As almost every person associated with Hale should know, this year, Australia's bicentenary, sees the retirement of Hale's long serving headmaster, Doctor Tregonning. The bicentenary has seen Australians looking back on what has been achieved since the humble beginnings of 1788. Hale should similarly use the occasion of the headmaster's retirement, to look back on what Hale has achieved and maintained since 1967.

The retention of the Junior Certificate examinations at the end of Year 10 has Hale standing alone. Hale declined to use the Achievement Certificate or the Unit Curriculum. This school has attained an outstanding percentage of tertiary positions, which can in part be attributed to this retention of the goals of hard work leading to competitive examinations. In turn, this retention can be attributed to Doctor Tregonning because he was a strong supporter of the idea. With this good basis, these percentages should be upheld in future years.

In addition to seeking academic excellence, Hale encourages participation in a wide variety of other activities requiring co-operation and enthusiasm. Sport at Hale is strongly encouraged and this has led to a good standing in the PSA competition. The last few years have seen the resurgence of Hale as a real force in athletics. This coincides with creditable placings in almost every sporting field from squash to cross country. Debating, chess, drama and music and art have also been a vital part of life at Hale.

Sporting achievements are the showcase for all the PSA schools. Hale's proficiency, together with other factors can be related to the forward bookings into the 21st century and waiting lists until 1997. Despite this obvious demand, numbers remain small which allows a close school community. The P and F Ladies Auxiliary, the recently established Hale Foundation and the Old Boys are all key factors in Hale's strength.

In retrospect, it can be concluded that Doctor Tregonning shouldn't have any qualms about the school he is leaving. This is because the traditions that are so important in the history of Hale School will remain. The school has maintained its excellent standing in Western Australia and Australia. Captain of School, Shane Cassey summed up the retirement of the headmaster thus:

"Doctor Tregonning's retirement sees the end of another chapter in the history of Hale School," but what a chapter it has been.

Tony Eyres, Year 11 Wilson

Many Australians look back with pride at 200 years of settlement in Australia's Bicentenary Year, 1988. A small percentage of these Australians, the young and the old of Hale School, may well do the same by looking back at 130 years of Hale School.

As these 130 years have passed, Hale has encountered many different eras, and 1988 brings to a close the Dr K.G. Tregonning era. Twenty two years is no mean feat as a headmaster and Hale will be saddened by the loss of a man with so many outstanding qualifications and credentials.

Australia, the "no worries, she'll be right mate, have a 4X," country has strived for perfection since the day it was settled, 26th of January, 1788, by Captain Arthur Phillip. From the very first convicts to the children born in our birthday year, most Australians have set goals at the highest of achievements, perfection. Even though most Australians endeavour to reach this goal, only a very select few have achieved perfection in their line of life. People such as the great Sir Donald Bradman, master of batting in the cricketing world, are those who have been able to achieve the highest level in their field, but bear in mind there are only a few. Many Australians aim for these goals but not all of them are able to "guide the ball between the two big sticks," but there is the fighting spirit in most Australians to have a go.

So too has Hale strived for perfection since the day it was founded back in 1858 by Mathew Blagden Hale. From Mr L.S. Elliott, the first student at Hale in 1858 to the boys destined to attend Hale in coming years, there has, and always will be, that fight to try and achieve, not only in the classroom (academically) but also on the sporting field. Hale being the smallest school in numbers in the whole of the P.S.A. provides plenty of scope for the development of comradeship between both students and staff. This comradeship builds the grit and determination shown by all involved with Hale.

Hale has produced many great people with high ideals in their chosen fields, from state premiers, of whom Hale has proudly produced six, to test cricketers and doctors (a field for which Hale is renowned for producing prominent members).

So as the years pass and Australia starts the countdown towards its tri-centenary in the year 2088, I sincerely hope that the people involved with Hale in another 100 years can be as proud of the high level Haleians reach and are as aware of the Duty they owe to their school and country.

Captain of School's Report

The strong school spirit that has been a tradition of Hale school since its foundation in 1858 was once again evident in 1988. All boys have combined well over the year, and this has allowed for the optimum level of performance in all school activities to be achieved.

Dr Tregonning, who has been an integral part of Hale school over the last 22 years, will be retiring at the end of 1988. This brings to an end an era in Hale school history and the beginning of a new one. Dr Tregonning has worked tirelessly over the years to make Hale prosper and become the great school that it is. I know everyone will join me in wishing him and Mrs Tregonning a happy retirement.

The beginning of this year saw the appointment of the successor to Dr Tregonning in Mr John Inverarity. His outstanding qualities will be a benefit to Hale School, and Hale will no doubt prosper under his leadership.

The Hale school tradition is exemplified at Old Boys Day. This year saw a record number of Old Boys attending. This interest displayed by former students is a benefit to the present students to know that they are being watched and supported.

An important part of Hale school is the combination of both scholastic and sporting activities. First term is dominated by sporting activities, which allow boys to strike up friendships with others, which will be beneficial for the terms to come.

The 1st V Basketballers continued to show Hale supremacy in that sport. The closest any team came to them over the season was 35 points. They easily won the Blackwood Cup for the 5th consecutive year and with the talented younger players in the team all looks set for a successful future.

As always the swimmers showed grit and determination to give an outstanding display at the Inters. However, a strong Christchurch team proved too strong and Hale finished a very creditable second. This second place in the swimming was to be an ominous sign of things to come.

The 1st XI cricket team, led by century maker Justin Williams, was to go down in the last game by 2 runs. This loss robbed them of any chance of winning the Darlot Cup and they were forced to settle for second place.

The 1st VIII tennis team, without the stars of the previous years, was to display an enormous amount of determination to also finish in equal 2nd place. In the last game of the season against the favourites of the competition Wesley, they had a tremendous victory and the contribution of the younger players in that win makes next year's season look promising.

The 1st VIII rowers produced good early form and were considered to be in the top three. Unfortunately their form fell away at the end of the season and they finished 5th at the Head of the River Regatta. The rowers show what dedication is all about by their many early morning training sessions.

Hale again had mixed fortunes in the winter sports conducted over terms two and three.

The 1st XVIII football side was the dominant team early in the competition and was looking for a win, but a reversal of form after the vacation break in the middle of the season was to see them lose the last four games. Even with this they finished in equal second place.

The Cross-Country team were the big improvers this year, finishing in 4th place. With the many younger runners coming up, cross-country at Hale, is looking for bigger and better things.

The 1st XV Rugby side had a disappointing season which saw them win only one game and finish in seventh place. The team faced much larger sides and had no answer to this.

Soccer in its second year at Hale made a dramatic improvement and with greater numbers and support next year will be able to compete competitively against the first teams of the other schools.

Athletics is the major sport from the end of term three and into term four. Hale has been rapidly improving over previous years and everyone was looking forward to that elusive 1st place. However, in one of the closest competitions on record the Hale team displayed nerves at the business end of the day and made a couple of costly errors in the relays which saw them finish in third place.

This has been a list of successes of the first teams, but these successes would not have been possible without participation by all boys in a wide variety of sports.

At Hale School there are many extra curricula activities students can participate in. The idea of participation is very important for the success of any school.

Early in second term approximately 140 boys took part in the annual school play. "The Bishop's School", the story of Hale School from 1858 to 1872, was superbly written and produced by Mr Hopkins. The play allowed boys to display artistic talents which may never have been discovered without this opportunity. Along with the actors were the band in the pit and the backstage crew who all combined to produce a magnificent play.

Hale again took an active part in the Red Cross Appeal in first term. Hale has been a great supporter of the Red Cross and this year raised approximately $7000.

An activity at Hale that has been gaining continued support is debating. The talented first team achieved the best result of a Hale team since 1981 in the W.A.D.L. Schools Competition. With the likes of Frank Tenji to come, Hale debating is in for some more exciting seasons.

A very dedicated group of chess players were to represent Hale successfully this year with them winning the State Allegro Schools Cup. Hale has some very talented chess players such as Jason Field, who is the State under eighteen champion at 15 years of age, and Frank Tenji who is the State under sixteen champion.

In the last week of second term a group of year twelve students went to Rottneest for the reafforestation programme undertaken by Hale for many years. Some 2000 trees were planted and other activities undertaken in the hope that the Rottneest landscape will benefit.

The Wittenoom excursion continued for year elevens again this year. This two weeks is character building for all boys which is beneficial for their later lives. Wittenoom's success depends very much on those involved in organising it and in particular Mr Sonntag, who was the resident master this year.

The foremost social event of the Hale calendar for years ten, eleven and twelve would be the Prefect's Dance. This occurred in third term and was a successful evening enjoyed by all. Special thanks to the Prefects for their work in organising the event.

This year Hale students participated in many trips both interstate and overseas. The rowers in early second term went to Hong Kong for an international regatta; The 1st XVIII football side, accompanied by St Mary's hockey and netball teams went to Melbourne to compete against St Leonards of Melbourne and Scotch of Adelaide in the Interstate Carnival. As always this was a great success and enjoyed by all. A group of French students went to France for four weeks and this trip will greatly assist their French studies. A trip to Expo in Brisbane was organised for any students wishing to participate by Mr Alderson during the last vacation of the year.

House sport which continues throughout the whole year is vital for comradeship among the prospective members of each house. Haynes won the Cock House Cup for the second successive year and also won the House Debating Competition. Parry was successful in the House Chess Competition.

The Hale School Gym, which is nearing completion, was the major construction project this year. The translating of the idea of the gym into reality has been the work of Dr Tregonning. He has also been responsible for the raising of funds through the Foundation. The gym will be a great asset to Hale School and will be beneficial to all students in the future.

The work of the Masters and administration staff is one reason behind the success of Hale School.

Participation by staff in all activities leads to a strong relationship between staff and students which enhances school life and individual development.

In concluding I would like to thank Dr Tregonning, staff and in particular Mr MacMillan for their support and help over the year. The students of Hale must be congratulated on their efforts this year and in particular the prefects. To the year twelves I would like to wish them every success in the future, and to those returning in 1989, have an enjoyable time in your years remaining at Hale

Dr. K.G. Tregonning

Although Kennedy Gordon Tregonning is not the longest serving Headmaster at Hale School, he has certainly had an influence on more young Haleians than any other Headmaster. The longest serving headmaster was Mr Faulkner who was at the school from 1889 to 1944. Dr Tregonning took up the position on the 1st February, 1967, some six years after the school moved from West Perth to Wembley Downs.

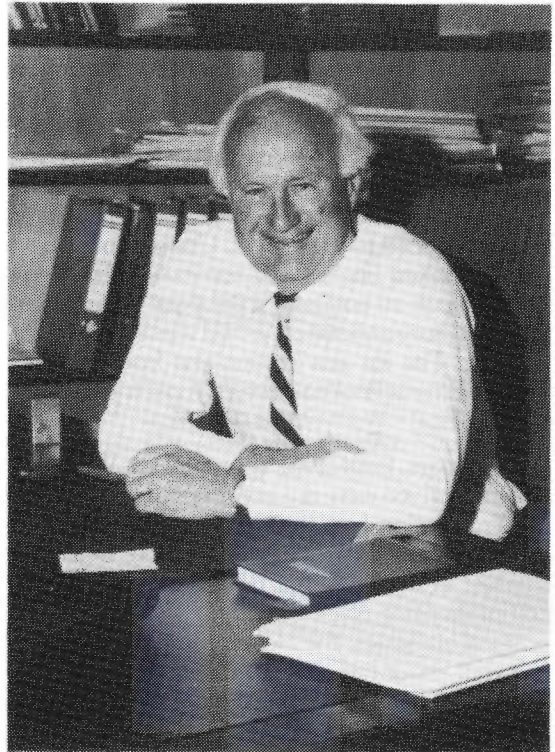

The most important decision for the future a governing body of a school makes is the appointment of a headmaster and the school is indebted to the Governors responsible for appointing Dr Tregonning.

From the time he arrived, the school has made great progress in our education system and we are all very proud of its reputation today. As board chairman for the last five years I have worked closely with him and while the Governors are responsible, under the Hale School Act 1876-1958, for the school and to determine broad policy, it is the Headmaster who will make or break a school during his term of office.

Dr Tregonning has lived the past twenty two years totally for Hale School and its boys. I know that he would be prepared to walk over burning coals to help any one of them. I have seen him elated whenever boys have done well and more than concerned or worried whenever they are in trouble or have not made the grade.

Among his many talents and attributes I have also been conscious of his outstanding contribution to education, the calibre of the teaching staff he has attracted and his firm approach to discipline within the school, tempered by sensitivity and a deep affection for the students. He has certainly not shirked making difficult decisions when necessary.

I am reminded of the observation by G.E. Stuart at the end of Dr Tregonning's first year at Hale when he wrote:—

The Headmaster Dr K. G. Tregonning

"Dr Tregonning, with his quiet and unassuming manner, has earned rather than commanded a great deal of respect from the boys, and holds a position in their regard of which any headmaster would be proud".

In this regard nothing has changed over the years and the board members, parents, staff and students are very much indebted to him and at the end of the year we wish him and Mrs Tregonning many happy years together and our thanks for a job well done.

*Mr M.S. Gregg
Chairman, Governors of Hale School*

Dr K.G. Tregonning MBE 1967-1988

When Dr Ken Tregonning became Headmaster of Hale School in 1967 it was a case of a Haleian returning to Hale. We had known of Dr Tregonning's academic and sporting achievements when he was at Hale, we knew he had served in the RAAF, had obtained an Arts degree at the Adelaide University and had later lectured there in History. He had gone on to Oxford where he obtained a Bachelor of Literature and later had a degree of Doctor of Philosophy conferred upon him. We knew he was coming to us from the University of Singapore where he had been the Raffles Professor of History but we knew nothing really of the man. At his first Assembly in 1967, a silence fell over 600 boys as the new Headmaster was introduced to the school. Unused to his new role he looked uneasy and somewhat shy at the sight of such an audience. He began by telling an amusing story and soon the Hall was echoing with laughter. The ice was broken and from that day onwards the school has been a most friendly and happy place.

The years from 1961 (our first at Wembley Downs) to 1966 were not easy ones and since 1967 Dr Tregonning has steered the Hale ship into calmer waters. He has kept the school small (the smallest in the PSA) but he has created a most comprehensive place of learning. At the risk of praising ourselves, the Headmaster has gathered fine staff about him. Talented and dedicated, the staff have been fine contributors to this many sided school and they have been encouraged by Dr Tregonning to get on with it, to initiate, to implement. Their ideas have been utilised by the Headmaster and they have been keen to work for Dr Tregonning and for the betterment of the school. The Headmaster has maintained the conservative nature of the school and the traditional curriculum has been emphasised. Hale boys still sit the Junior Exam and through the years of the achievement certificate, Hale pressed on teaching for example Physics and Chemistry (rather than Science) and History and Geography (not Social Science) to our year nines and tens. As well as demanding academic excellence (and results have been first class) Dr Tregonning has been tremendously interested in the less able and has inspired all boys to do their best. The creation of a very strong House system would probably be the Headmaster's greatest achievement. A sense of belonging not only to Hale but also to one's House (seen in House sport, chess, debating, drama and charity collections) provided a link between students, Housemasters and Headmaster which is one of the strengths of the school. The magnificently exciting and unique Wittenoom adventure is for many the highlight of their school days. Set up by the Headmaster in 1970, Wittenoom remains great outdoor education, a superb two weeks in the Hamersley ranges.

Dr Tregonning has built the school up enormously. Guided by astute Boards of Governors, he has seen built in his time the Chapel, the Newbury science wing, many extensions to the Junior School, a new library, N and L block classrooms, a Music Centre, Fitness Centre, Computing Centre, extensions to the Hall for drama, new tennis courts, more recently superb Boarding House extensions and now the fast finishing Gymnasium. As well as improving our facilities, Dr Tregonning has been vitally interested in all aspects of the sporting and cultural side of Hale. Way back in 1967 he told his secretary not to book appointments for him on Wednesday and Friday afternoons. On these days he and his trusty dogs walked the school grounds, watching, barracking and encouraging. In his time Hale teams have done very well (the eighteen Inters swimming victories stand out) and he takes great pride that all teams are coached by our staff — there are no outside coaches. His support of music, drama, chess, debating, Rottneest re-forestation, cadets in earlier times, Cygnet and indeed all activities, has been tremendous and boys recognise his genuine interest in their efforts.

The Headmaster's contact with, and the gentle bringing together of all the many folk in the Hale community has been cleverly done. His relations with the Board, the Old Boys, the P & F and Ladies Auxiliary and office, ancillary, maintenance and ground staff, has been very important. His quiet friendly approach has made Hale a happy school and all of us have responded to his dry wit and his humour. Over the years the quality of the Hale boys, their manner, their friendliness and the way they present themselves is a tribute to Dr Tregonning. He has disciplined with love, he has had to punish some but he has been very fair and most compassionate. In his quiet way he ensured that no boy, boarder or day boy, was denied his opportunity at Hale when financial difficulties arose.

This year the Foundation has been his major interest. The Headmaster has worked extremely hard to guarantee the independence and financial future of Hale and, though he will not be at the helm, he will see the benefits when we welcome him back in the years to come. The enormous value of the Foundation has not only been the money raised but also the bringing together of all parts of the Hale family. Just as independence is the key to the future, so is Dr Tregonning an independent man. On many issues he has gone it alone, and while occasionally he has had his critics, no one can doubt his love of Hale, nor his belief in Hale and its students. A record number of Old Boys paid tribute to him on Old Boys' Day and at the recent Old Boys' Dinner. In the same way he has engendered pride in the school by demanding boys look him in the eye and give a firm handshake when receiving an award. He may look back at his time at Hale with the same feeling of achievement.

Throughout his Headmastership Dr Tregonning has received the support of his wife Judy and the school has benefited from Mrs Tregonning's contribution in so many ways. A whole generation of boys have seen the best possible example of a husband and wife team working together for the common good of a community that is more like an extended family. We all wish Doctor and Mrs Tregonning everything they would wish themselves in the years to come. At the excellent 'Boys leaving school' Chapel service (where he too was also a leaver), Dr Tregonning spoke of the happy and sad aspects of leaving. Like many who leave school, the Headmaster will miss Hale and in the words of the song from the school play, we say 'Goodbye, good friend, Goodbye'. Often school-boys cleverly capture complex thoughts and emotions in simple statements and so we can only echo their chant of 'Well done Doc!'

Interview with Dr Tregonning

Q. How long has your family been associated with Hale and how did this come about?

A. A cousin of mine, Jeff Leyland, came to Hale in 1929 while my two brothers and I were attending Christ Church Primary School. My eldest brother, was the first Tregonning to attend Hale. This followed the move by my father, a doctor, from Claremont to West Perth where Hale was situated in 1933. My father returned to Claremont but my elder brother stayed on at Hale and my twin brother and I went on to Hale after finishing at Christ Church in 1936.

Q. How was your school life and did you ever think you would become Headmaster at Hale?

A. It could have been a lot better. My father died as I was finishing primary school. This led to my mother withdrawing into herself and leaving me with no grown-up guidance. In addition teachers at Hale at the time were mainly survivors of the Great Depression. Then in 1939 many left for World War II. The school had no established house system or available pastoral care which I could have greatly benefitted from.

When I left school I had no definite idea of what I wanted to do except that I did not want to be a doctor as my father and brothers were. I vaguely wanted to be a writer and liked History. I also enjoyed my sport, as did my twin brother. He was captain of cricket and football and I was the captain of swimming and athletics. My eldest brother was an outstanding sportsman as well. He captained the State hockey team and I was captain of the State rugby team when we were all at Adelaide University after the war. This showed our love for sport, but as far as hard work was concerned, that came later.

Becoming headmaster of Hale was not in my wildest dreams and I had never thought of it. I had not even thought of teaching after attending Adelaide University where I obtained a first class honours degree in History and Political Science. My first job was as a reporter for the 'West Australian' before I accepted a scholarship to Oxford University.

Q. How did your taking up of the position of headmaster come about?

A. I was a Professor of History at the University of Singapore where I had been living for fourteen years, and I thought it was time to come back to Australia with my wife and five growing daughters. It just so happened that I received a letter from a friend suggesting that I apply for the Hale headmastership. The position had become available following the resignation of my predecessor under rather controversial circumstances at the end of 1965. I saw this as a chance to return to Australia and so I did. I think I was very lucky to be appointed as I didn't know a great deal about schoolteaching.

Q. How does Hale School in 1988 compare with the one you left as a student and also when you started as headmaster?

A. Hale in West Perth only had 300 students and we had no playing fields of our own when I was there. A solitary boarding house existed containing 40 boarders and the school buildings were very small with only one science 'Laboratory'. Despite this the school had great spirit. We only played Australian Rules Football in winter, with cricket, swimming, rowing in summer and athletics in 3rd term. I think that when I came here as headmaster in 1967 I was very fortunate because there were three or four staff who had taught me as a boy and they helped me a lot. I recalled all the things that I had thought were weaknesses of the school as a boy and I tried to strengthen it for boys who had problems like myself. There were many objectives I tried to achieve and I worked to a five year plan which I extended each year.

Q. What have been your proudest moments as headmaster of Hale? What will you probably remember in years to come?

A. I have had so many delights over the last 22 years that I have spent here. I think the introduction of the Wittenoom programme was one of the most exciting projects that I have undertaken. The programme originated from my idea of searching for an educationally valuable adventure camp that allowed the boys to mix with staff. Mr Lang Hancock mentioned to me that he was disappointed with the lack of field work experience that geology graduates he was employing had. He suggested sending Hale year 11 geology students to Wittenoom and I expanded this to a wider usefulness to all year 11s. Wittenoom has been running since 1970, for 19 years. I wish all of one Year could go "bush" for a whole year, but as it is, Wittenoom has been great to all.

Another proud moment was being able to keep the Junior Exam rather than the system adopted by other schools, with the full support of the staff. The Junior provides a solid background to year 11 and 12 studies. I believe it leads to such a large university intake from Hale even though it is a bit soon to be asking students to choose subjects. But at least they do study real subjects, of some intellectual strength, and not the mish-mash offered elsewhere.

Also I am rather proud that hardly any staff member has left Hale to work at another School. Some have gone into business, or moved interstate, and used Hale as a ladder, but only one or two have moved to another school. Quite a compliment.

Q. Which subjects do you think should come to the fore in the near future?

A. Undoubtedly Asian languages should be introduced soon, particularly Japanese, as I think we are behind the times already. There will be an increasing use of computers in all subjects and they will be used as a tool like a pen is now. I wish we could offer a lot more, and allow a very wide choice. I feel compulsory subjects should be English Literature and Maths only.

Q. How well prepared is Hale to enter into the 21st century as a private school considering the present education system?

A. I have serious reservations about the present education system Australia suffers. However I think Hale is very strong with a great respect in the community. We have received forward bookings until 2003 and waiting lists until 1998. I think it makes you very humble to think what is expected of you. There is an ever increasing proportion of parents who want to send their children to private schools even though they themselves did not have a private education and some even teach in government schools. People are spending their money on an education and school fees rather than on cars and perhaps boats. It is not hard for private schools to exist with a terrific demand from people wanting to come in. I think we try and make boys into responsible adults, and this is what parents want.

Q. What do you plan to do in your retirement?

A. I haven't many ideas but I have been asked to write a book, about the fourteen exciting years I spent in Singapore for University Press; so I will do that to start with. I've also had some vague ideas of working in a political 'think tank', or a small research centre but I suppose I'll hang around here and watch a few games and perhaps write a bit more.

Q. What ambitions do you have remaining in life?

A. I would like to take up flying again but that is very expensive and my wife would probably stop me. I would like to be the oldest man to sail round the world by himself, but I will have to wait for a few years to do that. I still want to sail up the Swan River and put the Hale Flag on top of the Guildford Chapel, I've planned that for a long time. I would need a few supporters to get away with that . . . one day!

And I'd love to see Hale win the Inters again.

Headmaster's Address

Speech Night December 1988

Your Grace, Mr Chairman and other Board members, Distinguished Guest, Ladies and Gentlemen.

This is the 75th anniversary of the University of WA and so it is of particular pleasure to welcome its Vice Chancellor, Professor Robert Smith. It gives Hale the opportunity to recall how 75 years ago Mr Gregg's early predecessor as chairman of the Board of Governors, Mr Hackett, his Grace's, Bishop Riley, and mine, Mr Faulkner, were three of those most involved in the establishment of that university. If Tom Meagher is here tonight, as he should be, his great grandfather, another great Old Haleian George Randall, was another, while Walter James, the Premier who gazetted 9,121 hectares of land for a future university, yet another.

So on this occasion, 130 years after Bishop Hale started his school and 75 years after the University of WA began, Professor Smith, may we both take some satisfaction at progress made, and hope for the sake of the young and curious who crowd our portals, that our successors will serve them well.

They face a daunting challenge. You have your own challenges, Professor Smith, and good luck to you. Here in the secondary field after numerous reports — Beazley and McGaw to name but two — grown men and women have fashioned a fiasco and given their blessing to mediocrity. To qualify for the university, a basic goal of this School, a most complicated exercise is needed. It is open to abuse, and where simplicity and clear objectives should be the aim, and where hard work should be encouraged, we struggle to satisfy conflicting objectives that should never have been brought together.

The Year 11-12 programme was designed to do two things. Keep all students at school; and enable them to qualify for tertiary studies. These two objectives are not compatible. They should be separated. Two widely different objectives can never be reached by going along the one road.

To give but one example. You are required to "study" six so called subjects for your secondary graduation; but you qualify for tertiary studies on the average of three. So of two students, one who scored 76, 76, 75; then 50, 45 and could not be bothered to sit the sixth subject, and one who scored 75, 75, 70, 70, 70 and 70; who qualified for Commerce at University of WA? The first. The hard working conscientious student misses out while the slack student wins the reward.

Many of the "Non TEE subjects" so called that have been introduced in order to keep boys and girls at school are virtually anti-educational, mere child minding devices that we regard with contempt. The unit curriculum is full of them and we take no part in it. But they exercise a dangerous overall effect, of dragging down standards.

The goal of keeping students longer has been achieved, but more learn a lot less. The goal of preparing them for tertiary studies has not been achieved. Gresham's Law prevails in education as elsewhere. This remains badly in need of review and revision; but rather than by yet another theorist, far better it be by educationalists with experience of the practical problems and dedicated to lifting standards to levels that are worthy of respect, and attainable by all who are prepared to work. This we may never see.

We send more boys to the UWA than any other single Institution. I hope we may continue to be proud of this achievement, but it is difficult to be proud of the mess education in Western Australia has created. With the spectre of a national curriculum creeping over the horizon from Canberra, an even worse scenario is appearing.

This is my 22nd and final Report to you, and you could excuse me perhaps if we surfed through the evening on a wave of nostalgia, but I much prefer to look to the future, while feeling happy that despite all the disappointments and even at times disillusionment that inevitably is part of this position, I have been with a team of staff that has produced, as The Australian called us recently, one of the finest schools in Australia; one with scarcely a vacancy this century.

It is a distinctive school with certain characteristics that stand out, united in pursuit of a few clear goals and objectives.

Our vision has been to try and create here a moral society, with boys and staff, working voluntarily for the common good. Inside that moral framework our major goal is to give boys a rich and rewarding collegiate life while preparing them for tertiary studies in particular. Almost alone in Australia we still study subjects in the Middle School as discrete disciplines, we have maintained our examination system, and we expect boys to react responsibly to our demands that they strive for the best in them, in work and in play.

Another word for responsibility is duty, and having this concept willingly accepted, could be seen as an ever continuing basic task of this School. Not teaching Maths, not winning football matches, not even moving on to higher studies, all of which we do well, but producing boys as responsible youths, morally sound and conscious of their social obligations: this is what a school such as Hale is all about, and this is why duty is its motto.

It shares that task with you, and indeed if we as Australians are to maintain our pride in our country and its institutions, then it is a national objective as well.

At the school level it is our task above all to produce boys who, (whatever their abilities and disabilities), have made the decision to work and live their lives responsibly. The far goal is one where the moral element of a school is such that a boy becomes so responsible, so close to Christ, that chapel and classroom are one. But to achieve that we need not just to know the School motto but to live it, and not just the boys, but all those involved with them. At Hale there would be 99.9 per cent of boys who very happily have accepted this responsible attitude to work and to life's commitments and who are a credit to all, but I fear the community acceptance is far less. An irresponsible community, or any section of it, gives us graft, corruption and a breakdown still at it worst seen outside Australia, but creepingly obvious here too.

Archbishop Temple, headmaster of a great English public school and then of Canterbury, once said "the spiritual side of human nature, the capacity for friendship and devotion, is best trained by the life of membership in a society. No instruction or religious study can take the place of this. As the personality begins to develop it requires some society of which it may be a member, other than the home on the one side and the State on the other."

We have such a society, a community whose demands are accepted voluntarily and willingly by all who belong. Long may it work its magic.

Shane Cassey, our captain, has reported on the great days we have enjoyed together this year. May I interrupt by saying how very difficult it is to select a School Captain? 120 boys: who is to lead the School? Donald Bradman summed it up. Here is how he described Cassey and all his Hale predecessors. "When considering the stature of an athlete, or for that matter any person, I set great store on certain qualities which I believe to be essential in addition to skill. They are that the person conducts his life with dignity, with integrity, courage and perhaps most of all, with modesty. These virtues are totally compatible with pride, ambition and competitiveness." That's Shane to a T. I speak to you merely as the representative of this society, this School, of whom the most important people are the boys. I applied for this position when a professor of History, because I recalled my own happy days here and — an odd memory on which to base a career decision — I remembered as a prefect supervising the playtime of youngsters in the Junior School, and seeing them safe across the road at the end of the day.

In all simplicity, as you mothers know, a boy is a beautiful thing, and to hold the hand of a trusting child, as I was privileged to do, is to walk with God. I have never forgotten that I am His servant, and have endeavoured always to live and to act as He would have us, in a most responsible way in all matters affecting your son.

As Tagore said:

I slept, and dreamt

That life was joy.

I awoke and saw

That life was duty.

I acted, and behold,

Duty was joy.

And so we come to the end of another joyous and crowded year of fulfilment for so many. As the chairman has told you, great achievements were made, in buildings begun, projects initiated, and a much greater awareness of a Hale community created by the establishment of a Hale Foundation.

But one of the most exciting developments he has left for me to announce, and that is the establishment of the Dr John Boyd Craig Scholarship. This will — each year — be awarded to the Dux of Year 10 based on the Hale Junior Examination. It will pay his tuition fees for the next two years, years 11 and 12. Its object is to encourage academic excellence; and indeed it is a marvellous scholarship to strive for and win.

I would like to briefly mention each name segment in the Dr John Boyd Craig Scholarship; for each has significance.

"Doctor" because John was the first Craig to attend the University and qualify; "John", Captain of School in 1936; "Boyd", his mother's name, the mother who encouraged this country boy to try his hardest to matriculate and who herself as President of CWA and many other public ventures showed her sons the importance of service; and "Craig", one of Hale's great families, with so far four generations here, including Leslie who lost a leg at Gallipoli, a former chairman who secured this wonderful site and who negotiated with the government for the sale of Havelock Street and our move here.

Now may I thank all who have shared with me this year and the duties I have endeavoured to fulfil? I must thank the boys, in some incredulity, for their tolerance of me, and for all their great efforts. I must thank all the staff, for they are a school's greatest asset, and together we have shaped here a fine heritage, enlarged it to a wider usefulness and served well your sons.

But particularly I must mention the Deputy Headmaster, Mr Alastair Macmillan, Mr Mike Shearer the Director of Studies, and the eight Housemasters, Messrs Greenwell, Hopkins, Biddle, Lange, Colgate, Thomson, Kelly and Gray for their dedicated pastoral care of the 600 boys in their charge.

But none of the 60 odd staff are leaving, all have done a great job, and as they are giving me a farewell dinner on Monday I must thank them all; which I do, most sincerely.

There is one other I would wish to mention, so may I for the first time, publicly acknowledge the debt I owe over all these years to my wife?

I know no other mother who without sons of her own nevertheless through excitement and nervousness for 22 years has gone without dinner on the night of the Inters Swimming; nor do I know of another who has sat with her husband from 12 to 5.30 p.m. on a hard wooden bench at every Inters Athletics, and been as eager in every race as she has been. She has been the fiercest supporter and picked the gutsiest players — of so many Hale Saturday morning games, enjoyed every play in this Hall, remembers so many names; has consoled me in disappointments, tried to comfort me after those wrenching decisions that are forced on headmasters, encouraged me to stand up for what is right and proper and for what I believe in; kept the ideal of responsibility when others on whom I had counted had renegged or rejected it; and as well, no blind admirer, told me when she was sure I was wrong. She has given me a safe and secure home and brought up five loving daughters.

I fell in love with her when she was a 16 year old St Hilda's girl, in Year 11, and I was back from England after the war, discharged from the RAAF, and on holiday at Rottneest. I took her away from her happy home and her many friends, back to a lonely Oxford; and then Singapore, and after 14 exciting years there, here to Hale.

When I was courting her, to use a very old fashioned phrase, there was a popular musical, "South Pacific". Only you oldies will know it, but one of its songs still reminds me how it all began; and although a swan song, such as this last speech, is not intended to be a love song, I hear it still, for it runs "One enchanted evening, you may see your true love across a crowded room; then go to her side and make her your own, or all through your life you may dream all alone."

It was one enchanted evening, I did go to her side, and we have been together ever since.

It has been a wonderful life for me here at Hale, thanks to your sons who have kept me young and filled me with warmth — I hope I hold still the trusting hand of a child — and I leave you with many regrets, oh so many regrets of dreams not realised and hopes not achieved; but I go too so very happy that I will share my life with the woman who above all has made that life and whose contribution to the Hale of today, so little known, I here acknowledge.

Thank you, Goodbye.

1988 Valedictory Speech

Almost five years ago, most of you before me made your first, somewhat reluctant appearance at Hale School. After struggling through year eight, under the domineering eye of the 5th years, we all wondered if we would ever make it to where we are today.

The boarding house system of discipline seemed archaic but soon brought us into line and the traditional "homesickness" was eventually overcome. But who will forget John Goyder's desperate attempt to overcome his "homesickness" by escaping home on the bus only to have his parents drive him straight back the next day.

"Daygos" were seen as the best way to relieve stress and tension and hence the cry "daygo bash" became quite common. This initial segregation was shortlived and an alliance between all members of our year has since been maintained. It was also this same comradeship which has been responsible for our successes, as a group over the years.

As we continued into years 9 and 10, the appearance of some individuals altered quite drastically. It appears that they will be remembered in Hale's history for their hairstyles and dress. Distinctive members of this group include Murray Limmer, Ian Hope and of course Kent Turkish.

Speaking of haircuts, the staff of Hale School have certainly had their moments over the past five years. Mr Graham Lange has shown us what $26 and a few rollers can do to your hair. It is still an improvement on his previous "communist" cut. Other notable members must include; Mr Young, Mr Mumme, Mr Welsh, Mr Jordan and more recently, Mr Alderson.

Five years have seen quite a number of staff members come and go. The departure of Messrs Bairstow, Dean, Towers, Hockenhull, Eyres, Panarese, Hoar, Gibbon and of course Reverend Davis, have all been a great loss to the school but their shoes have since been filled by such arrivals as Messrs Welsh, Bean, Mumme, Pengelly, Thomson, Lange, Dook, Maetam, Green, 'Rambo', and Reverend Eccleston, who have all proved to be assets to the school.

This year will see the departure of our headmaster, Dr Tregonning who has, for 22 years, guided Hale's every step. I can only hope that his last five years have been as memorable as our own and on behalf of all, I thank him for his invaluable contribution, and wish him and his wife a happy retirement.

Over the past five years, we have seen the positive results that have arisen thanks to the Board of Governors. They have provided many valuable assets, such as, the new L-block, new tennis and basketball courts, changerooms, a weights centre, renovated boarding houses and are in the process of providing us with a somewhat belated gymnasium. Their actions are well worth praise and will benefit Hale and its students in times to come.

Our year group has had its successes in nearly every department and our dominance of such areas as swimming, football, basketball and tennis has been formidable. Hopefully this year, our athletics will take us one place higher than last year, to give Mr Greenwell and others, the prize they have fought so hard for, and so richly deserve.

There have also been many individual champions with the likes of Shane Cassey, Craig Ryan, Brad Hitchcock, Craig Dickson and Andrew Johnson all going on to represent Western Australia in their respective fields. Such distinctive representation, is an honour of which Hale can be proud.

Wittenoom is considered by all as the most rewarding and enjoyable two weeks at Hale. Barriers between students and teachers were broken and a great many events will be remembered by all, in particular Dane Birdseye, who became lost returning from Junction Pool, as did Simon Lowe and Adrian Anastas. Mr Campbell's subtle cries of "get your gear off" failed to see him score with one of the local ladies, and group nine left their mark at bushcamp as Bill Keech set fire to the spinifex and burnt down most of the hill.

1988 began with the appointment of both house and school prefects alike. As always there are the disappointments as many loyal students feel they were overlooked. Shane Cassey rose well to the appointed task of school captain and has performed with undying dedication all year. The prefects and remaining 5th years are also to be congratulated for their conduct during the year.

The T.E.E. is only just ahead, as our teachers constantly remind us, and I wish all the members of my year well for their exams, what little good it does them, and hopefully the results they desire will be received.

As the less pleasant memories of 5 years of cross country and athletics fade, we will find that we will remember Hale for its happier times and the friends we made. I hope that contact can be maintained, both with Hale and our peers in future times.

We will leave here tomorrow, to move on; and the initial joy that we feel will no doubt be tinged with a little sadness as we reflect on the truly happy times that we have had here.

I.S.C.F. (Inter-School Christian Fellowship)

It was a quiet year for Hale's I.S.C.F. group with rather irregular lunchtime meetings. I had several water polo trips and in my absence the group did not meet.

However, there is a strong nucleus of committed young Christians in the school. At our final 1988 meeting where I shared some of my Olympic experiences we had a solid attendance of boys from years 8 to 12.

I am keen to meet weekly throughout 1989 and I pray that those boys who want to share some fellowship with other Christians will come along.

This year has been very quiet for the St. Mark's chapel with no boys being admitted to receiving Holy Communion as in previous years. Reverend Eccelston took over from the long serving Reverend Davis this year and some aspects of the running of the services were changed. A major change was the reinstitution of chapel services for all day houses. They were held on Thursday mornings following Mr Hopkins and Buntine House who began them last year.

Buntine

Housemaster: Mr J.G. Hopkins.

House Captain: J. Viner.

House Vice Captain: A. Lilleyman.

House Prefects: C. Marshall, M. Jorgensen, T. Meagher, S. Love, B. Boxhorn, C. Blakeney.

School Prefects: J. Viner, A. Lilleyman.

1988 was a great bicentennial year for Buntine. Although Mr Hopkin's ambitions for the Cock House Cup faded during the year, he provided tremendous encouragement for the house in all school activities. He was brilliantly supported by a talented year 12 group, led by John Viner.

In summer sport Buntine did extremely well. The cricketers were captained by Chris Marshall and had another excellent season. With a strong team they successfully defended the E.F. Parker Cup, remaining undefeated. Next year with a weakened team Buntine will have to fight to win the cup for a record third time in succession. Stuart Love led the tennis team to a much improved third and they should do even better next year losing only one player. The house performed well in basketball under Brenton Peirce, even though it lacked year 12 players. Volleyball, Teeball and Baseball also gave the basketballers support and Buntine finished a creditable fourth in the Sholl Cup.

After the disappointment of 1987, everyone worked hard over the summer and Buntine pulled off fourth place in the Interhouse Swimming Carnival. This was a great effort considering we finished only behind Haynes, Riley and Parry who had between them nearly every swimming star in the school. With our year 8s and 9s doing really well, the house has a promising swimming future. Cross country messed up our Cock House Cup hopes when we finished only seventh. However if the points system for this event had not been changed from last year, we would have won.

Winter sport for Buntine was up and down. The junior and senior hockey teams both did very well, again. Led by Michael Jorgensen they could not quite hold onto the Hockey Cup and finished second. However we went down in the house football and finished seventh overall. Chris Marshall hardly played a game and the seniors were led by 1st XVIII champion Brendon Boxhorn along with the gutsy Chris Blakeney, Tom Meagher and John Viner. Tom Meagher also took the house rugby team through to the second round, one better than last year.

Buntine tried hard in the athletics but again did not do well. There were a number of outstanding individual performances, one of the best being

John Viner's incredible run in the open 400m to blitz the field and win. Unfortunately the team lacked depth and dropped batons in the relays allowing us to finish only fifth.

Off the sporting field Buntine again did well in debating to finish third.

A large group of year 12s from the house also gave up some of their time in collecting for the Red Cross Door-knock Appeal.

Buntine captain John Viner capped off a great year for the house when he was named "Dux of the School". We would like to thank all the year 12s and finally our inspiring Housemaster Mr Hopkins for their dedication in 1988.

Faulkner

HOUSEMASTER: Mr R. Kelley.

ASSISTANT HOUSEMASTERS: Mr K. Morrison, Mr R. Goater, Mr R. Murdoch.

HOUSE PREFECTS: Q. Brown, S. Massey, L. Inverarity, J. Fidge, M. Knight, W. Roy, B. Wallwork, A. Benson.

HOUSE CAPTAIN: N. Faulkner (House Captain), Q. Brown (Vice House Captain).

SCHOOL PREFECTS: N. Faulkner, Q. Brown.

1988 saw the opening of a new renovated Faulkner House which meant a change of life style and some changes in tradition for the boys of the house. However the change did not hinder our results in the sporting and academic fields and boys performed extremely well as is expected from Faulkner House.

The appointment of Nigel Faulkner as House Captain proved to be a good decision as he has guided the house well. Nigel has been able to do this with the aid of the other eight prefects who all showed great leadership qualities.

The Inter-House Swimming Carnival saw a drop from fourth position to sixth position this year. However we did score the same amount of points and other houses improved. All our early morning training was not in vain because we did take the Inaugural Boarding House Trophy donated by Mr. Nunn. The Cricket was played well and a fourth position was obtained by the members of the team.

House Rowing saw valiant efforts all season but with the position of fifth being the result. The rest of the summer team games included Baseball, Teeball, Basketball and Volleyball. They had mixed results with the best being a first place obtained by the Baseball team. Faulkner managed to come sixth in the Sholl Cup overall.

The senior Football had an extremely rewarding season and managed to play in the finals. However the Parry team proved to be too strong and we had to settle for second position. The junior Football tried just as hard but had to settle for sixth. The hockey contingent came sixth in the senior competition and fifth in the junior competition. However they came very close to doing better as they tried hard and only just lost the last few vital games.

The Cross Country was a good opportunity to do well because of the new points scoring system. We trained hard and came equal second with Wilson House. As usual Faulkner did well in the Inter-House Athletics competition and equalled last year's position of fourth place. We all put in the effort and did extremely well in the relays.

The Faulkner House debating team tried hard but came up against experienced day houses and were knocked out of the competition in the semi-finals. The shooting competition was a great success and Faulkner took the McLarty Cup for the second time.

Once again the Faulkner tuck shop performed well and managed to gross over one thousand dollars this year. Last year's profits bought a cold water fountain for the house and this year's profits will buy something equally useful.

Another year has been completed successfully, largely due to the organisation and encouragement of Mr Kelley, the assistant housemasters and the year 12s.

Haynes

HOUSEMASTER: Mr G. Lange.

HOUSE CAPTAIN: S. Cassey.

SCHOOL PREFECTS: S. Cassey, B. Zempilas, M. Simpson.

HOUSE PREFECTS: S. Cassey, B. Zempilas, M. Simpson, D. Baker, K. Turkich, B. Hewitt.

1988 developed into another very interesting and successful year for Haynes House. The year began with M. Simpson, B. Zempilas, K. Turkich, B. Hewitt, D. Baker and S. Cassey being appointed as House Prefects. We would also like to congratulate M. Simpson, B. Zempilas and S. Cassey on their selection as School Prefects and particularly Shane who was appointed to lead Hale School through the year. With such a force of leaders, we knew the year would be successful. To those who were not appointed with such honour, we thank you for your support and for the example you set for the younger members of the house throughout the year.

The year began like any other in the water, and Haynes did well to regain our supremacy in the pool. With Captain of swimming Craig Ryan leading the way with an incredible 24 second swim, we managed to win 3 of the 4 trophies up for grabs on the day, including the G.N. Altorfer Cup for champion house.

Competition for the Sholl Cup was fierce with Haynes only managing to scrape into third position. Special mention must be made of the senior basketball side and the T-ball team, both of which ended up in front of the opposition.

The tennis players ably led by our illustrious leader Shane Cassey, performed extremely well in finishing second in the Haswell Cup. We wish we could say the same for the cricket players, but the Parker Cup was just out of their reach this year. They finished a disappointing last, and are hoping to improve on this result next year.

The rowing team trained hard this year and improved its placing from seventh to fifth. Hopefully this upwards trend will continue in 1989.

Haynes performance in the cultural activities this year was also very encouraging for the house. Many boys were involved in the school play, and the house debating team bounced back from a first round disqualification to defeat Riley in the final. The side consisted of Basil Zempilas, Damien Baker and Michael Brown.

The winter sport season proved to be one of mixed success for Haynes House. The senior football team was full of budding young talent but was hindered by a string of injuries to key players. Lacking the experience of our 1st XVIII players who were often unavailable to take part, the side finished in fourth position. The juniors tried hard all year without success, only to defeat Loton in the final game and snatch seventh place. Both senior and junior hockey players were inspired by the guidance of the 1st XI team members, and gained first and second positions respectively. As a result, Haynes won the Brine Cup, and this augurs well for the future.

House Cross Country day was held prior to the winter season this year, and in good running conditions the house finished a creditable fourth.

With the events for the Cock House Cup drawing to a close, it was vital that Haynes performed well in the final competition — athletics. Following weeks of intense training under the guidance of Captain of athletics Shane Cassey, the day went well and the house retained the J. F. Hantke Cup. Thus for the first time in Haynes history, victory was assured in consecutive years in the Cock House Cup.

Many thanks to the Housemaster Mr Lange, the school Captain Shane Cassey, the other House Prefects and the enthusiastic members of the house. Their keenness to succeed ensured Haynes of another victorious year.

Loton

HOUSEMASTER: Mr M. Jordan and Mr J. Tompson.

ASSISTANT HOUSEMASTER: Mr S. Addis, Mr J. Percy, Mr M. Addis.

HOUSE CAPTAIN: P. House. Deputy: M. Hyde.

HOUSE PREFECTS: T. Addis, B. Hitchcock, I. Hope, D. Sermon, J. Sewell, J. Stewart.

SCHOOL PREFECTS: P. House, M. Hyde, J. Sewell.

1988, proved to be a rewarding year for all in Loton, which can be seen from its many achievements both academically and competitively. The very large 5th year group has played an important role in the success of the house and must be thanked for their contribution.

Our success however, is reliant upon every member of Loton and their dedication has been overwhelming. The traditional spirit of the boarders was seen in the cross country where Loton won the trophy for the fourth consecutive year.

The inter-house swimming carnival saw quite a lot of early morning practice. We were hoping for a position, but unfortunately we once again finished last. The House Tennis competition for the Haswell Cup saw Loton finish on top for the first time in a few years. The House Rowing also came 6th, this was mainly due to the fact that we lost two of our best rowers from last year. The Sholl Cup for team games saw Loton finish 5th which was a disappointment after coming 2nd last year. The House cricket team finished equal 4th which was an improvement after last year's result.

The first two terms also had Loton going on the annual Red Cross door-knock. Loton House alone raised $2000. The annual School Play had the representation of five people from Loton involved in either the cast or crew. As well as this there was an enjoyable trip to Rottneest.

Third and fourth teams were successful for Loton. The annual house cross-country saw Loton come first for the fourth successive year. The senior football was a little disappointing with its third placing, and the hockey did very well to finish fourth. The juniors will have to improve considerably if Loton are to continue as a leading sporting house as both hockey and football came last. Loton came 7th again in the house athletics, beating only Wilson. The annual house golf day is yet to come, and everyone is looking forward to this.

In all it has been a good year for Loton and all looks well for the future. Thanks must go to Mr Jordan for his 2½ years service to Loton House, and all boys wish him well in his new job as career guidance officer. The house now extends its good wishes to Mr Tompson, and hopes he continues as housemaster long into the future.

Parry

HOUSEMASTER: Mr I. Biddle

HOUSE CAPTAIN: S. McDonagh

SCHOOL PREFECTS: A. House, A. Johnson, S. McDonagh, J. Williams

HOUSE PREFECTS: P. George, D. Ham, A. House, A. Johnson, J. Williams

1988 saw Parry House rise to great heights in all facets of school life, with improvements on previous years standards made in many areas. Mr Biddle and his year twelves led the House admirably, creating a "well knit" team whose determination to do well, grew throughout the year.

The year started with the inaugural Parry House barbecue taking place where the half built gymnasium now stands. This proved to be a marvellous success, where Parry House members and their families got a chance to mix together in a relaxed atmosphere.

Sporting achievements were many this year for both school and house. Justin Williams was captain of the 1st XI Cricket with K. Tringas also in the team. Andrew Johnson was captain of the 1st XV Rugby. He was helped by A. House, J. Dutry and C. Johnson from Parry. D. Ham, K. Tringas and S. Kettlewell made big contributions to the 1st XVIII Football's second placing this year and Sam McDonagh captained the fast improving Cross Country Team.

At the beginning of the year the House Summer Sport series was played. Justin Williams led the cricketers to second position and Peter Scotford's tennis players finished the season in sixth place in the Haswell Cup competition. Parry finished a creditable third in the George Rogers' Cup for Rowing. In the Sholl Cup competition for team games, Parry finished a very satisfying second. Mention must be made of the Junior Basketballers, led by Andrew Sullivan who went through the season undefeated. At the Inter-House Swimming Carnival this year, Parry managed a creditable third, however Parry did win the Pritchard Trophy for the breaststroke relays.

The Winter House Sport season was highlighted by the winning of the Devenish Cup for football. By the end of the season the Senior Football side was a strong unit, which crushed Faulkner in the final. The Junior Football and Hockey did well in their competitions, finishing third and fourth respectively, however the Senior Hockey, despite everyone trying very hard could only manage seventh place. The Jones Cup, seven a side Rugby Competition was another sporting highlight for Parry House this year, with the side led by Andrew Johnson running out easy winners. Cross Country was another event in which Parry participated strongly, however our final placing of sixth was perhaps somewhat disappointing. Despite this, mention must be made of the individual performances of B. Hantke winning the U/15 age group, L. Dye coming second in the U/17 age group and D. Dye and S. McDonagh coming first and second respectively in the Open division.

During the middle of the year, Parry House members participated in many other activities, including the annual School Play — "The Bishops School". with Rawden Pettit being appointed the Captain of Drama.

The Parry House Chess team (A. Johnson, F. Tenji, J. Field and N. Piggott) did us proud for the third time in a row, winning the competition convincingly. The Debating team consisting of N. Flavel, F. Tenji, C. Davison, G. Mussel and S. McDonagh made considerable improvement on last year, reaching the quarter-finals of the Davy Shield competition.

Just prior to the end of term three, the Interhouse Athletics Carnival was held with Parry again making an improvement on last year — getting up to snatch second place. Although just edged out by Haynes for the J. F. Hantke Cup, Parry won the Housemasters' Cup for Interhouse Relays which was a great effort. Great enthusiasm was shown throughout the season and thanks must be paid to Masters Hunn, Moir, Edgar, Pontin and Heibner for their assistance. They must also be thanked for being tutorial masters. Parry finished third in the Cock House Cup and improvement next year seems likely.

Thanks must be paid to Mr Biddle and the year twelves for guiding Parry to a most successful year and all can look forward to perhaps an even better 1989.

Riley

Housemaster: Mr T.V. Greenwell.

House Captain: M. Farr.

House Prefects: S. Darragh, G. Edis, T. Hocart, S. Skender, A. Tomlinson, A. Woodall.

Riley began the year in fine style to come second in the house swimming competition through participation and depth with P. Watt the U/15 champion performing extremely well. The house went on to prove themselves a force on the sports field in first term with the rowing crew of B. Cook, P. Kelly, S. Ledder, D. Booth and M. Roe winning the George Rogers Cup and Riley taking the Sholl Cup for summer games.

The basketball saw Riley's seniors placed second after a season under the guidance of the experienced M. Farr who was ably assisted by A. Woodall and the dashing S. Skender. The tennis players this year were an unlucky seventh place but the cricketers improved from last to equal fourth place.

Winter sports were soon on the go with the junior football side winning the Grand Final. Captained expertly by R. Campbell they triumphed with R. Bevan and P. Pudovskis playing well and consistently throughout the season. The seniors showed great promise with M. Farr, S. Ledder and L. Hawkins playing hard to see Riley positioned fifth and overall third in the Devenish Cup.

Our senior hockey team finished the season in second place with outstanding performances by P. Kelly and G. Ross, the side was unlucky not to win the final. The juniors tried but were not quite up to the standard required and overall Riley were placed third in the hockey cup.

The house cross country saw many individuals perform creditably with M. Chadwick of year ten going on to compete in the National Championships in Tasmania. Riley were placed fifth in the Challenge Cup.

Third term saw the house athletics, the last event in the winter house fixtures. Riley House members fought courageously to maintain their lead in the Cock House Cup placings but although drawing the House Master's Cup for relays we finished the day in third place. This resulted in second place in the final standings of the Cock House Cup, losing it by a point to Haynes House. Riley House was represented by a few school athletes with M. Kelly performing excellently in the throwing events.

The Riley House members also participated in our first house picnic, where parents are given a chance to meet the relevant staff in an informal situation, and have plans for one every semester in future years. The house also attended some very quiet chapel services and they will become a regular part of life at Hale.

Simon Logie was once again awarded a prize in the intermediate division of the Westpac Maths Competition with many distinctions being awarded to other house members.

Riley was represented in the House Debating Final this year with the squad consisting of M. Farr, S. Darragh, M. Roe, D. Booth and M. Foster. The team was unlucky to lose in the final in a split decision based on manner as opposed to matter but will return next year intent on victory.

1988 was a year of good fortunes for those of us in Riley House and for this we must thank those at the helm, Mr Greenwell, M. Farr and the house prefects.

Stirling

HOUSEMASTER: Mr P. Colgate

HOUSE CAPTAIN: A. Hogg

HOUSE PREFECTS: G. Cosford, N. Durell, N. Howat, W. Keech, S. Laurance.

1988 saw Mr Colgate take over the reins as Housemaster of Stirling House. In this his first year he saw a mixed bag of results. Stirling showed a lot of promise in its junior ranks especially the year nines. This promises well for future years.

In the first teams for the winter and summer sports Stirling was represented by talented and enthusiastic participants. In the cricket and football William Keech appeared in the 1st teams while Nathan Howat captained the tennis. A. Hogg captain of Stirling also captained the 1st VIII rowing and the 1st XV rugby team. G. Cosford captained the much improved soccer team to a few well deserved wins. Even with such a small band of year 12s they performed quite admirably.

In the cultural house activities, such as chess and debating, Stirling performed admirably obtaining 2nd, 4th places respectively. Here special mention must be made of the debating team consisting of 3 year 9s, R. Sewell, M.

Hopkins and G. Wheatley who look certain to be a winning combination in the future.

This year, as in years past, Stirling took part in the Salvation Army Red Shield Appeal held on another wet Sunday. This year the house collected a record total of $3730 in the Wembley Downs area.

On the sporting field the House's performances were not as spectacular as last year. In the summer sports the cricketers fared well coming a creditable 3rd in the Parker Cup, where a star of the future in the year 8 J. Hubble was found. Once again our team games were a weakness coming 7th while our tennis team once again came 4th. In the winter sporting arena the brilliance in the football and rugby of 1987 wasn't evident. In the hockey Stirling finished a disappointing 5th overall. The greatest disappointment was in the junior football who were undefeated until the final. Stirling maintained its long standing tradition in the cross country and came 8th.

We thank Mr Colgate for a great debut in the position of Housemaster. We now look forward to an improved performance by Stirling in '89.

HOUSEMASTER: Mr Gray

ASSISTANT HOUSEMASTER: K. Floan (Term 1), J. Wood, S. Mumme (Terms 2-4), M. Campbell.

HOUSE CAPTAIN: W. Burnett.

HOUSE PREFECTS: T. Officer (Vice Captain), J. Isbister, L. Fogarty, D. Percy.

SCHOOL PREFECTS: W. Burnett.

The year started smoothly without the interruptions of last year. The new year also saw several new faces but they barely outweighed the losses, giving us low house numbers again. As the year progressed we lost several people which caused problems in fielding sports teams, or at least being competitive.

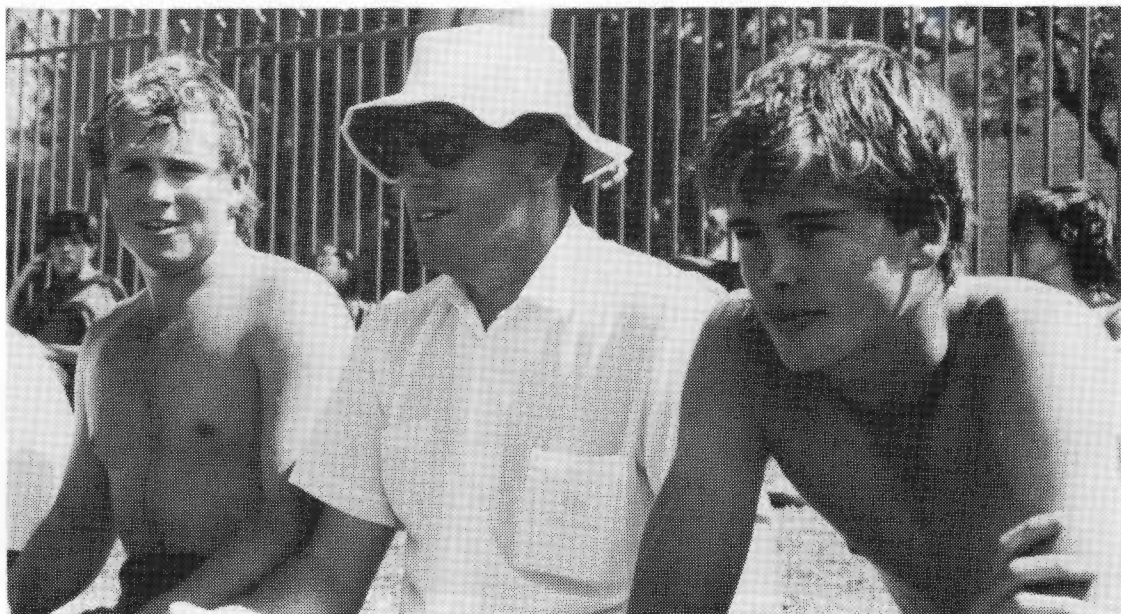

Swimming came upon us and despite the training we did, on the day we earned a creditable 7th. While in the Rowing, the team earned a notable 4th, considering the injuries sustained. The junior Basketballers and Volleyballers performed well to get 2nd, while the senior Basketballers came 7th. The highly rated Tennis team did not perform as well as expected and could only manage 5th in the Haswell Cup. In the Cricket, we earned a 6th place in the Parker Cup, while T-Ball came in 7th place and the Baseballers were 8th. The end of the summer season saw us standing in 8th in the Cock House Cup.

Congratulations must go to the people who performed in the annual school play. $1789 was also collected in the Red-Cross Doorknock by the dedicated Wilson House men.

A new weighted points system for the Cross Country allowed us to achieve equal 2nd with Faulkner, behind Loton. The senior and junior Hockey teams both finished 8th, despite some creditable efforts, while the junior and senior Football teams finished 5th and 6th respectively. All these teams were drastically short in numbers and any injuries sustained were thus very noticeable. The 7-a-side Rugby kept the good tradition of previous years finishing 2nd, losing to Parry in the final. A very small Athletics team couldn't compete with the much larger day houses finishing 7th but several individual performances highlighted the day. Away from sport the debating team although somewhat disorganised, still managed to come 4th.

There were also many inter-boarding house events including the Tennis and Shooting. There were other minor events organised by Mr Simpson who also organised other activities away from school such as socials and excursions for which Wilson House is most grateful. The house spirit has remained despite depleting numbers and finishing 8th in the Cock House Cup. Mr Gray together with his assistants and prefects should be thanked for keeping the house running.

The Hale School Cheer Squad At The Inters

Swimming

The 1988 Interschool Swimming Carnival was more successful for Hale than last year's event, as the school improved to second position. However, it seems that Christchurch may dominate for several years, after their convincing 200 point win.

The second day of term saw many of Hale's keen swimmers break the ice of the swimming pool. A few of the more dedicated contenders had trained throughout the holidays to keep pace with rival schools. As the 1987 school leavers had been a force in the pool, it was vital that the new year 8s performed well.

According to the tradition that had been set, Hale met Scotch at Scotch on the second Saturday of the term. The times swum were relatively slow, due to a lack of training, although the competition was fierce. Hale emerged slightly on top after this event.

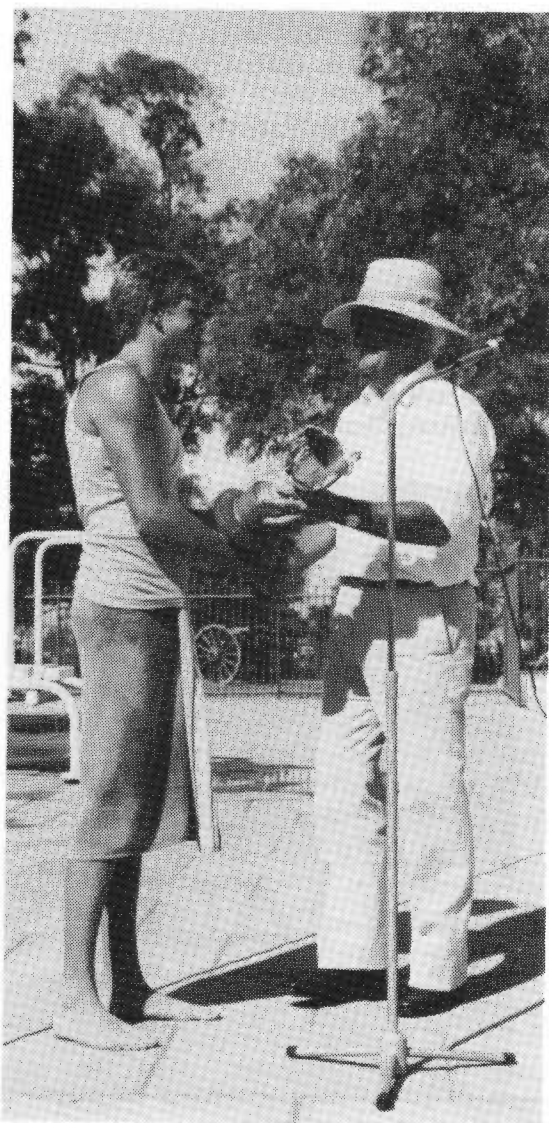

The team trained extremely hard over the next few weeks. During this time, Hale held a social meet with St Hilda's. This proved to be a very enjoyable evening, although the times were comparatively slow. The team next went to the beach for the "Trigg Iron Man Classic". This was held to give the swimmers a well earned break from hard training and to lift the spirit of the team. Paris Watt eventually won the event. A biathlon was also scheduled, which included a running and a swimming leg. The team even went to Beatty Park one morning to get used to the blocks and the atmosphere.

With one week to go until the Inters, the school championships took place in freezing conditions. This proved to have a telling effect on the times where no records were broken and only a few Hantke medals were awarded. On the same weekend the Quads were held, and Christchurch thrashed the other three teams. From that point, Hale knew they would have to perform extremely well to defeat Christchurch.

For the first time, the P.S.A. carnival was held on a Friday night. After being spurred on by "Rocky IV", the team met at Beatty Park. There was a tremendous atmosphere, and conditions for swimming were perfect. At the conclusion of the freestyle events Hale was in front, with some excellent swims for B. Hitchcock, C. Ryan, H. Tooste and J. Morphett who each won their freestyle events. However, Christchurch took over the lead during the breaststroke races and stayed in that position for the duration of the competition.

The fight for second place then began in earnest. Even though Hale did not win a relay, the swimmers came in second or third in nearly every one. At the end of the night, Christchurch won by over 200 points. They were followed by Hale, Scotch and Aquinas (equal third), Wesley, Guildford and Trinity.

There was no P.S.A. records broken by any Hale swimmers, although some outstanding performances were registered. In the open 100 metres freestyle, Craig Ryan broke the school record in 55.9 seconds. He also swam the fastest 50 metres of any Hale student in the freestyle relay, clocking 24.3 seconds. Two school records were set in the U13 by Jason Morphett — he swam 28.18 seconds in the 50 metres freestyle and 31.6 seconds in the 50 metres butterfly. Everyone swam well on the night, which was demonstrated by the fact that 38 Hantke medals were awarded to people who achieved personal best times.

The team would like to thank many people, particularly Mr Les Nunn. Through his time and devotion the swimmers performed well. His ability to organise and train the side was very much appreciated. Thank you also to Richard Pengeley for the time and experience he shared, and to Chris Blackwell and James Legge for their support at training. Mr Varry must also be thanked for feeding the starving swimmers after training every morning. Finally, thanks to the captain of the team, Craig Ryan, who led the team superbly all season and his vice captains Brad Hitchcock, Hamish Moffat and Lorne Inverarity. They encouraged everyone when the going got tough.

A week later Hale competed in the statewide Pop Agnew Cup, in the 6 x 50 metre freestyle relay the team comprised C. Ryan, B. Hitchcock, R. Lucas, M. Knight, P. Watt, and H. Moffat and came a creditable third behind Christchurch and Scotch. This result may have been improved if the team had the services of one of our strong swimmers. The night turned out to be very successful for the Hale team and was enjoyed by everyone.

Inter-House Swimming Carnival

The annual Inter-House Swimming Carnival was held at the Hale swimming pool in superb conditions. Last year's victors, Haynes, once again proved their superiority over the rest of the field. They won four of the five trophies, including the G. N. Altorfer Cup, for overall points. Thanks must go to all officials, and to Mr Lange and his team. Congratulations are also due to the Haynes House year twelves, who went through unbeaten in every race (except the backstroke relay, which was lost this year) for five years straight. It was a great day enjoyed by all.

Mr L. Nunn and Dr Tregonning Discuss Swimming Tactics

Basketball Report

This year saw Hale's finest season with the 1st V and both Year 8 teams finishing undefeated and the second, third and Year 10 V's each losing only one game. An indication of the success of Hale on the basketball court this year is that we managed to win 36 games out of the 44 played. The 1st V consisted of Varis Klimaitis (Capt.) Mathew Farr (V.Capt.), Basil Zempilis, Philip Haynes, Graeme Mussell, Clive Pickford, Lincoln Dye and Eliot Bruton.

Hale went through the first two fixtures against Christchurch and Trinity without losing a game, although the 2nd V gave their spectators some tense moments in their exciting 42-40 comeback win over Christchurch. Special note must be made of the 1st V's victory over a much weaker Trinity side, where they set a new PSA record of 147 points, breaking Hale's previous record of 107. This game was indicative of the 1st V's fast paced, fast break style of basketball.

The next week saw Hale play Guildford. The 1st V had their closest game of the season, winning by 35 points over the team which eventually finished second and highlighting Hale's dominance in the competition. This round also saw the Year 10 team lose its only game, however the game was played on the Hale outdoor courts in 40°C heat, making for difficult conditions.

In the 4th round Hale played Aquinas and once again all teams won. Here the 1st V won a physical game, achieving an impressive score of 87 on the outdoor Hale courts.

Hale's next opponent was Scotch, and this game saw a lack-lustre performance from the 1st V, with the team scoring its lowest total throughout the season. Interestingly this score of 67 points is equivalent to the 1987 1st V's highest score. When you consider, that this Hale side differed by only 2 players from last years, the vast improvement can be appreciated. One bright spot from this game was in Elliott Bruton breaking Marc Marinko's record of 106 points for a season. Elliott finished the season with 115 points, compiled in only 5 games — an impressive effort. This fixture against Scotch ended the 2nd V's undefeated run.

The 3rd V lost its only game in the last round of the season to Wesley. The 1st V meanwhile, secured the Blackwood Cup for the 6th consecutive year with a strong 40 point win over a physical Wesley team. At the conclusion of this game Elliott Bruton, Mathew Farr and Varis Klimaitis had all scored over 100 points. Only two players had previously achieved this feat.

The players would like to thank all coaches and spectators for their help and support in making this season the success that it was. With regards to future seasons, the proposed gymnasium is a much needed facility with only the current Blackwood Cup holders still playing outdoors. With the success of Middle School teams the future of Hale basketball looks to be in good hands.

Cricket

Christchurch.

Hale made a commanding start to the season by defeating Christchurch by 99 runs. Hale batted first and declared at 3 for 288, an innings led by Justin Williams with a fine 146. He was backed up well by Mark Foster 63 and Kingsley Tringas 61. Hale then bowled Christchurch out for 189. This was mainly due to some tight spin bowling by Kingsley Tringas who took 4 for 36 and he was supported by Adrian Webster with 3 for 57 and Damien Baker with 2 for 27. It was a well earned win in the heat of the day and a good note to start the season on.

Trinity.

Hale dismissed Trinity for 85 on Friday afternoon thanks mainly to an excellent spell of bowling from Justin Williams (12.2 overs, 6 maidens, 5 for 9). Damien Baker chipped in with 3 wickets and Kingsley Tringas with 1 wicket (off 6 overs for no runs). Hale then made 154 in their first innings, losing some wickets in a quest for quick runs, Michael Simpson being the only batsman to really get going with a punishing 70. Unfortunately we were unable to breakthrough in the Trinity 2nd innings to force the outright.

Guildford.

Hale began brilliantly, having Guildford 6 for 14 before finally dismissing them for 112 runs with Dale Warren taking 6 for 34. Our batting however failed to get on top of Guildford's fine fast attack and we were dismissed for 110, Adrian Webster's 28 being the only significant contribution. Hale did well to dismiss Guildford a second time for only 158 with Kingsley Tringas taking 6 for 43 and we were 1 for 54 at the close of play.

Aquinas.

Hale batted first and declared at 5 for 307 with the first four batsman playing exceptionally well. Kingsley Tringas became the second batsman to make a century in the season, being our last man out for 103 runs. Unfortunately we were unable to dismiss Aquinas and at stumps they were 8 for 207. Our bowlers toiled hard, bowling 105 overs, with the pick of them being Damien Baker with 2 for 34 and Adrian Webster 2 for 45. But in the end when it counted most, our control on line faltered. The fielding was of a high standard throughout.

Scotch.

Hale did well to dismiss Scotch in their first innings for 196 after their early batsmen had played well. Kingsley Tringas and Justin Williams took 5 wickets each, and the catching was superb with Simpson, Tringas, Keech and Foster all holding very difficult catches. Again our early batting was confident and positive with Tringas 63, Foster 52 and Keech 41 making outstanding contributions in our total of 265.

Wesley.

Hale, needing to win their final game to win the Darlot Cup were defeated by Wesley on a rain affected pitch. Play didn't start until eleven o'clock on Saturday when Hale bowled Wesley out for 72 with Dale Warren taking 6 for 30 and Adrian Webster taking 3 for 21. Hale then battled their way to 70, falling just 3 runs short of victory. Kingsley Tringas with 21 (a fine innings on a difficult pitch) and Phillip George with 16 were the main two contributors. The loss gave Hale 3rd place in the Darlot Cup and a very enjoyable season was had by all. The end of season gathering was held at Justin William's house and thanks must go to Mr and Mrs Williams for their hospitality. Thanks must also go to all the mothers who helped with lunches and teas and special thanks is made to Mr Chadwick and Mr Gibbon for their assistance as coaches throughout the season.

Tennis Report

Results this year were again of a consistently high standard with all teams performing well, finishing first or second in their respective competitions.

After some promising results in fourth term 1987, the 1st VIII were looking forward to a successful season of tennis beginning first term 1988.

On the weekend before school returned, the 1st VIII's preparations began when they met a very strong and 'not so old' Old Boys team consisting of such past 1st VIII members as Damien Kestall, Justin Johns, Eugene Simkovic and last year's coach Mr Panarese, in which the Old Boys easily accounted for the inexperienced school team.

Hale began the Corr Cup season on a disappointing note losing quite easily to Christ Church and again the next week to Trinity in a cliff hanger that went down to the final set. In the next two weeks, however, Hale had encouraging victories over Guildford and Aquinas and finally seemed to have the team's seedings in a balanced order.

The next two weeks were byes and this provided a perfect opportunity to hold the Hale Tennis Championships. After upsetting the number one seeds in the open doubles in a brilliant semi final, the combination of Jason Marinko and Greg Erskine were unable to hold their form and were convincingly beaten by the experienced duo of Wayne Burnett and Mark Hyde. In blustery conditions, Wayne Burnett played consistent tennis to upset Nathan Howat in the open singles and therefore taking out the open doubles and singles. On the next court Michael Spartalis and Jason Marinko were battling the same blustery conditions in a two and a half hour cliff hanger. Michael Spartalis showed great maturity and skill to come from behind in the third and final set to eventually win it in nine games to seven and take out the under 16's singles championship.

The final of the under 14's singles championship was also a very interesting match between Brenton Hantke and Matthew Trudgian, who had injured his shoulder earlier in the week. Although Matthew Trudgian put up a 'gutsy' effort, Brenton Hantke eventually proved too strong and took out the title.

After a two week break, the 1st VIII was ready to get back to business and finish the year on a high note, and that's exactly what they did, disposing of Scotch with little effort, dropping only three sets and therefore, entering the important final match against Wesley full of confidence. A strong performance by the lower order allowed Hale to account for the Wesley combination and finish the season in a pleasing second position.

On the weekend of the 20th of March, Hale's Slazenger Cup team of Nathan Howat, Wayne Burnett, Shane Cassey and Jason Marinko went to Bayswater Tennis Club to try and keep up Hale's outstanding record in this competition. The team unfortunately drew Wesley who were the favourites, in the first round and although all tried their best, Wesley were eventually too strong, winning six rubbers twelve sets to zero rubbers two sets.

The end of season barbecue at the Cassey residence was thoroughly enjoyed by all. A special thanks must go to Mr. and Mrs. Cassey for their hospitality on the night.

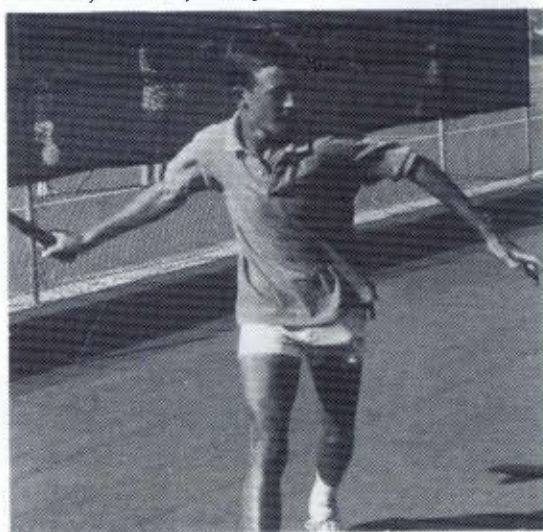

For the first year, the 1st VIII, coaches and parents had morning tea in the new gazebo which was enjoyed by everyone. Thanks must, therefore, also go to all the mothers who contributed to home game morning teas.

Finally all the members of the school's teams would like to thank the coaches Mr. Wapnah, Mr. Cooper, Mr DeFrenne, Mr. Alderson and Mr. Greenwell for their time and effort throughout the season. The 1st VIII especially wish to thank Mr. Hutchinson and Mr. Edgar for their time and the effort they put into the coaching and organisation of the team.

Rowing Report

The 1988 rowing season commenced a week before the start of term with a rowing camp held from our boat shed in Matilda Bay. This was well attended by rowers from years ten to twelve. During the camp the 1st VIII was coached for two of its first six training sessions by Alan Morrow, a Canadian National rowing coach touring Western Australia helping both coaches and rowers from all levels. His advice was appreciated by both the rowers and coach Mr Bean.

Through the season crews trained some thirty to fifty times in the short period of nine weeks. Training was at 5.30am or 4.00pm and was a little under two hours long. This season the cancellation of the Trinity Regatta, a result of poor weather conditions, and the failure of Scotch and Guildford to hold regattas led to only four regattas in which to gain experience before the Head of the River. Last year there were seven lead up regattas.

The school season came to a close on March 26 when the Head of the River was held on the Narrows in moderate conditions. No Hale crew was outstanding with perhaps the best performance coming from the 2nd IV who gained a third place in a time faster than the existing record. The positions, however, do not indicate the dedication shown by the rowers and coaches.

The overall placings for the day in the C.A. Hamer Cup saw Aquinas win it with 991/2 points and Hale sixth with 50 points.

The contributions of Mr. Bean (1st VIII), Mr. Fischer (2nd VIII), Mr. Goater (Yr. 10 VIII), Mr. Arkle (Yr. 9 VIII), Mr. Berryman (1st IV), Mr. Bird (2nd IV), Mr. Staines (3rd IV), Mr. Kenny (Yr. 10 IV), Mr. Simpson (Yr. 8-9 coach) and Mr. Wright (maintenance) were much appreciated by all rowers throughout the season.

RESULTS 1st VIII

The 1st VIII were an unlucky fourth in the Christ Church Regatta over the long and winding 5km course down the Canning River. The crew had only been rowing for little over one minute when a yacht sailed into the boat costing a valuable 30 seconds and damaging the shell. The boats were separated, but the lost time could never be made up in such a closely contented race.

At the Aquinas Regatta Christ Church won the 2000m race in 6 min. 37 sec., Scotch were a close second with Hale charging through the field in the last 750m overtaking Guildford and Aquinas to come third just a canvas behind Scotch.

The Wesley Regatta saw Hale overtake Christ Church and Wesley at the 850m and lead the field to the 1450m mark where Christ Church surged through to win in a time of 6 min. 33 sec. Aquinas were second with Hale just behind them in third place.

After an excellent morning tea, thanks to all the mothers involved, Hale found themselves left behind in the last lead up regatta of the season, the Hale Regatta. A strong Aquinas crew powered out from the field and won on the glassy water in the time of 6 min. 17 sec. with Scotch second, Christ Church third, Guildford fourth, Hale fifth and Wesley sixth.

The 89th Head of the River was won by Guildford in a time of 6 min. 18.4 secs. Scotch who had been fighting for the lead through the race were a close second with Aquinas further back in third place. Christ Church just beat Hale for fourth place with their two crews leading early on but being out classed by the crews in the middle lanes in the latter stages of the race. Wesley and Trinity finished further back in sixth and seventh places respectively.

Hong Kong Trip

This year saw Hale send 21 boys, three masters and two fathers to Hong Kong from April 17-25 to compete in the 10th annual Hong Kong Rowing Championships. The regatta attracted crews from all over Asia and several from Europe.

The 1st VIII settled down and rowed a steady race to come second in the International Schools Classic Eights race to a larger and stronger crew from Sydney Church of England Grammar who also won the Open Eights final. Caulfield Grammar were third with Hong Kong Island School in fourth place. The Sri Lankan crew withdrew at the last moment leaving only a field of four to compete for the title.

Hale also had three fours entered into the large field of some 12 crews. All three crews made it to the semifinals with only two crews qualifying for the four crew final. The fours found the 2000m races difficult and were beaten by larger crews from Sydney C.E.G.S. and Hong Kong Island School to be placed third and fourth.

The rowing course, 25km north of central Kowloon in the New Territories was on the polluted Shing Mun River. Once the rowers had become accustomed to its green colour, revolting smell and variety of floating and submerged objects the rowing was enjoyed by all.

During the stay boys met competitors from the Peoples' Republic of China, Japan, United Kingdom, India, Sri Lanka, United States of America, Sarawak, Hong Kong and fellow Australians when entertained by the Hong Kong Rowing Association.

Some other notable activities during the stay was the visit to Ocean Park, an adventure playground with cable cars, roller coasters and other such rides, two harbour cruises, some real Chinese dinners at various restaurants and the endless shopping and bargaining with the local people.

This year participants were: Mr David Bean (Rowing Master), Mr Doug Simpson and Mr Richard Goater (staff members and coaches), Mr Peter Flavel and Mr Lindsay Eva (fathers). The rowers were Will Roy, Don Percy, John Dutry, Tom Meagher, Travis Draper, Anthony Hogg, Arthur House, Stewart Ledder, Stephen Del Basso, John Isbister, Miles Gordon, Michael Roe, David Booth, Nicholas Flavel, Matthew Parks, John Lefroy, Russel Short, Tim Cooke, David Chappell, Tim Caporn and Michael Eva.

Waterpolo Report

With increased support this season Waterpolo has continued to grow at Hale School. There were a number of unofficial fixtures played against the other P.S.A. schools this season with a high standard of competition being established. With increased support from other schools waterpolo will soon become an official P.S.A. sport and the door will open into an exciting, skilful new competition.

The sport is probably better established at Hale than at any other P.S.A. school, and this fact showed when the team played. Coach Richard Pengeley — who himself has been picked in the team to represent Australia at Seoul — has put a lot of time into developing the sport and training the boys.

The highlight of the team's success this season was at the Champion Schools Competition held at the Superdome. In this knockout competition the results were :-

Round 1. Hale defeated John Curtain Senior High School 7-1.

Round 2. Hale defeated Scotch College 6-2.

Grand Final. Hale defeated Aquinas 9-6. (in extra time)

Best: C. Ryan, J. Horn, B. Hitchcock, B. Zempilas.

At the end of the night we went home with the Inaugural Bill Makatee shield. The team was led by Craig Ryan, who is vice-captain of the State U.17 Waterpolo side, won every game they played this season and had a lot of fun. With growing support we hope that Waterpolo will soon be recognised as an official P.S.A. sport and see the Hale team continue to show its superiority in the sport.

Football

For the third year in succession a fast, skilful and disciplined Scotch team were undefeated and we congratulate them on again winning the Alcock Cup. Scotch firsts teams now have the distinction of having won thirty seven games in succession and have not lost since Hale defeated them in June of 1985. In 1988 Hale won eight of its ten games (losing to Scotch twice) and also possessed a talented team. We had a brand new jumper (thanks to the design skills of Quentin Brown) and somehow we hoped for better than another second (our fourth in seven years).

Against Trinity, Guildford and Aquinas, the team displayed method and teamwork and we journeyed to Scotch full of hope. The Scotch skill was impressive but our poor form was a disappointing fare to serve up for our large group of supporters. Christ Church were demolished and then Wesley too, as we kicked eighteen goals in the first half, before setting out for the Melbourne mud.

The 'Interstate' held at St Leonards in Melbourne was a great success. The team enjoyed Dinners, a Quiz night, a picnic day, games night, less formal gatherings and two VFL games at the MCG. Many good friends were made and the boys and girls from the three states mixed extremely well. St Mary's retained their Hockey Trophy, St Leonards won the Netball and Hale again won the Fisher Plate. On a unbelievably muddy and wet surface, the team played well in both games beating SC 11.13 to 5.6 and St Leonards 8.8. to 3.6. Eleven of the team namely Zempilas, Baker, Hawkins, Marshall, Warren, Simpson, Woodall, Ham, Norrish, Webster and Brown, as captain, were chosen in the all Star team. The team is most grateful to the organisers Mr Donnell and Mr Lyall and especially thank the most generous students, parents and staff of St Leonards for turning on another memorable week.

Back at Hale we defeated Trinity easily but found Guildford more difficult when it rained throughout the game. After beating a determined Aquinas we matched the unbeaten Scotch in most areas. By virtue of their ferocious ground play and aerial supremacy, Scotch won a top game.

The left footed Michael Simpson dominated most games and was easily the best player. After a slow start because of injury Quentin Brown was a winner in the centre and the speedy Paul Leuba was a dynamic back pocket and rover. David Ham roved strongly, Scott Kettlewell who shared centre with Brownly has a bright future while Brendan Boxhorn at centre half forward and the injury prone Chris Marshall were determined and clever players. These seven are congratulated on receiving their colours and there were others, too, who did well. Centre liners Norrish and Warren, rover Tringas, defenders Hyde, Webster, Baker and Hawkins and our lone ruckman Basil Zempilas (in the latter part of the season) all had their good days.

The eighteen sincerely thank the morning tea mothers led by Mrs Zempilas; the boundary and scoreboard boys; numerous runners and goal umpires; Nathan Fidge the timekeeper; Hale's other coaches; the sportsmaster Mr Chadwick; Mr Lange for his work for the Interstate and as coach of the second eighteen; our very dependable team manager Mr Roy Kelley, and parents, old boys, staff and boys who cheered us on each week. The end of season party given by the Zempilas family was superb — we do sincerely thank them! My thanks again go to Joe Southern -his skilful treatment of our many injured makes him our number one supporter. I especially thank Basil Zempilas, Chris Marshall and Michael Simpson for their help in selection and for their leadership. In Quentin Brown we had a typical 'follow my example' type captain who led us proudly through a fighting season.

It was a good team, skilful and determined and yet in its two 'exam' games it failed. Sure Scotch were excellent and it's true that the ease with which we won other games was poor preparation for the Scotch clashes and yet, though finishing a clear second, the season remains disappointing. In the final analysis we were not as even as Scotch and our bulky players were no match for the even spread of fast moving Scotch talent. Hale trained hard and achieved a high standard of skill and teamwork but continued to let Scotch prove the masters. Whether we demanded the upmost remains the key question and I can only regret we did not play the football that may have enabled us to share the Cup with the fine Scotch combination. All this apart, the team enjoyed its season and possessed not only good players (many will do very well) but also a group of enthusiasts who somehow deserved a better result. I thank them all and wish them all the very best in their football futures. I conclude by congratulating all boys of all schools on their football efforts. At a time when football, at best is at the crossroads and at worst is in a mess, the Alcock Cup competition remains something of a jewel in football's tattered crown.

Hale vs Trinity

The 1st XVIII began impressively. After Trinity had scored first, the Hale running game based on excellent handball was too much for Trinity. A brilliant David Ham was the best of many fine Hale players. SCORE: Hale 25.10 defeated Trinity 10.9. BEST: Ham, Boxhorn, Simpson, Marshall, Tringas, Burnett.

Hale vs Guildford

After again starting slowly Hale struck form in the third quarter and kicked fourteen goals to one in the second half. In the back pocket Paul Leuba made a dashing debut. SCORE: Hale 20.17 defeated Guildford 4.3. BEST: Marshall, Leuba, Ham, Simpson, Webster.

Hale vs Aquinas

In blustery and difficult conditions Hale defeated Aquinas by eleven goals. Hale's speed and team football overwhelmed Aquinas and the defensive work of the team was a highlight. SCORE: Hale 20.10 defeated Aquinas 9.13. BEST: Baker, Boxhorn, Ham, Kettlewell, Simpson, Woodall, Warren.

Hale vs Scotch

Hale were outplayed by a talented Scotch, losing by the humbling margin of 61 points. The tenacity, ball getting ability, speed and defence of the Scotch team was too much for a Hale group that let itself down badly. The dash and fight of Hale's Jason Norrish was tremendous. SCORE: Hale 4.8 was defeated by Scotch 13.15. BEST: Norrish, Leuba, Boxhorn, Tringas, Warren.

Hale vs Christ Church

Rebounding strongly, Hale outplayed Christ Church. Though our forward line was congested, all players worked hard on their skills and the defence kept our opponents goal-less in three of the four quarters. SCORE: Hale 13.15 defeated Christ Church 2.9. BEST: Baker, Simpson, Brown, Marshall, Boxhorn, Kettlewell, Leuba.

Hale vs Wesley

Our best day! Despite losing Zempilas in the opening minutes, a skilful Hale outclassed Wesley in the first half. The left footed Michael Simpson again played stylishly. SCORE: Hale 26.17 defeated Wesley 11.8. BEST: Simpson, Webster, Marshall, Brown, Burnett, Norrish, Kettlewell.

Hale vs Trinity

Trinity's tackling and desperate ground play restricted Hale's game. Our teamwork was effective after half time and the elusive, Simpson (nine goals) led a dashing forward line. SCORE: Hale 23.17 defeated Trinity 5.7. BEST: Simpson, Zempilas, Baker, Webster, Brown, Hyde, Hawkins, Kettlewell, Leuba.

Hale vs Guildford

In heavy rain Hale and Guildford slogged out a tough game. Though Hale had much of the play, they were frustrated by a hard tackling Guildford. Boxhorn and Brown mastered the atrocious conditions. SCORE: Hale 8.15 defeated Guildford 4.4. BEST: Boxhorn, Brown, Howat, Webster, Tringas, Zempilas, Ham.

Hale vs Aquinas

Two fast teams were evenly matched. Because of a more even spread of talent, Hale led for most of the game and were too strong in the closing minutes. SCORE: Hale 15.18 defeated Aquinas 12.10. BEST: Brown, Woodall, Hyde, Leuba, Kettlewell, Zempilas, Simpson, Hope.

Hale vs Scotch

Needing a win to share the Cup and playing in front of a large and supportive crowd, Hale did very well. Indeed the football played by both teams in the first half was spectacular and a tribute to all players. By virtue of their even team and their high marking skills, Scotch moved away in the third quarter and won by 35 points. The Hale effort was impressive (Leuba being superb) and the sportsmanship of the teams at the close marvellous indeed. SCORE: Hale 10.9 was defeated by Scotch 15.14. BEST: Leuba, Brown, Hyde, Kettlewell, Ham, Zempilas.

Hockey Report

The Hale 1st XI looked forward to an exciting 1988 season with all teams looking very even on paper. We began our preparation for the season with a game against the talented and experienced Hotspurs. They dominated the first half, but in the second Hale began to combine well and matched them goal for goal, giving us the confidence we needed to tackle the strong Trinity team the following week.

After the completion of the first full round of fixtures Hale entered the holidays a very pleasing equal first with Trinity, losing only to Aquinas. A couple of weeks before the break we encountered a very strong "Old Boys Team" brilliantly led by Darren Hawkins. From this game we learned many valuable points which aided us in our next important match against Wesley before the holidays.

Hale came back from the break refreshed and ready to tackle Trinity in what would almost certainly determine who would win the cup. In a good game, Hale eventually went down to the more skilful Trinity combination. This loss marked the downfall of the 1st XI, and we lost our last three games. It was a disappointing end to such a promising season, however, we still managed to finish a creditable equal second position.

All other Hale School sides fared very well in their respective competitions with Hale ending up the premier hockey school in the P.S.A. With this in mind, the fact that five of this year's 1st XI were from year's 10 and 11, and also the possibility of a Supergrass pitch next year, the future of Hale hockey is looking good.

Special mention must be made of Phillip Haynes and Stuart Blackwell who were selected to represent their school in the combined PSA team to play Hotspurs on July 27th.

Finally, many thanks must go to all the coaches for their invaluable assistance in the development of each player and their respective teams, and in particular, Mr Jordan for the time and effort he put into the 1st XI.

1st XI Game Reports

vs Trinity: Hale began the season well, defeating an extremely strong Trinity side 4-3. Hale found themselves shocked with the pace and skill of Trinity and they quickly moved to a 3-0 lead but Hale fought back gallantly to win the game.

Goals: Haynes (2), Sermon, Simpson.

Best: Blackwell, Simpson, Marinko.

vs Guildford: Hale defeated Guildford 4-3. We missed numerous opportunities to convert in the first half but lead 4-0 at half time. In the second half, Hale's defence fell apart, letting through 3 goals before full time.

Goals: Haynes (2), Blackwell, Simpson.

Best: Arnold, Blackwell, Hollingworth.

vs Aquinas: Matches between Hale and Aquinas are always fast and aggressive and this was no exception. We went into the game confident after 2 wins but Aquinas dominated the game, winning 5-2, in a game we should have won.

Goals: Davey, Haynes.

vs Scotch: Hale annihilated Scotch 4-0 in our best game of the year. After a half time lead of 1-0, thanks to a freak goal by Tim Simpson, Hale added another 3 goals in an almost flawless second half.

Goals: Simpson (3), Blackwell.

Best: Hewitt, Simpson, Ross, Blackwell.

vs Christ Church: Hale played a poor game against the bottom side and were lucky to come out of the encounter victorious, 2-0.

Goals: Haynes, Hewitt.

vs Wesley: Hale went into the game knowing that we had to win in order to have a good shot at the cup. In a fast and skilful game in which the defence were put under a lot of pressure, Hale eventually won 2-1. Thanks to a great save by Damien Reading off a penalty stroke, Hale's hopes for the cup were kept alive.

Goals: Hewitt, Davey.

Best: Blackwell, Sermon, Reading.

vs Trinity: Trinity got on top of Hale early and lead 3-0 at half time. In the second half Hale matched Trinity but the damage had already been done, eventually going down 4-1. Hale now had to rely on Trinity to lose a match to have any chance of winning the cup.

Goals: Haynes.

Best: Kelly, Blackwell, Marinko.

vs Guildford: In terrible conditions, both teams found it hard to score goals and at the half time break the score was 0-0. In the first play of the second half Guildford scored a controversial goal and although Hale had their chances they were unable to convert before full time, losing 1-0.

Best: Kelly, Ross, Blackwell

vs Aquinas: Hale entered this game on a low after almost certainly losing their chance of winning the cup and it showed on the field. Aquinas took advantage of this and ran all over Hale in the first half, giving them a handy 3-0 lead at half time. Although Hale out played and out scored Aquinas in the second half it was too late, going down 3-1.

Goals: Davey.

Best: Sermon, Kelly.

vs Scotch: Hale were desperate to end the season with a win but their poor end of season form unfortunately continued. Scotch dominated the game and did to us what we did to them in the first round, defeating us 4-0.

Best: Kelly, Simpson, Blackwell, Ross.

Rugby Report

1988 was a year of mixed success for Rugby at Hale.

The 1st XV finished seventh in the P.S.A. competition with only one win. Their season was like the Duke of Wellington's description of the Battle of Waterloo — "a close run thing". Unfortunately the 1st XV were the French. Many games were much closer than the final score indicates. Trying to open up the game in attack leaves the defence vulnerable.

The team contained a number of new players and they performed with distinction. Chris Humphry quickly learnt the game and became an excellent full-back. His boots-and-all tackling and long kicking kept the team in many games. Mark Chapman proved to be a natural outside back with his straight, hard running. John Dutry was moved from the backs to flank forward contesting for the ball bravely. Arthur House was a very courageous half-back, linking the forward pack and the backline very well. An excellent player in all aspects of the game, he earned Colours for his consistent season.

Craig Dickson earned a place in the Australia 'B' U/17 team versus New Zealand U/17, a magnificent achievement. Craig's ability often meant he was the last player picked in a team because if there was a gap he could fill it. His versatility was such that he played all backline positions, hooker and flanker for the 1st XV. He was also awarded Colours.

Andrew Johnson did everything expected of a captain, on and off the field. He was the best centre in the competition, making the most of the few opportunities presented to him.

The 2nd XV kept their spirits up throughout a disappointing season. The team was often unsettled with players in unaccustomed positions. Hopefully the information gained from these experiments will be useful next season.

The year 10 side with a small squad of talented players put in some excellent games. Duncan Hogg and Crofton Daniels were very good in the backs, and James Jooste earned a place in the State U/15 team for his excellent hooking.

The year 9 team continued with the quality of play from last season, finished a creditable second, behind an outstanding Aquinas team. Callan Castledine and Tom Plant were rewarded for their efforts with places in the U/14 State team.

In scoring 218 points and conceding only 28 for the season, the year 8 side was the top team in the competition. If the squad stays together and trains well they should be very successful in future seasons.

1988 was the busiest year ever for W.A. Schools' Rugby, with many visiting teams from England and New Zealand, as well as the National Open Schoolboys Championships. No small part of the success of this season was the help of many boys and families from Hale with organising and billeting members of the Wairarapa College team from New Zealand and the New South Wales I team for the state championships.

The season ended with the traditional Rugby Dinner (20th) at which the following presentations were made.

	Outstanding Player	Most Improved
1st XV	Andrew Johnson	Tony Baker
2nd XV	Graham Mussell	Tim Caporn
Year 10	Duncan Hogg	Marcus Bosworth
Year 9	Callan Castledine	Andrew Sullivan
Year 8	James Whitehead	Jorgen Jensen

Results:

1st XV — Coach: Mr P. Welsh

Hale lost to Trinity 0-22

Trinity completely rebuilt its team and was well-drilled and match experienced when it stunned Hale. Poor tackling let Trinity in for a couple of easy tries early in the first half. A lack of clean possession from the scrum or line-out gave Hale limited attacking opportunities.

Hale lost to Guildford 4-10

A. House — try

Hale lifted to the occasion and played an excellent game with the result open until the last minute. The first half was a nil-all affair with both sides having scoring opportunities denied by excellent cover defence. Guildford scored quickly after the break, but Hale equalised with a fine try minutes later. The difference between the sides was the kicker and a penalty and field goal gave Guildford the match.

Hale lost to Aquinas 0-17

Aquinas, with a strong wind behind them, kept the ball in Hale's defensive quarter for most of the first half. Hale defended with spirit but gave away too many penalties close to the goals. In the second half Hale mounted many attacks, but was unable to finish off any moves.

Hale defeated Scotch 6-0

A. Johnson — try

C. Dickson — conversion

Hale played out a very hard and even game against a tall Scotch team. The tackling from both sides was excellent. Hale's forwards competed extremely well in the line-outs giving the backs good ball. Close to halftime an intercept try was scored giving Hale a slender lead. In the second-half Scotch attacked with vigour getting close to the line on many occasions. Desperate defence by Hale was good enough to win the game.

Hale lost to Christ Church 6-23

A. Johnson — try

C. Dickson — conversion

Christ Church started at a furious pace scoring very early in the game. Hale settled down and evened the score with an excellent backline try. In the second half Hale showed little desire to win the ball or use it constructively and Christ Church set up a decisive win.

Hale lost to Wesley 12-28

A. Johnson — try

C. Dickson — conversion, field goal, penalty

In a very tough game against the best team in the competition, Hale matched Wesley for most of the game. Towards the end of the match our smaller forwards tired and key tackles were missed allowing Wesley to score a number of good tries to take the game well out of Hale's reach.

Hale lost to Trinity 0-8

In a very hard game Trinity attacked from the kick-off and kept Hale defending for long periods. Desperate defence kept the first-half scoreless. The exertion of the first-half took its toll, and well into the second half Trinity scored in the corner after a series of 5-metre scrums. Hale responded with great spirit but a missed penalty and drop goal stopped Hale getting back into the game. In the final move of the match Trinity added a second try. The efforts of the whole team were remarkable to keep the then competition leaders to two scores. Craig Dickson played his best game for the school only to be rewarded with a dislocated shoulder attempting to smother Trinity's final try.

Hale lost to Guildford 3-17

A. Johnson — penalty

Yet another nil-all first half. Hale took the lead just after the break and stayed in front for most of the half. Guildford drew level with a penalty and in the final five minutes overpowered a tiring Hale side.

Hale lost to Aquinas 0-8

Hale played its best game of the season. The forwards combined well as a unit and competed aggressively for the ball. The backs unaccustomed to so much possession did everything right except cross the line. Aquinas scored twice with three backline runs. Hale had absolutely no luck, missing with all the penalty kicks as well.

Hale lost to Scotch 6-10

T. Draper — try

M. Chapman — conversion

Scotch keen to avenge their first round loss scored a try early in the game, but Hale replied with a fine converted try to take the lead. Two penalty goals gave Scotch a 10-6 lead at half time. After the break, Scotch with the wind behind them mounted many attacking moves. Their superior height in the line-outs and weight in the scrums gave them plenty of clean ball. Hale defended courageously and had a couple of chances to win the match, but there was no addition to the score.

Other Matches:

Hale lost to Wairarapa College N.Z.

Too few — too many. The New Zealanders put on a fine exhibition of open attacking rugby. Their overall fitness, skill level and team play was too much for the Hale side but important lessons were learnt.

Hale lost to the Old Boys 7-16

A talented group of old boys, nearly all current or ex state representatives greeted the 1st XV onto the field with a Hakka of dubious origin. Both sides started well, playing open fast rugby. The support play by each team was a feature of the game. John Hall scored two classic winger's tries for the old boys, but a penalty kick by Craig Dickson after a good decision by the referee — his brother, gave a half-time score of 8-3 to the old boys.

In the second half the 1st XV fell for a number of trick moves, but defended well to concede only two more tries to Bob Barbour and Scott Armstrong, and score one through Travis Draper. Best players: Old Boys Peter Morton, 1st XV Arthur House.

Cross Country 1988

Cross Country in 1988 finished in an improved 5th position. The improvement was due partly to the increase in the numbers in the squad and also due to the commitment and spirit shown by all members.

As the season went on the team progressed steadily with all runners gaining fitness. Hale had a strong pack which is required to gain continual victories. The top runners namely, S. McDonagh, M. Chadwick, P. Stewart, H. Grant, C. Davidson and S. Yovich did not have the support required although S. Cassey, G. Parker, S. Love, G. Warburton and J. Nelson finished strongly.

Hale only won one of their home/away races but finished the season on high notes with good performances in all four relays.

With Hale losing only three year twelve runners, next season should see us continue to rise up the table, especially with a strong influx of junior runners.

RESULTS

Hale vs Trinity Hale won 93 to 129

vs Aquina Hale lost 129 to 93

vs Wesley Hale lost 126 to 90

vs Scotch drew 108 each

House Cross Country Report

On Wednesday the 18th of May the annual inter-house cross country was held with a total of 584 boys competing on the day. This year saw the introduction of a modified points system whereby the total points gained in each event by a house were weighted depending on the number of boys competing in each year. This was seen to be a more even way of gaining points and it made the better running abilities, or at least fitness due to early morning runs on the behalf of the boarders, very evident.

Many creditable times were recorded with Jason Norrish of Wilson House winning the Under 17 division in the fastest time of the day, completing the demanding course around the school grounds in a time of 12 minutes 42 seconds. Lincoln Dye was second followed by fellow Parry House member Courtney Davison. The house placings were Wilson, Faulkner, Loton, Haynes, Riley, Parry, Buntine and Stirling.

The first event was the Under 14 division which was won by Scott Thompson of Loton House in 14 minutes 30 seconds and Wade Fiegert also of Loton came in second ahead of Lyntan Beagley of Wilson. The house placings were Loton, Wilson, Faulkner, Haynes, Parry, Buntine, Stirling, and finally Riley.

The under 15 division followed and was won by Brentan Hantke of Parry House in the time of 13 minutes 40 seconds with Harry Green of Loton and Daman Broom of Parry filling the other two positions. Wilson won followed by Loton, Faulkner, Buntine, Riley, Haynes, Parry and then Stirling.

Steven Brindal took out the Under 16 division representing Loton in a time of 13 minutes 16 seconds with Andrew Davey of Buntine and Mark Chadwick of Riley coming second and third respectively. Loton won the event overall with Faulkner coming second then Wilson, Buntine, Riley, Haynes, Stirling and Parry.

The Open division was keenly contested with David Dye of Parry eventually winning in a time of 13 minutes 9 seconds and therefore receiving the Dave Roberts Perpetual Cross Country Trophy as the Open Champion. Michael Simpson of Haynes was third and Sam McDonagh also of Parry came second. Faulkner took out the division followed by Loton, Parry, Riley, Wilson, Haynes, Stirling and Buntine.

Using the modified points system the tallies were accumulated seeing Stirling 8th, Buntine 7th, Parry 6th, Riley 5th and Haynes 4th then Faulkner and Wilson equal 2nd with 44 points behind Loton with 49 points who took out the Cross Country Challenge Cup and also the T.D. Hoar Inter-Boarding house trophy.

Cross Country Camp

On the weekend, 22nd-24th April, a group of seventeen boys accompanied by masters Mr Brown and Mr Alderson ventured to Margaret River, staying at the Margaret River Lodge.

Saturday morning brought with it an early morning run along one of the more steeply inclined roads of the region, which all runners handled impressively.

The later hours of the morning were spent at the coast watching the Margaret River Surfing Classic.

In the afternoon, we went to Merribrook, where the ropes course brought an inviting challenge to us all. The course promoted balance and confidence and could well be a future project for Hale School.

Unfortunately, a few boys became ill on Saturday night, perhaps due to a rather suspect pumpkin soup.

The following morning we explored a non-tourist adventure cave. The experience enjoyed by all, except perhaps a couple of hippies who were discovered in a sleeping bag at the bottom of the cave. According to reports, they were most definitely not sleeping when discovered by a few younger Hale students.

Acknowledgement to Mr Brown and Mr Alderson is undoubtedly due, for their organisation on the camp.

Soccer 1988

At the commencement of the season there was some doubt as to whether Hale would have a 1st X1 or a 2nd X1 as we did in 1987. Due to our lack of numbers and the uncertainty of our performance against other schools which have a greater number of students interested in the sport, it was decided on the latter.

Our first match went well for our opponents Trinity, who won convincingly, but this loss seemed to spur the team on and we managed to win our next three matches. It was apparent that we have improved significantly, much to the surprise of many people. However, the team then went through a particularly bad patch and lost four games in a row, the most notorious of them against Guildford in shocking weather conditions, before defeating Aquinas seven goals to nil. Our last match was the best when we beat Scotch 3 - 2 in a hard fought game and a record of five wins and five losses was a great way to end the season.

Our goal scores varied from match to match and our 23 goals were scored by 6 team members. Yet from this emerged our leading scorer M. Berry with 11 goals. Our midfield seemed to improve as the season wore on and the defence had good matches and bad ones but could mostly be depended on. Acknowledgement must also be made of our goalkeeper B. Laden who had an excellent season and who saved us from defeat many times.

The whole team wish to extend their thanks to Shane La Bianca who organised training and without whom we would not have achieved the results we did, and to Mr R. A. Pontin who acted as manager throughout the season. We also thank those people who defied cold mornings to come and support us both home and away.

The middle school this year had an A team mostly comprising year nines and a B team consisting of year eights. The two teams had mixed successes but it can be said that the level of play was of a high standard.

The A's were unfortunate to lose nine of their ten games but they showed great tenacity and their persistence paid off in their final match against old rivals Scotch. They proved that they had never given up and the 3 - 3 draw was a fine result. There was also promising talent in players such as Gibson, Evans, Maurer, Grover, Chavaprika and Chobanoff. Thanks go to Mr R. Pengelly and Mr. R. Sweet for their efforts with the teams.

The B's had an auspicious season winning five, drawing two, and losing only three matches. Under the confident leadership of G. Summer, who scored 16 goals for the season, they performed at their best and the names of Kitingan, Allan, Kiddey, Nathan and Piggott cropped up most often. They will be a force to be reckoned with in years to come. Thanks are in order to Mr R. Johnson and rent — a — pom Nick Pople for taking time to train them.

Lastly I would like to add that the soccer teams this year each put in a tremendous effort and with a growing interest in the sport amongst our younger players we might perhaps look forward to a 1st X1 in future years.

Squash Report

'88

The 1988 season has been one of the most successful on record at Hale School.

Two teams were entered in the Squash Rackets Association's inter-school competition. The No. 1 U/16 side of M. McCormick, M. Bredmeyer, J. Field, M. Casey and J. Howieson were successful — winning the division one section, defeating Christchurch 6-0 in the grand final.

The U/18 side, who lost their grand final to Guildford last year, were determined to go one better this year. On grand final day before a large crowd at the Squash Association of W.A. headquarters at Curtin University, Stuart Ledger, Ranbir Singh, Peter Scotford and Shane Cassey turned on their best performances for the year and comfortably accounted for Christ Church, 5 rubbers to 1. Ranbir Singh completed his two year squash career at Hale unbeaten in inter-school competition.

Though Hale has won U/16 and U/18 statewide schoolboy titles before, 1988 is the first year we have won both in the one season.

Ranbir Singh, Peter Scotford and Shane Cassey were subsequently awarded colours for their fine efforts thus joining Stuart Ledger who received them in 1987.

With such a wealth of talent in the U/16 ranks coming through in 1989 we can look forward to several years yet of high quality squash from Hale. The advent, too, of the new squash complex within the school gymnasium complex should further swell participating members and must serve, to add to our depth. It has been mooted that squash will become a full P.S.A. sport in 1990. If so we are well placed to be a strong presence in the competition for many years to come.

Colours held by: S. Ledger.

Symbols held by: R. Singh, P. Scotford, S. Cassey.

Colours awarded to: R. Singh, P. Scotford, S. Cassey.

Athletics Report

The 1988 Bicentennial Interschool Athletics Carnival was perhaps a disappointment for Hale School but if we look back a few years, the third place Hale gained, in any respect, would have been a victory. The day was closely contested by Hale, Trinity, Aquinas and Wesley all day with the majority of the time Hale being either first or second. Eventually after a nullifying effort in the relays Trinity ran out victors on 1175 points with Aquinas second on 1108 points and then Hale on 1089 points.

There were a number of meets held throughout the season against Scotch and Trinity and an intra-squad meet. Athletes contested keenly and many obtained Stow awards with some records being set.

Hales' Inter-house Athletics Carnival was contested in high spirits and with great competitiveness by everyone. After a well fought day Haynes came out victors, winning the open relay, J.C. Taylor Cup and Parry and Riley winning jointly the Housemasters Cup for all relays.

The championships were held after the third term break and many performances were very creditable. Thanks must be extended to Mr Hopkins for his commentary as well as the Ladies Auxiliary for a wonderful morning tea (although not many athletes were able to sample the cream scones). Many Stow awards and records were set and the following were champions or runners up.

Open: S. Cassey. Runner-up: M. Simpson.

U/17: P. Leuba. Runner-up: D. Warren.

U/16: S. Brindal. Runner-up: M. Cassey.

U/15: C. Castledine. Runner-up: M. Kelly.

U/14: M. Moran. Runner-up: D. Broom.

Hale entered the 84th Annual P.S.A. Carnival with much confidence after a great build up but had to be content with 3rd place. Although many Hale people thought this was a disappointing place, Hale only dropped 23 points from last year's 2nd place effort. Although tragedy struck in 2 relays, damage had been incurred earlier in the meet. After hitting the lead midway through the 100 metre events as a result of many personal bests, we lost momentum and suffered a series of poor places which made all the difference.

The performance of Hale's captain Shane Cassey was the highlight of the meet. Shane won his 100m, 200m, Long Jump, Triple Jump and ran the anchor leg in the 3rd placed open relay. As well, he broke the P.S.A. records in his Long Jump and Triple Jump with leaps of 7.25m and 14.50m respectively.

Throughout the season 12 records were set and many Stow awards (50 of 100 events). The following people are to be congratulated on their records: S. Cassey, A. Webster, S. Dethlefsen, M. Grant, M. Kelly, D. Broom, S. Papadopoulos, V. Klimaitis, M. Chadwick, M. Hyde.

Hale's very creditable 3rd place would not have been achieved without the efforts of many coaches after school and on weekends. A special thanks must go to Mr Greenwell and Mr Brown for organising and planning the training programme for the season.

1988 was perhaps a disappointment for the squad and trainers but with the same endeavour and a bit more commitment by athletes next year Hale will be able to do just what our retiring Headmaster's team did in 1941, win the Interschool Athletics Carnival.

Under 14: 3000m: D. Broom, 10 minutes and 7.7 seconds at the School Championships beating J.C. Sewell's 1984 record of 10 minutes 15.2 seconds. Shot Put: S. Papadopoulos breaking the 1987 record set by M. Kelly of 11.84m by throwing a new record of 12.67m at the School Championships.

Under 15: Discus: M. Kelly 47.90m at the School Championships breaking the record of M. Adonis of 41.90m in 1981. Shot Put: 15.24m at the School Championships bettering G. Fitzgerald's 1981 record of 13.35m. 1500m: M. Chadwick, 4 minutes 28.0 seconds at the Inters breaking Duncan Hogg's 1987 record of 4 minutes 30.6 seconds.

Under 16: 3000m: H. Grant at the Inters equalled the record of 9 minutes 53.7 seconds set in 1987 by C. Davison.

Under 17: Discus: A. Webster 46.19m, breaking the previous record held by N. Cumming of 40.40m in 1983 at the School Championships. Shot Put: A. Webster 13.47m at the School Championships bettering the P.N. Kempin record of 13.11 in 1970. High Jump: S. Dethlefsen 1.86m at the School Championships breaking S. Cooks 1982 record of 1.85m.

Open: Discus: M.D. Hyde 43.86m at the School Championships bettering the 1984 record of N. Cumming of 42.58m. Triple Jump: S. Cassey 14.50m at the Inters. Shane broke the 1984 record of M. Addis 13.73m at the School Championships and again at the Inters where he broke the Inters record of 13.96m. High Jump: V. Klimaitis 1.89m at the School Championships bettering S.J. Newland's 1986 record of 1.88m. This he improved on at the Inters with a leap of 1.92m. Long Jump: S. Cassey 7.25m at the Inters. J.G. Forresters 1937 record of 6.59m was broken by Shane at the School Championships with a leap of 6.85m and again broken at the Inters, 7.25m bettering the old Inters record of 6.93m.

Debating Report

Hale School debating has had a great year. Not only have we done well in debating but again this year Hale had fair success in public speaking competitions.

The year 8s were one of our leading teams this year making it to the quarter finals of the W.A.D.L. competition. The team comprising R. Shilkin, J. Steinberg, C. Miller, M. Stockwell, S. Cooper, S. Gobby, C. Roberts, D. Stephenson all debated well to obtain this result. The rest of the squad consisted of N. Smith, M. Beckett, I. Brayshaw, H. Jooste, S. Dean and T. Cross.

The year 9 team led by competent debaters such as G. Wheatley did not do quite as well as their younger colleagues to win two out of five debates. The year 9 team consisted of G. Wheatley, J. Rosenthal, B. Harwig, R. Sewell, J. Legge and G. McKay.

The year 10 squad consisting of S. Bedbrook, J. Jooste, S. Patel and T. Hewitt won two out of their four debates. They did very well considering their small number.

The tragic result was that of the year 11 squad. The team of F. Tenji, A. Eyres, C. Davidson, A. Mallabone, D. Booth, N. Flavel and M. Roe lost all four of their debates. The team, with a little more experience, should be able to turn this result around.

Hale debating had its biggest success with the year 12 squad. Led by the talented B. Zempilas the captain of debating in 1988, the team comprising D. Baker, M. Farr, S. McDonagh, S. Rathbone and G. Mussell did superbly to reach the quarter finals in the W.A.D.L. competition. After a much contested debate Hale school lost its chance of winning a major debating competition.

House debating was on again this year. The final came down to Riley and Haynes. After some superb debating the three judges awarded the debate to Haynes. The team consisted of B. Zempilas, M. Brown and D. Baker.

Public speaking at Hale involved F. Tenji, N. Flavel and A. Eyres. Only F. Tenji was able to achieve a good result at the Jaycees where he reached the regional final.

This year only two members of the debating squad went to the debating camp. These were F. Tenji and C. Davison. The camp was an excellent experience for both debaters. All went well and the weekend camp proved to be a huge success. Hopefully more people will attend next year.

The chance arose for four young men to secure a place in the state debating team. These were C. Davison, A. Eyres, M. Brown and F. Tenji. All debated well but were not invited back for the final round.

Symbols held by B. Zempilas awarded to McDonagh, S. Rathbone and G. Mussell.

Colours held by no one are now awarded to B. Zempilas, M. Farr and D. Baker.

Special thanks go to Mr Goldsmith without whose leadership and help Hale Debating would not have achieved what it has.

On behalf of all debaters we say goodbye to Doctor Tregonning. A man who gave twenty two years of his life to Hale school. We wish him the best of luck in the future.

Chess Report

1988 has been one of the finest years on record for Hale School Chess. Both our A and B teams competed with the best to obtain high results. In the Secondary Schools League the A team consisting of J. Field, F. Tenji, N. Pigott, S. Bulloch, L. Pinczuk and P. Liddell played well to obtain the rank of fourth. The B team consisting of D. Griffiths, N. Wright, M. Wiggins, A. Kiddey, R. Leedman, I. Healey and A. Johnson did even better to obtain third place.

Hale School had its best result this year at the State Allegro Championships. Our representatives were J. Field, F. Tenji, L. Pinczuk, P. Liddell, S. Bulloch, N. Pigott, M. Wiggins, A. Kiddey and C. Roberts. Everyone played their best to defeat all West Australian schools including second-placed Scotch College by two points to win the state trophy.

At the same competition J. Field won the Under 18 State Championship, while F. Tenji won the Under 16 State Championship.

Special congratulations must be extended to J. Field for being invited to the Australian Bicentennial Young Masters Championships as the state representative. Only one representative from each state was selected. Field did brilliantly to obtain fourth in the competition.

In 1988 Parry House won the house competition. The team consisted of J. Field, F. Tenji and N. Pigott. Buntine House was second in this competition.

The year eight competition was again held this year and a great deal of talent was revealed. The eventual winner was A. Kiddey from Haynes House.

Symbols are currently held by F. Tenji, L. Pinczuk and S. Bulloch. They are now awarded to N. Pigott, M. Wiggins and A. Johnson.

Colours are currently held by J. Field and are now awarded to F. Tenji. Honours are awarded to J. Field.

On behalf of all the chess players I would like to thank Mr N.T. Sonntag and Mr K. De Frenne for all their coaching and support.

Finally the Chess Club of Hale School would like to express our farewells to Dr Tregonning and wish him all the best in his retirement.

IBM Problem Solving Competition

In May this year, the 1988 IBM Problem Solving Competition was held, requiring students to tackle a paper that tested their ability to solve non-routine problems.

Each of the Junior and Senior division papers gave students much needed exposure to problems in non-routine situations. This will ultimately lead to improvements in problem solving skills relevant for sound performance at the T.E.E. level.

Whilst no students was awarded a Distinction, the following boys were awarded merit certificates:

Mathematics Games Competition

The car glided smoothly around the last corner of our journey and there it was, Noalimba, the place that was to be our home for the next three days.

Friday was the start of the annual Mathematics Games Competition, in which the Hale team of Duncan Hogg, Tim Hewitt, James Kenneison and James Jooste were to feature prominently. After unpacking, the team enjoyed a supper and trial games before bed at 11.00 p.m.

On Saturday after a very early enjoyable breakfast, the first of the three games began. The game was called 'Teeko', and involved moving counters to achieve a line of four or a square. The group failed to find an effective strategy and as a result we did poorly. However, Hale was not to remain in the lower positions because after a break for some recreation (basketball) we achieved 2nd place in the second game, Saxon, which resembled chess. That evening Hale joined forces to try their problem solving skills in the puzzle paper. After the puzzle paper, the hall was cleared for the disco in which people, contrary to other years, actually danced. Once again at 11 o'clock everyone retired.

On Sunday morning we began the third and final game 'zig-zag' in which there was a strategy where you cannot lose if you play first. Therefore most of the Hale players won as many games as they lost. This resulted in Hale's overall position moving up slightly and we ended up in 12th position.

After we had packed up, cleaned our rooms and had lunch, all the schools assembled in the hall for the prizegiving. Guildford Grammer School won the overall competition for the second year in a row. Although Hale did not receive any prizes, all the team members thoroughly enjoyed themselves throughout the weekend.

Australian Mathematics Competition

The annual Australian Mathematics Competition (sponsored by the Westpac Banking Corporation) was held on 3rd August in Memorial Hall for students in years 8, 9, 10, 11 and 12. This year 81 students from Hale School entered the competition out of approximately 370,000 students Australia wide.

The President Of The Dramatic Society's Report

This year's drama production was significant for a number of reasons.

Firstly, being the bicentennial year it seemed appropriate to look back on the History of Hale School.

Secondly, with the retirement of Doctor Tregonning it adds another chapter to our splendid history as outlined in the theme of the play which is dedicated to his honour.

Thirdly, it was a fitting finale for all those year 12s who have participated in the school play throughout their association with the school.

The production itself was a culmination of over 10 weeks of work and commitment from staff, and students from years 7 to 12. Additional help came from a whole range of interested and supportive people from makeup to choreography.

Rehearsals were initially marked by a sense of fun and frustration as students entered the task not realising what was expected from them, but under the exhortations and guidance of Mr Hopkins they quickly found form and began to knuckle down in order to create the high standard for which Hale productions have become renown.

As a result there were some fine performances in acting, singing and musicianship. These couldn't have taken place though without the physical and moral support of the stage and technical crew. They contributed a great deal to the success of the final nights and our thanks must go to Mr Lange, Mr Johnston and Mr Van Oijen for the provision of their expertise. The musical talents of Mr Harvey and Mr Carroll were also appreciated. As well as the leadership displayed by the stage crew president, Wayne Burnett, who worked very hard to try to organise the stage crew.

After over-coming our first night nerves our performance improved, so that by the third night we were not only able to produce our best, but were also able to enjoy the whole experience. Of course this experience was only able to be realised through the dedication and tenacity of Mr Hopkins. It was he who conceived the idea, wrote a play around it and then produced and directed the play. A superhuman task considering the extent of his other duties and the nature of the cast involved. What he has become is the symbol and driving force behind a Hale school major activity, earning him the respect of not only staff and students but parents as well.

Through the plays Mr Hopkins has provided an avenue where families can share in a school experience that can only make us all proud.

We earnestly hope that the Hale School production will live on in its present form providing an outlet for original work to be created and include as many staff and students as are interested in participating. The benefits of this form means that all can be involved, and the subject matter can take on a personal meaning ensuring a high interest.

The confidence gained in participating is great and can only benefit all who contribute. On this note I extend my personal thanks to the drama company of 1988, all those who supported it and particularly to Mr Hopkins for making it all happen. No one will be able to replace him.

"THE BISHOP'S SCHOOL"

Having now participated in four school plays, it always amazes me the way 50 pages of white paper come alive. A few months before the final performance, interested students attend a meeting in the music centre where they are handed the script and told to read it before auditions.

This year's play was titled "The Bishop's School, a History of Hale School 1858-1872". It was written as a tribute to Dr Tregonning in his final year and was an accurate and entertaining version of the first years of Hale School under Bishop Hale. It included the real worries of the time, list of the original students, a representation of each headmaster and of course the Bishop himself. The main theme was the "Triumph and Disaster" of the early years of the school.

All was not serious however. Mr Hopkins generously allowed himself some poetic licence to write into the plot a dash of humour. Thus was born the Perth Academy and Boarding School (though it may be noticed that the Academy's colours were the same as another noted private Perth school!). The members of the Academy were the traditional bad guys, although they did not trouble Hale (as this would have compromised the plot's accuracy).

This year we were fortunate in having experienced comedy actors on the cast. Stephen Darragh played the headmaster of the Academy (an ex draper!) hilariously, and gained drama colours for this performance as well as two previous comedy roles. He was accompanied by two other experienced performers — Rawden Pettitt as a slow witted draper's apprentice, and Matthew Warp.

On the more serious side of things we were again fortunate in having some experienced and talented actors. The most notable being Basil Zempilas. This year he took up the main role of Bishop Hale, he gave a marvellous performance that earned him colours as well as the "Cartland Couture" award for Best Actor.

Other awards were given to two long-serving members of the Hale dramatic society. Michael Jorgenson had participated in four previous school plays and this year hammed it up in his role as Rooster Roach a housemaster at Hale. He was awarded colours as well as Sam McDonagh, who has now been a part of four consecutive school plays as a committeeman, bookmaker and member of the board. This year he finished his participation with a characterisation of Reverend Lynch the first headmaster of Hale School.

These parts did not constitute the whole play however. Small parts with one or even no lines were all taken seriously. Indeed the most spectacular parts of the play were when all these enthusiastic actors were on the stage together as in the songs "Dip in the Swan", "When You Go in You're in Till You're out" and the final "Duty".

If I have given the impression that acting is all there is to a School Play, nothing could be further from the truth. In the band 6 members gained colours — Simon Lowe for 2 years in the band and a year on stage, Alister Lilleyman for 5 years on the Clarinet, Robert Maitland for 4 years on the clarinet, Xavier Dhalluin for 3 years on the baritone horn, Paul Kelly for 4 on the trombone and John Viner also on the trombone.

Stage management was also an important factor and was executed with skill and speed. Colours were awarded to Wayne Burnett the student stage manager, and thanks must go to him and his team for the construction of the set as well as scene changes during the performances.

All this work would have been nothing without teacher guidance, however. This year Graham Lange organised the stage and set, as he has for two years. Mr Bill Van Oijen organised lighting and sound, assisted by C. Shortill, he organised the incredibly complicated sequences of microphone sound levels, light changes and special effects. Not only this but he managed to set up a television behind the stage so cast members could see what was going on.

Music was another major part of the event, and two people were involved in the development of this. Jeff Carroll composed and arranged the songs and incidental music. He also organised the singing of these songs which resulted in him giving up his time to coach during lunchtime sessions sometimes involving nearly the whole cast. The next person of note was Bernard Harvey who guided the band through the playing of all music with considerable panache and excellent results. Thanks must also be given to Heather Callendar who organised choreography in all the major chorus songs.

Finally but by no means the least important was Jeff Hopkins. His dedication to the play, enthusiasm, criticism and advice were very important. He conceived, wrote and directed the whole play, wrote the lyrics for the songs and is indisputably the driving force behind the Hale dramatic society.

Music

The Hale School Music Society participated in many activities and reached great heights this year, again under the capable baton of Mr Bernard Harvey.

One of this year's major events on the musical calendar was the annual home grown school play, 'The Bishop's School — The Story of Hale School 1858-1872'. Twenty boys took part in this enterprise, playing in the showband over the three nights of the play. For the second year, Mr Jeff Carroll arranged and composed the music and great thanks must be given to him for his efforts, Mr Harvey ably filled the job of conducting the band.

The following boys were members of the showband:

Flute: Andrew Lilleyman.

Oboe: Adam Pinto.

Clarinets: Julian Cooke, Craig Giles, Jorden Hollingworth, Simon Lowe.

Bass Clarinets: Alister Lilleyman, Robert Maitland.

Tenor Saxophone: Simon Davey.

Horns: Benjamin Sutherland, Justin Ward.

Baritone Horn: Xavier Dhalluin.

Trumpets: Andrew Davey, Glen Giles, Digby Short.

Trombones: Paul Kelly, Tim Markham, John Viner.

Tuba: Christopher Hanson.

Percussion: Adam Rule.

Congratulations to all those who took part, in particular those awarded Symbols and Colours for their efforts in the Drama area.

The Garland Music Prize was once again held in the Stow Music Centre this year. It is an excellent opportunity for boys to display their talents at competition level and all boys who entered did very well.

On the night Adam Pinto and Charles Miller were declared joint winners with A. Holden winning the Mrs Gladstone Prize for the most promising year 8 and 9 musician. Well done to all those involved.

The members of the band would like to take this opportunity to thank Mr Harvey for his efforts. Also, thanks must be conveyed to the many tutors at the school who teach boys. Without them, such a high standard of music would not be possible.

Wittenoom

The end of second term 1988 heralded the continuation of the Hale Wittenoom programme. A total of eleven groups went up there at two week intervals. These two weeks are definitely the highlight of the year 11 students' life at Hale. The Wittenoom trip provides unique and unforgettable experience for all who participate. It brings boys together who do not usually see each other much at school. The programme develops leadership potential and gets the students working together rather than as a group of individuals. Mr Sontag, with the assistance of Brad Hewson, made Wittenoom home throughout the three month programme and guided the participants through a memorable stay.

Group 1, with Steve Mumme at the helm, were soon off to a good start with "Rambo" Matthew Campbell leading the way in his combat greens. The group was lucky to survive a tantrum thrown by Aaron Ashworth out at bush camp where the axe and knives were buried to avoid injury, but he still tried to walk to Tom Price. "Spiderman" Courtney Davison climbed the highest way possible around the gorges in an effort to keep out of the cold water. He did survive to see the 11ft python caught in Dale's Gorge by Leighton Bamford.

Group 2 was led by a determined Mr Heibner posing as group master. The first drama of the Wittenoom programme came during the group's walk to Mulga Downs. One half arrived at the station hours after the other, because they had lost their compass while swimming through a mudlake. Group 2 and 3 combined to play a cricket match against the local players, who were fresh from a session at the pub with tinnies in hand. Grey Edgerton-Warburton, or "Piggy", batting in his debut match, scored highly. He finally fell to the traitorous Brad Hewson who was playing for the opposition. There was no doubt about the score, as Hale won by a considerable margin.

The third group, again led by Mr Mumme, was a mixture of all kinds of personalities. They saw such strange events as Michael Baldwin falling off Town Pool, Craig Giles being the first person to go down the slide at Knox Gorge head first, and Jason Marinko working hard on an even tan (when he was not tending the accident-prone Nick Flavel). This group went on many unaided swims through Red and Joffre Gorges, as would other groups in the future. Both Groups 1 and 3 were appreciative of a tour and afternoon tea at Coolawanyah Station, which is a few hours from Wittenoom.

An enthusiastic Mr Walsh from Junior School was in charge of Group 4. The students proved to be as rough and ready as any group to visit Wittenoom this year. The highlights included Mark Teasdale's continual whining, Craig Shorthill's G.I. Joe army gear and Peter Barnes' new record for treading water at Circular Pool. Andrew Ho found himself on the top of the list of "Unfunny" jokes, while Tim Allan constantly attempted to convert everyone into "The Smiths" fans. Walshy, as he was affectionately known, was ringleader in the mud fights and Mark Foster's "Jimmy Barnes" T-shirt came close to destruction on the final night.

Group 5 was led by Mr Dook, who turned out to be a very cautious bushwalker. He enjoyed putting the group through a series of testing walks over the two weeks. David La Bianca and James Allan were the only two who attempted all the jumps, both trying to out do the other at Lunch Pool. Hamersley Gorge was a frightening experience for Mr Dook, who felt sure the group would die from eating wild frogs. Also at Hamersley Gorge, Mr Dook and James Allan were attacked by a vicious emu running through the group. Knox Gorge proved to be tough for Robin Crewe and Michael Eva who were not able to swim through the cold water.

Group 6 were this year's geologists and they were headed by Mr Sontag. They had the privilege of an overnight stay at Wyloo, just past Tom Price. Here they went fossicking for gems and found quite a large number of amethysts. Jeff Fowler and Peter Barrett found the water harder than they had anticipated, having less than delicate landings at Fortescue and Lunch Pool respectively. Group 6 likened themselves to a cricket team and lined up against the locals, who were more sober this time. Edward Oldmeadow top scored, but all to no avail as the Hale team went down, much to the pleasure of the local spectators.

Group 7 headed up to Wittenoom with Mr Arkle who had no previous experience, making it as much a learning experience for him as for the eight students. The two weeks started off on a low note with Myles Gordon being hit by a large rock while climbing the Scarp on day one. He required stitches for the wound. Greg Erskine cut his foot a few days later and also needed stitches. However, this did not prevent him from jumping off Lunch Pool and also climbing Mount Bruce. The highlight of the camp was the attack by several "aborigines" on the overnight campsite at Hester's Camp on day two. The group took on Joffre Gorge and almost became lost. After 12 hours of walking they arrived back at bushcamp sore and sorry, but safe. Stories about satellites and Kulin occupied the nights. Looking back, the members of Group 7 also enjoyed Wittenoom, despite a few hiccups.

Mr Cooper led Group 8 through their stay up north. Chris Johnson did not find the water in Malay Well at Mulga Downs to his liking, and was rather ill. Mr Cooper, who had been rather quiet throughout the camp, was suddenly noticed after hurling abuse at the rock on which he stubbed his toe in Hancock Gorge. Despite a broken axle in the trailer which meant no overnighiter in Hamersley, the group turned the overnight stay into a one day trip to the Gorge. This group was treated to a spectacle, not quite the standard of the Melbourne Cup but none the less enjoyable, in the annual Wittenoom Race Day.

Group 9 turned out to be the group of big jumpers. It was led by the rushing Mr Bean, who wanted to get walks over and done with quickly. Lincoln Dye, Adrian Webster and Luke Hawkins jumped everything that came in their path. Russell Short did not find Mount Watkins a very amusing climb after he hit the ground abruptly on the way down, grazing his body in various places. Mr Bean nearly had a heart attack when he just missed stepping on a snake. To finish off, there was an aboriginal-look-alike contest in the form of a big mud fight at Top Pool.

Group 10 set off with the veteran Mr Alderson, who wanted to maintain his fitness by walking everywhere. One time at Cathedral Pool, Mr Sontag came to the boys' rescue by picking them up rather than making them walk 8 km. Mr Alderson ran back by himself. Unfortunately, he had to leave after the first week, so Nick Pople and Brad Hewson took over. Stuart Blackwell set many records over the duration of his stay, and was hungry for more. He thrashed everyone in eating, literally attacking his food and leaving his plates spotless. Brenton Pearce did not find Lunch Pool to his liking, and Tim Simpson managed to drop his Dad's camera in the water twice in one day. Tim Martin and Nathan Hawkesford complained at everything, and when he was not complaining Tim constantly hassled Rohan "Big Rick" Mistilis.

Steve Mumme returned to Wittenoom with group 11, the last Group to visit Wittenoom in 1988. This group followed trails left by Tim Berryman's regular blood noses. John Purvis soon became an accomplished dishwasher, because if you don't eat the meals, you clean up after them. With some polished performances on field and at the crease, a combined Group 10 and 11 Hale cricket side won the third test and took the 1988 series 2-1. After cleaning bush camp, group 11 hosted a party for the fifty or so town-folk. There they were entertained by the football songs of Deputy Headmaster Mr Macmillan, who flew to Wittenoom with Mr Gray for the final days.

This 1988 Wittenoom season was a huge success and ran without a hitch. This was to the credit of Resident Master Mr Sontag, Coordinator Mr Gray and Assistant Resident Master Brad Hewson. The year 11's involved also appreciate the efforts of the teachers who guided them through the school work missed on their return to Perth. Mention must be made of the Group Masters who spent two weeks away from the luxuries of home to make the Wittenoom programme a memorable experience for all students involved.

Leeuwin Trip

As I arrived at 'B' berth I saw small clusters of people. One in each group was tightly gripping their bags and nervously talking. I waited looking over the square rigger thinking, "What am I doing here?" It's my birthday and I should be at home in bed."

After farewells to family I was faced with the prospect of spending 10 days with 50 new faces. Our watch leader took us on a guided tour of the boat, explaining everything as we went. I thought to myself, "Crickey! How am I meant to remember all this?"

When it was our turn to go 'aloft', we all went a pale shade of green and shakily clambered up the first set of futtocks with 'death grips' all the way. It was very calm but even so we were scared out of our wits. Little did I know that I would be out at the very end of the yards, furling the top gallant during 50 knot winds in the storm that was coming.

The second day was like a pleasure cruise, sunbaking and talking to all the different people. There was a small swell and only a little work to do.

The storm hit at about 3 a.m. on the third day. The people on bow watch got saturated with huge waves. The mate had to steer with one hand whilst frantically grasping the rail to stop himself falling over. The toilets and showers were interesting, and we had to brace ourselves by pushing against the walls or grasping rails. Going to sleep seemed an impossible challenge, with the boat pitching from side to side. People were falling out of the 2½ foot wide 5½ foot long bunks.

On the fifth night we anchored outside the harbour at Geraldton. That was when we saw the first whale, about 20 metres off the bow. The next morning twenty people manned the yards as we motored into the harbour, and docked while being escorted by five dolphins. We all had two free hours, to do as we pleased in Geraldton. While we sent the women off with twenty loads of washing, the rest of us went straight to Hungry Jacks!

When we arrived back at the boat we each had about two bags of food and drink. At noon the public came on board to inspect the boat. We explained everything to the best of our knowledge and tried to look important. When most of the tickets were sold we went out for a cruise.

It took us two days to get back to Perth. In the gales we had to sail a delicate course through the reefs which took some tight sailing. When we were through, the trainee who had the helm was shown the course he had steered. He almost fainted!

The ninth night was the most interesting with a 'sods opera'. There were hilarious jokes, skits, songs and an excruciatingly funny trial which ended up in an all out water fight.

On the tenth morning we were faced with the prospect of returning to the real world. We weren't very happy about parting and thought about hijacking the boat. After docking it was very sad with all the farewells. The parents were shocked when they learnt of the one broken ankle, two dislocated ankles, one dislocated hip and one dislocated knee. Even the injured didn't want to leave.

I found the 'Leeuwin' to be one of the most rewarding experiences of my life. I'm sure that everyone else felt the same way after meeting all the people from very different backgrounds.

Many thanks to Natalie Speechly of Year 11 Penrhos for helping me compile this report.

Rottnest Reafforestation '88

For the sixth time a group from Hale went to Rottnest to aid in reafforestation and sand dune erosion control. This year reafforestation began with the planting of seedlings during third and fourth term at the school. About 2,000 trees were successfully raised and more trees may have survived if the builders had not managed to turn off the water supply during the Easter holidays. These trees were then planted into pots during lunch-times by the rostered group. Only indigenous species were planted such as Acacia Rostillifera or Rottnest Ti-Tree.

On the Friday before we left, most of the group members were involved in preparing for the trip. One group packed the trees onto Mr John Barrymore's boat while another group went and arranged the supplies for the camp. The following day the trees and half the group went across to Rottnest in the morning with Mr Barrymore, which was a thoroughly enjoyable trip and greatly appreciated. The rest of the group played in sporting teams and then went to Rottnest by aeroplane with a thankful Mr Welsh, as he has an unequalled ability to become sea sick. The group who flew over arrived to find the first group had already been fixing fences for Mr Barrymore and unloading the trees.

Following afternoon tea we were introduced to our first activity which was brushing some sand dunes near Salmon Bay. Half the group was involved in cleaning up barbed wire and corrugated iron left by the army while the other half of the group collected brush which had been cut by the Rottnest Island Board. The journey by truck to collect brush proved to be slow since Mr Eyres had much difficulty in getting the truck into second gear, so we drove all the way in first until Mr Eyres discovered how to operate the gearstick.

Brushing took us several days, and once this was completed we proceeded to our next job of cleaning up after the summer holiday's vacationers. The 1987 group had built some fences at Pinkies Bay but vandals had torn these down and used them for fire wood. This was frustrating work, and it is due to the native quokka and thoughtless vandals that much conservationist work is difficult to conclude. When this clean up job was finished the party divided into two groups. One undertook more dune conservation work while the other group went and built quokka and tourist proof fences. That evening we stopped work early so that Mr Eyres could go fishing. Mr

Eyres caught several small herring while Ben Hewitt told every one how to catch fish (although he caught none himself). Ben, being no man to face defeat, went and caught himself several large skippy and a sizeable King George whiting the following evenings.

The next day the group again split up, this time one group went and finished the quokka proof fence and the other group went and planted trees in Geordie Bay. Planting trees was slow due to the fact that individual guards were placed around each tree. Again the Eyres group stopped work early, this time to go for a surf.

When the quokka proof fence was eventually built, we planted trees in the fenced off area, we then drove out to where we had brushed dunes earlier in the week and planted several dune species in an attempt to establish vegetation. Congratulations must go to Andrew Johnston who managed not to plant a single tree during the whole week. This was closely followed by Nick Pople's (Rent-a-pom) efforts of doing as little fencing as possible.

The whole week was not only involved with planting trees. Everyone in the group managed to find entertainment in their spare time, even if it only involved fishing or surfing. Adrian Anastas supplied highly interesting reading with his book 'Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles', and live entertainment when he sculled six eggs mixed with honey and salt. Meals were entertainment in themselves, especially lunch when everyone ate off the table and then carried the table outside to be swept down.

The evenings were quiet though the group managed to make them as exciting as the conditions would allow. At the end of the week the masters and Adrian Anastas went out to dinner and I am told it was a pleasant meal. The rest of the group settled for fish and chips. The following day we loaded our gear onto the Rottnest barge and headed for home. Amazingly, Mr Welsh was not sea sick. The whole group consisting of Arthur House, Andrew Johnson, Adrian Anastas, Alastair Cowan, Mark Hyde, Hamish Moffat, Stuart Ledder, Stuart Love, Graeme Edis, Sam McDonagh, Ben Hewitt, Bruce Dwyer, Donald Percy, Alister Lilleyman, Adam Benson and John Isbister would like to thank Mr Eyres, Mr Welsh and Mr Cooper for their time made available and also 'Chaz' (a local) who organised all the materials required from the Rottnest Island Board. Last but not least Mr Kenny who organised this year's trip deserves a big thank you.

Abrolhos Island Trip

On the 7th of March a keen group of Hale fishermen and divers set off for the Abrolhos Islands. There were seven students supervised by Mr Biddle and Mr Nunn.

As the sun rose on the morning of our departure we assembled at school to pack the bus with a seemingly endless supply of gear. Most of it was Scott Dethlefsen's and Sam McDonagh's plus Sam's ever so important chocolate cake.

By 6.00am the bus was fully packed leaving barely enough sitting space for us. Our destination was Geraldton, where we were to catch a plane to the Islands. On the way up in the bus, many fishermen's yarns were told, mainly by Damien Baker and Ben Hewitt, who seemed to us to be the most experienced fishermen aboard.

Once at Geraldton we were able to stretch our cramped legs and transfer our gear to the Islands' supply boat. We then caught a 5 seater plane across to the Islands. Mr Nunn didn't look too keen, mainly because the runway consisted of sand, small rocks and patches of grass. The spectacular views from the plane were worth the worry. Once we had landed, we were greeted by the Burnetts who were our hosts.

Fishing was on all our minds, so it was straight to the jetties to check the situation out. Mr Burnett, who is a professional cray-fisherman, offered to take two boys on his daily run. This was quite an experience especially if you love crayfish. Mr Biddle and Mr Nunn being keen divers proceeded to show us their skills with spear guns. Most of us soon joined them as the fish seemed to refuse to bite. The inner reefs were full of fish and the bald-chin groper was the most sought after. At times the inexperienced divers didn't feel all that safe with guys like Davey Hills and Mr Nunn around, with their trigger happy fingers.

The fish of the week caught on a rod went to Ben Hewitt who after a short but enjoyable battle defeated a large pink snapper. Mr Biddle and Mr Nunn both speared nice sized coral trout which is the absolute when it comes to fresh fish. The most successful night of the week was when the 'real' fishermen, tried a new spot rather than watch the 'Eagles' on T.V. After two hours, a very excited group had caught a hefty batch of fish. Results of the night were Scott Dethlefsen 4 Tailor, Lincoln Dye 3 Tailor, 1 Trevally, Sam McDonagh 2 Tailor, Ben Hewitt 3 Tailor, 1 Trevally and Damien Baker nothing. Throughout the week a few of us attempted to troll, only to have a few strikes to excite us, but no fish in the boat.

After an all too brief stay it was time to pack up and return to Perth. The trip was enjoyed by all and many thanks must go to Mr Biddle and Mr Nunn and especially to the Burnetts for their organisation and time.

Hale Ski Trip to Mt Hotham

On the second Saturday of the holidays, 13 boys set off for Mt Hotham in Victoria. Leaving at a quarter to one in the morning was not the best, but at least we could sleep on the 5 hour bus journey up the mountain.

The weather was crystal clear as we arrived, and we were soon settled into the luxurious Arlberg hotel. With Santa Maria, Perth College and lots of other girls at the hotel we were assured of an enjoyable week.

On Monday morning we ventured onto the slopes. Marcus Bosworth, Christian Vuckman and Joshua Rance had their first experience on skis. Mrs Alderson's advice of falling over when out of control was followed regularly. It was amazing how soon they were able to get down the slopes in one piece. This is more than could be said for Paul Smith, who fell on the first morning and broke his collar bone. Tim Martin and Scott Parry discovered the delights of Snake Gully and Gavin Parker and David Farris discovered the delights of their primary school girlfriends from Carine.

Sunil Patel, Julian Cook, Michael Arnold and Simon Logie were also around the slopes doing their best. After 3 days' good skiing the notorious Victorian weather closed in with fierce winds and rain. However, most of us continued skiing.

On the last Friday it was back to Melbourne for a brief stay during which we explored the Victoria markets and saw the Sydney Swans thrash Melbourne at the M.C.G. We flew back to Perth on Saturday night as first class passengers.

Many thanks to Mr and Mrs Alderson who arranged the trip.

Journey to France 1988

During 1988, Mr Wapnah (for the fourth time in his career at Hale School) accompanied his wife and a group of eight boys to France. It was an unforgettable experience for us all in that we learnt a lot and enjoyed ourselves at the same time. The classroom seems a very artificial and limited way of learning a language now, after being placed in the real life environment of French speaking society. It was an amazing feeling when 3½ years of hard work (for some!) was put to the test.

On September 16, our group set off on an educational and camera-clicking trip which was to begin with a great day of shopping in Singapore. We then skipped continents to Europe, by landing in Zurich. A long train trip followed across Switzerland into the yuppie centre of the world, Geneva.

We stayed in the picturesque city of Geneva for 3 days, getting used to the language and doing a bit of sightseeing. We stayed at a Youth Hostel which was full of Germans, and during the day toured the city and lake. Our stay also included a visit to Cern, the research centre where the behaviour of particles is studied.

Then at last we got on the train for the long journey into France. We met with our families in Angers (pronounced On-jay) late on Wednesday night. We were all nervous as we realised that for 20 days we would have to speak and even think in a totally different language, and learn the customs of the families we were staying with.

For some, the next morning was the first day of school. The schools in France contain more students than Hale in a tiny fraction of the area, with no grass and a tiny paved courtyard.

The building was a maze of stairs and corridors — whenever we told the French students how big Hale was (and the number of sports fields) they always gasped with envy. They are also worse off in another way — school lessons run from 8 a.m. to 5 or 6 in the evening!

Apart from school and families, a big part of our stay in Angers was spent visiting various sites of interest nearby. We first visited the Chateau d'Angers (or Castle of Angers) where we encountered our first incomprehensible guide. There are two types of guide in France, the one who speaks at 100 kph about something really interesting and the slow one who talks about really boring things.

In the following week and a half we visited Cointreau (famous liqueur makers), Saumur (a very impressive castle on a hill overlooking the Loire river) as well as other chateaux. We wine tasted at Langlois-Chateau, after touring the storage caves, discovered French culture at a mushroom farm, saw an underground Troglodyte village, visited a tank museum and were shown around La Petite Marquise Chocolaterie — a chocolate factory in the town of Angers.

JOURNEY TO FRANCE

D. Booth, C. Giles, M. Gellie, Mrs Wapnah, M. Foster, N. Miller, A. Patel, A. Witham, S. Dyson.

The ten days were soon over, and it was time to go to our new families in La Rochelle, with perhaps even stranger eating habits. We were now getting used to the French language — our comprehension was improving and we were picking up the useful day-to-day language not taught in class. We spent the weekend with the families touring the district and were ready to face school on Monday.

School in La Rochelle was bigger, and better organised than Angers. We went to more French classes which was better for learning. Occasionally we would leave school to walk around the town, where we would sit in a cafe near the port and argue over the bill for hours. The town was very picturesque and historic, but it also reinforced our realisation that French clothes are grossly overpriced.

In La Rochelle we spent more time at school in direct contact with the French people, but we did manage to fit in some excursions as a group. We visited the Yoplait yogurt factory with a free tasting session, as well as taking a short boat trip across the harbour to the part that looked like Fremantle, where we visited an oceanographic museum.

After ten days here we said goodbye to our hosts and set off on the train to Paris. Our 3 days there at the conclusion of the trip were enjoyed by everyone. Using the metro to get from place to place we still found ourselves walking many kilometres. It was often hard to keep up with the athletic 'sportif' Monsieur Wapnah. At a phenomenal speed we toured all the famous sights and parts of Paris — the Seine River, Notre Dame, Sacre Coeur, the Latin Quarter, Montmartre, Le Louvre, Champs Elysees, la Place de la Concorde, la Tour Eiffel, La Jardin des Tuileries, la Place d'Opera and of course Versailles.

Of all these, Versailles was the most enjoyed due to the (initially) excellent weather, and the sheer magnificence of the place. All this sightseeing proved tiring and the presence of many noisy Dutch girls in the hotel made sleeping difficult. Our mastery of the French tongue reached its peak in Paris, we found that we were now conversing in French with one another.

Then it was time to return after a month of travelling. After an initial panic in the airport when everyone (including Mr Wapnah) kept disappearing, we safely boarded the plane and settled down for the long trip home including six hours in Singapore Airport. We were all glad to be home, but regretted that we had only spent a month in France, and regretted even more school the next day!

In conclusion Mr Wapnah must be thanked for his superb organisation along with New Horizons. Dr Tregonning is to be thanked also for his support of what is a definitely worthwhile scheme.

Year 10 Biology Camp

Mr Kenny hit the ground with a sickening crunch. It was a painful demonstration for him but he made his point; bike riding is a very dangerous business. The year ten 1988 biology camp at Rottneest was off to a swinging start.

We arrived on Sunday morning and after the late arrival of our luggage at Kingston Barracks, we unpacked and settled in for the next two and a half days, during which we were to study marine and land animals and plants and examine the history of the island.

On Sunday afternoon seventy six biology students hit the road (some literally) to tour the island with Mr Kenny and Mr Jordan. After a very unusual dinner, we were introduced to the biology of the island with some interesting videos — a taste of what was to come later.

Over the next two days we saw ospreys and their nests at rugged North Point (Mr Brown showed us a different pair of north and south points) and we explored the gun emplacement. We hiked around the salt lakes, visited the museum and dived on a variety of reefs including the unique coral reef at Parker Point — a real highlight.

The many hard rides the group went on not only tested our stamina but Mr Brown's orienteering skills as well. The evenings were busy too with snakes in beds, teachers on the rampage and quokka games.

By Wednesday when it was time to come home, we all knew a lot more about Rottneest. It had been a very worthwhile learning experience and great fun as well, thanks to the efforts of Mr Brown, Mr Kenny, Mr Jordan and Nick.

Geology Excursion

'Twas the month of March when a band of devoted geologists, under the guidance of the geology master Mr Sontag, and Mr Johnson, father of Andrew and a man who was a fount of wisdom for all who cared to dabble in his waters of expertise, set forth for the North.

The expedition to Dongara had one mission (not to search and destroy), but to research and catalogue the various fossils that abound in the Dongara region. The band of fossil fossickers consisted of a boisterous bunch of really nice blokes who obeyed instructions unerringly and walked miles in 40 degree plus heat without question. The following were all participants:

Calvin Francis	Scott Rathbone
Quentin Brown	Ben Sprigg
Travis Draper	Peter Scotford
Andrew Reynolds	Nick Durell
Stephen Marris	John Talbot
Brendon Wallwork	William Keetch
Reagen Pinczuck	Damien Reading
Adam Benson	Lindsay Prosser
Andrew Johnson	Glen Jenkins

The trip to Dongara was incident free as the majority of people plugged themselves into their walkmans or discussed an extremely wide range of subjects. We stopped at Gingin and stepped out into the blazing midday sun. We received our geological tools (1 geological pick) and began walking through someone's paddock with the intent to rediscover fossils in a prominent outcrop. As there was no pasture for us to walk on — only thistle and gravel — we had little environmental impact.

After digging ourselves into the hillside we found various pieces of fossils (unfortunately no complete Tyrannosaurus' skeletons) but then it was our first day. After an hour of digging, collecting and sweating, we drifted back to the bus and completed our journey to Dongara. The challenge was issued to us along the way by Nigel Sontag that there was $50 for anyone who found the ever elusive trilobite. In retrospect it is probably non-existent. Fossil fever hit and at every stop there was a glint of greed in a few people's eyes as they shuffled around, head bowed, searching for this gem.

When we arrived at dusk, the accommodation had an "interesting" atmosphere. It was Priory Lodge, an old monastery. Practically deserted except for ourselves and equipped with a swimming pool and well tended gardens it was quite pleasant during the day. At night the darkened, creaky, verandahs and blank windows of the upstairs rooms gave the atmosphere of a scene of a brutal multiple axe murder. Ivy and bougainvillea climbed over the lattice work and one was ready for some headless apparition to leap out of a musty closet and wrap its clammy arms around you.

On ensuing nights however, this feeling dissipated, possibly because being intoxicated (with the unbearable urge to sleep as soon as we got off the bus after a day of stalking fossils) reduced one's ability to imagine such things.

The actual field excursions were interesting, but on a few occasions it seemed we were doomed to die due to an unimaginable thirst. After 3 hours in a dust-filled bus with the blast-furnace winds blowing across one's face and then getting out onto a bare, red, flat, plain dotted with bleached bones only to start walking. Like some demented hunchback one wandered aimlessly gazing at the endless parade of pebbles and rocks that stretched into the horizon as you looked for fossils. In the distance, the bus shimmered, an oasis for relief of tired feet and a bit of shade to stand under.

As waves of self pity enveloped us, someone would discover an ammonite, and people around would straighten up and hurry over. They would marvel at the find and then walk off looking more intensely for their own specimen.

After the day's trek was over we would pile back into the bus and head for moisture. At the first town we encountered we would flood into the deli and drain their fridges of soft drinks. Meanwhile the locals looked at us as we, in a silent ritual, sculled our first can and started on the second. Eye-brows were definitely raised.

On the final night we calculated, catalogued and wrote up our notes and mused over the past few days. We then went for another late night dip in the tepid waters of the swimming pool.

On the whole, the trip was filled with a constant stream of finds and various experiences. The hands-on experience gave another dimension to the information we had been studying over the past term in class and was appreciated by all.

Thanks must go to Mr Johnson and Mr Sontag who put up with our extremely rare escapades and guide us through the various techniques of fossil discovery and classification.

Hale Expo '88 Tour

On the first Friday of the September holidays, 21 boys, and the globe trotting Aldersons (again!), set out for Brisbane to see Expo '88. We left at 11.30 at night and got no sleep on the journey over. On arrival at Brisbane we went straight to the Expo site and encountered the first of many queues.

Once inside Expo we were free to explore the pavilions of 30 nations and 20 corporations. The theme of Expo was "Leisure in the Age of Technology" so we were able to see how people enjoy themselves all over the world.

To get around the Expo site we used the mono-rail which saved the effort of walking.

On the first day we were lucky enough to see a Hawker Harrier Jump Jet hover over the Brisbane river and do the famous bow. We also saw a fantastic display of fireworks every night.

Some of the really good exhibits included the W.A. pavilion where you were allowed to try and pick up a gold ingot and the Swiss pavilion where they actually had a ski run. Outside the Pakistan area there was an 8 foot giant who signed our Expo Passports. The Passports were stamped at every pavilion we visited.

There was also a lot of street entertainment with jugglers and clowns in among the crowds.

After 4 days at Expo we were exhausted and it was great to spend some time on Stradbroke Island relaxing on the beach and swimming in the fresh water lakes.

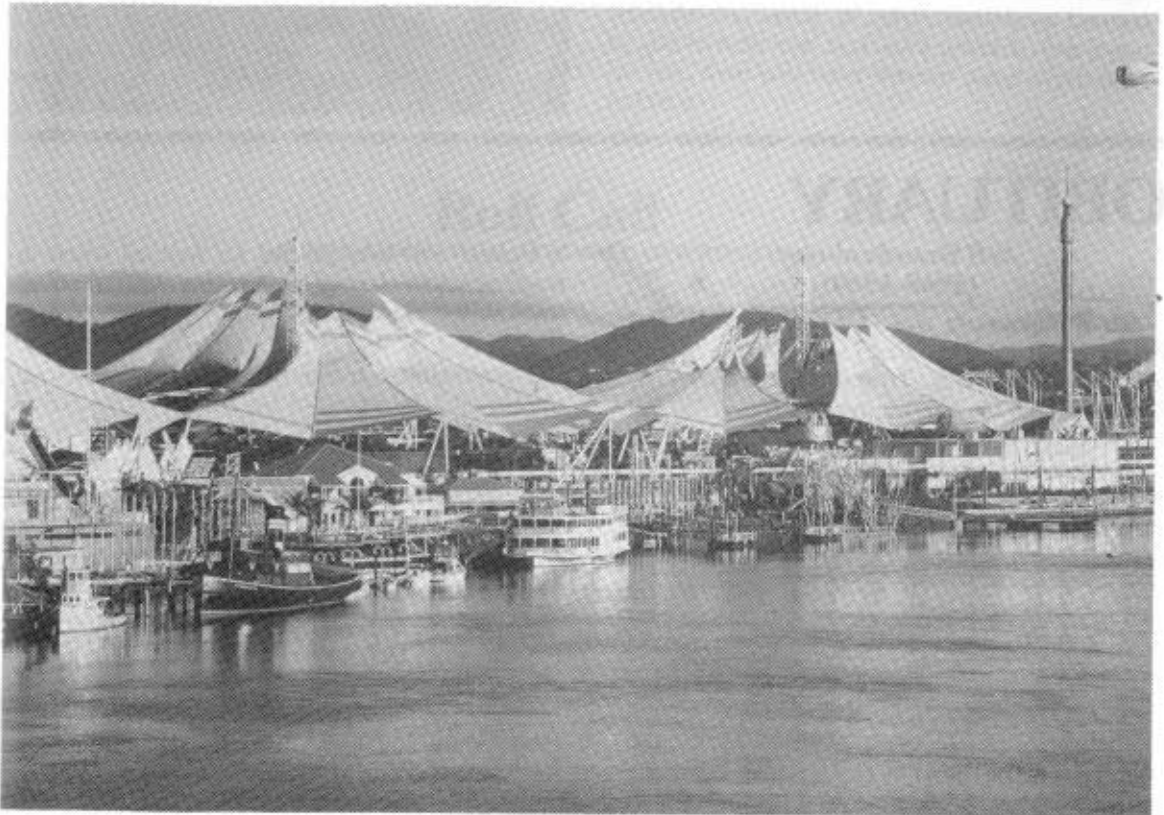

From Stradbroke Island we also visited Dreamworld where we had a lot of fun on the Thunderbolt roller coaster and the water slides.

We then had the long drive down the Pacific Highway to Sydney. On the way we stopped off to see Surfers Paradise and some of the local topless scenery.

In Sydney we stayed right on Bondi Beach. We saw 'Les Miserables' which was quite an experience.

On our last day we visited Darling Harbour and then it was time to come home for a well earned rest.

Red Cross Blood Donation

In 1986 the Red Cross Blood Bank started to accept donations from people over 16 years. Since this time a dedicated and brave group from Hale have been donating. This year we had over 40 boys from year 11 and year 12 who donated. The Parents and Friends generously donated $100 to purchase Mars Bars to help ease the pain. After all 'a Mars a day helps keep the blood donation blues at bay'.

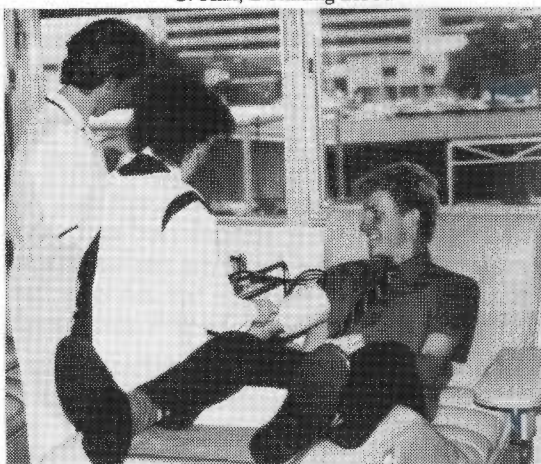

Some notable donations were given. John Dutry managed to put an entire group off by telling them how much it hurt. James Allen showed us what a low pain threshold he has. Matthew Berry had a dizzy spell, but proved how tough he was and came back for a successful second attempt. Richard Lucas fell in love with a nurse and everyone would like to thank Arnotts for the endless supply of biscuits.

Hopefully Hale boys will continue this very worthwhile activity and boys will become donors for life.

OBITUARY

Jeff Brandenburg
(1968-1988)

Jeff Brandenburg was vice-captain of Wilson House and it was here that I was associated with him, if in a small way. To me, as an eager Year 8 in 1985, Jeff was an impressive figure. He led by example, with his outstanding sporting ability being admired by many. Jeff achieved a great deal during his five years (1981-1985) at Hale. He captained both the 1st XI cricket and the 1st XVIII football teams, a privilege which places him in an elite group of Haleans to achieve this double. He was awarded colours for cricket and honours for football together with places in the swimming and athletics teams.

His sporting career was continued with several football and cricket clubs both in Perth and country areas near his Lake King home. Ironically, Jeff was driving home after being presented with a 'Fairest and Best' award for football when a tragic accident claimed his life. This award typifies the way Jeff played his sport.

Jeff had a thoughtful nature which found expression through writing poetry. This talent was appreciated by many of his school mates, who sent verses written by Jeff to the girls they admired. More significantly, his poetry reveals Jeff's sensitive and caring qualities, which made him all the more rare as an individual.

During his time spent at Hale, Jeff made many friends as was seen by the response to his death in newspapers, and he was a popular figure in society. Jeff made a real mark on Hale and on all those, like myself, around him. I saw him as a person to really look up to and respect. A lot of people will miss Jeff. He was a real contributor and leader of people.

Old Haleians' Association

President's Report

You will recall that last year the retiring president of the Old Haleian Association, Bob Glover, in his speech to you mentioned the importance of tradition.

This year I wish to again emphasise this, and also another aspect, esprit de corps.

It is 40 years since I left Hale and I can still clearly recall my old English teacher Mr Marshall saying, "If you are going to use a word, know what it means and be prepared to define it". So here is the definition of "tradition": "An opinion or custom handed down from one generation to another." Tradition does not happen, it is built up over many years and to be effective must remain constantly believed in. It is not repetition for repetition's sake.

A lot of my background is in the army and here tradition plays a big part in the moulding together of a unit as a team. The team works towards a common goal and each member takes his place.

Hale, although not regimented to the degree an army unit is, has nevertheless built up a tradition of leadership and service which is second to none. The students at the school today carry on this tradition and in an age when solid values seem to be eroded at every turn, you must be very mindful of the past and maintain the high values traditionally set by Hale.

Esprit de corps, again bearing in mind Mr Marshall's exhortation, is defined by Webster's Dictionary as "the regard for the honour and interests of a body by those who belong to it."

In broad terms I suppose you could say 'school spirit'. If you do not care about the school you have no school spirit. However, if you do care about the school you will be concerned for it as a whole, you will see it as an entity and you will strive to be part of the team. A team, like a chain is only as good as its weakest link so your attitude should be to encourage and help one another so that there are no weak links. It is no use turning against those who may be weaker than yourself if they can't perform to your level — assist them, encourage them and work together.

Now, I have set these two things before you. Will you be able in forty years time to look back and say that, yes we have maintained the high tradition and excellent school spirit of our forbears.

You may well forget a lot of what has been said today, but be assured that these two things, tradition and esprit de corps, have been handed to you to hold high and work towards. For if you do not, then you have thrown away a priceless heritage.

J. Deykin
President, 1987

Farewell to Dr Ken Tregonning

Four hundred Old Boys said farewell to Dr Tregonning as Headmaster of Hale School at a dinner held at the Sheraton Hotel on the 28th October. How the quarter of a century has flown since Dr Tregonning accepted his appointment as Headmaster, but what outstanding achievement he has recorded during those years. He has successfully guided the school through the ever changing policies and experimental programmes of the avant-garde educationalist and the never changing programmes of the very conservative. This has given the school a period of expansion and growth. By his wisdom the school has adopted what is beneficial in new education methods and technology without losing the traditional benefits of the three R's. These policies have given boys re-assurance and confidence to enter their chosen careers and strive for excellence. This broad education has imbued them with a sense of responsibility, concern for others and the community and a dedication to their duty as citizens of the State.

My perception as a parent Old Boy of 17 years is that Ken Tregonning has the special talent of knowing his pupils. In return they see him as their mentor, a true leader, an example to emulate.

As President of the Old Boys' Association I wish to extend my appreciation to Ken for his many hours spent in the service of the Association, and the evenings sacrificed in attending our meetings to update us on the progress and activities of the school. I also record our gratitude to Mrs Tregonning for her forebearance and tolerance in making it possible for Ken to join us.

Ken, on behalf of your Old Boys I say thank you for creating the educational environment at Hale that has enabled us to enter the community with confidence in the future. From parent Old Boys, our particular gratitude for your assistance in coaxing, prodding and guiding our sons into manhood and from all Old Boys, and indeed the whole Hale family, thank you for your guidance and enthusiasm for the school. In recent times we thank you for your unselfish commitment to the Hale Foundation and the future of the school. Your perception of financial independence through the Foundation is a goal that we must achieve and indeed towards which we have made considerable progress, greatly enhanced by your participation. The ultimate dream of financial independence will ensure that the Hale traditions are preserved beyond 2000 and that at Hale comprehensive education is within reach of every parent prepared to make a financial commitment.

As Headmaster we say "good-bye old friend" but hasten to welcome you and look forward to seeing you among us as a distinguished Old Boy. May we wish you and Judy the best of health, happiness and good sailing.

May the road rise to meet you.

May the wind be always at your back.

*May the sun shine warm upon your face,
the rains fall soft upon your fields,
and until we meet again —*

May God hold you in the palm of his hand.

A.K. House

President, 1988

Hale School Old Boys Association

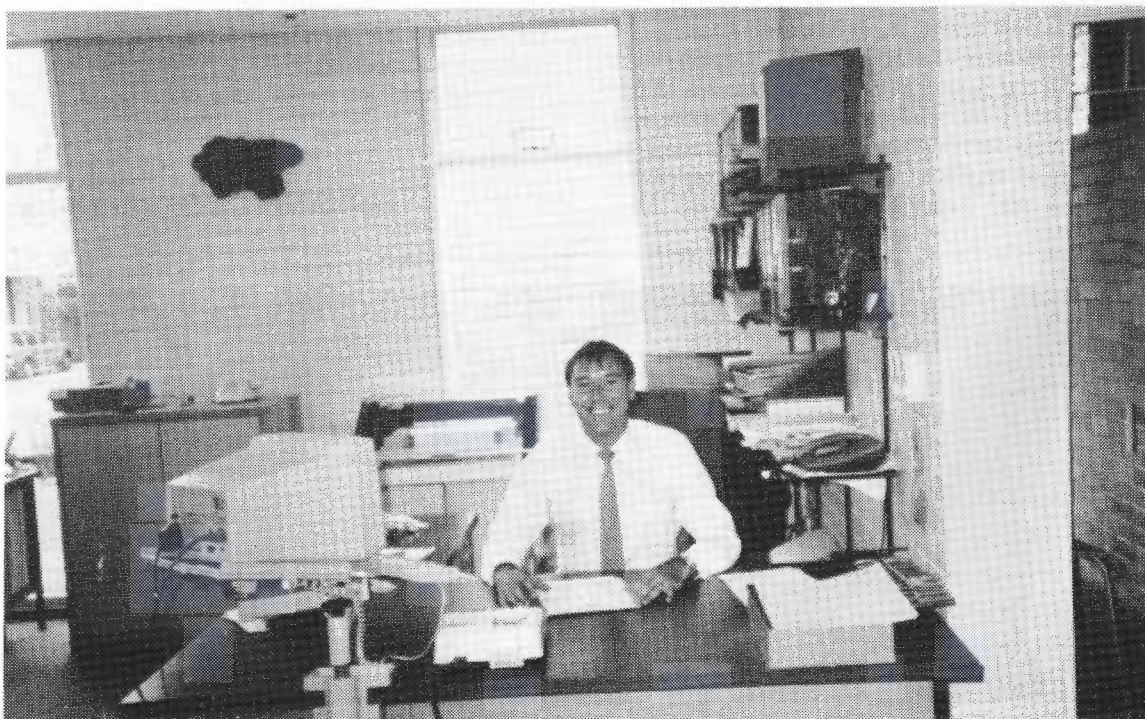

Mr Ron Farrer retiring Maintenance Supervisor: Ron has been at Hale since October 1977. During that time he has done just about every odd job around the school. He has always helped staff and students in various schemes. We wish he and his wife a happy retirement.

Departing office staff

Mrs Nancy Guyer came to Hale in May 1973 to start in the duplicating room. She was only there one day before being offered a job in accounts. She worked in accounts for 5 years before becoming the bursar's secretary. We wish Nancy well in the future.

Steve Lunn (assistant bursar). Steve joined Hale in 1981. He recently got married and he now moves on to bigger and better things as bursar of Chisholm College.

Ladies Auxiliary

The 1988 school year is almost over and the members of the Hale Ladies Auxiliary have had another busy year.

Once again we started the year by combining with the P & F and organising the Sundowner. This proved to be a very successful evening with over 300 parents and staff enjoying drinks and Steve Varty's (school chef) fine food.

The Ladies Auxiliary again organised morning teas for each individual year throughout Junior and Senior School. These are also a lovely way for new parents to be made to feel welcome.

Our end of first term morning tea was followed by our attendance at the School Assembly. This event sends the staff into a panic wondering how they will seat all the Mothers but I know we can assure them that from our point of view it is well worth it.

The Film Morning this year proved to be very popular with over 300 ladies and gentlemen attending. Travelling North starring Leo McKern, was the film chosen for the morning. I am sure all those who attended would join me in thanking the ladies of the sub-committee for a superb choice of film and the committee as a whole for the excellent lunch provided.

Following complaints from some gentlemen after last year's fashion parade it was decided we would put on an evening cocktail parade as well as the morning tea parade this year. Carla Zampatti again supplied the ladies fashions and thanks to Village Gate we were able to show menswear. I would like to thank our models Margaret Spencer, Joan Pateman, Judy Meagher, Anne Jooste, Sue Riley, Alex Panarese, Justin

Reading and Don Hughes for all their hard work both on the day and during the hours of rehearsals before the parade. I would like to add that the male models proved very popular with the ladies some of whom were heard to wolf-whistle at times! I would like to thank all the members of the Ladies Auxiliary Committee for the hard work put into producing a great function.

The money raised by these functions enabled the Ladies Auxiliary to give $6000 to the Junior School for enlargement of their computer resources.

The annual Country Lunch was magnificently organised by the Ladies Auxiliary country representative, Mrs Dorothy Hardie. It was held in Dorothy's home town of Narrogin and 25 country mothers came from near and far to join the 26 city mothers who travelled down by coach. An extremely enjoyable day was had by all — thank you so much Dorothy.

At the time of writing this Dr Tregonning's farewell Garden Party is still over a week away. I hope as many parents as possible attend to farewell our Headmaster of 22 years. The P & F and Ladies Auxiliary have combined to organise what should be a very special occasion.

I would like to thank all the members of the Ladies Auxiliary Committee for an excellent year and particularly those members who are retiring this year.

I would also like to encourage all mothers to attend the Annual General Meeting in early February and invite them to consider joining the Ladies Auxiliary — it is a wonderful way of feeling a part of our sons' school.

*Dawn Trudgian
President, Ladies Auxiliary*

On the way down to Narrogin Caught Out!

Sue Wallace, Deborah Haynes, Jenny Mattiske.
