Looking around the school situation can be like viewing the world: there are customs and economies; there are law-makers, -enforcers, -obeyers and -breakers. The similarity between education systems and civilization stems from their inter-dependence; the one fosters the other. Their common nucleus is the Rule of Law, the indispensable tenet of our survival.

The laws of the country are designed to safeguard every individual in the community. They are to protect the people from the people. By so doing, they allow a society to continue its existence. This is the Rule of the Law — that which enables society to carry on. Isolated infringements of regulations don't harm the Rule of Law. However, widespread civil disobedience can destroy it.

For a hundred years there have been a few opium dens tucked away in London's grimmest quarters. Degenerates and misfits gathered in these places to end themselves. The police knew these haunts but condoned them with a watchful eye: such out-of-the-way hovels did not interfere with the general populace. Today we are sensing the first whispers of the new drug cult which — as we see from America and from history — can cause masses to disregard themselves and the community which they form. An apathetic and dazed community — a diseased community which ignores law and reason — is against the Rule of Law and can only fall.

There is a two-up shed out in the scrub at Kalgoorlie. Two-up and other customs which go on with the wary acceptance of the authorities in that isolated, vigorous town may be quite all right there — but were the bulk of the populace to be exposed to illegal vice it would be very hard to control and the balance of the community could be endangered.

Rightly or wrongly, a decision was made by Australia's democratically-elected government that Australia should go to war in Vietnam. A method of conscripting soldiers was used and has been greatly criticised. Many of us do not believe it to be the best possible, but if the widespread defiance of the National Service Act by draft-dodgers had escalated, it would have imperilled the function of Australia's defence structure.

Whenever the Rule of Law is widely disobeyed, the system breaks down. If our system sinks in such a way, anarchy will exist until a substitute system emerges. Freedom of opinion and a certain freedom of action must always be regarded highly. Dissident minorities can be tolerated — for opposition tests the strength and direction of the main purpose; but only those minorities which can be contained within the system, which do not contravene the Rule of Law, can be respected.

Dissident minorities who do not play the game, may render the game unplayable.

1972 saw the Cygnets ejected from its former office in the new library. Some provision was made in B7 classroom for filing cabinets and typewriter but this arrangement was second rate. During the final stages of Cygnets production B7 was in constant use as a classroom; use had to be made accordingly of private premises.

Once again the Results Pro Formae proved invaluable, although the new method of computerised examination results made for difficulties in translation to the form used in Cygnets.

Those matters apart, 1972 was characterised by a very smooth and internally harmonious operation. In accordance with School policy for the magazine the students took an increasingly important role in management and decision-making under the firm and able leadership of the Editor, Brett Simpson.

At the School's suggestion certain minor alterations have been made to this year's edition. The most notable of these is in the House Notes. There has been an attempt to make these more human and interesting to the boys by departing from the rigid factual approach of the previous years. Indeed this "new" format is in fact a return to a style of House Notes which once characterised Cygnets in earlier times.

As for the rest, while it could be conceived within the mandate given to the Committee to make many alterations in format and style to the magazine, this has not been done. A number of other schools, some in this State, have radically altered their magazines coincident with a change to offset methods of printing. Some have become pop-art periodicals with emphasis on visual rather than written impact. One school for example, gives only half a page of written material to all its football. The Cygnets Committee is proud of the quality of its magazine and of the tradition which the magazine has maintained in being an accurate and dignified report of the School's activities in warranted detail. It is of course for future generations of Committees to make changes — but it is hoped that changes will not destroy the quality of Cygnets.

As previously the magazine is printed by Robfod Print, who now have their own linotype machine thus facilitating greatly the production of the magazine and cutting down the number of galley proofs which have had to be corrected in the past.

The Committee wishes to thank the Master Advising, Mr. P. Davies for keeping in the background and encouraging us to work for ourselves. This policy has thrown the responsibility on to the members of the committee and they have responded magnificently. All members have completed their allotted tasks well within deadline and with great accuracy.

The 1971 edition of Cygnets published a number of Original Articles which subsequently won Australia-wide acclaim, articles by Bill Cowan and Tony Blackman were included in Youth Writes For Australia.

Unlike other School activities, the production of Cygnets goes on unseen and unsung. Nobody, who has not been associated with it, could conceive of the effort which goes into Cygnets. When the magazine is handed out to students and staff on the last day of the school year, it is all over, and we sit back to meet the critics.

FROM THE CLOISTERS TO OBSERVATORY HILL

The move from the Cloisters to Randell's House took place in uncertain times in the history of Hale School. The Bishop, disappointed at the lack of support given by colonial parents, saw the closure of the Church of England Collegiate School in 1872. Col. E. W. ("Paddy") Haynes, who had been second master at the school, took a lease of the Cloisters and continued the education of the boys under the name of the Perth Collegiate School.

In 1876 the High School Act was passed after a great deal of debate. The preamble to this Act provided "Whereas it is expedient to make provision for the establishment of a high school for the purpose of giving to boys an education similar to that given in the Grammar and Advanced Schools in other Australian Colonies, etc." The Act provided that the education should be "exclusively secular" and that no clergyman should be appointed headmaster and that the headmaster should be a graduate of a University.

Col. Haynes was not then a graduate, so a Mr. Richard Davies, B.A., was appointed headmaster and began the High School on the 20th March, 1878 with 22 boys, 14 of whom came from the Collegiate School — thus preserving, together with Haynes who became second master — the continuity of Hale School. The premises were located in George Randell's House at 185 St. George's Terrace. Opinions seemed to have varied as to the suitability of these premises. An advertisement in "The Inquirer" of the 23rd January, 1878, stated that the school "possesses ample bedroom accommodation". Later opinion saw the Randell House as little more than a shelter; inconvenient for the two masters and the boys and seen as little more than a make-shift arrangement. Problems were also experienced through lack of playground space. Some of these inadequacies were remedied by the use of part of the Cloisters which also afforded playground space.

HALE SCHOOL 1878

Early in 1880, Mr. Davies asked the Governors to see if they could arrange for the School to use part of the Pensioners' Barracks at the western end of St. George's Terrace. The Government agreed to the request and use was made of certain rooms on the first floor of the barracks. These afforded more space than Randell's House, but were very cold; there were also a number of unwelcome (for the masters if not for the boys) distractions caused by the other occupants of the barracks.

Animosity between the Governors and Mr. Davies had grown and in 1880 he resigned. Once again "Paddy" Haynes filled the breach and took over as headmaster. The conditions at the barracks were generally unsatisfactory and negotiations were entered into for the High School to move a short distance away to the former Military Hospital, which occupied the site bounded by Hay Street, George Street and St. George's Terrace.

Thomas Breame Beuttler, B.A., was appointed headmaster in 1881 and it was his task to arrange the opening of the School in the Military Hospital. The headmaster occupied a house on the St. George's Terrace frontage and his study, which was in the main building had been the army surgeon's operating theatre and the word "Surgery" could be seen under the paint over the door. Next to this was the dining room, formerly the officers' mess. The classrooms were situated in another block. The dormitories were on the upper floor and rooms were provided for masters at the back of the building. The block was enclosed by a high brick wall on the north-west and south-west sides and in the intermediate space was an enclosed well. It was thought that a tunnel existed under George Street, leading from the Hospital to the barracks but in spite of diligent searches made by the boys the tunnel could not be found. Sport was played on a ground in King's Park, reached after a long trudge up the hill.

Mr. Beuttler remained for seven years. In 1885 there were 29 boys on the roll; in 1886 this had fallen to 17. The following year Beuttler resigned, following criticism by the Governors of the mode of punishment administered by him following a fracas in the dormitory. One hot February night a housemaster had permitted the boys to move their beds to a cool part of the dormitory. This act led to a good deal of noise and the headmaster was called. He took to the culprits with the nearest weapon—his slipper. The boys wrote to the Governors who reprimanded Mr. Beuttler.

Command once again fell upon "Paddy" Haynes. In 1888 Raymond Gee, M.A., was appointed headmaster. He had been a master at the Royal Navy College and soon met opposition when he imposed the traditional sort of naval discipline. Gee only remained at the School until 1890, when he left to enter the public service, retiring as the magistrate at Geraldton.

Once again "Paddy" took charge. The governors decided that the lusty colonial youths and their imported English masters were irreconcilably incompatible, so it was decided to seek an Australian for the top post. Mr. F. C. Faulkner came in 1889, in fact from New Zealand. When he arrived he found but 20 pupils. The School was by then however, so firmly entrenched in the colony and the government so committed, that the question of it closing seemed impossible. Yet enrolments had fallen to their lowest ebb ever. Faulkner pursued the task of building up the School with enthusiasm and hard work and by 1892 there were 81 boys attending. Keen that the High School should be recognised as of high academic standing, Faulkner persuaded the Governors to end the system of annual examination by graduates from outside and asked the University of Melbourne to hold matriculation examinations in W.A. Later candidates were presented for the public examinations of the University of Adelaide.

In 1898 Col. Haynes retired, thus ending an association which had begun with his appointment as second master at the Church of England Collegiate School. He had served under five headmasters; had at a critical stage enabled the School to be kept alive by his own investment and at other times had taken over the reins in adversity. To him, more perhaps than to any other, does Hale owe its continuity.

Early in the 1900's mounting criticism was made of the state of the School located in the former Hospital. The Governors reported that "the present buildings are incommodious, inadequate and decayed." The number of boys had become static. The site did not warrant additional buildings and the Governors lacked the money to build elsewhere.

In 1912 the State Labor Government began a process of socialisation, part of which resulted in the establishment of Perth Modern School. The government decided also to withdraw the grant from the High School — yet Faulkner in his 1913 Speech Day address prophesied that "Out of the evil probably good may come". When the Labor Government took away the grant it made two promises, which it honoured faithfully. The first was that the School should be able to mortgage the George Street site to finance a move to a new site and the second was that the School should be permitted to build on Observatory Hill fronting Havelock Street and Parliament Place. Moreover, the Government Architect drew up the plans and supervised the building. It is also interesting to note that it was to be yet another Labor Government which was to render possible the later move from Havelock Street to Wembley Downs upon such generous terms.

But these are matters which must wait for another Cygnets; for this story — of the vicissitudes of the colonial years; of Haynes and Faulkner ends with the end of the career of Faulkner, one of Hale's greatest headmasters and with the move to the "top of Perth" — Observatory Hill.

Hale P and F have tried to promote an interest in Art and Sculpture within the school this year. Money was raised towards this venture and the Board of Governors offered to meet a similar amount.

The P and F raised $250 and together with the Board's contribution provided $500 to finance the sculpture. The task was carried out by Mr. John Worth who has just completed a degree in fine arts at the Fine Arts School in London.

The Sculpture is in Non-Representational form and a ferro-cement material has been used. It is framed with iron rods and this frame is covered with layers of chicken wire. The final covering is cement mixed with iron oxide on manganese oxide to give the dark colouring.

This venture has proved to be a great success if one is to judge by the audience that it attracted in the first few days. The general consensus of the ? ? ? ? Dinosaur's Dung!

STAFF CHANGES

Only two members of staff are leaving Hale at the end of 1972.

Mr. P. W. Davies, the School Counsellor and Senior English Master is leaving to take up a lectureship in Law at the Western Australian Institute of Technology. Mr. Davies came to Hale as a young graduate in 1958 to teach German and English. Apart from an absence from 1962-65 inclusive he has been a member of the staff of the School in various capacities. A man of wide interests, his activities this year have covered teaching English, psychological counselling, the Cygnets, Debating, Adjutant of the Cadet Unit and coach of the victorious 2nd XVIII Football team. A teacher who has always emphasised the "human" approach to learning, he will be missed, particularly in the vocational guidance area where he has advised some 70 per cent. of all Hale School leavers on their future roads.

Mr. R. Abbey is also leaving to take up a position on the staff of the Sydney Church of England Grammar School. A graduate in Mathematics of the University of Western Australia, he joined the staff of Hale in 1970 to teach upper-school Maths. For two years he was a housemaster in Faulkner House and has been active in middle-school rowing and hockey.

Mr. P. A. Carey, the coach of the 1st XI, is going on 12 months leave in 1973, and will live in Africa. Mr. F. Constantine has been appointed Senior English Master and Mr. I. F. Biddle has been appointed Senior Mathematics Master, both with effect from 1973. The school offers its congratulations on these appointments.

FIRST TERM

The usual Rowing and Athletics camps held during the last four weeks of freedom were cancelled this year due to a lack of staff.

The Old Boys Memorial Hall shook to the strains of Hymn 457 — the date was Tuesday, 8th February.

The Headmaster welcomed all new boys to the School, and the present boys back to a year of hard work and good sportsmanship.

The following boys were inducted as prefects: P. J. Bedbrook, Captain of the School; C. C. Dawkins, J. E. Dodds, K. A. Grist, M. T. Hoar, I. L. McLarty, N. M. Outhwaite, R. D. P. Paterson, K. L. Richards, R. E. Sandover, M. S. Smith, R. D. Smith.

The rowers began on a sorry note with total disorganisation for the first week — Captain of Boats was a man from the 2nd VIII, J. E. Dodds, a deserving decision.

The swimming team trained with the vigour and confidence born of victorious years.

Cadets for 1972 took on a new look. Monday afternoons training was scrapped and training took place in a few week-ends during the year.

P. J. Bedbrook was this year's Captain of Debating. The team fared well until they met Brigidine, the overall victors, J. K.

Atkins performed magnificently to be the best speaker in all debates.

A new school magazine, Halestones, was being organised, the creator and drive behind publication was Mr. F. Constantine.

A successful Old Boys Day was enjoyed by a large number of Old Boys who celebrated the mass reunion in the customary manner by the school pool.

The large number of records broken at the school swimming championships showed promise for an even greater victory than the previous years at Beatty Park. The great night came with Hale runaway winners, C. C. Dawkins, vice-captain of the swimming team, set a fine example in winning the first race of the night.

Hale's 1st VIII for 1972 did not gain the honours of 1971 but performed admirably and trained hard throughout the season under a new coach, Mr. Berry Durston.

The rowers' dance was a great success with Mark IV playing until 12 o'clock.

With summer sport all finished excepting tennis and cricket, attention was placed on winter games; training squads were announced and work began. The teams to play Eastern States schools were announced with the rugby touring and football hosts. The 1st term ended a victorious one.

SECOND TERM

The school returned to the norm after the short break with the weather cold and wet. Dr. Tregonning congratulated the rugby team on a successful tour of the Eastern States. The 1st XVIII was commended on being the perfect hosts even if they did defeat the visitors.

The school was informed that Wittenoom 1972 had begun and groups 1 and 2 were already in Wittenoom. Winter sports began in earnest early in the term with scratch matches against Scotch and Aquinas.

Sunday the 18th June was Old Boys Sports Day with the old boys winning at all sports.

Hale Debating Society met the invincible Brigidines. We tried hard but were defeated in all years by superior opposition.

Official P.S.A. matches started with games against Trinity. They defeated Hale's 2nd XVIII which turned out overall winners.

Tony Blackman celebrated his 17th birthday on Monday, 25th June with cheers and catcalls in the school hall.

The staff and boys of the school congratulated Ralph James who was awarded a field scholarship to study in France.

The inevitable cross-country was the scene of surprise this year. Buntine House were overall winners which is the first time a day house has won in at least five years. Robbie Lilburne's time in under 17 was faster than that of Kim Grist in the open.

Thursday the 6th was a big day with matches between the 1sts and 2nds. Incidentally the 1sts won them all.

The following Thursday the Hale School Memorial Hall was used by the W.A. Symphony Orchestra. A large number of students from both Independent and State Schools enjoyed the music.

The weekend brought shocks and disappointments with the 1st XVIII losing by a point, kicked on the siren. Doug McLarty, Bill Swetman and Big Debel were taken off in the Rugby match.

The Commonwealth Scholarships began with apprehension—common to all such occasions.

Before going to camp the Cadets held their Annual March Out Parade. The reviewing officer this year was the Governor, Sir Douglas Kendrew.

Second term ended with athletics training beginning to sort the good from the better. For those fortunate cadets, the term ended in camp. For many, who went down with influenza and other ailments, it ended even sooner.

THIRD TERM

After a good second term the school settled down to a term of hard work.

Dr. Tregonning officially welcomed back to the school Mr. Clune and Mr. Hoad. Mr. Clune has been the Master-in-Charge at Wittenoom and he is thanked by all boys who went there this year. Mr. Hoad was Hale School's representative at Munich and is congratulated for a tremendous effort after the disappointment of Mexico in 1968. Mr. Hoad gave a small lecture on what he saw and felt, while in Munich at the Thursday lunchtime.

Athletics training began in full almost immediately with a giant squad of over eighty members — they are to be commended on their determined training without complaint. Hale was the site of a double accident in which both Mr. Johnson and Mr. Biddle were burnt by faulty starting caps on consecutive days.

The boys and masters of the school offer their sincere condolences to the family and friends of Robert Cant, who was killed in an accident on Saturday, 7th October; he had many friends and was a spirited member of the school.

Hale were placed the same as last year in Athletics this year. Great efforts were recorded by Kim Grist, Kim Noack, Tony Craig and Dean Williams on long distance running; by Paul Smith, Peter Williamson and Bill Swetman in sprints; and by Mark Devensh-Meares, Peter Wallis, Geoffrey Marsh, brothers Pud and Robbie McLarty and by Tony Bamford in the less-acclaimed field events. Hale were placed third throughout most of the meet but were lacking depth in the relays to finish fourth.

All sport over for boys doing Public Examinations, the mood was set for study and Ralph Gibson announced that Craig Kinsman and Ralph Gibson have been awarded Mathematics Grants allowing them to travel to the Eastern States during the coming vacation and attend a course in Advanced Mathematics. Congratulations go to both.

All 5th and 3rd Year boys were allowed home on Study Leave, the loss of these members accentuates the close proximity of the exams and school continues in a subdued manner.

Good luck goes to all who are sitting for exams, and to those who are leaving we hope that the school has conditioned and strengthened you for the life outside.

Headmaster's Report

At the outset, there is need I feel to say a few words about Hale and the Achievement Certificate, which as you know is now the scheme for education in the first three years of secondary schooling. I will not go into the details of its administration, of the confusion that has created many problems for those who have joined in, of the mish-mash of watered down subjects deemed acceptable, and of the incessant testing that has replaced the impartial external examination, I want only to say that we do not like it and we do not think it is in the best interests of your son. Whether he is heading for tertiary education, for the city or for the country, we do not think the Achievement Certificate will teach him to think or encourage him to work. We do not think it is good education, we do not think it is true: That is what a church school strives for — truth in all it undertakes: And that should be the goal of education too.

The Achievement Certificate is a blanket, a piece of paper that is issued to everyone at the end of their third year of education: No that is not quite correct, for as the official report on this has stated, one of its values is that it can be issued not necessarily at the end of three years, but to anyone at any time, irrespective of his educational effort, whether he has tried or not. Thus all are rewarded, and no one need be educated.

The Achievement Certificate could be the great leveller, the puller-down. It gives something to everybody, and as a result is worthless. The Board of Secondary Education, which controls this, is now moving for the abolition of the Leaving as well. Already it has asked that students this year taking the Achievement Certificate be credited with Junior Certificate passes, so that they will not be unfairly treated; but with the Junior out of the way, only the Leaving remains. It maintains (and its view has wide support) that this is bad. That only those who succeed secure a pass, and that it is a better educational goal for no one to fail. Just as bad money drives out good, so the Leaving may well be forced to go too, driven out.

Secondary education in this State is well on the way to a method of preparing the young for the adult world ahead of them. a world where life is competition, where life is selection, where a trained and hard working individual is essential, by five years of supineness. For five impressionable years, reasoning will receive little reward and indolence will never effectively be discouraged.

This scheme is reminiscent of similar American programmes. As in America where they are now discredited, our universities will recognise the poor educational product from the schools and start all courses on the safe assumption that nothing worthwhile in attitudes or knowledge has been learned at high school. I find it hard to understand how this soft and indulgent attitude can be equated with education. If education means anything it implies the active training of intelligence, disciplined work, the stretching of mind and body, sustained effort, dedication to study and an impelling drive to achieve perfection. We would be cheating those in our charge if we did not call for this effort. The Achievement Certificate asks only for attendance.

The spur to youth is not the easy piece of paper given to all. The country that sits back never reaches the heights. The Achievement Certificate may keep more at school, but it will not educate them. And that is why, briefly, we have stood out from this scheme.

With the rest of the State accepting this, it is becoming very difficult to maintain high standards. Hale feels it essential that this effort be made. We stand firm; but we lament that as a solitary beacon showing a different way of doing things, we nevertheless stand alone. There is but one consolation. We do have this freedom of choice. We are still in a country where freedom and diversity is still tolerated.

We will be maintaining our own form of Junior Certificate to third year examination as long as we are able to. The Public Examinations Board has given us accredited status until 1974. This status has placed on us great responsibility. Whereas other independent schools have been swallowed up by the Achievement Certificate, and must conform in many ways to the government scheme, we have the opportunity to operate on our own. A flexibility and independence denied the others has been retained by us, indeed even increased. Already we have made several subjects much more attractive and exciting; instead of marking tests all the time or implementing directions from others, we can teach; and instead of struggling inside an Achievement Certificate strait jacket, we are wearing our own educational clothes. They fit comfortably and well.

A unique opportunity to illustrate the value of an independent school has been given to Hale. It may be because of this, and because of our efforts to seek high standards, not merely in our scholastic work but in all other aspects of school life, that of our 51 staff only one member is leaving. Mr. Rae, who joined us this year, returns reluctantly to Hobart for personal reasons. The rest remain; some with new tasks.

I single out Mr. Wheeler, one of the school's senior house-masters, who at my request, moves with enthusiasm to an equally demanding task, of being director of all audio-visual aids. We are on the brink of major developments in this and there is need for someone to grasp all the TV sets, cassettes.

A.I.V. recorders, co-axial cables, tapes and electronic teaching aids now being devised, in order that we can make learning here as exciting and rewarding as possible.

We endeavour to make learning as rewarding as possible in another way, the time honoured system of good masters with small groups of boys. Of 180 sets or classes, none has more than 35 students; 150 have less than 30, 130 below 25; and 85, almost 50 per cent. of all classes — are under 20. At Wittenoom, which, as with the sets I have just mentioned — has been the direct responsibility of Mr. Hoar, the deputy head-master, we have had tremendous success. Small groups here also have helped to make this work most effective. It has been one master with twelve boys for twenty-four hours a day for over two weeks; a great experience for all concerned.

All staff are united in their efforts to maintain these standards. It is a rare school that can establish levels higher than its environment. They become — as with the great schools and mediaeval universities — famous far beyond that immediate environment. It takes a long time however for that standard to become known. It is a standard achieved only by constant effort and attention to detail, in which all must be involved. It is a goal we pursue in the face, it seem to me, of an attitude inimical to discipline and to much of our tradition. We will be free for some time, I hope, from the organized radicalism that has effected the youth in other areas, and from the perversities and virulence prevalent elsewhere, yet we sense growing problems. To paraphrase Kennedy, we will never fear to adjust to changing situations, but we will never adjust through fear of those circumstances. And so I advise all parents that compassion can go so far, but should need be, my paramount responsibility is to the integrity of the school, and that must always be maintained.

Concerning our future, there are but two other points I would refer tonight. Firstly we are enlarging our junior school by creating a separate class for every grade; and a new building will be ready for grade I next year.

Finally, I would refer briefly to music. It has been possible to appoint a full-time instrumentalist to the staff for next year, in Mr. Harvey. I hope by integrating music throughout the school in this way with a full-time instrumentalist, we will see a steady development of bands and other groups and an end to the problems that have beset us for so long.

I wish now merely to thank all those who have been involved in the school this year, for their most varied efforts that have combined to move and to give life to this institution, and to make this in many ways a very exceptional year; and to wish you all a very happy Christmas and holiday.

Captain of School's Report

1971, could not have started and finished as well as it did if it were not for the strong loyalty and spirit shown for the school by the boys. This fact I bear out markedly for I feel that the Wittenoom experiment proved a major factor in binding the fifth year together, thus initiating more school spirit which was to lift the school to unprecedented heights in all realms of school life.

Hale's sporting record in 1971 cannot be surpassed in the whole history of the school. Hale's past greats such as Percy Oliver, Ted Hantke and Ed Blackman have had overshadowed their places of supremacy, but not historically, for their names live on making good a path of Hale's great past for us to follow in the future. Hale in 1971 saw Tim Davis, Bill Cowan and Kim Grist gain Hale's highest award, Honours, thus making them Hale's new figureheads of the future. Their sportsmanship and ability to excell both in and out of sport are depictive of the general attitude of all Hale boys.

Hale dominated first term by winning the swimming for the fifth time in succession and by a record margin, by shrugging off our past 15 years of defeat in the rowing and winning the Head of the River in a record time that will stand forever; for creating a record in the tennis by not only winning the coveted Corr Cup, but every other schoolboy trophy available and by winning the State's highest schoolboy lifesaving competition — the Law Shield — for the first time in 14 years.

Cricket showed glimpses of the depth and talent they had but finished only seventh in one of the most competitive years in Darlot Cup Cricket.

Second term started well with the varied success of the football team who competed in their annual carnival, this year held in Victoria.

Rugby fielded a strong, dedicated, unselfish team whose spirit led them to many fine victories. In the actual P.S.A. competition Hale was undefeated and won the Brother Edmund Cup for the fourth time in its 18 year history.

Hockey was enriched by talented players but plagued by inconsistency and ill luck but finished the season well in coming seventh.

Football looked set to embark Hale on another brilliant run of wins together with rugby and hockey, but as in the past, with varied and sometimes brilliant performances, we managed only third. With the determination never to give in I am confident that in the very near future we can achieve our final goal of winning the Alcock Cup.

Hale entered 3rd term full of confidence and with a record throughout the P.S.A. as the school to be reckoned with.

Hale in the last five years has lifted its position from one of the schools to become the school. Hale boys are known for their sportsmanship, ability to lift themselves to the highest whenever called upon, and respected and honoured and admired for the respect in which they hold their school, being proud always to say "We are Haleians". This is what made Hale the greatest in 1971, the boys themselves. It is interesting to note that Hale and our arch rivals Aquinas have won all of the nine major P.S.A. sports this year with Hale gaining five wins to Aquinas's four.

Athletics have become a gradual success movement. Our ability to out-perform others on the inters day this year brought us another step closer to another coveted goal, that of winning the athletics. Our 30 year dilemma is fast losing pace and if the school is willing to offer the support needed to encourage the athletics next year, success will be assured. Our position in coming fourth was more than creditable and ended Hale's greatest-ever-year in the sporting field.

Success takes determination and the will to win but as a school on the whole, it takes the form of one not asking what Hale can provide for you but what you can provide for Hale.

This I feel we achieved and will continue to do so only if the boys combine all their efforts while at school in all spheres to enrich the school in culture in sport.

Hale also set forth into the international world and sent the first Australian schoolboy waterpolo team on a very successful overseas tour.

I have now outlined our sporting efforts. This brings me to the cultural side of the school. In this field which concerns so many boys, we again excelled.

The school presented a very successful adaption of Trial by Jury, emphasising the talent that the school has in this field. With plans for more productions next year our prospects in being able to present both the sporting and cultural side of life are progressing well.

Chess and debating continues to develop and much has been achieved. Although considered dull and dreary pastimes, which are usually over-shadowed by the very much publicised sporting side of school, social debates with girls' schools provide extra enjoyment in these spheres.

The cadets experienced a successful and enterprising year which was highlighted by the high standard of the Marching Out Parade.

Finally I must thank my fellow prefects for the interest and enthusiasm they combined with their leadership and to the fifth year boys whose unusually high spirits helped to develop the school to attain the success it achieved.

Also to the sports coaches without whom our successes would not have eventuated.

Finally, I'd like to quote in some measure from the late Winston Churchill: "Let us therefore brace ourselves to our duties and so bear ourselves, that if Hale School is to last another 1,000 years, then it will always be said, this was our finest year."

Examination Results

Hale had another year of examination successes at both Junior and Leaving level. Of this year's fourth years C. C. Kinsman was selected by the Aust. Mathematics Association to attend the Mathematics Enrichment Course at the Australian National University during the summer vacation.

D. G. Aitken was selected to attend a similar course at the University of W.A. during the summer vacation.

HOUSE Notes

Brine

Housemaster: REV. R. E. DAVIS

House Matron: MRS. A. COOK

Resident Master: MR. M. J. E. DAVIS

With a well-established team of staff and senior boys, Brine House enjoyed a happy year. It was with deep regret that we learned that Mr. M. J. E. Davis would be leaving at the end of the year, and we would like to thank him for being so friendly and helpful and so willing to do more than his duty.

The House again provided some of the leading boys in the Junior School. Raymond Yong was captain of Turnbull House, Brian Schmidt, our first Korean-American, was the Open Champion in Athletics, and the other nineteen all made their distinctive contribution.

The House Rugby team captained by Robert Mitchell, went through the season undefeated in a most enjoyable series of games, but were down by a powerful team from Scotch in the grand final and so lost the trophy — until next season, we hope!

Grade 2 used one of our dormitories as a classroom pending the erection of extensions to the Junior School, drum and clarinet teachers conducted lessons in the House, and Junior School parents were entertained to afternoon tea in our living room on a number of occasions. It is good that the House is being integrated more into school life.

Only four of this year's House are due to return next year.

Rev. R. E. Davis

Buntine

Housemaster: Mr. A. J. MacMILLAN

Captain of House and School: P. J. BEDBROOK

School Prefects: M. T. HOAR, R. D. P. PATERSON

House Prefects: G. D. LYON, B. W. SIMPSON

After years of cricketing insignificance, the Buntine side was thrust into second place under the captaincy of Mike Hoar. Our tennis team (Roger Paterson, captain) was second to none. Frank Day's incredible baseballers (notably the Lyon brothers and Pete Anderson) were undefeated, even when they faced a combined side from the other houses.

The major house event of first term was the swimming carnival with Beddy as captain of swimming. We had a strong all-round team, with the younger the age group, the stronger the swimmers — the U/13's didn't lose a race! Buntine romped in the G. N. Altorfer Cup for inter-house swimming and will clearly keep the cup for the next few years. We also won the D. F. Poake Cup for freestyle relays. Buntine's representatives in the "six-in-a-row" Inters were: Tarik, Marsh, Nick McDonald, Birman, Gaunt and Gary Lyon.

Buntine housed CYGNET committee members Brett Simpson (editor) and Gary Jeffrey.

Jay and Kim Harrison, talented with a variety of musical instruments, gave Buntine and the school an unreal jazz concert. The hall rocked with their music and then with the cheering which followed.

Captained by Mike Hoar (senior team) and Taylor (junior team), Buntine's hockey teams did their best and the footballers did magnificently. John Birman led the junior house side. Glen Lyon's seniors narrowly defeated Parry House in a rather lacklustre match the week before the grand final; coming up against Parry the following week, we really got stuck into the game and, despite Bill Wreford of Parry kicking an unbelievable goal from the centre of Craig Oval, Buntine were triumphant. Goodridge was named fairest and best.

With a housemaster like Mac, whose watchword is "Running is Living", Buntine just had to do well in the Cross Country Championships. We were dead sure we hadn't won the competition because, in contrast to Loton in particular, Buntine had only a few really ace runners; but because every Buntinian had pushed himself to come a little ahead of the next bloke, we had won. Wacko!

Frank Day was found by a Uni fitness survey to be the fittest boy at Hale and, near the end of term he came seventh in the State Schoolboys' Surfing Champs.

Second Term closed with Buntine in an unbeatable position in Cock House Cup.

Third term was a melange of athletics and study. Hard House training organised by Messrs. Lupton, Hockenhull and the Prefects resulted in us gaining second place to the sprinting talent of Haynes. The Buntine squad men exerted themselves on the main oval most week nights, among them Paul Bedbrook, Robbie Lilburne, Kim Noack and Lance White. Kim Noack's performance in the under 17 1500 metres deserves acclaim, as does Paul Bedbrook's under 17 hurdles. Colours for athletics were awarded to Kim Noack and P. V. Bodycoat.

The Cock House Cup went once again (for the sixth year in a row) to Buntine, a great effort.

1972 was indeed a Buntine year, due in no small way to our enthusiastic demanding leader A. J. M. He has welded Buntine into a more close-knit unit than is generally the case with day houses. With such a formula Buntine can expect many successes in the future.

Faulkner

Housemaster: MR. B. B. GIDNEY

Resident Masters: MR. R. K. ABBEY, MR. C. D. CLAY,
MR. R. JOHNSON

House Captain: I. L. McLARTY

School Prefect: I. L. McLARTY

House Prefects: A. W. GRAY, S. L. KING, D. A. N.
McLARTY, M. R. PEAKE, E. D. SUCKLING

The boarders returned on Monday night with some new faces and some old, but all showed a little apprehension.

The sporting activities started on a high note with Ivan Rose in the 1st XI, Pud McLarty in the 1st VIII and a new member to the House (Lindsay Garstone) featuring in the 1st VI tennis and helped Faulkner in the bid for tennis honours. New members seemed to be in the vogue in 1sts teams, with Leigh Beaman joining Ivan Rose in the Darlot Cup team. Faulkner faired well in house rowing with three 2nd VIII members and one 1st VIII, where John Berry, Sak Reger, Laurie Pearce and Chris King joined Pud in a fighting third place in the G. Rogers Cup. Tony Gray captained our mighty baseball team while Ash Canova was the backbone of our fluctuating longball team. Dean Balent captained our own as well as the School's basketball teams to a few victories.

The G. N. Altorfer Cup came again. Steve King was Faulkner's captain; the team performing admirably. However, the selectors for the Inters team bypassed our talent for the "Big Night". Chris King is Assistant Editor of Cygnets and the House's only member of the Committee. The House had a highly successful social, organised by a few 4th year boys. The boys thank Mrs. Gidney for a magnificent supper.

Faulkner is reckoned to be a House of Harry Secombs, probably resulting from the magnificent singing during assemblies and chapel. Summer sports behind, and winter to come! Training began for next term as first term streaked away.

The house was full again, and shook to the power of sixty voices all telling wondrous tales of what was done during the break.

Congratulations go to Leigh Beaman for being a participant in 1st XVIII games against Eastern States schoolboys.

It's "well done" to Dean Balent, Ivan Rosé and Dugald McLarty, who toured in the successful rugby team.

Faulkner featured prominently in Winter Sports teams as well as the above-mentioned. Lindsay Garstone (prominent in first term) and Chris King were members of the 1st XI hockey team.

Faulkner rocketed to great heights in the mighty and victorious 2nd XVIII, Paul McLarty, Mick Peake, Laurie King and Eric Suckling being almost the backbone of the team.

The 2nd XI was almost a Faulkner team, which proved Faulkner's depth in the Brine Trophy which we had to share with Loton. Michael Rokich and Danny (Skull) Watkins, helped by Billy Tee and Tony Yeo, were our main 5th year players but not forgotten were Addi Mitts Gray whose fiery play touched the voices of all the spectators when we won the Inter Boarding House match against Loton, which started and ended as a blood bath.

Thanks and the best of luck go to David Neill who leaves Hale — his work on Charities will be carried on by Mark Willey.

House Finals were good matches with Faulkner fifth in football, only because of the points system and not on true ability.

The term ended with Mr. Gidney using his whip of work on all third and fifth year boys.

The final term for 1972 began with the emphasis being placed by Mr. Gidney on study and examination. This term proved to be one of solid work by the guys. But athletics training also had to be fitted in somehow. Three days a week saw us running around every large area of green grass. Our housemaster conveniently forgot the times recorded and they had to be taken again.

Our men in the School squad were: Paul McLarty, Geoff Marsh, Robbie McLarty, Kim Gray and Ivan Rose. They showed the true Faulkner spirit by pushing themselves as far as possible at Perry Lakes.

There has been a great increase in House spirit in conjunction with a similar increase throughout the whole school.

Faulkner finished a good fourth in the House Athletics with no stars in any field, but a good solidity.

After sporting events were over exams became the only priority. Fifth formers became tense and irritable as the big days loomed closer — lights were burning in cubicles far into the night. The fourth years came to the fore however and organised a combined boarding houses 4th year social, ably helped by Mr. and Mrs. Gidney.

The year ends with those staying wishing those leaving the best of luck for their exams and for the future.

Chris King.

Haynes

Housemaster: MR. A. R. TAYLOR

House Captain: J. E. DODDS

School Prefect: J. E. DODDS

House Prefects: S. D. ALLAN, S. FISHWICK, R. H. JACOB

Mr. Taylor was again given the arduous task of being Housemaster. With the appointment of Eric Dodds as our new House Captain, Simon Fishwick, and Steve Allan as house prefects, all looked well for the coming year.

The first events on the calendar were the swimming championships. Once again Haynes figured prominently and came a well-deserved third. We were well represented in the Inters by: Adam Gollow, Larry House, Wayne House, Tony Quick, Don Pritchard and Tony Richardson. Don Pritchard and Tony Quick were the champions of their respective age groups.

The tennis team also had a good season and finished third in the competition. We were represented by Kim Wallman and Dean Williams, who won the Under 16 Singles, Open Singles, Under 16 Doubles and teamed with Kim Wallman to win the Open Doubles Championship in the victorious 1st VI.

The cricketers did not have a very successful year due to the inexperience of a lot of younger boys. But, however, all looks well for the future. Rod Quayle was in the 1st XI.

Rowing was a strong point in the House and congratulations go to Eric Dodds on his appointment as Captain of the Rowing. The House fours came fourth. Robyn Jacobs was our only representative in the Head of the River Crew.

At the conclusion of the term Haynes were in sixth position in the Cock House Cup Competition.

Soon after the commencement of the term Robyn Jacob was appointed a house prefect.

Steve Allan was appointed Captain of the 1st XV.

The senior football team could only manage seventh position but the junior team performed well to come runner-up in the grand final. Our 1st XVIII representatives were Eric Dodds, Rod Quayle and Dean Williams.

The hockey teams performed well, but the junior side could only manage eighth while the senior side came a well-earned third. Simon Fishwick and Tony Richardson were in the 1st XI.

The Cross Country Championships were run in between the finals of the hockey and football and everyone took part. Outstanding performances on the day were as follows: Marty Johnston, first in the under 14 division; Deryk Fishwick, Kim Wallman and Steve Allan, second, third and fourth respectively in the open division. However, Haynes could only manage sixth in the overall competition.

Congratulations are extended to Dean Williams for representing the State in the Australian Squash Championships held in Brisbane this year. Second term was a most successful one and for the first time in several years Haynes appeared to be in the running for that coveted cup!

Athletics was the sport this term and every boy in the House began training enthusiastically under the watchful eyes of Mr. Chadwick, Mr. Wheeler and Mr. Taylor.

All these weeks of hard training paid off, for on the actual day of the sports, Haynes showed their superiority in the track and field events to win the Cup from Buntine by a margin of 45 points.

We also won the Relays Cup with a total of 101 points. This is the first time ever that Haynes has won the Athletics Cup!

Our representatives in the Inters were:

S. A. Allan, J. C. Dunn, P. W. Farmer, D. J. Herron, M. P. Johnston, D. B. Pritchard, M. F. Spencer, E. Stamatiou, R. V. Quayle, A. B. C. Quick, D. H. Williams, D. J. Vaux.

In the School Athletics Championships congratulations go to M. P. Johnston (champion under 14), A. B. C. Quick (champion under 15) and D. B. Pritchard (runner-up open champion).

The Cock House Cup competition was once again won by Buntine. Haynes had performed creditably throughout the year and we came a well-deserved equal third.

The House wishes to thank Mr. Taylor for once again doing an excellent job of Housemaster.

Dean Williams

Loton

Housemaster: MR. T. D. HOAR

Resident Masters: MESSRS. J. C. CRAIG, *B. L. MOONEY,
R. C. TRUSCOTT, C. S. VSKA

House Captain: R. D. SMITH

School Prefect: R. D. SMITH

House Prefects: K. F. HO, K. M. FOLWELL, L. C. HENNING, S. H. DEMPSTER, K. F. MOONEY, J. W. RUSSELL, T. R.
WILLIAMSON

* Left at end of first term.

It takes 12 men to keep it running — five Housemasters and eight prefects — no less. All ensured that the sound ship Loton steered a straight course through the uncertain seas of '72.

Cricket was not our forte this year. Reg Williamson and his merry men could only manage a third in the Inter-Boarding House competition and a fourth in the B division of the house cricket.

Boarders don't have to swim to work, so this pastime has never been a great strength at Loton. Johnny Matthews did well to make the Inters team.

Lou Anderson and Harry Lenthall were in the 1st VIII and managed a second in the school competition.

Our one fighting man with rank was W.O.2 "Else" Henning — C.S.M. of A Coy. The rest are willing to surrender to the Chinese. However we can all take heart that Brian Mooney has joined the Army (at last!) so the chings had better take another think. Strats also left for a better feed.

The Sholl House Cup saw Loton come first (Stirling also did well). Well done, fellas!

Our driving lessons included a visit to the film "Le Mans" at the Town Cinema, and doubtless our driving has benefited. We now understand what motivates the ground staff as they tear down the mad mile in front of Loton House in their custom built wagons.

Henry Dempster was the Mal Brown of Loton — under his guidance we rocketed to a moral victory of first, but could only manage third when the scores were tallied. Loton had five members in the victorious 2nd XVIII team — a valuable injection of boarding house guts. Hockey under Ho'y saw the dicky wackers come first — well done, wackers (Faulkner gets a minor mention here too).

The Loton Walkathon resulted in a stereogram, and the barbecue afterwards was much appreciated.

Lou Anderson and Ming Meredith were selected for the State rugby team; we understand that the chappie had some hard persuading to do as the fellas didn't want to miss out on the annual holiday at Northam.

Dick Smith was runner number 1. (Mr. Hoar having retired to second place). 1970-71 saw us second in the competition, so it is only fair that we gave the other houses a chance for 1972, and were content with a very fine sixth. Smithy, Else, Chooky, Laurenson and Lou Anderson were the strengths of the Hale Inters Team. The rest of the House set to pondering "whether to flour bomb or not to flour bomb — that is the question, it is better to suffer"

Third term was a compound of solid study and determination in athletics for the mighty brown men. We came fifth in the Inter-House Athletics, while Paul Smith and A. Clapin were our Inters representatives. When all the sports scores were tallied Loton came second in the Cock House Cup, a position of which we can be justly proud. Throughout we had a distinct dearth of players in firsts teams but contributed solidly to reserves and under age teams. We lacked the stars but had much in depth and this depth counted strongly in the Cock House Cup.

Third term was not without its usual social activities, sandwiched in between the study and the cakes. Boarders from M.L.C. were treated to the Keynesey-inspired soiree. Dancing, etc. was enjoyed by most (if not all) and we thank Mrs. Hoar for the welcome supper.

As the term drew to a close the only sounds were the whirring of well-oiled cerebral cogs as the thirds and fifths settled in to prepare for the exams.

Our thanks to our leader Mr. Hoar for much appreciated efforts — we owe him a great deal. To the other housemasters also . . . It has indeed been a good year for Loton.

Dick Smith.

Parry

Housemaster: MR. G. N. ALTORFER

House Captain: K. A. GRIST

School Prefect: K. A. GRIST

House Prefects: A. M. BLACKMAN, J. W. NICHOLS, G. R. WILLIAMSON

The term began with the induction of Kim Grist as House Captain and Greg Williamson, John Nichols and Tony Blackman as house prefects. Team games got under way and a special congratulations go to Bill Wreford and his magnificent volleyball men who were unbeaten through the season. Parry finished fourth in the Sholl Cup for team games. Parry has always had a great dearth of star swimmers, but a fifth place in the G. N. Altorfer Cup for house relays wasn't a bad effort. Tony Blackman got off his surfboard and represented the school in the swimming Inters, along with Geoff Morris, Andrew Johnston and Stuart King, who was also the U/14 champion. We gained a third place in the cricket and it's believed Mike Salmon and Hairy Wheeler knocked up quite a few runs. Peter "Big Litter" Wallace, "Hairy" Wheeler and Mike Salmon had the honour of playing for Hale 1st XI. Our 1st VI member, Ralph Gibson could only captain the Parry tennis into fourth place, but it's believed Ralph felled some of the higher seeded players.

If anyone has noticed the much improved singing coming from the Parry camp in assembly, then this is due to the Parry House Choir. A large number of the fifth years, led by Bass Tenor Bill and boy soprano Steve, sing with plenty of gusto, if not harmony.

First term ends and the choir put their voices away until next term.

The term started with football and hockey being the house sports. At this stage it must be noted that there were nine Parry boys in the Hale interstate football team! They were Greg Williamson and brother Peter ("Croc"), Kim Grist, John Nichols, Richard Kingsbury, Mike Salmon, Tony Blackman, Peter Wallace and Ken Wheeler. All these boys and Bill Wreford, also played 1sts during the term. One must also take into consideration that most of these boys couldn't play house football and yet Parry finished second in the senior house football. Bill Wreford ably captained the team through some tough games and bitter disappointments. Our junior team lacked the depth of the senior team, but never-the-less we finished third in the Devenish Trophy for football.

Congratulations go to Stephen Gray for being elected vice-captain of the 1st XI hockey team. In the Brine Trophy for hockey, Parry finished sixth.

During the second term the House cross-country running was held. No matter what else happens at Hale, the boys can always be assured that there will be plenty of bush to run through. And the cross-country is as perennial as the grass. The blond boy, Kim Grist jagged another first in the open cross-country and Colin Payne and Brian Neilson deserve merit for their fourth's in the U/14 and 16 events respectively. Parry only managed fifth in the cross-country cup. Perhaps putting "The Loneliness of a Long Distance Runner" in the library was not a good thing . . .

Term two ends and we set our thoughts to study.

Parry House's winning run in the T. F. Hantke Cup for Athletics came to an abrupt halt this year. Congratulations to the yellow men for their win. Parry came third. The Parry House Choir also turned out to be the speed kings in the open relay, winning the J. C. Taylor Cup with inches to spare. Parry House's Inters men were Kim Grist (captain), Big Bill Wreford (shot putt), Peter Wallis, Peter Williamson, Mick Dye, Gary Fletcher, Brad Neilsen, Ian Lilburne, Charlie Love, Colin Payne and Boehle v. H.

Parry finished an overall fifth in the Cock House Cup.

The House members sincerely thank Mr. Shaw (football), Mr. Lupton (hockey) and Messrs. Shields and Wapnah (athletics) for their assistance. Our thanks also go to Mr. Altorfer for his tireless efforts in making 1972 another year of Parry success.

Riley

Housemaster: Mr. D. F. POAKE

House Captain: M. S. SMITH

School Prefects: J. K. ATKINS, C. C. DAWKINS,
M. S. SMITH

House Prefects: S. R. RICHARDS, W. J. SAINT

Several new faces were present at the beginning of first term. Among them was Mr. D. F. Poake. Mr. H. C. Wheeler at the end of third term in 1971, left the position as Housemaster of Riley, to become head of the Audio Visual Department at Hale School. Riley House owes much to Mr. Wheeler, and wish to thank him for his dedication to Riley House. Mr. Poake, who was originally housemaster at Faulkner, was initiated into the house and soon set things running smoothly.

Mark Smith was appointed House Captain at the beginning of the term with Clive Dawkins appointed vice-captain when he returned from captaining the Western Australian Junior Water Polo side in the Australian Championships, which were held in Brisbane. "Captain Schmidt" soon set down the law and house assemblies and meetings were vastly improved.

Riley came fourth in the G. N. Altorfer Cup for house relays and third in the trophy named after our housemaster. It was evident on the swimming championships day that the members of Riley House had a great team spirit, a good omen in any team. A notable swimmer for the house was Clive Dawkins, who was vice-captain of the school's victorious swimming team, won the second division of the open 100 metre freestyle event and was a member of the triumphant open relay team. He was also captain of the lifesaving team which won the Law Society Shield.

In the G. Rogers Cup for house fours in rowing, Riley came eighth. Under the prevailing circumstances they couldn't have done better. Congratulations go to Frank Paterson who was cox of Hale School's First Eight rowing crew. Also to R. Sear who represented Hale in the U/16 eight crew.

In tennis, Riley came fifth. Andrew Nyman, who was in the second VI tennis team, won many games for the house.

Several First XI cricket players were in Riley House. These boys, who were John Atkins (who was vice captain of the 1st XI), Tony Bamford and Gary Yeats, plus the others that made up the Riley House cricket team were undefeated in the House competition, for the Parker Cup. They ended up first with 27.71 points, followed by Buntine with 19.55 points. The bumpers, bowled by Tony Bamford and his fine batting, plus John Atkins' great wicket-keeping, proved too strong a match for the opposition. Overall, a great effort on the part of this team.

Oh, by the way, Warren Saint was promoted to a C.U.O. in the Christmas holidays. Also John Atkins was appointed Chairman of the Charities committee. He was responsible for organising the successful "Red Shield Appeal" at Hale School. Mark King was also active in this field.

In the Sholl Cup for team games, Riley House came sixth. A notable player in the baseball was Steve Richards, who played in the Headmaster's "Rest of the School Team" against Buntine. In the volley ball, Joe Knott soon whipped up a decent team spirit. Likewise, Mark King did the same thing in the long ball team. In the basketball games, J. B. Wright starred with many magnificent centre field goals.

Overall the members of Riley House, no matter what game they participated in, tried their utmost to win for the house, thus making the first term for Riley House a most successful one.

Well it happened again; Riley House shifted its venue for fine weather house meetings to the new amphitheatre. "The Gough Whitlam Theatre".

The training for the Inter-House Sports commenced immediately under the guidance of Mr. Poake and the house prefects. Then came the long and arduous task of recording times and distances for the various events. This was competently done by Mr. Foss, Mr. Smith, John Atkins and Clive Dawkins.

On the day of the Inter-House Sports, Riley, performing much better than was to be expected, came fourth. This was an improvement on last year's results, so congratulations, house members.

Riley's representatives in the Inter-School Athletics were: Anthony Bamford, Jacob Heitz, Mathew Jones, who came second in the 1st division U/15 200 metres, and 3rd in 1st division long jump and 100 metres; Peter Roberts; Rod Sears, who came first in 2nd division U/15 shot putt; John Wright and Gary Yeats, who came first in the 2nd division U/17 long jump. These boys put a lot of time and effort into their training and they deserve recognition.

When the final points for the Cock House Cup were added up, Riley came sixth overall, a fairly good effort.

For the rest of the term final exams occupied most minds in the house, and when the fifth year students went on study leave, the fourth year students took over the administration of the house. Thus the phasing out of the old and the phasing in of the new.

Thanks go to Mr. Poake, in his first year of office, as the house appreciates all the work he has done, particularly in infusing the house with spirit. Also thanks go to the house prefects and the other fifth year students who also devoted a lot of time to the house, Finally the decision of whether we performed well both in and out of class depends on you.

Clive Dawkins.

Stirling

Housemaster: MR. M. F. LOVELAND

House Captain: R. SANDOVER

School Prefects: K. RICHARDS, R. SANDOVER

House Prefects: N. BOLTON, J. BUTTSWORTH

The term started with the appointment of Richard Sandover as House Captain, Neil Bolton, Jeremy Buttsworth and Ken Richards as house prefects. Stirling had its share of the school prefects with Richard Sandover and Ken Richards.

Under the guidance of two experienced 1st XI players in Ken Richards and Neil Bolton, the house cricket team fared well to gain fourth position in the competition.

The House did well in the swimming to come second in the G. N. Altorfer Cup and fifth in the D. F. Poake Trophy for relays. Our representatives in the school swimming team were Richard Sandover, Jeremy Buttsworth, Peter Taylor, Paul Malcolm, Brad Hancock, Jim Morcombe, Joel Sangster, John Gregson, Kim Sandover and Paul Hughes.

Our weaknesses in first term sport were rowing and tennis, which we only managed seventh position in both events.

However, we managed a tremendous equal first position in the competition for team games in which both our basketball and volleyball teams did well to come first and second respectively in their individual fields.

After a fine allround sporting effort the House was holding second position at the end of the term in the quest for the Cock House Cup.

Second term saw us without the brothers Hood and Devenish-Meares, all four of whom left to enter boarding houses.

Our footballers once again came eighth in the competition. However, there is some hope for the future as the junior team under the captaincy of Kim Sandover managed fourth position. Richard Sandover was our only representative in the 1st XVIII.

CLIVE DAWKINS

Training for the Inter-School Swimming Sports started early this year as has been done for several years now, with a larger proportion of Hale School swimmers turning up for holiday training than in previous years. This provided for a deep team spirit. Proof of this was evident on the night of the inters.

This year, under a new scheme improvised by Mr. D. F. Poake, age group captains were appointed by him to help organize the team at training and other various swimming meets. The captain of the team was to be voted for by the team a few weeks before the Inters. The reason for this was so that all of the team would have a good chance to get to know who would be the ideal captain for the team. The age group captains were: C. C. Dawkins, D. B. Pritchard and R. E. Sandover. The team voted R. E. Sandover captain and C. C. Dawkins vice-captain.

A good turn-up to the morning training was again predominant this year with numbers increasing as the season wore on. The afternoon training, as usual, was very hard and strenuous. As well as the morning and night training all the top swimmers had to go to weight training, which was held by Messrs. B. Towers, I. B. Biddle and H. C. Wheeler, in the weights room. All this training and discipline helped Hale to get on top on Inters night and win the coveted trophy.

Valuable experience was gained at the usual Saturday morning carnivals. These were all held at Hale School and were against Trinity College, Marist Brothers and St. Louis. A social meet was arranged against St. Hilda's and Perth Ladies College. This was much enjoyed by the Hale team.

The training of the team was undertaken with much enthusiasm by Messrs. D. F. Poake, R. E. Davis and T. H. Hoad. Much thanks go to these masters for their time and effort. Also thanks go to the parents, masters and old boys who helped organize and run the Saturday morning carnivals.

All these people's combined effort formed a swimming team with a strong determination to win on Inters night. The team did not let them down.

INTER-SCHOOLS SWIMMING SPORTS

SATURDAY, MARCH 11th, 1972

With a will to win which was instilled by the coaches and the rest of the team, the Hale School Swimming Team entered the Inter-School Swimming Sports. The team did not have any star swimmers like last year, but it did have a strength and depth upon which to draw.

Hale School got off to a good start with C. C. Dawkins winning the first event. This opened up a lead for Hale and from the second event onwards, Hale School did not lose their lead.

After the freestyle events, of which Hale won four, Hale had a lead of 21 points. In the breast-stroke events Hale increased it by one point to a 22 point lead. P. M. Gaunt did an outstanding swim in the under-14 breast-stroke event to win in a time of 36.4 seconds, a new record. The team had anticipated losing points in the backstroke events, but this was not so. The team won six of the ten events. The winners being W. M. House and B. K. Hancock (both U/16), A. B. C. Quick, K. E. Sandover and L. A. House (both U/14) and D. M. Rechichi. This opened up Hale's lead to 49 points. Hale did not fare so well in the butterfly events and lost several points. But in the relays, the team's real strength came into being. Hale won three out of the five events and a 2nd and 3rd placing. The U/14 relay team broke the existing record (which was previously held by Hale School) by 0.1 of a second, with a time of 2 minutes 2.5 seconds. An inspired U/15 relay team then won their event. Then finally, in the last event the open relay team, swimming in fantastic form, won, thus capping off a great evening of sport for Hale School. Hale School ran out leaders with a 73 point lead over Wesley College.

As Sandy said in his address to the spectators, "this is the sixth time we have won the Inters since 1967. Six wins in a row!"

The team won only because of the hard training which was initiated by Mr. D. F. Poake, and a strong determination and WILL to win. I sincerely hope this is carried on next year, as Hale School has the makings of another winning team, which would make seven in a row.

"THE SCHOOL CHAMPIONSHIPS"

No stars were present in this year's Swimming Championships, but it was noticed that the Hale swimming team had a depth of strength present. This strength came into being two weeks later on Inters night.

Fifteen T. F. Hantke Medals were gained on the day; B. K. Hancock winning three, D. B. Pritchard, W. M. House, A. B. Quick and C. Cicchini winning two each and C. C. Dawkins, G. J. Lyon, P. M. Gaunt and J. G. Morris each winning one.

The only record broken on the day was in the Open 100 metres breast-stroke event, swum by D. B. Pritchard (who was also Open Champion on the day) in a time of 82.9 seconds, beating the old record by one second. This was quite expected, as he had beaten the open record time last year in the U/16's.

The majority of swimmers achieved personal best performances on the day. Even so, times overall were slightly below the level of last year's times. This was soon remedied in the weeks to follow.

LIFE-SAVING

This year Hale School entered a team in the Law Society Shield. The team comprised of C. C. Dawkins (captain), D. B. Pritchard, G. J. Lyon, W. M. House and reserve, P. R. Taylor. The team's coach, Mr. T. H. Hoad, instructed them on the finer techniques of Life-Saving. Being fit already from the swimming training recently received, the team only did some light training across the pool. This proved sufficient.

Experience was gained when the team was invited to Perth Ladies College to compete in a life-saving competition. Other schools who were there were: St. Hilda's, Methodist Ladies College and Wesley College. The team won most of their events at that meet.

The actual Law Society Shield event was held on March 25th at Beatty Park Aquatic Centre in fine sunny weather, a pleasant change from the 1970 life-saving competition. The team was in the second heat of this State-wide competition and won quite convincingly over Guildford and Wesley. The Law Shield event is the prize event of the whole life-saving competition for teams and Hale won it. This makes it the second win in a row, as last year the Shield was won for the first time since 1957.

With the good swimmers Hale School has got, it is a pity that all of them do not have their Bronze Medallion (this is the minimum requirement for the Law Shield Competition), as this would make it possible to enter more teams in the life-saving competitions every year. Hale School could win several more events if they did this. Next year we should see more teams entered in the life-saving competitions.

WATER POLO

Water polo was introduced into Hale School in 1969 by Mr. T. H. Hoad (the captain of the Australian Olympic Water Polo Team and master at Hale School). He suggested the idea of forming a team to a group of boys in the school's swimming squad. Being swimmers at heart they accepted and a team of seven players and four reserves was formed. They soon entered into a competition against other Perth sides. These were played on Saturday afternoons in the Christmas Holidays at the Bicton Baths on the Swan River. That season, 1969-70, the Hale School Water Polo Team managed to come fourth.

Around about that time, Mr. Hoad said that he could arrange a tour of the world which would broaden our education and help to promote water polo in Western Australia. This was to be primarily a sporting tour. The idea sounded absurd at first but to the boys' surprise, their parents supported the idea. Their parents then set about to raise the money. Special thanks must go to these determined people for their great effort. Their planned departure was for 17th August, 1971. But first of all they had another season, the 1970-71 season, to play. Still a young and inexperienced team, they ended up third. Much hard training followed right up till Tuesday, 17th August that year, when the team was due to leave for the around-the-world trip.

With the team's coach, Mr. T. H. Hoad, their manager, Mr. T. D. Hoar and twelve players (the captain being C. C. Dawkins) they all departed from Perth Airport bound for: Fiji, Honolulu, America, the Carribean Islands of Trinidad, Barbados and Puerto Rico, Spain, Poland, Germany (in which the team spent seven days), Rumania, Bulgaria, Israel, Singapore and finally arriving back in Perth on the 25th September. The whole tour took six weeks to complete, much of the time being spent in travelling. All throughout the U.S.A. and the Carribean Islands, the team was billeted in homes of the local residents and in the rest of the places, they stayed in hotels. In all cases, the hospitality received by the team was tremendous. All throughout the world, the team played the top teams from that city or else the national side. Generally they were older than the team. All this combined together gave the Hale team a lot of experience. The team played 35 matches all told and out of this they won five and drew one game. This might not seem a good show at all, but for a team of 16 year old school boys from Perth, this is not a bad effort. A notable event of the tour was when they met in Gotenburg in Sweden, Mr. R. D. McMath, the ex-housemaster of Stirling (Noddy). He made their stay in Sweden a memorable one.

Every member of the team was very glad to arrive back in Perth when they did on the 25th September.

Overall the trip was a success, even though it was and has been criticized as a sole interest trip. The team achieved its original objectives and spread the name of Hale School throughout the world.

In the 1971-72 season this year, Hale School entered two teams in the water polo competition. The senior team welcomed several new players and a junior team of U/14's was formed out of the Hale swimming squad.

The Seniors, playing in the U/18 competition, came third, but were very unfortunate not to win the actual competition. They lost to Melville in the semi-finals.

The Junior team, playing in its first season, romped in and won every match they played. They won in the grand final against Dolphin's team. Hale 6 defeated Dolphins 2. A truly tremendous effort to these youngsters.

Finally, special thanks go to Mr. Hoad for everything he has done for the Hale School Water Polo teams and hope that next year he continues his training of the Junior side.

Cricket

Despite our lack of success in the Darlot Cup, the season as a whole, was most enjoyable. The bowling lacked penetration. On occasions both A. W. Bamford and I. D. Rose showed good form, but did not receive the support required from the change bowlers. The batting was brittle, although the advent of Beaman later in the season did give it some solidity. G. E. Yeats and K. L. Richards both showed glimpses of much potential but overall not enough concentration was shown to enable fifty runs to be scored more often by an individual batsman. The fielding throughout the season was exceptionally good with K. B. Wheeler, M. L. Salmon and R. V. Quayle holding some scintillating catches.

The Great Southern Tour was a success and we hope that this sort of thing can take place more often in the future.

THE CYGNET

DARLOT CUP MATCHES

HALE v TRINITY

Played at Trinity on 18th and 19th February, 1972.

Hale won the toss and batted.

Hale: 157 (Yeats 68, Ketteringham 22) and 9/128 decl. (Outhwaite 41 n.o., Nilosz 5/17).

Trinity: 128 (Rose 4/41, Bamford 2/21) and 66 (Bamford 5/8, Yeates 2/6, Quayle 2/3).

Result: Won outright.

Hale batted first on an easy paced Trinity pitch but apart from Yeats, who scored a fine 68, showed little application and were all out for 157. Sustained determination by the fast bowlers dismissed Trinity for 128. Going for an outright Hale declared with nine wickets down and due mainly to some accurate hostile bowling by Bamford the win was achieved. A great start!

HALE v GUILDFORD

Played at Guildford on 25th and 26th February, 1972.

Hale won the toss and batted.

Hale: 86 (Richard 30, Wheeler 23) and 107 (Yeats 27, Bolton 27, Gooding 5/31).

Guildford: 6/121 decl. (Gooding 34 n.o., Rose 2/39, Bamford 2/23) and 2/75 (Kickett 54 n.o.).

Result: Lost outright.

Hale had no excuse for their poor batting. On both occasions they crumbled before a mediocre Guildford attack. The fast bowlers did a very good job to have the powerful Guildford line up at 6/121 but they lacked the support of the batsmen. In Guildford's second innings we were treated to a very fine 50 by Kickett.

HALE v AQUINAS

Played at Hale on 3rd and 4th March, 1972.

Hale won the toss and batted.

Hale: 122 (Outhwaite 35 n.o., Atkins 28, Richards 26) and 113 (Richards 25, Outhwaite 25).

Aquinas 4/215 decl. (Travers 80, Bell 46 n.o., Ditchburn 52 n.o.) and 0/25.

Result: Lost outright.

Hale batted on a well grassed but placid strip, but again failed to build an innings. Several batsmen made a start but failed to develop their innings. In contrast Aquinas showed great concentration and application in their innings and built up a score which could have reached mammoth proportions. Once again we got ourselves out in the second innings and never looked like saving an outright defeat.

HALE v SCOTCH

Played at Scotch on the 16th and 17th March, 1972.

Hale won the toss and batted.

Hale: 138 (Yeats 33, Outhwaite 40) and 220 (Beaman 51, Atkins 33, Yeats 28, Richards 26, Bamford 23).

Scotch: 3/159 (McFarlane 73, Yeats 2/24).

Result lost on 1st innings.

Batting first seemed to have a jinx on us and once again we failed to get a good start. Outhwaite and Yeats both batted well. When Scotch's turn came they batted at such a slow pace that they could very well have lost

BACK ROW: G. E. Yeats, G. P. Jeffrey, K. B. Wheeler, M. L. C. Salmon.

SECOND ROW: N. R. Bolton, I. D. Rose, N. M. Outhwaite, R. V. Quayle.

FRONT ROW: J. D. Ketteringham, K. L. Richards (Captain), Mr. P. A. Carey, J. K. Atkins, A. W. Bamford.

any chance of an outright victory. However, towards the end the scoring rate accelerated when we saw a very fine 73 from McFarlane. Hale had to bat most of the afternoon to avoid defeat. At least we had an opening stand, Atkins and Beaman making a solid 76. Beaman went on to make a very good half century.

HALE v WESLEY

Played at Hale on the 24th and 25th of March, 1972.

Wesley: 239 (Collins 59, O'Sullivan 43, Pougher 42, Bamford 5/52, Yeats 3/50) and 4/138 (Pougher 48, Cusack 45, Yeats 2/34).

Hale: 202 (Salmon 66, Bolton 48 n.o., Atkins 20, Tyler 7/49).

Result Lost on 1st innings.

Hale won the toss and put Wesley in to bat on what promised to be a lively wicket. Bamford bowled with great fire and due to this, and some fine catches behind the wicket, we had Wesley reeling at 4/47. Our run of luck ended there and due to some dropped catches we had to battle for the remainder of the Wesley innings. Our batting got off to a reasonable start and with the score at 3/100 and Salmon on 50, we appeared to have the task well in hand. However, a middle order collapse followed and it was only due to a fine last wicket stand between Bolton and Rose that we topped 200. Salmon's innings was probably the best of the season.

HALE v CHRIST CHURCH

Played at Hale on the 7th and 8th of March, 1972.

Hale: 9/95 del. (Beaman 38, Salmon 30, Malcolm 5/33) and 78 (Hanley 8/39).

Christ Church: 198 (Tagan 55, Malcolm 45, Rose 6/46, Yeats 3/30).

Result: Lost outright by an innings.

Hale lost the toss and batted on a very soft, rain affected wicket. We were unable to cope with the conditions and it was only due to some lusty hitting by Salmon and Beaman that we reached 95. We felt that this would be enough to beat Christ Church but unfortunately the bowlers were unable to take advantage of the conditions and by next morning the wicket had dried out to an easy paced strip. Rose bowled very steadily to take 6/46. In our second innings we crumbled disastrously against bowling which appeared to have little venom and were dismissed for 78.

Tennis

1972 was another year of tennis victories for Hale. Consistent training again gained results. R. D. Paterson was appointed captain. As the first four members of the 1st VI were fourth years, next year also promises success.

Our 1st VI won the Corr Cup and were undefeated; as also were the unsung stalwarts — the 2nd VI, and tennis' new blood, the first years lost only one match.

We are indeed fortunate to have the services of Mr. Max Bonner, the State's leading coach. Thanks must also go to the Master-in-Charge, Mr. M. F. Loveland, for devoting so much of his time to this demanding sport.

Rowing

All boys in the rowing squad started their training with great enthusiasm. The training camp was again a great success and the boys looked forward to a good season.

Mr. B. H. Durston, who has been associated with Hale for many years, was the senior coach. Although we had no boys from the previous 1st VIII, all the boys had had experience in last year's Head of the River crews. Even though the team was relatively light compared to other schools' VIII's, Mr. Durston's rowing knowledge and the boys' keen approach soon had the Hale VIII in top condition. We thank Mr. Durston for all he has done in this time-consuming position.

This year's 2nd VIII was coached by Mr. J. A. Cardell-Oliver and was again stiff opposition for the 1st VIII in practice races. Mr. A. A. Wilkins coached the 1st IV; Mr. R. M. R. Prince, 2nd IV. Our under 16 IV's coach was Mr. J. R. Birman and the under 16 VIII coach was Mr. H. R. Thompson. We thank all these people for the time and effort they put into coaching our crews.

Thanks also go to Mr. E. R. Prince, who donated many hours to the efficient running of the rowing administration.

HALE REGATTA

The regatta was held on the Crawley Bay course and the strong head winds and rough conditions made the going tough.

There were many close finishes and all crews handled the tricky conditions well. In the invitation 1st VIII all crews started with a high rating and none gaining a considerable lead. After 1,000 metres had been completed, Hale were coming fourth, but stepped up their rating to finish a half length behind Guildford for third place. Scotch won by three quarters of a length.

RESULTS

INTER-HOUSE FOURS—1. Wilson, 2. Loton, 3. Faulkner.

*INVITATION JUNIOR FOURS—1. Guildford, 2. Hale, 3. Christ Church.

*INVITATION JUNIOR EIGHTS—1. Aquinas, 2. Guildford, 3. Aquinas II.

INVITATION THIRD (UNDER 16) FOURS—1. Aquinas, 2. Trinity, 3. Hale.

INVITATION FIRST FOURS—1. Christ Church, 2. equal Wesley and Aquinas.

INVITATION FIRST EIGHTS—1. Scotch, 2. Guildford, 3. Hale.

*Second Year

THE HEAD OF THE RIVER REGATTA — 1972

The early morning was cold with a fresh easterly breeze blowing but by the beginning of the first race the breeze had disappeared and pleasant, warm conditions prevailed. The first race was the under-16 fours over 1,000 metres and Hale finished a creditable third. The 2nd IV finished fifth, the winners being Wesley. The 1st IV finished fifth against some very strong opposition as did the under-16 VIII. We broke our run of fifths when the 2nd VIII stroked over the line to come fourth.

There were no incidents this year before the start of the Head of the River. With the perfect conditions and plenty of support, Hale, who were perhaps a shade too light for their shell, were feeling confident of a good race.

All crews started with a high rating and were rowing well. Aquinas took an early lead and were looking impressive. After the first quarter mile, Hale were in the middle of a closely bunched field, and at the half mile flag had dropped back to fifth place. Aquinas still led by only a small margin from Trinity and Christ Church. With a hundred metres to go, Hale increased their rating and pulled away from Scotch and Wesley and passed Guildford to finish in fourth place from Christ Church and Trinity, the winners being Aquinas.

ROWERS' DANCE

The venue this year was the Old Boys' Memorial Hall and thanks must go to all those who were involved in the difficult task of decorating. The night's sounds were supplied by the New Mark IV and all the people who attended must agree that it was a very enjoyable night.

Thanks must also go to the mothers of the rowers and Matron, who prepared the delicious supper. Their work through the season was a great asset and helped to make 1972 rowing another success.

Football

COACH'S REPORT

A season of total contradiction! Hale football 1972 was contrast — from the glory of interstate success to the frustration of our third position in the Alcock Cup. The seven colleges were evenly matched, but our failures against Guildford and Scotch were inexcusable and cost us the chance of at least sharing the cup with eventual winners, Aquinas. A talented Hale blazed a glorious trail to the disaster of two games lost after the siren. Four of the six games were won and lost in the closing seconds by less than a goal — a poor time for the coronary folk!

The eighth interstate was a resounding success. Spirited football, the Dance, a Barbecue, Car Rally, the Dinner and the less formal activity gave boys and staff many chances to enjoy this unique carnival. The work of Mr. Towers and Mr. Truscott was again tremendous, the billeting parents were magnificent and many supported a most enjoyable fund-raising quiz night, organised by Mrs. Yeats. Fine mobile skills, impressive teamwork and real conviction enabled Hale to annihilate Scotch, Adelaide, by 27.18 to 9.7 and also comfortably defeat Geelong College 16.13 to 12.17, after withstanding a strong Victorian finish. Hale have never played a better interstate and all players contributed significantly.

In second term, the team rarely achieved its interstate standard. Indeed, the only great game was Aquinas, a game of incredible closeness (five changes of lead in last quarter), fine sporting football and amazing emotional scenes during and after the game. Hale's approach, its method and emotion produced a very even team effort. Spencer's goal after the siren gave Aquinas victory by one point, but both teams deserve congratulations on a magnificent game, quite the best contest I have seen at school level, and the perfect dead heat game.

For the rest, sadness! Good football was played in defeating a lack-lustre Trinity, and Christ Church could not match a powerful Hale, but the first halves against Guildford and Scotch were disappointing and the whole Wesley narrow victory most unimpressive. To their credit, Hale always fought back but their inconsistency, and at times, indifference, made it hard. We squandered chances in the final quarter in our three point loss to Guildford and, after being sixteen points clear with seven minutes to play in the Scotch game, allowed Scotch to recover and win a gripping struggle by one point, the winning goal again coming after the siren.

Injuries to Wheeler, Pritchard and Outhwaite cost us dearly, but generally Hale had few consistent players after interstate. Grist at half back and on the ball was a vital player, sometimes a moody one, but overall a dashing defender. The younger Devenish-Mearns developed into a most talented forward and centre-liner; Bedbrook was consistently determined; Nichols was a resolute defender and Wallis a spectacular, if inconsistent, centre man. Others such as Bamford and Devenish-Mearns on the ball; Fortiades a clever forward; Williamson with so much to offer; Yeats a speedy wingman who did not always chase; Smith up forward; Outhwaite in defence and the tenacious Cartwright and Sandover had their good days, as did the others. Sustained form within a game was not always accomplished.

My sincere thanks go to trainer Vinciullo, to the unflappable and friendly manager Truscott; to the boundary and goal umpires; to parents, supporters and Old Boys for their loyal support; to the parents who organised morning teas; to the two leaders Smith and Bedbrook, who in selection and on the ground, strove to inspire our effort; and of course to all the players themselves.

Football is demand, both individual and collective. At training and in a game, Hale players must learn to demand more skill, the elimination of errors, more concentration, unselfishness, desperation and involvement. At times, we relaxed. The relentless demand, seen in the Aquinas game, must be present in all games if players are to conclude at the season's end that they have done their best. Training is vital and a player must strive to reach his own level and should expect a coach to demand that he does. The spirit and unity of the group develops when all are striving for individual perfection — the whole game becomes infectious! Good players have time only -- to get the ball and dispose of it; to be emotional for the team, yet to remain cool in a close game; to discipline themselves to accept without question or comment umpires' decisions; to win and lose graciously. It is all no easy task.

Good luck for next year to all players, whether it be at Hale or League or elsewhere. May the men returning link up with some very good under sixteens and second years and achieve the twin goals of Interstate and Alcock Cup. Football like life, is an up and down affair and all of us may gain example and a message of the victory of the human spirit from "The Fire on the Snow", the tragedy of Scott's Antarctic expedition.

"We dreamed, we so nearly triumphed, we were defeated as every man in some great or humble way dreams and nearly triumphs, and is always defeated, and then, as we did, triumph again in endurance."

HALE v TRINITY

Played at Hale, Saturday, 24th June, 1972
Conditions: Windy, with occasional showers.

Hale opened the first official game of the season convincingly. In poor conditions the team outplayed a sluggish Trinity in the first half and eventually won by 45 points. Unselfish forward play, dominant rucks and a fiery defence were features of a good team display. Devenish-Meares and Bamford controlled the ruck, Smith and Yeats combined cleverly in the forward area, and Grist led a number of good defenders.

Scores—Hale 14.11, Trinity 7.8.

Goals—M. G. Fortiades 3; P. S. Williamson, G. R. Williamson, M. S. Smith, D. B. Pritchard, A. M. Blackman 2.

Best—A. W. Bamford, B. A. Devenish-Meares, M. S. Smith, K. A. Grist, M. J. Devenish-Meares, G. E. Yeats.

HALE v GUILDFORD

Played at Hale, Saturday, 1st July, 1972.

Conditions: Blustery, with a few showers.

Playing with more co-ordination than Hale, Guildford used the breeze to advantage in the first term, keeping Hale goalless. Hale lacked cohesion in their play and failed to take advantage of the stiff breeze in the second quarter. Hale were 14 points behind at half time but quickly reduced the lead to six points with good team football in the third quarter. In a desperate and exciting final quarter both teams goaled twice, leaving G.G.S. five points ahead on the siren.

Scores—Hale 10.13, Guildford 12.6.

Goals—A. W. Bamford 3; D. H. Williams, M. J. Devenish-Meares, M. G. Fortiades 2; M. L. C. Salmon 1.

Best—K. A. Grist, P. R. Wallis, M. S. Smith, P. J. Bedbrook, G. E. Yeats, D. H. Williams.

HALE v AQUINAS

Played at Aquinas, Saturday, 15th July, 1972.

Conditions: Fine, with slight breeze.

The first quarter was very even, with both teams playing tight football. The second quarter was much the same and Aquinas led by six points at half-time. Hale's backs combined effectively to turn back many promising attacks in the third term. Hale's forwards were constantly under extreme pressure from the Aquinas backs but did well to outscore them and lead by six points into the final term. The stage was set for an exciting final quarter. Both teams played courageous football and it was not until the final siren went that Hale were defeated. Spencer, who had been quiet all day, due to the sustained effort from Cartwright, marked and goaled to give Aquinas the match by one solitary point. The game was considered one of the best exhibitions of football seen in an Alcock Cup Match for a long time. Hale were extremely unlucky to lose.

Scores—Hale 9.9, Aquinas 8.16.

Goals—J. E. Dodds 3; N. M. Outhwaite 2; B. A. Devenish-Meares, R. A. Lilburne, M. S. Smith, A. W. Bamford 1.

Best—J. B. Buttsworth, A. W. Bamford, K. A. Grist, P. J. Bedbrook, I. C. Cartwright, B. A. Devenish-Meares.

HALE v SCOTCH

Played at Hale, Saturday, 29th July, 1972.

Conditions: Fine.

Hale had to win this match to keep the equal second position alive. In the first term Scotch held a slight advantage and led by two points. Both teams played purposeful football and the scores were even at the half-time break. Hale played in patches in the third term and, if the kicking had been straighter, the lead would have been more. Hale started off well in the last quarter and with 10 minutes to go were three goals ahead. Hale lapsed and Scotch came back to kick the winning goal on the siren to give them a one point victory. For Hale it was their second successive loss by one point.

Scores—Hale 8.13, Scotch 9.8.

Goals—M. J. Devenish-Meares 3; J. B. Buttsworth, M. S. Smith, J. E. Dodds, R. V. Quayle, D. H. Williams 1.
 Best—N. M. Outhwaite, M. G. Fortiades, P. S. Williamson, M. J. Devenish-Meares, K. A. Grist, J. W. Nichols.

HALE v WESLEY

Played at Wesley, Saturday, 5th August, 1972.

Conditions: Fine.

Hale was determined to win this game after their two successive losses of one point. Hale's play lacked cohesion and desperation but they managed to lead by 12 points at half time. The standard of the game was low and Hale lost their lead to be down by six points at the third quarter break. The lead fluctuated on several occasions and once again the kicking of the Hale team was deplorable. At last the final siren went and the scoreboard showed that Hale had won by four points.

Scores—Hale 10.15 to Wesley 11.5.

Goals—M. S. Smith 4; M. J. Devenish-Meares 2; P. J. Bedbrook, A. W. Bamford, D. H. Williams, P. S. Williamson 1.

Best—M. J. Devenish-Meares, J. W. Nichols, P. J. Bedbrook, R. J. Kingsbury, M. G. Fortiades, A. W. Bamford.

HALE v CHRIST CHURCH

Played at Christ Church, Saturday, 12th August, 1972.

Conditions: Fine, with slight breeze.

Hale lost the toss and kicked against a stiff breeze. Christ Church took advantage of the breeze and kicked four goals to Hale's one, then Hale had the use of this breeze to score five goals to the home side's three points. Hale's backs, led by R. E. Sandover, J. Nichols and R. J. Kingsbury, played courageously and kept the home side down to two goals while Hale kicked five goals into the breeze. Hale finished on strongly and defeated a weary and unenthusiastic Christ Church by 42 points.

Scores—Hale 16.11, Christ Church 9.11.

Goals—R. V. Quayle, M. L. C. Salmon, M. S. Smith 3; P. S. Williamson 2; M. J. Devenish-Meares, G. E. Yeats, A. W. Bamford, P. J. Bedbrook, R. A. Lilburne 1.

Best—R. E. Sandover, J. W. Nichols, R. J. Kingsbury, D. H. Williams, M. L. C. Salmon, M. S. Smith.

Hockey

COACH'S COMMENTS

The 1972 season could hardly be called a successful one for the 1st XI from a hockey point of view. The team made a promising start to the season but failed to fulfil its promise during the official P.S.A. fixtures. Hale trained well and gave of their best. However, the general lack of skills, prevalent throughout much of Hale School hockey told against us in the end. Unfortunate mistakes at crucial times gave the opposition a vital advantage which often proved to be the turning point of the game.

The team was a happy one and enjoyed their hockey and I thank the captain and vice-captain for their administrative assistance and for their general contributions which did much to perpetrate the team spirit which developed. But team spirit alone does not win matches and if Hale hockey is to improve, much attention must be given throughout the school to the learning and practising of the basic skills of the game. There is often insufficient time at school practices for the necessary training in these areas and boys of any age with any hockey ambitions are urged to supplement their school training with their own practice in an attempt to remedy our lack of skills.

I would like to offer my thanks to Mr. Biddle for the tremendous assistance given by him, not only in coaching the side during my stay at Wittenoom but also for his invaluable advice throughout the season.

R. L. GRAY.

HALE v TRINITY

Play commenced on a heavily waterlogged field. In its first P.S.A. match, the team failed to display the vigour they had shown earlier. This allowed Trinity to gain control early and they scored two quick goals. Hale settled to play some fine hockey, distributing the ball well to the right wing which led to an easy field goal. Half-time scores showed Trinity leading 2-1. Trinity scored again early in the second half before Hale struck again scoring from a penalty. After this point Trinity gained and maintained full control of the match, scoring a further three goals. The match had been even until the last fifteen minutes.

Scores—Hale 2 lost to Trinity 6.

Goals—Henning 1, Fishwick 1.

Best—Richards, Henning, Fleay.

HALE v GUILDFORD

Playing on a wet ground caused the ball to rise freely thus making the game that much more dangerous. Hale, after a humiliating defeat by Trinity the previous week, were determined to win. This showed in the game right from the bully. After several attempts at scoring, Garstone drove a ball into the net, but this was disallowed. This point appeared to hearten Guildford as they pushed forward spirited attacks through the right wing; line work by our full-backs prevented them from scoring. The game fluctuated with both sides attacking.

Scores—Hale 0, Guildford 0.

Best—Richards, Gray, Richardson.

HALE v AQUINAS

Hale, coached by Mr. Biddle, due to Mr. Gray being in Wittenoom, approached this vital game with some apprehension, Aquinas being the top side in the competition. The game was fast with Hale attacking quickly before Aquinas could gain possession of the ball. The game continued on an even note with both teams attacking strongly. Hale backs withstood all Aquinas efforts to score and continued to feed a much improved forward sector with good passes. Some fiery incidents cropped up but these were quelled by a cool-tempered Hale side. Aquinas resumed the field after half time with various changes, thus showing the new found respect for the Hale side. Aquinas pressed hard and managed to gain control in the last 10 minutes of the game due to the efforts of the A1 player. Chan, playing in his first game for the 1st XI, who played magnificently and was often the last stand against this talented team. Aquinas scored twice in the closing minutes to clinch a hard fought and fast game.

Scores—Hale 0 lost to Aquinas 2.

Best—Chan, Richards, Garstone.

HALE v WESLEY

We went on to this field confident of a victory. We were to be sadly deflated. Wesley scored early, from a debatable and controversial pass from their right wing. Hale attacked hard and on numerous occasions missed the scoring shot by inches. The game fluctuated until Wesley scored again. Hale transferred all attack down the left side; this proved valuable with L. C. Garstone scoring a well-deserved goal. Wesley stopped the ball on most instances by fair play or foul. The team continued to fight right to the finish even though Wesley scored a further two goals in succession; the game was changed from a relatively cool game to one showing flared tempers and dangerous play. Even when three goals down, Hale continued to drive forward but were only obstructed by methods against the rules of the game. The match was the hardest played game so far and was an enjoyable match despite the loss.

Scores—Hale 1 lost to Wesley 4.

Goal—Garstone.

Best—Garstone, Hoar, King.

HALE v SCOTCH

We returned to our home ground with little chance of bettering our position on the ladder, but determined to put in some fine hockey before the season ended. The field was fast without any water on the ground. Scotch attacked hard with their fast wingers but the Hale fullbacks performed valiantly to stop all attacks. Scotch scored on a magnificent shot from a rebound in the first 20 minutes. The game continued with Scotch in command for the entire first half of the game. They scored again before Hale managed to score with a field goal by Fishwick. The game continued with the play fluctuating, but again Hale lost concentration in the last 10 minutes and as had happened in previous matches Scotch scored a few more times to win confidently.

Scores—Hale 1 lost to Scotch.

Goal—Garstone.

Best—Richards, Gray, Ho.

HALE v CHRIST CHURCH

The last game of the season began badly for the Hale side. Christ Church gained control early and managed to maintain this hold right throughout the game. The Hale side were let down by loss of personal skills. We had the ball in possession during a major part of the play but lost it through bad skills play, with Christ Church capitalising on our mistakes. Great work by our full backs saved the team again but we can also thank the ball control that was lost by the Christ Church players when under pressure. We were unlucky not to score but if we had slowed down a little this would not have happened. Ho, who played in his first game for the 1st XI, performed admirably as did Lyndon Henning on the right wing.

Rugby

Steve Allan

The success of last year was not repeated but 1972 provided a hard and enjoyable season of rugby union.

In the May vacation the First XV went to Sydney at the invitation of three schools and played games with St. Joseph's, the King's school and Pittwater Grammar.

The journey there was by the Indian Pacific train — a fascinating trip — and the boys were able to see a great deal of Australia's biggest city; to see some international rugby and games between top schoolboy sides, to enjoy great hospitality and to see King's and Pittwater at work in the first week of their second term.

Hale lost to St. Joseph's 36-3, defeated King's fifths 7-6 and Pittwater 6-3.

Of all Hale's rugby teams the most outstanding was the 2nd year side, which won every match, had not one point scored against it and scored 490 points at an average of almost 62 per game.

The Under 12's were undefeated Minor Premiers in the W.A. Junior Rugby Union competition but were defeated by Scotch in the grand final.

The other teams enjoyed a good share of success and all trained and played with great enthusiasm.

The first XV finished fourth, but had the distinction of being the only side to defeat the cup-winners, Aquinas. In our second game against Aquinas, however, they showed they would beat us at all costs and during the game we lost five of our players through injuries.

With only two of last year's victorious team back again, and a shortage of good fifth year players Hale fielded a very young, inexperienced side.

The need to select fourth years meant trouble with boys away at Wittenoom. Four third years played for the first XV during the season as we had more than our usual share of sickness and injuries.

Although 1972 did not produce impressive results it gave us a good foundation for the future.

The following boys played in the 1st XV during the year.

- S. D. ALLAN—Captain and five eighth. Chicken-pox at the beginning of the season and a fractured hand at the end probably robbed him of a chance of colours and of leading Hale to more victories.
- M. DEBELJAKOVIC—Big, tough prop and vice-captain. The man opponents feared most.
- K. RISEBOROUGH—Young, tall forward with a bright future. Shows flair and aggression.
- G. BARTLETT—A fast striking little hooker and a terror in loose play.

Penalty—R. Hood.

HALE v CHRIST CHURCH

Hale went into this match confident of victory even though four of their regular backs were missing. The forwards played well as usual but the backs had no defence whatsoever and their attacking was extremely poor. The Christ Church backs penetrated our line three times and only a try in the dying minutes by Hale gave them any satisfaction from the game.

Result—Christ Church 18 defeated Hale 4.

Try—D. H. Hood.

Inters Day, Saturday, 21st October, saw Trinity and Aquinas fight out a 'tooth and nail' battle all day for the major honours with Trinity finally defeating Aquinas by a comfortable margin. It was a pity that our team could not improve from the position of fourth that we finished last year. Once again we held third spot for most of the day but finally relinquished this place to Scotch who finished $7\frac{1}{2}$ points ahead of us. I say a pity because each member of our large 78 man team had applied himself throughout the short but intensive season leading up to Inters day and was keen to do well.

We had only a few winners on the day but consistent places gained us our share of points. Once again P. S. Williamson showed his dominance in the U/16 sprints by winning the double and then combining with P. B. Smith, I. B. Lilburne and P. V. Bodycoat in winning the U/16 relay in good time. B. A. Devenish-Meares proved what a good competitor he is by winning the U/17 high jump at 5'11". But some of the best performances came from our middle-distance group where fine runs by S. Allan, T. Bogle, F. Craig, K. Noack and K. Grist brought the Hale supporters to their feet. Other good performances worth mentioning were: M.G. Jones U/15 sprints; R. Sear and K. Goodridge in U/15 shot putt; P. Smith in U/16 long jump and hurdles C. Cumming and G. Yeats in U/17 long jump and M. Devenish-Meares in the open hurdles.

Despite our sadness on the last day the team showed a very happy and dedicated approach to all our meets through the season and much of the credit must go to the captain of the team K. A. Grist who through dedication and example gained the confidence of the whole team. Kim's strength in this sport will certainly be missed next year and I feel that his accomplishment of seven wins and a third from eight events (including six records) is certainly an achievement of which to be proud. Sincere thanks to all the coaches involved; Messrs. Constantine, Clune, Davis, Edgar, Johnstone, MacMillan, Orr and Towers; for their enthusiasm and knowledge.

DEBATING

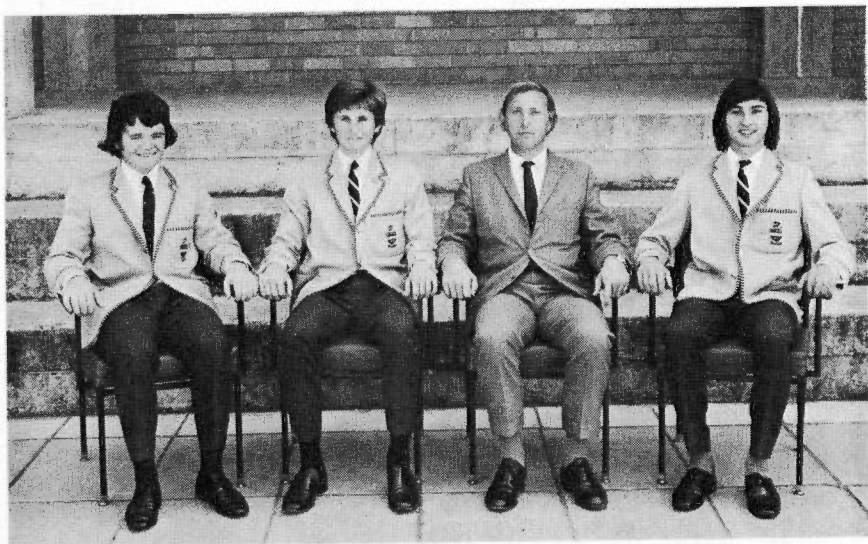

Debating got off to a good start in first term. There was a good deal of interest shown by younger boys in the society's activities resulting in separate debates being organised for Second Year students. Under the guidance of Mr. G. M. Clune, a Debating Council was formed with representatives from all years so that the boys could play a larger role in organising their debates.

However, in second term, an important term for debating, Mr. Clune was Resident Master at Wittenoom. Mr. P. W. Davies again filled the gap and kept Hale debating alive with his keen interest.

Hale entered a senior and junior team in the W.A. Secondary Schools Debating Federation Competition. J. K. Atkins, P. J. Bedbrook, R. N. James and B. W. Simpson formed the nucleus of the senior team and the junior team consisted of R. J. Egan, M. King and J. G. Morcombe. The Senior team did well this year although it didn't make the finals. We won the first debate against Loreto Convent proving "That the family circle is square". Our next debate was against Brigidine College and we set out to show "That a hungry rebel is better than a contented slave". Although we lost the debate, and our chances of entering the semi-finals, it is important to note that the Brigidine College team was the eventual winner of the competition. In the final debate with Marist College we won on the topic "That as man progresses he destroys". Merit goes to J. K. Atkins who was consistently best speaker in these debates and who enjoyed a great debating year.

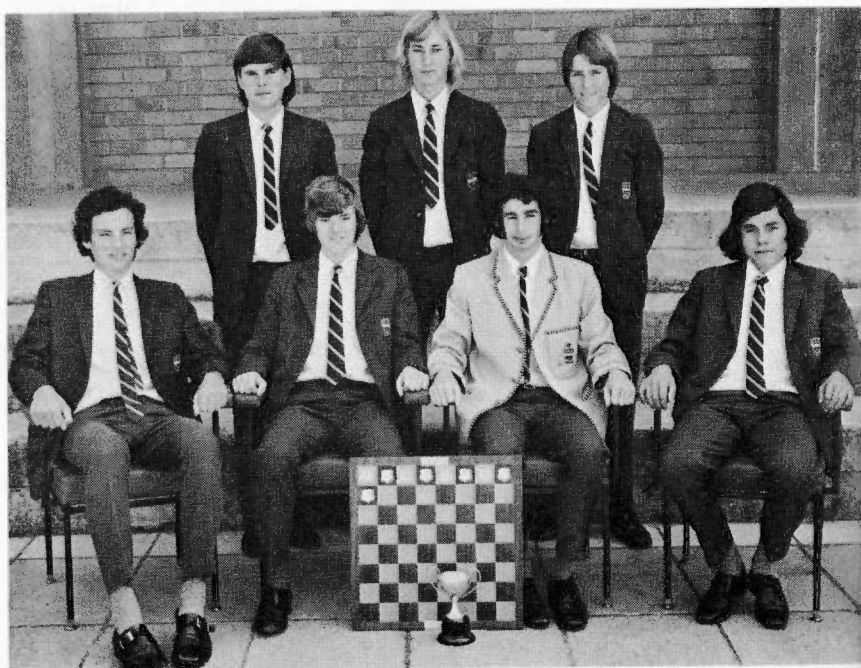

Our thanks go to Matron for providing supper after meetings.

Unfortunately there was no Inter-House Debating Competition held this year. This competition provides an excellent opportunity to involve more boys in a cultural activity while widening the scope of inter-house rivalry. It is hoped that the competition will be conducted next year.

Social debates were also held with St. Hilda's Girls' School and St. Mary's School for Girls.

With continued support from younger boys next year, Hale debating can be expected to improve even further.

CHESS NOTES

Chess at Hale in 1972 reached the greatest heights ever with both the "A" and "B" teams winning their sections of the Inter-School Chess Competition. Perhaps the reason for this great achievement was the strong nucleus of about ten boys who spent most of their recess and lunch times practising. Also during the year, the Parents and Friends Association donated two chess clocks which were much appreciated and put to constructive use by the boys.

Early in the year S. Fishwick was appointed as Captain of Chess for 1972, with C. C. Kinsman as Vice-captain. D. G. Aitken was duly appointed as the Captain of the "B" team.

The "A" team consisting of S. Fishwick (Captain), C. C. Kinsman, P. A. Kirkby and A. M. Nyman quickly asserted themselves as the team to beat in the early rounds of the competition and bearing this out with a convincing victory in the Premier Division of the Secondary Schools Chess Competition proved themselves to be the best school boy team in this State. Their victory regained for Hale the title that was last won in 1969. Two members of this winning team deserve special comment. C. C. Kinsman, the school's best player, won all his games but one, which he drew, giving him the best score of all the top players from the other schools. Later in the year he capped off his achievement by tying for equal first in the State Reserves Championships, becoming the youngest ever Reserves champion. P. A. Kirkby was undefeated on the third board, winning all his games with comparative ease.

The "B" team competing in the Secondary Reserve League completely outclassed its rivals and won most of its matches, 4 games to 0, thus earning promotion to the Secondary "A" competition next year. The members of this team were D. G. Aitken, A. A. Klimaitis, J. C. Crawford, each of whom won all his games, R. J. Sharpless and D. G. Farnham.

During the August holidays Hale entered two teams in the annual Boans Tournament for teams of three players. Though both teams weren't able to play at full strength the "A" team finished a close third.

Later in the year an allegro (time limited) tournament was held as a wind up before the presentation of the prizes won during the Inter-School Competition. This allegro tournament was won by S. Fishwick who scored six points out of a possible seven. A. A. Klimaitis scored top points in his category. C. C. Kinsman and D. G. Aitken also performed with distinction.

Results of the Inter-School Competitions.

The "A" team—

- v Hollywood "A" (won) 3 to 1.
- v John Forrest "A" (drew) 2 to 2.
- v Governor Stirling "A" (won) $2\frac{1}{2}$ to $1\frac{1}{2}$.
- v St. Louis "A" (won) $3\frac{1}{2}$ to $\frac{1}{2}$.
- v Mt. Lawley "A" (won) 4 to 0.

The "B" team—

- v Aquinas "C" (won) 4 to 0.
- v Marist "A" (won) 4 to 0.
- v Christ Church (won) 3 to 1.
- v Swanbourne "B" (won) 4 to 0.
- v Governor Stirling "C" (won) 4 to 0.
- v Mt. Lawley "D" (won) 4 to 0.
- v Mt. Lawley "F" (won) 4 to 0.

Semi-Final—

- v St. Louis "D" (won) 4 to 0.

Grand Final—

- v Marist "A" (won) $3\frac{1}{2}$ to $\frac{1}{2}$.

DRAMA

"LA BELLE HELENE"

Unfortunately Hale can only be considered to have played a secondary role in the production of the musical comedy "La Belle Helene". Credit must be given to Presbyterian Ladies College for the major contribution to this production. In fact Hale only decided to join the P.L.C. Girls a month after they had started rehearsals at the beginning of second term.

However this doesn't mean that Hale didn't contribute to the large amount of work that had to be done. Both Mr. E. R. Prince and Mr. B. Harvey helped greatly, Mr. Prince with the lighting and sets and Mr. Harvey with the sets and also assisting with the other details such as tickets and publicity as well as helping at rehearsals. The 16 piece orchestra was conducted by Mr. B. Shaw of P.L.C. who also was present at the many rehearsals.

The only Haleian to play a part was D. B. Pritchard with the other Hale boys being members of the chorus. Of the cast of nearly fifty, Hale students only contributed nine members.

The preparations and rehearsals culminated with the presentation of "La Belle Helene" on two nights, August 18th and 19th in the Old Boys' Memorial Hall. On the first night the house was barely a third full, but on the second night the attendance was nearly doubled.

Once again there was a notable lack of interest from the school body in the production even though free admission was offered to all Hale students. As a result the musical was not the success it could have been.

With an apparent decline in support from the school in the past two years it can only be hoped that in the future more interest be shown in this valuable school activity.

Army Cadets

REPORT

1972 has not been an easy year. In the past, the Monday parades have been considered unrealistic in the military sense and somewhat disruptive for the school. An attempt was made this year to cover all training with one day parades, a bivouac, march out parade and the annual camp, thus doing away with the Monday parades. Unfortunately this scheme has not worked because of the time lag between parades and the difficulty of creating interest, enthusiasm and most of all, involvement. If cadets is to completely fulfil its function, more time must be spent on it and somehow the complexity of life at Hale, especially in relation to sport must allow the Army time. A return to a larger weekly parade is essential and there is also a need for more range practices, as well as preparation for the march out. Emphasis on adventure training will make cadets more interesting and also provide a real link with our work at Wittenoom.

There have certainly been highlights this year and perhaps the most impressive occasion was the March Out Parade, reviewed by His Excellency, The Governor, Major-General Sir Douglas Kendrew. In spite of black weather the marching steadiness and keenness of the unit was first class — the best March Out for many years. W.O.2 C. P. Ayres won the Tobruk Trophy; W.O.1. M. T. Hoar, the Drake Memorial Baton; W.O.1. M. J. Devenish-Meares, the Pace Stick, while 1 Pln. won the Drill Cup for the best platoon on parade.

The four day Bindoon bivouac was beneficial to all and in a 48-hour exercise A Company practised advanced fieldcraft and navigation. It is perhaps unfortunate that setting up and striking camp must take so much time out of the bivouac total. The same could be said of annual camp.

The annual camp was a mixed bag. The rain made the first few days of camp boring for many of the cadets; relieved by the ever-present card games and periodic visits to the canteen. Hut inspections were frequent. Sick parade was a never-ending process, with boys being taken to the Camp Hospital throughout the day and night. Many boys doubtless came to camp suffering from the beginnings of influenza and a large number caught it while there. Some sixty cadets were sent home for this reason from the Hale Unit.

Once out in the bivouac area life became more challenging and interesting. Card games were able to be played freely without fear of being caught. The food cooked by the Hale Catering Section was better in quality and quantity than that provided by civilian cooks back in the hut areas. The inclusion of blanks in the many ambushes added reality and was appreciated by all. The shooting of the blanks at night turned out to be a real riot with both Captains running in every direction trying to catch the culprits. Canteen was banned while we were out in the bush but a steady stream still seemed to make it. Dunny duty was once again the chief form of punishment for cadets who went beyond the pail. Basically the bivouac was fun. Perhaps it is fair to say that only the fittest and toughest of the men in the unit remained and they made the best of things and profited by it greatly.

Shooting has undergone a revival this year, due to the enterprise of Lt. Craig and W.O.2 L. C. Henning. They finished third in the B Division of the Challenge Cup and equal fifth in the Earl Roberts Trophy. This effort means that Hale will be back in the A Division in 1973. Congratulations go to Cadet T. Lowe, who scored the highest overall aggregate in B Division.

The Unit is grateful to its officers, who leave the comfort of their classrooms to soldier with us. To the O.C. Captain Wheeler, who is to enjoy a well-earned rest in civvy street after 11 years in the Unit, we wish the best. His work in administration, training and general discipline has been much appreciated, and it is due to a great extent to him that Cadets has become a major activity at Hale. To Captain Macmillan also go our thanks. He is a tower of strength in the unit and an enthusiastic training officer to B Coy. Lt. Craig, whose enthusiasm and skill in A Coy. is another essential part of cadets at Hale. Our thanks also go to the tireless Lt. Truscott who has kept us fed and clothed, and to Lt. Davies who so ably looked after the sick during the difficult days in camp. No less does the success of the Corps depend upon C.U.O. I. L. McLarty and his fellow C.U.O.'s; to the N.C.O.'s and to the Cadets.

Doubtless the Hale School Cadet Unit is undergoing changes — some like the abandoning of Monday parades have not proven totally successful; but it is a task worth persevering with. Many cadets and some parents seem to "bitch" about cadets; it is true that some seem to stay away from camp for rather obscure excuses; and others fall away in camp itself. But those who stayed — men like C.U.O. P. J. Bedbrook who soldiered on despite very bad influenza — appreciated what the cadets is there for; and they enjoyed it. It would be a pity if the moaners and drop-outs were listened to with enthusiasm.

Dean Williams.

TRAINING REPORT

Monday, 14th February—Enrolments and administration parade.

Monday, 6th March—Old Boys Day. Cadets trained at 10 LH, Karrakatta.

During the afternoon A Coy was given an interesting lecture at 3rd Field Regt.(R.A.A.) and saw a demonstration of weapons. B Coy completed basic drill and weapon lessons.

Sunday, 9th April—Day Boy cadets fired the 0.22" rifle on the Mini Range at Hale. This was mainly to introduce new cadets to range procedures. In the afternoon, members of the Intelligence Section were taken to II Counter Intelligence HQ (Aust Int Corps) for a series of lessons given specially for the HSCU by the staff of II CI. Topics included: the enemy, security checking, air photo reading, role and organisation of Aust Int Corps.

Sunday, 15th April—Boarders fired on the Mini Range at Hale.

Friday, 28th April—HSCU moved to Campsite 3 at Bindoon for a bivouac.

B Coy commenced introductory field training and living in the field.

A Coy completed specialist training in preparation for Wittenoom in second term. Signals established radio communication with units in bivouac at Mundaring. A display of trip flares and pyrotechnics was given by 3rd Field Regt.(R.A.A.). The mortar section had practice on the battle range. The Adventure Training platoon conducted an overnight exercise incorporating an orienteering course and a visit to an underground command post built by 3rd Field Sqn.(R.A.E.).

Monday, 1st May—HSCU returned to Hale.

Friday, 12th May—Corporals' promotion camp at Northam, conducted by 5 Cadet Bde.

Sunday, 21st May—Camp ended.

Saturday, 3rd June—Rifle Range Practice at Swanbourne from 0830-1200.

The following cadets qualified on Stage I Practice: S. A. Anderson, J. F. Bebbington, R. K. Tuckwell, C. G. Gray, J. E. Berry.

Monday, 5th June—Training in the scrub at Swanbourne.

Monday, 24th June—Training at Hale. Preparation for March-Out Parade.

A series of films were shown in the afternoon.

Sunday, 13th August—March Out Parade rehearsal all day.

Wednesday, 16th August—March Out Parade. Review of HSCU by His Excellency, the Governor of W.A. The Platoon Cup was presented to CUO McLarty (1 pln).

Friday, 18th August—Move to Northam Camp. Rain and particularly influenza caused problems. The bivouac portion of the camp was delayed, but three days in the field were held. Demonstration of MII3 Armoured Personnel Carriers was organised by A Sqn IOLH (R.A.A.C.). A.R.A. Staff prepared a display of weapons in current use and conducted a demonstration shoot on the range. Weapons included the GPMG, 9 mm pistol, SMG 9 mm FI, SLR 7.62, M 16 5.56 mm, 3.5 Rocket launcher, grenades and claymore mines. The Adventure Trainers went on a 48 hour exercise to Avon Valley, where they covered 20,000 metres of rough terrain, including a river crossing in assault craft. Cadets also covered the confidence course, run by an instructor of the SAS (R.Aust. Inf). This included learning how to climb ropes. Adventure training candidates successfully completed the orienteering exercise. Senior NCO's fired the OMC range practice.

Friday, 25th August—Camp ended.

RESULTS OF SHOOTING

5 Cadet Bde Challenge Cup (B Division)

Hale School 3rd/14 with 275 points.

Highest aggregate score from B Division was by Cadet T. Lowe of Hale.

Earl Roberts Imperial Cadet Trophy

Hale School equal 5th/24 with 174 points.

Wittenoom

Wittenoom is an area of great contrast. The flood plain of the Fortesque River is situated at the base of the Hamersley Plateau, gives visitors to Wittenoom an exciting view of nature at her best. The stark beauty of this land was studied and viewed with awe, by the fourth form students from Hale.

Within the first week of our stay we visited the main tourist attractions about Wittenoom and included a hundred mile trip to Mount Tom Price. Seeing that the flood plain is flat static and void of natural beauty, the main attractions are to be found on the Hamersley Plateau. Here the land is rugged and scarred by deep gorges. These gorges are somewhat like oases, having the only dense vegetation, if you can call it that, and are the main attraction of the area. Walking across flat, parched ground with clumps of spinifex grafted into its surface and then stumbling unexpectedly across a gorge with all its rugged beauty and bountiful life, is indeed a great experience. It was this very experience that we had time after time.

It was not only natural beauty we were able to observe within the first week, but also the so called beauty that man creates. We saw the scars that he leaves on the face of his earth. The ugliness of a "ghost town", he deserted, left lying sweltering under the sun, slowly decomposing into a pile of formless tin and wood. Also carved, deformed mountains of leaves when he has finished extracting their wealth, like the raper leaving his victim.

These scenes converted some to the cause of conservation.

It was during the second week that we were able to see almost untouched virgin land. With no real man's influence in this country, the raw beauty was unmatched as to anything we had seen previously during our stay. The gorges were deeper, with colours radiating off their sides when they were struck by the brilliant light of the sun. The almost vertical sides of these gorges with often more than a hundred foot drop to their rocky bases, struck far into even the most courageous of climbers.

The main highlight of this time in the bush, was the trip over the "Miracle Mile". At the "Miracle Mile" three gorges, Weino, Hancock and Joffre, all merge and flow off as one, Red. The scenery here was magnificent, with clear blue pools forming a base for the rugged towering red-blue coloured cliffs. These gorges were so immense in size that the presence of people clinging to their sides is like some ant making its way down a forty-storey building. Hanging from these cliff faces in the most precarious positions were small white gum trees, the snappy gums which were able to take the look of uniformity away from the gorges. They not only did this but also they highlighted the gorges, relieving the barren impotent look of the surrounding land.

We were able to feel, observe and travel this vast land while at Wittenoom. And through having these experiences we learned a great deal more than we could ever learn in the square confines of a classroom.

TUCKSHOP

The tuckshop, this year, has had a complete new face-lift. Towards the end of last year the entrance and exit to the tuckshop became serious. There were two queues at each servery with boys buying specific items. The whole of the inside of the tuckshop then became working space for the mothers, but the problem of rate of serving still remained.

Over the Christmas holidays and for a short time at the beginning of 1st term, the tuckshop was completely renovated. There are now two serveries on the east (dining hall) side and one servery on the north (hall) side. These modifications have greatly increased the rate of serving and the overall efficiency of the tuckshop.

The previous tuckshop profits also improved the interior of the tuckshop:— Each servery has a roller door and flywire on all windows; a large centre table for the preparing of lunches; a new freezer; reconditioned two-door fridge; a new electric clock; new curtains; open cupboards around all walls; a new sink with cupboards; and repainting throughout the whole tuckshop.

Mrs. Stewart thanks the fifth year school prefects and House prefects in their controlling of the lines at recess and lunch.

The committee wishes to thank all the mothers involved over the year, who gave up their time over the year to assist in the Tuckshop. Special thanks go to Mrs. Stewart and the perseverance she has with so many hungry boys.

PARENTS AND FRIENDS

The Committee for 1972 was:

Chairman:	Dr. K. C. NYMAN
Vice-Chairman:	Mr. K. G. ROSENTHAL
Hon-Secretary:	Mr. K. M. PESCOD
Hon-Treasurer:	Mr. W. H. BAMFORD

This year fountains for drinking (three) were installed around the grounds. A large sum was donated for the purposes of library equipment, and also for the purchase of musical instruments. The G. Worth sculpture was also installed adjacent to the library.

Clothing exchanges are now held on a fortnightly basis and shelving has been provided in the exchange.

Clocks for chess and a Wittenoom subsidy were also welcome additions to the activities, and it is envisaged that funds will be provided for future purchase of canoes and trailer.

The P and F Cocktail Party to meet the staff was very successful with over 230 people in attendance.

The Dinner on 10th July was also well attended by 300 guests.

The next Cocktail Party is scheduled for the 12th February, 1973.

Chapel Notes

Week-day Chapel services were re-organised this year so that boys attended every week in House groups. This proved a far better system, allowing Houses and Housemasters to contribute to the style and standard of worship. In second and third terms each House in turn was responsible for a service and this resulted in more variety in the services and a far greater degree of participation by boys.

On Sundays the occasional evening Communion proved very popular and recorded modern music was sometimes used instead of a choir anthem but, while innovation is the current ecclesiastical fashion, Hale has stayed loyal to the Book of Common Prayer.

Mr. Cardell-Oliver continued to give loyal service as organist and choirmaster.

Our visiting preachers included Cannon C. A. Pierce and the Reverend P. Broadbent, J. D. Down, H. G. Sinclair, L. Cohen, M. B. Challen, C. Manuel and J. Neale and Cannon K. B. Halley.

The Parish of Wembley Downs continued to use our Chapel for their worship but the building of their own church in Brompton Road is due to begin early in 1973 and it should be consecrated before next June.

The Brian Simpson window was installed and its explosion of colour is one of the most beautiful features of the Chapel.

The School architects are investigating the problem of the building's dull acoustics, which inhibit singing and make the organ so ineffectual, and remedying this will be a major project for next year.

These children were baptised in the Chapel during 1972:

Michael Peter Simpson, William Barclay Keech, Emma Jane Dunstan, Stuart Ambrose Wilkins and Robert John Ambrose Wilkins, David Gareth James, Sally Louis Birkhead, Brendan John Boxhorn, Justin Nicholas Foulkes-Taylor, Alexandra Louise Gidney, David Jeremy Matyear, Annabelle Louise Eyres, Anthony Michael Herbert, David Scott Brown, John Edmund Matthews and Geoffrey Robert Brown.

Married in Hale School Chapel in 1972 were:

Rodney Hugh Thomson and Anne Elizabeth Clarke
Roderick Kim McLean and Denise Gay Wreford
Colin Leslie Bennett and Christine Margaret Morgan
Malcolm John McLean and Shirley Peta Thomas
Hugh Donald Lohar Davis and Wendy May Craig
Graham Phillip Elderfield and Christine Jessica Higham
John Gordon Alexander Owenell and Leonie Zelia Hunt

LIBRARY

"There is now less flogging in our great schools than formerly, but then less is learned there; so that what the boys get at one end, they lose at the other."

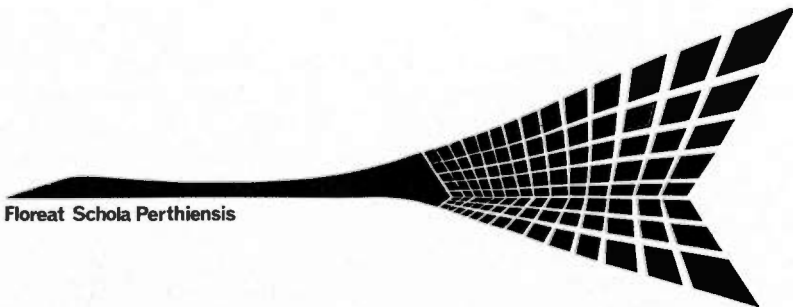

One hopes that Dr. Samuel Johnson's observation has little substance in respect of Hale School, for today more than in any previous era, boys are offered the means to acquire knowledge and to develop their own interests through facilities such as the well stocked library at Hale. Our endeavour here is not to hand material on a plate but rather a more open ended endeavour, one whereby boys are trained to use a library, so that they understand its value, for recreation, university studies, for business, or any other operation where knowledge is required. For again in Dr. Johnson's words, "Knowledge is of two kinds. We know a subject ourselves, or we know where we can find information on it."

The library has been indebted to the mothers who have come in and helped with the processing of the books. This has enabled books to reach the shelves much more quickly than formerly.

A number of new shelves are being added to the library to cater for future growth and to enable us to spread the collection out hence cutting down on the reshelving required. The number of periodicals being taken has been increased, it is hoped that when a reasonable collection has been established, boys might learn to use this very valuable form of publication. The largest undertaking is the conversion of the simple author catalogue to a dictionary catalogue. It is expected that this task will take some two years to complete.

It is felt that in a library at a school such as Hale where there are many links with the history of W.A. that the collection should contain more than the usual range of books associated with a secondary school, and reflect the school's link with the past. To this end, therefore, we would be interested in any material associated with the School or with those concerned with the School, whether it be in book form, photographs, programmes or anything else that might come to hand.

SAD THOUGHTS

The sun was high in the sky and its dazzling rays shone down upon the empty wastes of land. The sea, that at once had covered four-fifths of the world's surface, was slowly sinking and soon would be reduced to nothing. The mountains, once covered in snow and towering up over twenty thousand feet in sheer elegance, were now being reduced by sun and wind down to the surface wastes. This is the world I live in, a vast, treeless, waterless, dead mass of minerals.

I had been one of the lucky ones to escape the "War of Wars", which had raged over the earth's surface for the short span of time in the year 2000. There were not many like me and although I was lucky enough to survive the great war, I was unlucky to be alive in the nothingness the war had left behind. The only thing I could do was to think and the only thing I could think of was the past, for there was nothing in the future.

I can still remember vividly, the war, as it took place about a year ago. At the time I had been living in Australia which was one of the Super Powers. Due to political agreements and peace treaties and alliances the earth as it was then was virtually split in two halves — the communist and non-communist. Nearly every country, no matter what size, had had nuclear weapons and the Super Powers were the ones well supplied in nuclear-chemical rockets. There had been some major disagreements early in the year 2000 and as usual every country joined in the dispute. The dispute deepened and finally all-out war burst out.

Although all-out war had started, millions of people were safe and sound in the deep underground caverns which most countries had built in the event of wars. These underground caverns were just like cities, being well supplied in all necessities, but instead of having blue sky, sun and clouds overhead, there was over one hundred feet of rocks. They were well sealed off from above by a series of gigantic lifts and safe-like doors.

The advent of this war sent millions of people to these underground cities leaving only a few thousand people on the surface operating the weapon stations.

Life went on almost normally and everything was self-sufficient in the underground city (power, water, food was all there in abundance). After three weeks it was detected by the Seismologists that there were no more explosions on the earth's surface and the scientists said it would be safe to venture on to the earth's surface in another month — by which time the effects of radiation would be minimised.

I remember that our only pleasure while down in the cavern was to be had in a few sports and most of all, in exploring the innumerable tunnels which spread a long way in all directions from the city. My greatest pleasure was going on 48 to 72 hour hikes in these tunnels and it so happened that on one of these hikes I got lost. It was while I was still lost that the order had been given to go up to the surface, the scientists saying that everything would be safe. (I found this out on getting back from the tunnels by notices still left on the notice screens). The scientists had obviously gone wrong somewhere and everyone was killed by radiation.

Those first few days alone must have been the worst in my life for I just wandered round not knowing what to do. Of course, I had no worries because of the underground water and food supplies, but the loneliness was unbearable. My first thoughts were that everybody had gone to the surface and that I must have been given up for lost. Of course I didn't realize that no life existed above and it was not until over a month later that I found the control board which opened the enormous doors and worked the lifts.

Reaching the surface had really excited me, but the sight that met my eyes was like a mighty blow to the head and I remember that at the moment I seriously thought about killing myself. Who would have cared? No-one, because nothing but a desert of sand was there to greet me.

From that day to the present I have had nothing to do but think. Is there anybody else who could have survived? If so, where would he be? What would he be doing and thinking about? Is there any hope for the future? It seems as though these thoughts will trouble me, and only me, until I die like everything else.

LIVING

The pitiful pointlessness of it all. The shoddiness beneath the gaudy mask of gaily-coloured lights — the flickering frippery. Domes and arches; windows, walls and pillars: this is but the gleaming outer shell — an empty shell. It is people who must supply the life, but have they life to give? There must be spirit in them yet, but can there be spirit in the blank dullness which is the only bond of kinship portrayed by the varied faces.

Confusion would prevail were it not ignored. There is nothing new — all has been regarded, discarded. Amidst a myriad of signs and barriers, over a dirty floor slouch people who know how to smile with the lips but not with the soul. Noise and bustle are so impotent and continuous as to appear static.

Could these sad, mechanic mortals realize, if they thought about the question, that it is they themselves, not Life, which lack vigour and afford no satisfaction.

To live and not merely to exist one must be at one with all Existence, with Life itself — there must be an understanding and an inseparable bond; one must revere Nature and revel in things natural.

Nature is forever. It has no confines of time and space.

Awareness and involvement are comprehension of Creation.

QUIETUS

I found a ship on a storm-passed beach,
Embedded deep in the sand,
And I scribbled a verse in the salty earth
But the waves washed my words away;
Left the sand and the sea and the sound of the sea
And the ship in the sand in silence.

FREEDOM

Standing there, hands numb so cold,
Eyelids nearly closed,
The wind cold upon my neck
Chilling and snapping at my soul.

Staring out through the window,
Through the outline of bars
I see a light, a light on its own
Brighter, more brilliant than all the rest.

Entrancing the mind resisting arrest.
It jumps and sways refusing to rest
Wicked it seems dancing around
Leading a life all on its own.

For all my life has been in a cage
To know of this thing called freedom
For all my life has been arranged.
It seems freedom has barred another from her gates again.

MOUNTAIN LOOKING DOWN

The mountain glazed with snow infused and enriched with fresh mountain air it alone with the strength to rise above the cluttered plain of self-indulgence gazed down upon its surroundings past the pine forest like a base of green-headed matches and just as volatile after the long drought of neglect one careless strike would leave but smoke towards the town
 built on the delta
 with each individual stream watering its own area meandering completely detached from all the rest while above the air hangs heavy with apathy.

Thoughts drift connecting each other into a timeless sequence of interwoven memories.
 One thread
 however dominates the rest
 drawing the together into a strong resilient web that surrounds me.
 I am caught in my own web of remorse without the strength or the will
 to pull myself free.

A rope is thrown time and time again
 but whether deliberate or not never quite bridges the gap leaving me isolated trapped inside myself.

THE CYGNET

YOUTH RIOT

Child begat of war
mother, then a lonely girl, finding comfort
from the constant shadow of destruction father, a frightened soldier, never known but never forgotten.
A conception of a violent era, of a violent passion.

He struck out at the establishment blaming them for the nature of his existence
Each blow on a helmeted head removed a little of the war from his soul.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

The turnstile clicks
now I am trapped completely surrounded by canned and packaged piles colourful slogans (at eye level) rivet my attention preying only my weaknesses, what I need to survive

Women in hypnotic trance
"saving" money as fast as they can reduced to animalistic grabbings by sales of new improved
special formulated products

Finally I struggle clear with a primitive thought that we still have to fight for our food.

LONELINESS

The child looked around slowly at first, then with increasing speed. He ran this way, then that way, this way again, and back. His eyes opened wide. He felt cold. Sweat was pouring from him. Then, he closed his eyes, screwed them up, opened his little mouth and brought forth a scream. Tears welled up in his eyes, and came flooding over his cheeks. His throat was hoarse from screaming, and then it flooded his brain, he was lost.

It fell. Quietly, gently, with the utmost of grace and beauty, it floated down. A snowflake. Quite alone, quite unique. It fell on its own; never to know of friendship, it was alone.

The young teenager looked out of the darkened room, but into the five-thirty dawn of the Australian summer. It was beautiful. The dark red, violet, then blue. The deep, deep blue. He thought of home. The dark blue of Australian skies, was compared to the light of the S.E. Asian one. The light with its clouds. Seldom is the S.E. Asian sky without any clouds.

It was his first time away, across a vast ocean. He missed his parents and the rest of his family, he was lonely. He wished they were with him right now, sharing the Australian dawn with him.

He looked at the letter. He had read and re-read the letter, but he still couldn't believe it. He looked at his other hand. The ring which he gave her two years ago was there. Re-looking at the letter, he again saw the last word . . . "goodbye!" was all it said. He remembered his past years with her, and now all alone again.

What have these three cases got in common? A group of lonely ones? The lack of companionship, the lack of relations not only referring to humans, but also to innate objects. Snowflakes . . . individuals . . . raindrops. All alone in this world.

I reached up with my hand. It settled there on my index finger. Then in an instant all its beauty, its uniqueness, its grace and perfection was gone! It melted . . . Only a drop of water, a round blob remained. The little snowflake was gone, destroyed.

THE FOX

My name is Philip James Bardell, born in Darwin, Northern Territory on 13th October 1954, which by a slight coincidence was black Friday, and have learnt, being a superstitious person, to be very careful what I do and say.

At the age of thirteen, I was sent to a very posh school in Brisbane, which I hated so much while I was there, but being there only for a short period, I was thankful, because half way through third year high school I was expelled for reasons I'd rather not explain, and then decided to go out in the big world and work.

The only little problem was that I hated any type of work. This little problem grew bigger and bigger as time went on because after a few weeks, living in Brisbane, sleeping anywhere I could find, and with my money situation in a critical stage I had no choice but to find a job.

I got this job as a brickies labourer on a flat site, which was hard work but fair pay; all I did was supply the brickie with loads of bricks all day.

After six weeks of working, which felt like a year, and also the worrying of what my parents would say when I got home, that's if I ever would go home, helped the feeling towards working, so I quit my job with $300 saved up and decided to hitch-hike home.

This wasn't as easy as it sounds, hitchhiking two and a half thousand miles and with a bit of luck, I made it to Darwin twelve days later.

It appeared that I had timed it well because my birthday was the next day. I was going to be sweet sixteen.

God, did I ever get a "happy birthday", welcome home reception when I finally did have courage to go home. My parents tore strips out of me, not because I was expelled so much, but because I decided to stride home ten weeks later — which is fair enough, I suppose.

After a weeks grace, dad started nagging me about getting a job, which was the last thing I was going to do, but to satisfy him I said I'd get one the following day.

I lied to dad that I had a job and was getting fifty dollars a week as a panel beater.

This satisfied him immensely, but not me, because that meant I was supposed to have my own money, which I didn't, and had to get it somehow!

So this was the start of my career . . . A THIEF!

In my little gang there was Rhao Adams, Scully Paterson and Joe Rodemah.

Our main man was Rhao Adams, who had delicate fingers and could open the occasional safe. He wasn't a top class safe cracker, but was good enough for our small gang.

Scully Paterson was our look-out man, and Joe Rodemah was the muscle of our gang. He's got extraordinary teeth, a few missing in front, but never-the-less, he could bend the steel bits back, that held the louvres in — with his teeth; and I was the "Brain" of our little gang. They called me "The Fox", because I was very crafty.

We didn't do big jobs, mainly breaking into food shops for smokes and if any stray money was left in the till we took that also, but rarely did shop owners leave their money in their shops because usually it wasn't insured.

I loved being a thief, with my faithful mates, they were either half-cast or quarter-cast and we worked like brothers.

When we did plan a robbery, we would all wear gloves. I used mum's old church gloves, except for Scully who was the look-out man, and if a cop came or anything looked suspicious he would whistle and we all would scatter in our own direction and just pray you weren't the unlucky one to be chased.

I was thinly built and my face was very boney which made made up a song, which I sang whenever I went. It went like this:

Who ist me
me ist I who ist I I ist me
who ist me,
me ist zee Fox.
Why do you steel to get rich
Why don't you work?
Work ist too hard!

After a year with my gang, I thought we might try something a little bigger, a bit more profitable, like Woolworths supermarket, which I knew had a safe. So on Saturday night after the midnight show was finished, which was at about 2.30 a.m. we went to the supermarket.

After checking it out for about half an hour Joe found the best place to break in, which was a string of louvres near the air-conditioner. This time Joe used a pair of pliers to bend the steel clips back, then slid the louvres out. With our gloves on we all climbed through, except for Scully who was on the look-out outside, under a tree in the park.

When we got inside we then had to break into the office where the safe was. For this we used a crowbar to force the lock.

Then while Rhao was working on the old Chubb safe, Joe and I went down the aisles of the supermarket looking for anything we needed badly, like smokes, also so Rhao could work in silence. Half an hour passed, Rhao was still working on it, swearing and cursing, then finally after sixty minutes in all, he opened it. Was he excited! So was I for that matter.

We were really in luck. There was a bundle of twenty dollar and ten dollar bills, nothing smaller, just waiting patiently to be taken, so that's exactly what we did.

While we were getting out I started to count it, there was well over one thousand dollars. Then I realized we took too much, and this automatically meant the cops would be really out to find us, although we had a good head start on them. That was, that they had to find out who took the money and then to prove they took it.

From there we went down to the beach to split the profits. There was a luscious $2,020 in all.

Scully Paterson got $300, which was good money just for being lookout man. Joe Rodemah got $500, Rhao Adams got $600 and I got the rest, being $620.

We made a deal not to start blowing the money or going on holidays for six months at the least, and if the cops came around to any of our places investigating, asking where you were on such a night, not to involve each other and more important not to squeal on each other if the going got hot.

After that we all went home. I turned out getting home at sun-up, hid my money in the bush behind our place, and then went to my imaginary job as a panel beater, which was the snooker rooms.

I found out the cops had been around Scully's place and Joe's asking questions.

Then three months later Scully was hauled down to the cop station, because some D's who were trailing him all the time caught him red handed buying hundreds of dollars worth of clothes.

They didn't have any sufficient proof he stole the money, but when he was taken to the station they made him admit it by persuasive means and Scully being frightened squealed on Joe and Rhao.

This I thought was a lucky break for me, but I couldn't stop feeling sorry for Scully when he got out of jail.

It turned out that all three of them got six month's imprisonment, while I kept my fingers crossed hoping they wouldn't squeal on me. I had faith in Rhao and Joe but I didn't trust Scully.

From that incident onwards, I, "The Fox", became the "Lone Fox", not trusting to do jobs with anyone, but myself.

THUMBING

Have you ever tried thumbing a ride on a Sunday afternoon? Well if you haven't then don't. It's pretty hard. You'd think that there'd be a lot of cars on the road on Sunday afternoon — the Sunday drivers. Well, that's exactly what they are — Sunday drivers. Big families in their station wagons. They don't stop.

Thumbing's a pretty funny thing. Sometimes, I just stand on the curb and try and picture the type of person that'll pick me up. There's no definite pattern but in general the bigger, richer looking cars don't stop. They probably think I'm going to beat them up or something. Maybe they just don't want to stop. More than likely they are just too lazy. Surfers very rarely stop and give me a lift. It's probably because I don't look like a surfer myself. You know, surfers are the most selfish bunch of guys I know. I surf myself and I'm insanely selfish. I hate every guy in the water unless I personally know him. I hate all the phonies that give the surfers the bad name and I deely love surfing. I probably love thumbing too.

I like watching the drivers as they fly past me. They look in the rear vision mirror to see your reaction. But what fools them is that you smile at their reflected eyes. Those eyes can tell you the whole person's life. Sometimes when I'm feeling depressed I drop my tired arm and look at the day in complete despair—just before a car drives past — sometimes it works — sometimes I'm serious.

I was once picked up by a Yugoslavian floor cleaner. He loved the summer. I hated it. He couldn't understand me when I told him I hated it because of the crowds, the pollution, and all the posers in general. By the fourth or fifth lift (this was after school) I almost had him convinced that summer was a pretty bad scene.

I used to thumb with a girl. Her name slips me for the moment. She got engaged to a guy with a yellow Mitsubishi Colt Galant. I used to thumb and she'd stand behind me with one arm around me and the other holding up my thumbing arm. She's marrying a guy called Oedipus Rex.

I'll always love thumbing. But don't thumb on Sunday afternoons.

COMING THROUGH OR GOING BACK?

I sense something, some premonition of a fate, carrying me forward in the direction of time; progressive. It feels foreign like a wind blowing me along, slowly, because it blows through me partially.

Suddenly I feel as though this is part of my life and always has been. Faith in it creeps over me as vegetation does to a ruin. I know I can trust this feeling and I want it to carry me along and shape my mind and actions to it and be formed by it.

It appears to be my dream, I want to devote my life to it and progress onwards through the chaos of the world with it. This idea sharply defines my way of life and ideas but does not necessarily cause me to live to a formula for life. If I have everything defined and know what my idea is no problem or question can overwhelm me because I am driven by faith in my idea and will not suffer the torment of doubts and finally progress towards some understanding of the meaning of my life.

What is this exciting new feeling that has taken grip of me and blows about my mind showing me new facets of my mind?

I long to be isolated from all external influences so I can be perfect in my ideas at least. I want no other whisper of any other ideology to taint my ideas and spoil my ecstasy and excitement.

But I hear others whispering their thoughts, what are they saying? Should I listen to them or may they spoil my present joy.

Should I listen to every idea at the risk of spoiling my innocent faith and risk being completely deluded and trust my faith and close my mind to new ideas?

LOST WITHOUT HOPE

It was mid-morning, and he was alone in the wilderness created by the malevolent hate of the bald sun. One thought featured place in his brain, with the overbearing almost incomprehensible heat, the memory of a poem

"I can feel the heat in my guts,
The light in my bones"

Living creatures shrank from the heat. Burning, blistering, making every insignificant movement an effort, a trial. Putting one foot in front of the other, consciously planting that infinitely distant, estranged part of his punished body into the withered soil. The sky was blue, the air shivered in the splintering glare of the merciless sun. The horizon disappeared in the inferno of that appalling summer. The sun still rose, the heat was monotonous, and he was an alien in its supreme dominion.

He could not think, but slowly his brain registered that which his eyes saw. A hut, built of metal, stood at the end of a white sand path leading away. A pile of ancient, twisted metal cars, the paint blistered and discoloured by the sun. He plodded towards the hut, his eyes stared, but it was locked by padlock, and there was no shelter: The white path was hypnotic, goading, it must lead somewhere, but where, and how far. He knew he must cling to the uncertain hope it gave him. He lurched on to it, and his feet ached with its heat.

A man swam into his vision, white hair and immaculate clothes, and spoke his name. He acknowledged the man.

"Morning Sir".

JUNIOR SCHOOL Notes

House Masters: MR. R. C. SWEET (Rosier), MR. R. J. HOLMES (Turnbull), MR. L. J. RICHARDSON (Davy), MR. D. A. ORR (Walker)

House Captains: D. RECHICHI (Rosier), R. YONG (Turnbull), C. YATES (Davy), C. CICCHINI (Walker)

Vice-captains: R. DYMOCK (Rosier), A. FARMER (Turnbull), I. EVERETT (Davy), S. PARRY (Walker).

Classes resumed this year at the Junior School with Mr. M. W. Mill as Master in charge of seven classrooms. With Grades 1 and 2 being broken into separate classes, Mrs. J. L. Hills joined the staff as Grade 1 teacher. Mrs. Hills has shown her worth both in teaching and encouraging her class.

We also welcomed Mr. B. C. Harvey as the Junior School band and Music master. His ability with instruments and his friendliness with the boys has kept the band at a very high standard.

We also thank and farewellled Mrs. M. Wapnah for her sincere work with Grade 2 during Term 1, while Mrs. E. A. Campbell had leave of absence to have her baby.

Congratulations to Mrs. E. A. Campbell and Mrs. R. J. Holmes on the birth of their respective babies, Matthew Campbell and Paul Holmes.

Mr. Sweet again bore the brunt of the difficult role of teaching part-time in Grade 7 M and teaching all classes General Science and Physical Education. The General Science programme is progressive through the entire Junior School.

During the May holidays a party of 30 boys under the supervision of Mr. and Mrs. Mill and Mr. Sweet undertook an 11 day educational excursion to New Zealand. The group visited both islands, spending seven days sightseeing in the south and then four days in the north. Highlights of the trip were, in the South Island, a launch cruise on magnificent Milford Sound, a trip up into the snowfields at Queenstown, a visit to Benmore Hydro Electric Scheme, and in the North Island, visits to Warrakei Geo-Thermal Project, the Maori Village and Maori concert in Rotorua, and Waitomo caves. The trip was most educational and enjoyable. It was for the boys an experience that will never be forgotten.

During the year many alterations and improvements were, or are still in the process of being made to the Junior School. The new building joining the Grade 3, 4 classroom will house two classes in a cluster teaching situation. There is also provision for a band room, an art room, a silent area and a new sports store, the former one continuing the corridor. The new building will be brightly coloured for the teaching areas, and this augurs well for the Junior School in 1973. The former band room will now become a projector room.

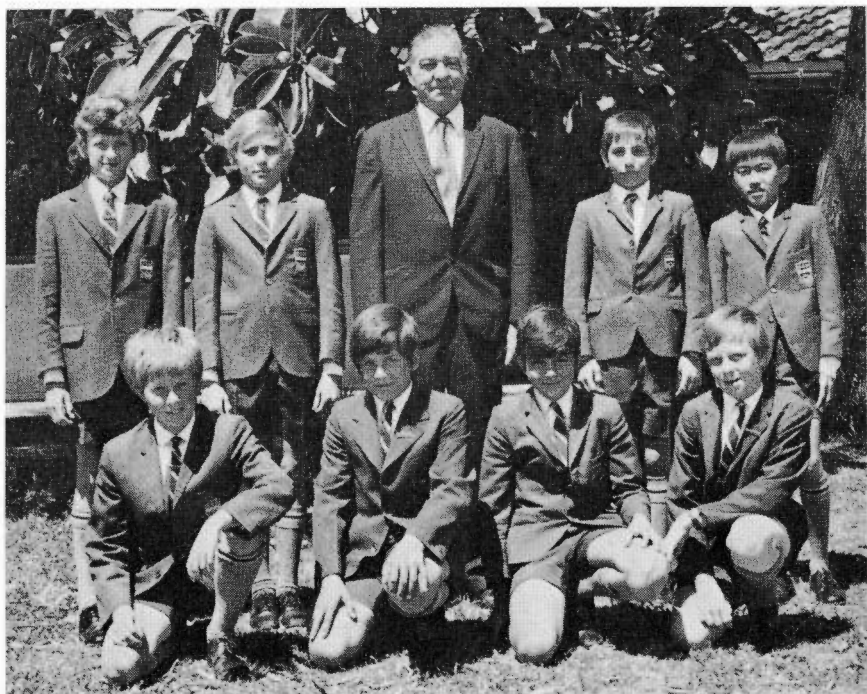

The tuckshop's profits once again fortified classrooms with teaching aids and also sporting goods. Sincere thanks go to Mrs. Georgiades for her capable management and marshalling of the ladies on roster. This year, in addition to many classroom teaching aids, such as maps, library books, charts and cards, the tuckshop has purchased a reading laboratory, several "Totem Tennis" sets and two malthoid cricket pitches, which will no doubt raise the standard of Junior School cricket.

In early October, the ground staff completed laying grass on a semi-circular amphitheatre. This is situated on the senior school side of the two grade seven classrooms, and renders a new entrance to the Junior School possible. The amphitheatre has the natural look about it because of the 100 odd wildflowers and shrubs planted that surrounds it. It is particularly useful in drama and speaking, while being a valuable asset for concerts, as will be proven this year. Our thanks go to Mr. S. McKenna and his staff for their fine efforts on this project.

Once again the Junior School raised money for various worthy institutions, including Save the Children Fund, Salvation Army, and the Silver Chain. Yet possibly the most outstanding effort must be credited to Grade 5 for their contributions to Telethon. David Roberts of this class nurtured the idea of a lapathon around the 400 metre oval. Each boy from the class obtained as many sponsors as possible and on Friday, October 25th, the Lapathon was held during lunchtime. Proceeds totalled just over $180 and for one class of 31 boys this is an excellent effort, and a credit to the school.

Each class went on several educational visits throughout the year. The Grade 1 class with Mrs. Hills, went on several science excursions, including City Beach, and Perry Lakes, where the boys fed the ducks.

The Grade 2 class visited the Fremantle Maritime Museum. Woolcombers, a pine plantation, where they saw all facets of pine trees being grown, some beehives, and Wescobee Honey factory. On Foundation Day, Mrs. Campbell drove the class through town and into Barrack Street where the first foundation stone was laid.

The Grades 3 and 4 went to the Fremantle Maritime Museum where much of Fremantle's shipping history was displayed, Woolcombers, and a pine plantation and Mills and Ware's biscuit factory.

The Grade 5 class, accompanied by Mrs. Haskett toured the Port of Fremantle, in association with a geography project; the National Safety Council premises, where they saw and individually practised road safety on the Council's bikes, and Fremantle Maritime Museum.

Mr. Richardson and the Grade 6 class went to the Fremantle Maritime Museum; Robbs Jetty, where they viewed the complete processing of the export meat works, and Bunning's Timber.

The Grade 7 M, with Mr. Sweet, visited the Fremantle Maritime Museum; ICL Computers, which proved to be very interesting seeing sections of computers, and Beatty Park, where Princess Margaret and Lord Snowdon watched swimming championships.

The Grade 7 H, with Mr. Holmes visited the Fremantle Maritime Museum, ICL Computers, Beatty Park to see Dan Rechichi and Neil Brookes compete in swimming championships before Princess Margaret and Lord Snowdon and the Bodeguero Stud Farm at Wooroloo, where after a barbecue lunch, they saw the Spanish Andalusian horse Bodeguero perform. Many thanks go to Mr. Williams for his hospitality.

All of these excursions were of great educational value.

To conclude the year, the Junior School, in the final week of school, hired a launch and went to Rottnest for the day, having a picnic lunch there and playing a wide variety of games.

The Junior School this year held its speech night in the new amphitheatre. Each class presented a segment of singing, and many thanks are extended to Mrs. Garland for her time and effort in producing a wonderful Junior School Concert.

HALE SCHOOL 11 DAY TOUR OF NEW ZEALAND

MAY, 1972

(by SHANE WAGNER)

In the first term holidays, Mr. and Mrs. Mill and Mr. Sweet accompanied 25 boys on an educational tour of New Zealand. Excitement ran high as this group left school on the 10th May with the thrill of 3,500 miles jet flight to Christchurch in the following 12 hours.

Prior to midnight, group assembled at Perth Airport.

At 12.04 a.m. departed Perth, bound for Melbourne. Due to excitement, very few of us slept. Crossed Australian Bight doing a speed of 610 m.p.h. at roughly 30,000 feet, in an Ansett Boeing 727.

5.15 a.m. E.S.T. Arrived Tullamarine Airport after an enjoyable trip. Had breakfast at airport. Spent two hours viewing this enormous terminal.

8.30 a.m. E.S.T. Walked across to the Astro-Jet Building a quarter of a mile away and went through this spacious and well laid out building.

Midday E.S.T. Left Tullamarine bound for Christchurch on QANTAS flight 350. The plane, a Boeing 707, reached an altitude of eight miles. As we passed over New Zealand's coast we began descending and had a good view of the mountains — the Southern Alps. These were snow capped.

5.25 p.m. N.Z. time. Arrived Christchurch. Went through customs and were transported by our coach driver to fine hotel rooms. Had evening dinner and went straight to bed.

12th May — Had breakfast at this lovely hotel. Toured Christchurch. The Avon River runs through this city of 260,000 people. Saw beautiful snow capped mountains as we left on our way to Ashburton (13,000 people) and continued south to the port of Timaru (30,000 people). Had lunch. Travelled westwards to Mt. Cook. En route saw hydro electric station. Unfortunately did not see Mt. Cook as it was too misty. Returned to Omarama Motel for overnight stay. Had lovely tea and went to bed.

13th May—Breakfasted and left for Te Anau Downs via the Lindis Pass. Had lunch at hydro electric station at Roxborough —fantastic sight. Continued on to Te Anau Downs for evening dinner and overnight stay.

14th May—Left Te Anau en route to Milford Sound. Saw beautiful snow capped mountains reflected in the lakes. Stopped at Cascade Falls where we first actually touched snow. There were snow fights galore. Great fun. Coach continued to Milford Sound through the world's fifth largest national park called Fiordland. In this park there are some 23 peaks that are over one mile high — the highest being over 9,000 feet. Entered Homer Tunnel, which goes through a mountain with a steep descent of gradient one-in-20. At the Sound we boarded a boat and cruised over this beautiful waterway from which we viewed the famous Mitre Peak — 5,560 ft. Returned to Te Anau Downs for dinner and overnight accommodation. Had choice of going to bed or having fun in a hall at rear of Motel.

15th May — Awakened to below freezing temperatures — had breakfast and left for Queenstown via glorious Lake Wakitapu, which is 52 miles long, 5 miles wide. This lake was caused by glacial action and in places it is 1200 ft. deep. It rises and falls unexplicably three to four inches every five minutes. Queenstown is at the northern end of the lake silhouetted by high beautiful snow capped mountains. The population of 1700 people rises to 25,000 during the summer season and then all hotels and motels are booked out. At the northern end of the town there is a gondola-type of chairlift which took us up 1500 ft. to a restaurant at the top. Returning from this trip we were allowed to "shop" in Queenstown — prices were steep. Booked in at motel called "Bottle House" — named because the booking office was made of bottles in a lovely pattern of all different shades. Had tea and retired to our electric-blanket beds (sure needed these in this place).

16th May—Breakfast, then toured to the Coronet Peak Snowfields. Unfortunately did not reach summit as result of heavy snowing. As the bus was turning around it bogged so everyone hopped out and raced up the mountainside knee deep in snow, although there were only about two inches of snow on the road. Whilst we had this fun Mr. Mill and the bus driver struggled to free the bus out of the slippery ice and snow. Turned successfully around and returned to Queenstown, where we warmed ourselves with extra hot showers. Following this, travelled to Arrowtown — 13 miles away, where we had lunch. This was once a goldmining town. After lunch had great fun at the river. Returned to Queenstown for dinner and overnight at Mountain View Motel.

17th May—Rose early, 7 a.m. Had breakfast, boarded bus for the 250 mile trip back to Christchurch via Lindis Pass, Tekapo on the shores of Lake Tekapo. In a 19 mile radius around this district there was heavy snow — all the fields, paddocks and roads were completely covered. This was surely a glorious sight—just like one imagines Norway and Sweden.

Arrived in Christchurch about 5 p.m. Went to a special old stone building called "The Sign Of Tekaha" where we had tea. At 7 p.m. departed for port of Lyttelton via a tunnel. At 8 p.m. boarded boat and said goodbye to the Superb Outstanding Unique Tourist Haven Island (South Island) of New Zealand and set sail for Wellington on the S.S. Rangatira — lovely new ship — had two berth cabins. Most slept well.

18th May—Arrived at Wellington Harbour, North Island, at 6.30 a.m. Met by representative of Midland Coachlines and transported to city for breakfast. Left Wellington en route to Rotorua leaving Levin and Lake Taupo. This lake was formed when a volcano erupted there in 150 A.D. shaping what is known as a crater lake. It is 28 miles long, 19 miles wide and 1,000 ft. above sea level. Passed a pine forest which was planted in order to provide work for men during the 1930's depression. This forest, covering some 300,000 acres, is the biggest man-planted forest in the world. There are two paper mills in New Zealand which can cope with 25 tons of wood every four minutes. Even at this rate, the forest is still growing faster than they can cut it down.

Reached Rotorua and booked in at Boulevard Motel. Went out to a delightful restaurant for tea. Returned and some of us had baths in the lovely hot springs — then gladly went to bed— This had been a very long but nevertheless enjoyable day.

19th May—Breakfasted in Motel rooms and then toured Rotorua. Enthralled with geysers, mud pools, Maori Arts and Crafts Centre and the famous Rainbow Trout Springs. Had lunch in the 'Tiki' restaurant and went to the museum and park. Returned to motel and hot baths. Two hours later had tea and left for the Maori Concert at the Travel Lodge. We watched highly skilled Maori men and women perform original Maori dances including a fascinating display of Puia dancing. Returned to Boulevard Motel and went to bed.

20th May—Rose and breakfasted and travelled via Putaruru to Otorhanga, to Waitomo where an inspection of the limestone caves was made and also the famous Waitomo Worm Grotto. Waitomo is Maori for "water beneath the mountain". Found these to be an exciting group of caves with delightful interior lakes on which we had a boat trip viewing the famous glow worms which radiate a luminosity caused by their waste products burning up in the last two segments of their bodies.

Had lunch and continued on to Auckland where we arrived at 4 p.m. Booked in at the Meadow Court Motel. Had showers and some of the older boys played "pool". Went to bed at 9 p.m.

21st May—Rose 7 a.m. N.Z. Time. Had breakfast and went on a city sight tour of Auckland (population 650,000). Viewed Mt. Eden which is an extinct volcano and has a height of 649 feet. Returned to our motel for lunch. Left for Auckland Airport arriving at 2.30 p.m. and most of us went duty-free shopping until shell to take home.

Boarded an Air New Zealand Douglas DC 8 — flight 879 — for Sydney. Arrived Sydney at 5.30 p.m. E.S. Time and waited 4½ hours before we caught flight 69 for Melbourne, aboard a Douglas DC 9.

Arrived Melbourne at 10.15 p.m. E.S.T., where we were quickly moved into our waiting plane for Perth, on flight 266, a Boeing 727.

Arrived at Perth at 12.03 a.m. Western Standard Time and our enjoyable holiday was over.

OLD HALEIANS ASSOCIATION

FLOREAT SCHOLA PERTHIENSIS

OFFICE BEARERS, 1972

President: T. H. SHARP
Vice-President: F. A. BIRD
Treasurer: I. DUNSTAN
Secretary: R. A. HALL

Committee: J. B. COX, H. I. E. HALL (resigned), J. A. WILKINS, R. REID, B. GOODRIDGE, W. J. IRVINE, T. W. RILEY, S. G. SCOTT, J. B. GREGSON, D. FOULKES

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

Gentlemen,

I have much pleasure in reporting to you the events of the year to date of publication of the Cygnets concerning the Old Haleians' Association.

FINANCE:

This year Ian Dunstan has been in charge of your Association's financial affairs. Basically of course our investment of life membership funds has not altered but your committee is always on the look-out for investments giving a higher return than those at present, but of course subject to these being of the highest order of security.

As far as the day to day running expenses of the Association are concerned (and these are always on the increase) the Treasurer and the Secretary together with the committee keeps close watch on these.

MEMBERSHIP:

While the slow but steady flow of life membership continues, the annual membership however is of quite some concern to the committee and to our secretary in particular.

At the present time it is an extremely variable number and many annual members fail to keep up their membership consistently. It would be pleasing to see these persons become regular instead of occasional annual members.

It is true that at this stage there are few benefits that a member of the Association has in comparison with his non-member fellow Old Boys. In future, however, it is likely that when an Old Boy seeks special consideration from the school with regard to late enrolments in particular, non-membership of the Association may exclude him from such preferential treatment.

Generally the committee is looking for ways and means of making membership more attractive to Old Boys as it appears that the aspect of joining the Association to keep close ties with the school does not carry the same weight these days, when many people are seeking value for money.

SOCIAL:

The social sub-committee with John Wilkins as convenor has worked very hard and John can feel justifiably pleased with the outcome of our functions to date. John himself has put a tremendous amount of time and effort into running the social side of the Association.

Old Boys day 1972 was very well attended and the refreshments served at the pool were well patronised. Conduct of the younger members (which has been causing concern in recent years) was generally good, apart from one incident. Matron turned on her usual excellent luncheon which was enjoyed by those present.

In the past, everything which the committee has endeavoured to organise on Boat Race Day has been in terms of number, anything but a success. This year a record number viewed the Head of the River from the good ship "Panta-Rei" and that evening, the younger Old Boys and their friends turned up in droves to a cabaret organised by John and his sub-committee at the Floreat Forum Hall. Indeed it was a most successful day.

Although only 92 members attended the Annual Reunion Dinner held at the Regency Room, the attention of those present was held by a most interesting address by our guest speaker, Sir Charles Court. The committee also invited as its special guest, Pat Trouchet and Gra Rosser, who have both given a great deal to the school as Old Boys. Gra was overseas at the time, but Pat was able to attend. We hope this idea will be continued through the years.

The Winter Sports Day saw Old Boys' teams competing against the School in Hockey, Football and Rugby, with all teams doing well. For the first time in a few years, the weather was kind to us.

The Golf Day was held again at Karrinyup and while not attended by large numbers, was a success. The Country Dinner at Northam was poorly attended but those who stayed overnight enjoyed Lance Bushell's hospitality at his farm the following day where he had organised a barbecue and keg.

The Annual Dinner-Dance was held this year at the Riverside Lodge Motel and was attended by approximately 180 people. A ladies committee consisting of Carol Wilkins, Dorothy Clarke, Sylvia Foulkes and Carol Stawell worked extremely hard to make this a successful function. The champagne cocktails at the beginning of the evening ensured a great night.

"THE OLD HALEIAN":

Despite increasing costs which of course are unavoidable, John Cox has with little assistance ensured that the standard of our magazine and newsletter has been maintained at the highest possible level.

John of course is always looking for ways to improve the magazine and would appreciate any news of Old Boys for inclusion.

OLD BOYS DAY:

As many of you are no doubt aware it was suggested by Dr. Tregonning at our last Annual General Meeting that this be held on the Wednesday of Royal Show Week. The headmaster put several very cogent reasons for the change and those present at the meeting seemed to agree.

A notice of Special General Meeting will be sent to all financial members calling for a meeting to approve the alteration of date of the A.G.M. to the Wednesday of show week.

PERSONALIA:

I would like to mention the work of our secretary Rob Hall. We have been fortunate that Rob agreed to take over the reins as secretary from Nevin Ferguson. It is a time-consuming and thankless task and Rob to date has only agreed to do it for the year. We hope he may change his mind, but nevertheless his successor will find all matters highly systematised and easy to comprehend.

Rob's brother, Tony Hall was elected to your committee for the current year. However setting up practice as a consulting geologist has caused Tony to resign, and whilst we regret his decision, we wish him well in his new venture.

In conclusion I would like to thank the Old Boys Association for the opportunity of serving as its President for the current year. My thanks and gratitude are expressed also to all members of the committee for their present support and for the manner in which they have carried out their allotted tasks. I thank also all past presidents and members of the Board who have given up their time to attend our committee meetings.

T. H. SHARP,
President.

We report to the Members of the Old Haleians Association (Inc.) that in our opinion the Balance Sheets as at 31st December, 1971 and the Statement of Income and Expenditure for the year ended on that date, are drawn up so as to give a true and fair view of the state of the Association's affairs.

In our opinion, the accounting records examined by us are properly kept.
