball handler; did not miss a game with first XV and, by courage and intelligence, came to be mentioned as one of our best players in the last three matches.

GEOFF MOORE — (Full Back). A front row forward but played as full back and had the intelligence and courage to do it well. A great team man.

CRAIG GLENISTER — (Breakaway). In his first season, took to the game with real dedication and became a first class breakaway.

ATHOL JAMIESON — (Breakaway). Also turned from hockey to rugby and speed, size and natural ability soon made him into a competent player. We expect great things from him next year.

CLIFF ALLEN — (Scrum Half) and CHRIS ALLEN — (Five Eight) quiet steady players, were the regular half and five eight throughout the season and did very well. They will have to be a little more cheeky and aggressive next year.

NICK LEVINSON and MAX SMART — (Wingers) scored many tries and showed great dash in attack.

IAN RANKINE-WILSON — (Second Row Forward). His weight and speed brought him into the side and he gradually developed the drive and stamina a Rugby forward must have.

We were delighted that Bill Rowbotham and Athol Jamieson were selected in the State Under 16 Rugby side to play in the All Australian Carnival in Hobart.

The Old Boys' Match

The old boys produced a very good team and a most enjoyable game resulted. The school played well and surprised by winning the forward clashes and leading 11-0 at half time.

The old boys then produced their secret weapon — Carl Greenwood. The School's lead was slowly cut down and might have disappeared completely if the referee had not blown the final whistle when he did.

The First XV greatly appreciated the fact that so many old boys came back to play them, and would like to thank Peter Pearson for organizing such a good side.

Inter-House Sevens

The K. S. Jones Rugby Cup was won this year by Haynes House. Some interesting Rugby stars emerged and everyone thoroughly enjoyed the games. The competition was more even than last year and the standard of play greatly improved.

Buntine defeated Loton 5-3.	Riley defeated Faulkner 11-3.
Haynes defeated Stirling 12-0.	Wilson defeated Parry 9-0.

In the semi-finals Buntine defeated Riley 8-0 and Haynes defeated Wilson 23-0.

The grand final saw Haynes, fielding a very competent side — Moore, Yates, Rankine-Wilson, Biddle, Allen, Jamieson and Fergie — all Rugby players. Their ball-handling ability and speed were too much for Buntine House and Haynes won 9-0.

POST SCRIPT — After their successful tour of Hobart with the state U/16 Rugby Union side, Bill Rowbotham and Athol Jamieson were invited to play for the Aust. Southern States Colts side to tour New Zealand in 1968. The team's congratulations go to these 2 boys.

Hockey

Mr. B. B. Gidney, the coach of the first XI, at the beginning of the season took charge of material that was considered capable of being moulded into a competent hockey team. The new Captain of hockey, Greg McKay, and Vice-captain, Peter Tozer, as well as Anthony Irvine, had all been regular members of the first XI in 1966. Doug Fowler, Peter Morgan, Tom Greenwell and Derek Taylor had also had first XI experience, and these players gave Mr. Gidney an adequate basis on which to build.

The season commenced with a bang for Hale with a fine five goals to one victory over Guildford. Doug Fowler was the mainstay of defence and repulsed many attacking moves, while the half-back line was effective, both in defence and attack; notably Anthony Irvine. Inside forward, Al Fethers, played creatively and, with Tom Greenwell, gave the other forwards many scoring opportunities.

The Hale team confidently moved into their second game, against Wesley, but on this occasion could not settle into a systematic and businesslike style of play and had to be content with a scrumbly win of two goals to one. Anthony Irvine turned in another good game, and forwards Al Fethers and Tom Greenwell combined well on occasions. The passes out of defence were inaccurate and this gave Wesley more opportunities than they deserved and also restricted Hale's attacks.

Christ Church, in a fast exciting game, drew with Hale, three goals each at Hale the following week. Hale had to battle hard to come back from two goals down and almost won this match against a determined opposition. Captain Greg McKay played effectively at half-back, giving the forwards many opportunities which were well used by Tom Greenwell and Peter Morgan.

With Greg McKay out injured, Peter Finlay came into the team to play his first First XI game against Aquinas in the next match. Along with Anthony Irvine, who was again in top form, he contributed ably to the successful half-back line, which helped Hale to a three goals to one victory. Also prominent were Tom Greenwell and Al Fethers.

Unfortunately, Hale was not able to extend this good run of hockey but nevertheless defeated Scotch, two goals to one in a scrappy match. Geoff Riley played a tremendous game as goalie, preventing many scores, including two penalty flicks. In this game Hale's teamwork took a dive, but it was pleasing to complete half the season without a defeat.

THE CYGNET

On the Tuesday following the Scotch game, the Old Boys, playing fast strong hockey, defeated the First XI, three goals to one, and brought about its first defeat since the commencement of the P.S.A. season.

Following the long weekend, Hale travelled to Guildford to be beaten in the mud, two goals to one. Al Fethers was once again creative in the forward line and half-backs, Eric Isaachsen and Anthony Irvine, were effective at times, but, as a whole, the team lacked drive. Although David Atkinson, playing in his first First XI match, tried very hard, it was obvious that the team was missing Greg McKay who was still out and Peter Finlay who missed this match with knee trouble.

There was some return to form in the next match when Hale defeated Wesley at Hale, two goals to nil. Doug Fowler turned in a solid game at full-back, while Eric Isaachsen and Anthony Irvine continued their good form further upfield. Displaying more cohesion in their team play, Hale held control for most of the match, giving Wesley few opportunities.

At Christ Church the following week, Hale were vanquished by a fast, skilful and purposeful Christ Church First XI. Until this team, who proved themselves best in the competition, lost a little interest in the closing stages of the game, Hale had hardly a sniff of the ball. Peter Finlay, Eric Isaachsen and Doug Fowler in defence tried valiantly throughout but could not match the brilliance of the Christ Church forwards.

Aquinas defeated Hale two goals to one at Hale in the next match with the home team giving a disappointing display of hockey. Again, Doug Fowler and Eric Isaachsen were prominent in defence, while Tom Greenwell created opportunities for his co-forwards and was perhaps unlucky not to score himself.

In the final game of the season, Hale, with two new players, Geoff Tassicker and Trenn McCurry, showed a welcome return to form and defeated Scotch, four goals to three. The game was won in the first half when Hale forwards, led by George Burcher, playing the game of his career, and Tom Greenwell, non-plussed the Scotch defence and should have scored more profusely. George continued his tremendous game through the second half, ably assisted by Al Fethers. Towards the end of the game, with Hale relaxing a little, Scotch were allowed in to close the gap a little but were never a real threat.

The Hale First XI finished second to Christ Church in the competition, losing only three of its ten P.S.A. matches, drawing one and winning six. This is the best record to date attained by a Hale School First XI and congratulations must go to each of the sixteen players who represented Hale during the season. Special mention must be made of Doug Fowler, Al Fethers and Anthony Irvine who were awarded colours.

Swimming

The season before the Inters this year was, as usual, a short one, and perhaps the majority of swimmers in the school could be criticized for little or no holiday training.

On returning from the vacation, the swimmers, most unfit, but all enthusiastic, prepared themselves for the work ahead, training under the coaching of Mr. Poake and the Rev. Davis, sensing that we could clinch victory.

Training was hectic. However, spirit and keenness were ever present, and gradually the unfit group of individuals were moulded into a Hale team.

The honours of Captain and Vice Captain of Swimming were bestowed upon Bruce Shenn and Greg Jones respectively.

We had three swimming meetings before the important Night, and for their support in timekeeping, judging, and barracking, I would like to thank all parents, masters and Old Boys. The effectiveness of training must be illustrated by times recorded by boys at these meetings, for they gradually improved until they reached their peak on Inter's Night.

As Inter's Night approached, spirit in the team rose to a peak, this mainly due to the spirited senior boys in the team. While at times some were irresponsible, their attitude towards the school was to be admired. The younger boys followed their lead, and by the final hour, all were prepared to give of something better than their best for their school.

Tim Hantke must be thanked for his help and advice in the last two weeks of training, and especially on the final night for his able assistance.

The Inter's Night itself was one of tension, nervousness, and also a slight air of confidence, the ingredients necessary for the victory of a well conducted team.

INTER SCHOOL SWIMMING SPORTS HELD AT BEATTY PARK AQUATIC CENTRE MARCH 11th 1967.

Hale's over confidence in her relay teams and under-estimation of her opponents brought her to only one victory in these events until the final swim of the night. As in last year, this was the event which would decide whether Hale or Guildford finished victorious. Hale at this stage stood two points ahead of Guildford. The open relay team of Jones G., Yates D., Scott S., and Shenn B., recorded a fine time to clinch victory by a small

Congratulations must go to a Hale Team, whose success must be attributed to the fine spirit they developed.

THE CYGNET

Tennis

The Tennis season at Hale School started a week later than at the other colleges and all the boys were eager to make up for the lost time.

Because of a change in the "Corr Cup" rules, the team now consisted of six players and not four as in previous years.

The loss of W. G. Hodsdon, I. B. Collins, R. Candy and B. Badge from last year's team considerably weakened the standard of tennis in the school, and also left positions in the first team wide open.

Mr Max Bonner was again in charge of tennis in the school. Without his enthusiasm and great drive, we might not have done as well as we did. His knowledge of the game proved invaluable in the matches we played.

M. D. Hodson, the only member of last year's "Corr Cup" team to return to school, was appointed Captain of Tennis for 1967.

In the second match Hale were unfortunate in losing to Wesley in a very light match where the final set of a three set match clinched the game. Later a surprising defeat to Aquinas settled the issue.

The new members quickly settled in and all scored wins. As four will be available in 1968 it is hoped that the new year will find Hale with a strong experienced team.

The 1st and 2nd year teams played a double round, completing their matches during the third term. The former are particularly strong and auger well for the future.

SLAZENGER CUP — MURSELL SHIELD

HERBERT EDWARDS CUP

Hale entered a team in the Slazenger Cup, open knock out event, two in the Mursell Shield, which is a B division of the Slazenger Cup, and three in the Herbert Edwards Cup, an under 15 event.

In the semi-finals of the Slazenger Cup, Hale lost by 4 rubbers to 2 rubbers to Wesley, the eventual winners.

In the Mursell Shield, Hale's No. 1 team was beaten in a semi-final by Governor Stirling No. 1, 4 rubbers to 2 rubbers. The No. 2 team was beaten by Churchlands, 4 rubbers to 2 rubbers in the second round.

In the Herbert Edwards, the No. 1 team was beaten by Applecross No. 1, 9 sets to 3 in 2nd round and the No. 2 team (in 2nd Division) lost to Melville No. 2, 11 sets to 1 and the No. 3 lost to Scotch, 12 sets to 0.

A good suggestion was put forward by the Headmaster, namely, the introduction of a special pocket for all Hale's tennis players to wear so that they could easily be recognised and to encourage a team unity. It is hoped that these will be ready by next season.

THE CYGNET

Rowing

Captain: DOUGLAS FOWLER

Rowing this year has been an improvement on 1966. The Rowers this year had plenty of spirit and they rowed with one object in sight, to win the Head of the River.

Rowing this season started in Third Term, 1966, with John Little and Mr. P. Davies coaching. Mr. Davies was training and teaching the First and Second Year boys to row while John Little looked after the senior boys. Two fours were training and both were entered in the Aquinas regatta. The First Four: Stroke, D. C. S. Fowler, (3) G. B. House, (2) L. Sharp, (B) M. Smallacombe and Cox, K. Reynolds, won their event beating Wesley and three Aquinas crews by half a length. The second four rowed a good race and pulled in in third place. The Rowing tank, which was built at some expense several years ago, was seldom used.

First term, 1967, started off with John Little being appointed Senior Coach, Mr. E. Prince being Coach of the second eight, and Master-in-charge, Kevin Prince, Dave Saleeba and Mr. Jeffrey being coaches of the First, Second and Third fours respectively. Rowing got underway in the first week back with 52 boys doing it, of which 30 were boarders. Of these about 20 boys were from the 1966 Head of the River.

The major crews started off the term with light and then some pretty solid training. The First Eight was settled in the first week except for the admission of W. Norris and changes within the boat. The First Eight started rowing in the "Lee Steere" and moved to the "Little" when they were more skilful. The crew then settled down to hard, fast and skilful rowing.

The Second Eight was settled in the first couple of weeks except for a couple of seats. The Fours, being the new rowers mainly, took longer to settle down and they settled down to long rows, one of which took them up to Guildford and back.

From the time the boys started rowing to the Head of the River, all crews trained extremely hard. The only breaks were Mondays and rough water of which there were few days.

All Hale Crews rowed in at least one race before the Head of the River. At the Hale regatta, all Schools were represented except Scotch. There were three invitation races as well as inter-house fours and championship pairs.

HALE SCHOOL PROPOSED CHAPEL

A design, submitted by Mr. Marshall Waller Clifton F.R.A.I.A., F.R.I.B.A., M.A.P.I., has been accepted by the Board of Governors, and they have decided to proceed immediately with its detailed planning. It is hoped that building will be at an advanced stage by June, 1968, our 110th anniversary.

THE CYGNET

First Eights 1st Hale, 2nd Aquinas, 3rd Christ Church, 4th Wesley, 5th Guildford.

The First Eights was a spectacular race with all crews being within a length of each other. Hale in the last couple of hundred yards took the lead by half a length. From this it looked like success for Hale in the Head of the River. The win of the First Eight lifted the morale of all rowers in the First crew and in the Rowing shed.

Inter House Fours 1st Loton, (S) D. Fowler, (3) W. Norris, (2) K. Bradford, (B) G. Cadd. 2nd Parry, 3rd Wilson, 4th Faulkner, 5th Riley, 6th Haynes, 7th Buntine-Stirling.

On paper, Wilson was favoured to win but the determined and hard-working Loton House crew took the race from Parry by one length.

Championship pairs (S) D. Fowler, (B) G. House, (Cox) K. Reynolds.

This combination, although losing a seat, carried off the championship pairs for the second year in succession.

In the Wesley Regatta, Hale was represented by the 2nd Eight, the 2nd Four, the 3rd Four and the Reserve Four.

This year Hale was not represented in the Perth Regatta because of the strict training programme all crews were following. A hard, physical training programme was started early in the term, and this training made the unfits fit. Rowing was continued over Easter, and this helped to bring the crews up to the standard required for the Head of the River. Up to this time, the course we had done and our work-outs made us sure and confident of a win. It was only unfortunate that the crew could not battle the water and take away the Cup.

Acknowledgement — I would like to thank all coaches, especially Mr. John Little, who as Senior Coach, gave a lot of his time and efforts to the School.

"THE HEAD OF THE RIVER"

On the morning of 15th April, Hale School supporters were gathered to watch and cheer their rowers over the finishing line. This year the rowers had received much encouragement from the school and the crew's spirit was indomitable. The coach of the first eight, Mr. John Little, had worked as hard as the crew to keep equipment and crew in perfect condition. There was much optimism about the crew's ability, since Hale had narrowly beaten Aquinas' crew (which were favoured to win the Head of the River), at the Hale Regatta.

Before the Head of the River race, the crew were excited and also afraid of the torturing mile. Prior to the race, tension was eased by rowing a few practice starts: the starts were quite good except that an overzealous stroke broke his oar. Time was taken to replace the oar and this caused a minor delay in the start of the race.

Hale, starting in lane 2, used the reasonably smooth water to advantage over the first quarter of a mile. Hale led from Scotch, Christ Church and Aquinas, but, hitting the rough water at the quarter mile mark, Hale dropped behind the more powerful Scotch and Christ Church. Unable to hold their lead over Aquinas, Hale rowed on to finish 4th, behind Scotch and Christ Church (equal first) and Aquinas, all of whom bettered the standing time record.

Hale equalled the standing record — a very commendable effort by the crew.

ROWERS DANCE.

The Rowers' Dance this year was a great success as will be agreed by all those who went. The weather was beautiful and over 300 people attended the Dance. The Band, the "Beatin' Tracks" were top class and they really moved the evening along.

The Rowers' Mothers prepared and served the supper which was extremely good. I would like to thank all the Mothers, especially Mrs. Fowler and Mrs. Prince, and also Mrs. Cowan who made and decorated the Rowers' Cake.

THE CYGNET

CYGNET ROWING CLUB

The formation of this Club was proposed by Mr. John Little to give non-rowers a chance to row as an extra sport and to give younger boys experience for school rowing. A committee was formed from the first eight and rowing master and the Headmaster was approached.

The Headmaster agreed with the idea and John Little registered the Club with the W.A. Rowing Association. The school singlets had to have a dark blue sash added because of a clash of colours with another club. Members were then recruited for a nominal sum and, in the first regatta our crew won the maiden fours. Training on Fridays led the Club to further successes.

CHARITIES CONTRIBUTIONS, 1967

Donations from weekly House Meetings are expected by the end of term to be almost identical with last year's $575.

This does not include the special Tasmania Bush Fire Appeal Collection of $100.

Although the end of year disbursements have not yet been made, they are expected to be almost the same as last year's allocations as recorded in the 1966 Cygnet.

Junior School now work independently of the Senior School and their figures are not included in the estimated $575.

Athletics

The athletics season started well this year, with the cross country squad showing great promise in the Perry Lakes Cross Country Championships during second term. Mr. Johnson became head coach after sharing the position with Mr. Pyke last year.

Third term "squad" training began slowly, but picked up after the Pt. Peron Athletic Camp, which was a great success. Then disaster struck. David "Oscar" Mill and Geoff Harris were both suspended from training on medical advice, and the team faced the gloomy prospect of a seriously weakened Open division. Morale was not improved by the forecast of last place by a certain sports writer.

Stephen Scott, the captain of athletics, and Mark Blizzard, vice captain, strove manfully, however, and the final team faced the Inters with bolstered hopes. The great performances put up in the final contest on the 21st of October, and the end result, show what team spirit and determination can do, despite a lack of "stars."

An attempt was made this year to get a nucleus of the team together to commence training for strength and stamina in May. The group was small and keen at first but, after five weeks, faded out.

Our cross country teams lacked depth and fitness, although one or two individuals succeeded. A group of boys doing running and weightlifting in the winter gained fitness, but as there were no athletes amongst them, standards were low. However, two or three boys from this group represented the school at the Inters, which indicates the value of this type of work.

Training was slow in the early stages this year, many boys being reluctant to get down to hard work. Interruptions due to Cadet parades, holidays, and Trial Junior and Leaving exams prevented the formulation of an effective training programme. However, a few keen boys, with Scott's leadership and fine example, drew the team out, and ultimately most of the squad were training hard and competition for places in the team was very keen.

Team spirit on the day was excellent and the close competition in the morning raised our hopes, but Aquinas were too polished and their seven wins in the eight divisions of the eight hundred metres proved to be too much. Congratulations to Aquinas for a splendid effort. Our team deserves congratulations, as well, for on the day many boys far outstripped previous performances, the whole team showing great fighting spirit.

Next year we should choose a bigger team and aim for "one boy, one event", especially in middle distance races. Already moves are under way to eliminate most of the obstacles encountered this year. An attempt is intended to be made to enable boys to do some winter work without increasing the time given to sport above this year's level.

On behalf of the team, I wish to thank all our supporters for their efforts. Some came to cheer and some sent letters and good wishes, which boosted team morale. Thanks must also go to Old Boys who gave assistance in training the team, and to parents and friends who assisted our sports meetings by acting as officials. We are also indebted to the people who donated equipment such as foam for the high jump, flags and weights. Finally, I wish to thank Mr. Stow who has donated medallions to be awarded to boys who achieved a good standard of athletic performance in any event.

All things considered, the final result was satisfying as we did better than most expected us to do. Plans are being laid to do even better next year, and we are looking for increased support from Old Boys. For it is very fine to have taken part and satisfying to have done well, but true joy is only felt in the Athlete's heart when he hears the cry "We have won".

Surfing

The West Australian Schoolboys Surfboard Championship was held on the morning of Sunday, May 7th, at Scarborough Beach, and was "the" event for the Hale boardriders of 1967.

It was conducted by the W.A.S.R.A. which held the Championship to promote surfing among the schoolboys in W.A.

Over 200 competitors turned out to find the surf a little disappointing. The swell was small and a light, but a strengthening Nor'-West breeze constituted small choppy waves which were difficult to ride. Thus it was virtually impossible to perform radical manoeuvres, and this limited the more competent riders, and so made the competition closer than perhaps it might have been.

Full points must go to the W.A.S.R.A. which, despite the conditions, but with the aid of the enthusiastic competitors, conducted the competition very well.

Unfortunately the Army Cadet Bivouac was held over the same weekend as the surfing competition, and, although most of the boys concerned in both events were offered an alternative camp at a later date, the majority chose the original camp.

Thus the Hale team consisted of: P. Bevan (Captain), E. Considine, J. Rance, C. Morton-Stewart, W. Valli, A. Gerloff, A. Fawell, J. Davies.

They did well to be placed equal second (out of 30 schools) with Churchlands High School with 15 points. The winner of the Challenge Cup was Hollywood High School.

Individually, the Captain, P. Bevan, with a commendable effort, was placed 5th over-all, only a few points behind the winner, Ashley Jones of Christ Church.

All in all, it was a successful competition from the point of view of Hale School. Perhaps with a little more luck, Hale will take off the winning trophy next year.

Army Cadets

The cadet year commenced in first term with the following promotions from the annual Christmas training courses at Northam.

- To C.U.O.'s :—Sgt. Fethers, Sgt. Craig, Sgt. Evans, Cpl. Scott, Cpl. Sharp, Cpl. Treadgold.
- To Sgts. :—Cpl. Burr, Cdt. Mickan, Cdt. Polkinghorne, Cdt. Little, Cdt. Dimond, Cdt. Allan, Cdt. Wallman, Cdt. Goodridge (later in year to C.S.M.).
- To Cpls. :— Cadets O'Halloran, Stretch, Charlton, Atkins, Ibbs, Craig, Casson, Jamieson, Waldron, Gray, Levinson.
- To C.S.M. :— Cdt. Bell.
- To R.Q.M. :— Cpl. Riley.
- To Band Major :— Cpl. Shenn.

This year Sgt. Fethers was selected as Senior Under Officer and, immediately, the cadets were broken up into four first year platoons, one second year platoon, one specialist platoon and the Band. It was very pleasing to see the unit once again supervised by Capt. Wheeler and Lieut. Macmillan. Two young Old Boys, Lieuts. Pearson and Liddell, were able to give valuable assistance through their recent C.M.F. training. Of course we must not forget the tireless work of Lieut. Stones (in charge of the Band) and Major Taylor, who dealt with the administration side of the unit most ably.

First term consisted mainly of elementary training. The unit made generally satisfactory progress and reached average efficiency.

At the beginning of second term, the unit held their annual bivouac at Northam and, blessed with fine weather, advanced in their fieldwork and drill one hundred percent. However, during the year, with cadets being held on Mondays, many training afternoons were lost, due to Monday holidays. We must give credit to the cadets here, because, despite limited amount of preparation, they went into the annual camp with their basic training almost completed.

CAMP

This year the camp was rather unlucky with the weather. For several days of heavy rain the cadets were forced to stay in their huts. However, because of the platoon commanders' initiative, a great amount of map reading and other theory material was covered, leaving the practical work for finer days.

• THE CYGNET

The second year cadets conducted a highly successful bivouac, organised by Lieut. Pearson, at a new area, Bindoon.

Bindoon is an area about forty miles from the camp and buses were used to transport the cadets to their pre-arranged area. This area has its advantages, in that cadets are further from base camp and the bush is thicker and harder to work. During their two-day stay, light rain fell, making it even harder.

The first year cadets held several night manoeuvres in lanterstalks and one more advanced exercise which engaged more teaching and comprehension than ever before.

Meanwhile, the normal routine work was being carried out and the spirit of the unit was high on the Sunday, when the unit turned on a remarkable display of steadiness and drill. The Governor commented that the parade was one of the best he had ever seen and also one of the largest. There were over 1,800 cadets from various schools on parade.

PASSING-OUT PARADE

During the two weeks prior to the day, several practices were held, the unit slowly building up to their peak on the final Friday. This year the cadets had had impressed upon them the importance of the Parade and that the whole school would be judged by this one event.

The day dawned overcast but with no threat of rain and little or no wind; really a perfect day.

The unit made the most of these conditions and proceeded to put on a magnificent display of precision marching and drill on the march, capped off by steadiness of an unequalled nature.

Brigadier Nicholls was the Inspecting Officer. In his speech he emphasised the importance of Cadet training in our education. He then commented that the steadiness and dress were the best he had ever seen at a school parade.

This year the Tobruk Trophy went to R.Q.M.S. G. J. Riley, who, by running the Q. store so efficiently, helped the unit reach an advanced and unequalled standard of efficiency.

The Platoon Drill competition was won by C.U.O. Scott's platoon (specialists), who were run very close by C.U.O. Craig's first year platoon.

On behalf of the unit, I would like to thank Capt. Wheeler, Major Taylor, Lieut. Macmillan, Lieut. Stones, Lieut. Liddell and Lieut. Pearson, for the tireless work they put into the unit.

Chapel Notes

The announcement by the Board of Governors that the Chapel is to be built in 1968 was received by all the school with very real pleasure. The boarders are looking forward to the end of the Saturday night setting-up and the Sunday night putting-away. The design itself gives promise of a beautiful building, the presence of which must affect the whole character of the school.

This year the boarders were given the Monday public holidays with the result that there were a number of week-ends with few boys in residence. Evensong was not held and the communion services on these long week-ends were attended by fewer than the normal number. Despite this, there were 33 Communion services at which the average attendance was 37. Chapel collections at Evensong totalled $114.00 which will be applied toward buying new hymn and prayer books for the new Chapel.

Our chapel prefects were Doug Fowler, Gus Mc Phee, and David Miles and they proved most reliable and co-operative.

Again Mr. McMath played the organ. It was very good to have the organ playing at the Communion services, lending some "atmosphere" to our stark Hall in the 8 a.m. coldness.

The visiting preachers this year were the Reverend J. Eley, D. Pierce, E. Arblaster, D. Molyneux, V. Wier, P. Lomas, J. Wardman, Archdeacon A. Holland and Canon J. Watts. The Headmaster also preached each term. We are most grateful for all that these men have done for us.

Bishop Macdonald confirmed forty boys at the biggest confirmation ever held at Hale. The candidates were Gilbert Ackland, Ian Anderson, Thomas Anderson, John Atkins, David Batt, Paul Bedbrook, Alan Bickle, Edmund Chin, John Clarke, Desmond Cook, William Cowan, Robert de Gruchy, Ian Donaldson, Raymond Fulwood, Kim Giese, Christopher Harper, Kirk Hemsley, Nicholas Lach, Ian Longmuir, Reith McLeod, Rodney McTavish, Glen Matyear, Nigel Moss, Nicholas Outhwaite, Simon Outhwaite, Graham Peake, Frank Pinner, Anthony Pursell, Michale Reed, Ross Rose, Manfred Schenk, Warwick Smith, David Stone, Richard Taylor, Kim Tuckey, Peter Vincent, Owen Walsh, William Webb, Frank Wilson.

Moving our services into a new Chapel will mean many changes in our patterns of worship. The Chaplain will be able to introduce more dignity and ceremony into the services and modern liturgical practices will be followed in the presentation of worship. This opportunity to try a fresh approach to religion and the schoolboy will be taken. The whole question of worship in Hale School will be thought out again from first principles. We pray that the conclusions we reach may be of real spiritual benefit to the school.

During this year the Chaplain officiated at a number of weddings of Old Boys :—

Harry Phillips to Janet Jordan at St. Nicholas', Floreat Park.

John Wilkins to Carolyn Hopkins at St. David's, Applecross.

Jock Barker to Janet Bardett at St. Mary's, West Perth.

Ross Smith to Ann-Marie Klein, at St. Nicholas', Floreat Park.

Julian Stawell to Carole Robinson, at St. Mary's, West Perth.

Dramatic Society

The Drama started (with other clubs and societies) in the early weeks of the first term under the control of Mr. Nolan, who organised the Club while Mr. E. R. Prince took Rowing under his wing.

Mr. Nolan soon had a play in preparation for the 1967 Schools Drama Festival, "The Ghost of Jerry Bundler", a play set in England in the 1920's, involving a few men joking about ghosts. Despite quite a frustrating preparation due to characters having an already near-full timetable (sport) — hence clashing appointments, — the production was thought to be of a good standard. The festival involved a total of ninety-two actors, both male and female, from nine different schools, plus at least as many again involved in scenery, lighting, etc. Our cast consisted of seven.

Mr. de Graaf, who has had wide experience on the stage, gave our cast some valuable hints during the last two or three rehearsals.

Late in second term, the "Clubs period" was dropped from the timetable and the Drama Club went into a short recess until Mr. de Graaf came to the rescue with Drama meetings after school on Fridays. At these meetings, his aim was to educate potential dramatists in basic stage techniques through open discussions on the different facets of acting.

On the whole, a rather bad year for the Drama Club, with only one small production and a general lack of support from the senior school.

—H. R. Thomson,
Secretary.

Chess Club

A great deal of interest was shown in chess this year, and every Friday afternoon many boys met to play a quick game under the watchful eye of Mr. Loveland. During first term two teams were entered in the W.A. Chess Association's Junior League Tournament.

The first division team met some strong opposition during the first round but went on in the second round with more success after gaining some experience.

The second division team was more fortunate and finished up with three wins and one draw out of a total of six matches.

For both teams it was a new experience to play in tournaments.

Our congratulations go to Simon Fitzpatrick who was chosen to represent Western Australia in The Australian Junior Chess Championships, commencing in December.

Finally, our thanks must go to our patron, Mr. Loveland, for his kind assistance to the club and its teams. We hope that the great game of Chess will continue to flourish in the school.

Library Notes

Librarian: Mrs. M. H. Humphreys

Master-in-Charge: Mr. R. D. McMath

The library has had a very full year: there is almost no space left on the shelves (7,000 books!), accommodation is taxed beyond its limits, and the borrowing figures have doubled since last year.

THE CYGNET

As a result of all this activity, the librarian works full-time and the library is open from 9 to 5. Unfortunately, boys are not as tidy or careful with books as we would like, but this is partly due to the over-crowded conditions. Nevertheless, very good use is made of the library, which is the chief consideration.

Plans are under way for an extension of the library which will bring it into line with the standards and objectives for school libraries laid down by the Library Association of Australia. We hope that we will not have to wait too long for this urgently needed expansion.

—M. Humphreys

Rifle Club

The Rifle Club started off this year with an attendance of twenty-four, and good attendance was kept up until the Club was disbanded. The Club was highly successful because of Mr. Carey's administration and the enthusiasm of all the members.

During First term the standard of shooting was high with the best grouping being half an inch. Unfortunately, the range shed was burgled and some target frames stolen, but through the hard work of members of the Club, they were replaced in time for shooting the next week.

Second Term started with the loss of only three members, but these were replaced by two new boys to the school soon after.

The Club planned to hold a competition at the end of First term, but because of exams this was deferred to Second term, when bad weather caused a postponement of several weeks. A high standard was maintained throughout the competition with Watterson scoring ninety-one in the first round; Atkins scored ninety-one and Morris ninety in the second. The Captain won with a score of ninety-six and Morris was runner-up with ninety-one. (All scores were out of one hundred).

I think that the Club was a benefit to the School Cadet Shooting team, and it is a great pity that it cannot be continued. Finally I would like to thank Mr. Carey for giving up his valuable time to take charge of the Club. I would also like to thank the Vice-Captain, John Ibbs, and all members who maintained rifles, for a job well done.

—R. Atkins.

Hale Research Expedition

---

At 8 a.m. on August 28th, two Commer buses and two private cars turned out of the gates of Hale School and headed North. They were crammed with 15 boys, 4 staff members, the cook, scientific apparatus, food, sleeping gear, tents, pots and pans, and enthusiasm. The first Hale School Scientific Expedition was under way, destination Murchison Gorge.

Getting Ready.

The real beginning had been many weeks before when Mr. Shields "sold" the idea of the expedition to the Head and fellow staff members. It led to weeks of thought and preparation. Five boys were chosen from the middle and senior school biology, geology and geography classes to go on the trip. Contacts were established for the loan and donation of equipment, and the lab. bus was fitted out by Tony Saveliev. Army rations were secured, and army radios and collecting equipment loaned. We were beginning to see the results of careful planning. Things began to take shape.

Getting There.

The main stops were for fuel from Ampol Depots, but the buses held the speed of the journey down. The first night was spent in Geraldton, and we resumed early next day, after leaving the private cars and picking up a Landrover and trailer.

The 4-wheel drive vehicle proved to be an absolute necessity around the gorge area — the last twenty miles of sand-track took 3 hours to cover. Finally our goal was reached, and, after a quick meal, 20 weary men went to sleep under the stars. The following morning witnessed great activity as tents were pitched, latrines dug, and our water supply appraised.

Getting to Work.

Each day was a combination of camp chores and fieldwork. Reveille at 6.30 a.m., a wash in the river, breakfast, washing up and then on to the day's activities. Without doubt, the least popular task was that of water-carrying. Three boys per four gallon tin lifted the water up the 300 ft. cliff face, urged on by chief mountain goat Aitken.

The boys were divided into three groups for field work, each section under a master. Equipment was assembled after breakfast, and the field parties moved off for the day's activities.

Each group planned a loose programme of activities. The geographers, led by Tony Saveliev, aimed to map the Loop and surrounding area, and spent much of their time hunting for non-existent survey pegs. In spite of this, however, a useful area map, and a mass of geographical facts resulted from their work.

The geologists, led by Mr. P. Holmes, comprised the "youngest" group. These were all 3rd year boys. They discovered that the gorge was a barren area geologically. It is almost all sandstone, with little evidence of fossils, and most of the features — gorges, faults, etc. — repeat themselves. Despite this, many useful specimens were taken, and the boys gained valuable practical experience in fieldwork techniques.

The biologists, under Mr. Shields, spent most of their time turning over rocks (finding ants!), and chasing speedy lizards over the sandplain. Large quantities of insects were collected, almost none of which could be identified. Notable amongst these were the many species of large and beautiful cockroaches we discovered — some not represented in the W.A. museum collection.

Other Activities.

Several boys spent a night in the bush to qualify for a Duke of Edinburgh bronze award. They travelled about 15 miles in all, and were supervised by G.E.A.

One night we were visited by a family who were camping nearby (Girls!). Arnold's hors d'oeuvres were delicious.

The geologists and several biologists trekked to Kalbarri on Saturday, to do a survey of the coastal gorges and sandplains.

Mr. and Mrs. Drake and the Burr family visited camp on Sunday 3rd, accompanied by a crate of Coca-cola. Russel Thom-som drove the Landrover to the road and back twice (4 hours /trip).

John Kempin set a gill net across a deep spot in the river, keeping the camp supplied with spangled perch and mullet.

The Army supplied 3 crystal radios (510's), but it was found that their weight and aerial requirements limited their use.

The Hale flag flew from a wattle on the top of a pine flagpole, erected by Geoff Riley.

Awards of Merit.

Many outstanding achievements shone forth during the duration of camp life — many of which will long be remembered.

The Thompson Damper (anchor) was a doughboy containing raisins and the like. In all, three of these 10 lb. monstrosities were baked, as a result of an understanding between Arnold (our cook) and H. R. T.

THE CYGNET

The geologists are credited with a valuable collection of biological specimens, the most important being Ross Huxtable's little bat, the only mammal collected.

Mr. Aitken must be credited with the leadership of 6 boys on a 15-mile hike, including an overnight bivouac on the river bank. He returned with them too worn out to cause any trouble.

L. V. Shields, whose unfathomable "Crib" scoring is still a mystery to a certain maths master, and everyone else who watched him.

Mr. Holmes' astronomical lectures, which resulted from prolonged periods of star gazing through binoculars.

Peter Summers, our "lights" man, a genius with Tilley lamps in the dark.

Observations and Recommendations.

Overall, the group members agreed that this type of camp was a very worthwhile and informative venture. However, the Murchison Gorge as a venue has several serious limitations. Firstly, the inaccessibility of the gorge limited the area which could be studied. The gorge in general is not suitable for intensive biological and geological study, because of a scarcity of material.

Secondly, water is a major problem. Nearly an hour per day was spent securing and carrying water up the gorge sides. Four gallons of water weigh heavily on one's back after 20 minutes.

Thirdly, the area is too "touristy". The biology group in particular was plagued by visitors in the mornings, who were continually requesting to be shown this and that, and to be allowed to photograph specimens. The work close to camp was liable to be interrupted at many times during the day by the arrival of fresh tourists.

In all, although the camp itself was successful, the expedition would be greatly improved if the venue could be shifted to a more productive area, preferably not a national park. Availability of water and ease of access must be ascertained before departure. With these problems solved, the camps, I feel sure, will become an important school activity, and will greatly benefit the coming generations of Hale boys.

Acknowledgments.

THE CYGNET

PLEASE PASS THE MARMALADE

I vehemently object to those self-styled 'literary authorities' who berate the non-Saxon. Sixty percent of the words in our language are of Latin origin. To eliminate these would be to reduce the vocabulary to 180,000 words. 'Quite enough' you might say, but the Anglo-Saxon zealot is not satisfied: he would then demand the instantaneous expulsion of all Greek and French derivatives and adamantly insist upon the suspension of all 'borrowed' words from the language. All but the 'good old Saxon monosyllables, would be rejected. How ludicrous! "Mono syllable" is neither of Saxon origin, nor a monosyllable. We should be reduced to 'erring' and 'umming' while frustratedly trying to try some cacophonous 'little word' from an appallingly minute 'word list'.

English is the superbly colourful, international, euphonious language it is through the adoption of non-Saxon words. Eighty-percent of our total vocabulary has been 'borrowed' or derived from a plethora of tongues. For example:

"Diaper" comes from French from Italian from Latin from Greek from Arabic, while "borax" comes all the way from ancient Persia. "Marmalade" has passed through French, Portuguese, Latin, and Greek hands, while "kangaroo" and "wombat" are Australian accessions. A common word like "sugar" has reached us after Sanskrit invention and Persian, Arabic, Spanish, and French alteration.

If these 'outsiders' were ostracized, how would a loyal Saxon-speaker manage 'Please pass the marmalade'? It would be a difficult task, as both "orange" and "lemon" are Persian and "conserve" comes from the "all-detested" Latin. English could not survive on a vocabulary of 90,000 archaic Saxon words. I am not advocating sesquipedalianism, but let us, please, abolish bigotry in language.

LITTLE ANTS

Although it was near midday, the multitude of small flying ants, together with the grey, overcast, tropical atmosphere, made it seem late afternoon.

The little flying ants and their broken wings were everywhere: in our breath, down our clothes, in our eyes, on the damp earth, and on the rippleless surface of the brown mud-pools along the roadside. It was a small road; one of the empty side streets of the type you would expect to find in any tumbled down asbestos-and-wood town. A house with thistles and weeds in the "garden"; no footpath, and crumbling bitumen with round, brown gravel, potholes filled with rainwater over which an emaciated cow would occasionally wander—a street of humid silence.

The day was listless, the palm fronds made vain attempts to live—but to no avail. Amongst this vague and dull, morbid scene a small child was silently playing in the overgrown garden of the house on the left; the one with the chaff bags around for a verandah, covered with Wooramel Creeper; the only sign of movement—a monument to life itself in the imminence of the grey sky.

The child's mother had walked to the infamous "Get it Here" store of the town which belonged to old Lan Sing (whom everyone called "Cocoa-Time" with antagonistic emphasis owing to his dislike of tea, and taste for cocoa), a man of whom the town knew little—he was just part of that silent town plagued with silent flying ants.

The small child was to be watched by its elder brother but had now been neglected—perhaps his brother had forgotten; maybe, but the child was left alone, all alone in the front with no fence and a snake hole under the twisted undergrowth. It was happy, content with its life—a gurgle of intrigue emerged now and again, then all was silent once more along the street.

The little ants were like lava flowing down a crater; bubbling and writhing in the round mudpools. They were helpless without their wings and began to worry the child with their bites.

A little brown snake wriggled in the thistles.

The small child is bitten again by the ants and begins to crawl along the ground; going over countless numbers of the tiny ants. Squash. Another bite! The child began to cry.

Where was mother? Look at all these ants! They bite. Nasty creatures. Kill them! Kill!

Squash. The child surveys the wriggling mass in the grips of the enticing mudpool. He leans forward in a frenzy. Kill! Splash! Overbalanced . . .

Silence once more reigns over that dull morbid street with those tiny flying ants and wings mingled with the dusty dank aroma of the damp earth and weeds. A soft spit of rain from the clouds above taps on the palm fronds—the silence is broken.

Big round drops fell that day in that street.

Two morning teas were held during November, one to farewell the mothers of L7 boys and another to welcome the mothers of new boys for 1967. After the morning teas the mothers visited their sons' rooms to admire their work. Mr. Mill demonstrated a reading machine especially designed to increase reading speeds, and the new Base 10 arithmetic blocks were on display to enable mothers to gain some idea of the new equipment in use at the school.

In addition to the Base 10 blocks, the school this year has purchased a set of Base 2 blocks (the work with these is similar to the work on computers) and 4 sets of Base 4 blocks. The use of these blocks in different bases extends basic number concepts developed by the use of cuisenaire rods in the early grades. Other useful mathematical aids bought this year are an Equalizer, Scales, and a box of coloured shapes for use with sets and comparative work. The Individual Mathematical Progress boxes have been in use since last year, and are most satisfactory, enabling the quicker pupil to progress at his own rate. By the same token, the child who needs more time to assimilate new ideas is able to progress at his own rate without the feeling of being pushed along too fast. Individual Record Sheets encourage the child to compete with himself and he experiences immense satisfaction at seeing visual evidence of his progress.

To end the school year, boys from grades 5, 6, and 7 went to the camp at Point Peron with their masters. They stayed five days, arriving back tired but happy on Friday. On Saturday afternoon the Junior School gave a Concert in the Hall. This was very well attended by parents and friends and the items were of a high standard. At the end of the concert Grade 7 boys gave Mr. Mill a farewell presentation. On display at the foot of the stage were craft items made by the boys during the year. It is hoped to hold a similar function at the end of 1967. The money raised by admission to the concert was used for new music stands.

A new class of Grade 7 boys was started in February 1967, with Mr. B. Hepworth in charge. Mr. Hepworth is an Old Boy and was Football Captain in 1959 and 1960. He has brought some new ideas with him from his teaching experience in South Australia, particularly in the fields of reading and art. The cross-grading of reading has been continued this year as it has proved very successful, and Mr. Hepworth's Reading Scheme has been implemented in conjunction with this. A great many new books have been bought by the school for special use with the new approach to reading.

Another new teacher in the Junior School is Mr. Ogawa who teaches Direct Method Japanese to all grades. Mr. Ogawa spends one day a week at the school. A University graduate from Japan, he is in Australia as a teacher on exchange.

During February a special morning tea was held to enable mothers to meet the new Headmaster, Dr. Tregonning, and his wife. The Junior Boarders helped Mrs. Mill by setting up tables on the lawn and lending a willing hand wherever it was needed.

In March the Inter-House Swimming Carnival was held, Green House winning from Blue by 111 points. The boys helped greatly by carrying back chairs to the Junior School afterwards. Happily, this should be the last occasion on which chairs have to be taken across to the pool, as tiered seating has been built in to the west bank of the Swimming Pool.

A very useful donation to the school was that of 16 forms on which the boys may sit to have their lunches. Thanks go to Mrs. Summers for this kindly gesture. All the boys are enjoying the new game of tether ball given by Chuck Miears, as a farewell gift on his returning to America.

Thanks must go to Ross Rose, who was in the Junior School last year, for his donation of a globe of the world on a stand, together with a globe of the moon.

Music making continues apace this year. In addition to Mr. S. Sharp's work in brass, Mr. Glover's in piano accordion and Mr. Haskett's in recorders, Mr. B. Bursey has started to give instruction in drumming, and has also kindly assisted at end of term concerts. The school has also purchased a number of Percussion instruments so that Grades 1, 2, and 3 are playing their own band now. This basic work in counting time will stand them in good stead when they progress to the more conventional musical instruments. The Tuckshop funds bought the Percussion instruments and, as well, 3 cornets in cases, a tenor horn and case, a baritone and case, and a Bible bound in leather. Thanks must go to the Tuckshop Committee (Mrs. Mill, Mrs. Atkins, Mrs. Rogers, Mrs. Strickland, Mrs. Jeffery, and Mrs. Wright) and to all the mothers who have helped during the year.

Various educational visits have taken place during 1967. The Grade 6 and 7 boys went to see the film "The Greatest Story Ever Told", Grades 4 and 5 visited the Aircraft Carrier "Melbourne" and Grades 1, 2 and 3 visited the Fire Station, Browne's Dairy and the Sanitarium Health Food Company in connection with their lessons in Social Studies. The whole school enjoyed the Theatre Arts Players' productions which were acted in the School Hall at the end of Second Term.

Also at the end of Second Term was the Junior School Cross-Country run. This is a most exciting event for the boys, as every boy participates and earns points for his House. The course is within the Hale School grounds. Grades 1 to 4 run half a mile. Gold House was successful this year. In October the Inter-House Athletic Carnival was held and again every boy took part to earn points for his House. After the prize-giving, the boys returned to their rooms to have their afternoon tea brought to them while parents enjoyed theirs at their leisure. We would like to say thank you to the organizers of this function — Mrs. Mill, Mrs. Strickland, Mrs. Rogers and Mrs. Trinder — and thanks also to all the parents who donated the lovely afternoon tea and assured the success of the sports-day by their attendance.

During this year, we have "adopted" the Deaf School. To start with, the children brought along toys they had outgrown and Mr. Mill presented them to Mr. McCudden, the Headmaster of the Deaf School, at morning assembly. Since then the charities collection has been for these deaf children. A cheque for $26 has been sent and it is hoped to send another amount at the end of the year. In this way, it is hoped to encourage the children to think of those less fortunate than themselves.

The Junior School is enjoying a much needed "face-lift" with the clearing of prickly bush, levelling, landscaping and lawn planting. At the same time, the new Junior Boarding House is rising next to the School, its progress followed with great interest by the boys. The new lawn should be well established after the holidays, enabling the boys to play there, or sit in the shade under the trees.

THE PROTEST

A solitary voice reaches into the night
Accompanied by the strumming of a guitar.
It is a melancholy voice,
But calls with a message into the darkness
A cry for help, a plea for forgiveness.
It questions the world.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

Gentlemen,

My report of the Association for the year 1967

THE YEAR'S ACTIVITIES :

Committee

The Committee meetings have been well attended throughout the year with a good representation from our Past Presidents. Their interest is a great asset to the Association.

Everybody has worked as a team, making this a very pleasant and happy year. Dr. Tregonning has attended all our meetings and his reports have kept the Committee well up with the School activities.

The Sub-Committees have done an excellent job. There is a lot of hard work done by these Committees between meetings.

Finance

Our thanks to Jim Cumpston again this year as our Treasurer. Our finances are in a good sound position.

THE CYGNET

Membership

It is pleasing to see more and more annual members transferring to life membership. Also, the big increase in young members.

Social Activities

Alastair Macmillan and the boys on the Social Committee have done a marvellous job this year.

Our first function for the year was a Get-Together for the North Westers at the Hotel Floreat on Wednesday, the 8th February. It was a most enjoyable evening and I am sure this will prove to be a popular annual fixture on the Old Boys' calendar. Like our Dinner Dance, this show will not be restricted to old boys only. We hope that Old Boys from the North will bring their friends.

The Sundowners was resumed at the Adelphi Hotel on Friday, March 3rd and thereafter on the first Friday of each month.

Old Boys' Day

Monday, 6th March. This was a wonderful day at the School. The swimming trials before the Father and Son events were an added interest to the day's activities.

Thanks to Barry Sanders, Alan Wall and Godfrey Taylor who organised the cricket, tennis and swimming.

The Head of the River

Once again we hired the m.v. Vlaming and a pleasant morning was had by all. Hope to see more parents and friends on board next year.

A very successful dance was arranged by the younger old boys. The Annual Dinner Dance was very well attended this year. It was good to see so many young members attend this function.

The Winter Sports Day was its usual great success, a record number of Old Boys took part in the annual football, rugby and hockey games followed by a very enjoyable get-together in the Old Boys Room.

In the rugby the school team won 14 to 11 in an excellent game. The old boys won the hockey 3 to 1 and the football 7.16 to 6.13.

The Old Haleians were well represented at this year's P.S.A. Ball.

Golf Day

Country Dinner

Congratulations to Tom Fowler for organising a most enjoyable weekend at Narrogin.

Combined Dinner Dance

Thanks to our Women's Committee headed by Mrs. J. Hingley this was a wonderful evening. This show is now established as a major event in our social calendar.

The Old Haleian

Trevor O'Keefe has once again this year kept up a high standard in the publication of our 4 issues for this year. This magazine is a great asset to the Association. I would like to see more of you contributing to the News and Notes section. Old Boys, particularly interstate and overseas, are always anxious to know what is going on.

This has been a very memorable year for me as your President. I would like to thank all on the Committee for their full support throughout the year.

OBITUARY

The Cygnet records with regret the deaths of the following Hale School Parents: Mr. Cornell; Mr. Karpinczyk; Mr. Sproule; Mr. Lee; and Lord Mayor Veryard, former Captain of School.

Mr. Veryard had been a councillor for the west ward for nearly 37 years and his term as Mayor gave him more than 39 years' continuous service. As Lord Mayor, he was very much a man of the people. Believing the ratepayer should know what the council was doing, Mr. Veryard often disclosed details of council affairs which were unobtainable elsewhere.

He was past president of the Australian Amateur Football Council and of the W.A. Amateur Football Association. He had been a member of the West Perth league football team after the Great War.

The School remembers sadly that Mr. Veryard presented the prizes and trophies at Speech Night only last year.

The School has also been grieved to hear of the passing of Mrs. A. Y. Filmer, presenter of the Filmer Trophy.

The passing of Mr. Reg Courtney, Old Boy, is also regretfully noticed. Mr. Courtney died July 1967, at the age of 87.

On August 29th, 1967, Mr. C. G. Hamilton passed away. Mr. Hamilton, who retired from the teaching staff in 1952, was well known in education, art and sporting circles. Art critic of "The West Australian" from 1946 to 1964, Mr. Hamilton was an accomplished artist who often exhibited in Perth. For his services to art, he was invested with the M.B.E. by the Queen on her visit to Perth in 1963.

From Melbourne last March came news of the death of Air Commodore Francis William Fellowes (Frank) Lukis. Born in Balingup in July 1896, Air Commodore Lukis was educated at the Balingup State School before coming to Hale. In adult life, he was associated with the R.A.A.F. from its formation. He joined the Australian Flying Corps during the Great War and was operational commander of the R.A.A.F. in Eastern Australia during the World War. After he retired from the R.A.A.F. in 1946, he became Australian National Airways' first aerodrome manager at Essendon and was later manager of the company's Canberra office.

On Saturday, 11th November, occurred the tragic death of Warren Ives (29) geologist and honours graduate of the University of Western Australia. Mr. Ives was killed when a light aircraft crashed 60 miles north-east of Mt. Isa, Queensland. The aircraft, chartered by Kennecott Exploration Pty. Ltd., was searching for a missing prospector. Warren Ives was educated at Hale. In 1955 he rowed for the school. He is survived by his wife and daughter.

IN MEMORIAM

"Some corner of a foreign field" . . . In Vietnam, at Nui Dat, jungle home of 3,000 Australian soldiers, an airstrip has been named the Luscombe Army Airfield in honour of former Haleian, Brian Taylor ("Joe") Luscombe. Captain Luscombe, shot down and killed while flying a mission over Korea in 1952, was the first army pilot to die in combat. He was posthumously mentioned in despatches.

OUT OF SCHOOL

In May, 1967, Mr. R. H. Henderson (50) president of the Perth Chamber of Commerce, was elected vice-president of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Australia.

Educated at Hale, Mr. Henderson was a State champion swimmer and surfer before the World War.

He joined the firm of C. P. Bird and Associates at the age of 19 and qualified as an accountant. He is now senior partner in charge of staff. He is a member of the interim council of eight of the Institute of Technology.

Mr. Henderson is married, with three daughters and a son.

THE CYGNET

Former Hale School student, William Petersen, now attends the University of Colorado. Early in the year, he was awarded a four-year University scholarship by the Continental Oil Co. which awards scholarships to children of company employees. William was among 24 winners chosen from 191 applicants in America, Australia and Qatar in the Persian Gulf.

His father, Mr. W. A. Petersen, has returned to America after serving three years as the Company's resident manager in Perth. The family is now living in Denver, Colorado.

William attended Hale while his family was in Perth and gained his leaving certificate with distinctions in English, Economics (top of State) Physics and History.

Michael Allen (Hale, 1966, five distinctions in Leaving) applied for admission to Claremont Men's College, Harvey Mudd College and Stanford University (all in California).

He was accepted by all three and chose Stanford.

Bruce Rosier, Old Boy and Rhodes Scholar, was this year consecrated as Assistant Bishop of Perth. He has taken up residence at Northam and is working mainly in the country areas of the Diocese.

THE FOUNDATION OF THE OLD HALEIANS ASSOCIATION

Extracted from "The Cygnet" December 1909 issue
"Old Boys' Column"

The Annual General Meeting of the Old Boys' Association was held on Thursday, the 4th November, 1909, at the Palace Hotel, Perth, when a large number of members were present, with Mr. F. C. Faulkner, the President, in the chair. Besides the ordinary business conducted, it was decided to hold a dinner early in January 1910, and that an Annual Dinner should be held in November each year, preceded by the Annual Meeting. Messrs. F. H. Jonstone, W. G. Burges, and Capt. A. T. Bessell-Browne, D.S.O., the retiring members of the Committee were re-elected for the ensuing three years; Mr. C. A. Saw was re-elected Chairman of Committee; Messrs. L. P. Hall, S. H. D. Rowe and H. S. W. Parker were re-elected Hon. Auditor, Hon. Secretary of Athletics and General Hon. Secretary respectively.

The following report was presented to the meeting by the Committee:—

Gentlemen,

Your Committee has thought it advisable, at this your first Annual Meeting, to present you with a report embodying a history of the various steps taken up to the present date in the formation of the Association.

THE CYGNET

The first move was made at the Old Boys' dinner held on the 29th March last, when various speakers urged that a provisional Committee should be appointed, with a view to calling as large a meeting as possible together for the forming of the Association proper. The eight gentlemen appointed on that occasion as a provisional committee decided that circulars should be sent to all those Old Boys, and past and present Masters, whose addresses were available, notifying them that a meeting would be held on the 26th May. On the 8th May 578 circulars were sent out, and in addition an advertisement was inserted in the West Australian of the 25th May, 1909.

At the Meeting on the 26th May, twenty-five gentlemen were present, and a resolution was unanimously carried that an Association be formed and a Committee was elected to draw up rules, to be submitted to a general meeting to be held on the 23rd June. The work of that Committee was duly performed, and advertisements were inserted in the West Australian of the 18th and 23rd June calling the meeting.

On the 23rd June a well attended general meeting was held. The rules were considered and approved, and officers and committee were duly elected. An advertisement notifying all concerned that an Association had been formed was inserted in six issues of the West Australian, and two of the Western Mail. On the 10th September, the Committee decided that it would be advisable to send circulars, together with a copy of the rules, to all those eligible for membership whose addresses were available, notifying them of the existence of the Association, and the date of the annual meeting. Circulars were duly sent out on the 20th September to the number of 450.

As a result of those efforts the Association included on the 30th September last, 15 Life members and 6 ordinary members. Your Committee need hardly point out that this is by no means as large a response as they had been led to expect from the interest shown at the earlier meetings, and they would urge all Old Boys that it is advisable to make some personal effort to assist the Association by increasing its list of members.

Your Committee were able to present two prizes, to the value of five guineas, for competition, one for senior and one for junior boys, at the School Sports held on the 20th October, 1909. They also desire to place on record their appreciation of the kindness of the President in presenting an annual donation of five guineas to the funds of the Association. They venture to hope that as a result of the present meeting many Old Boys who have at various times expressed interest in the Association and a desire for its welfare, will carry into execution their intention of becoming members."
